State Board Report
March 2016
Stacy Smith, Interim Assistant Commissioner
Division of Learning Services

Curriculum and Instruction
Over 3,000 individuals or groups responded to the Community Feedback survey for the draft mathematics standards. The unit has organized data from the survey to make additional revisions or clarifications. The Arkansas Department of Education (ADE) also worked with the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) and hired external experts who reviewed the draft standards to determine if they met college and career readiness standards. The standards were found to be rigorous and measurable, and the reviewers provided specific feedback. Information from both the external expert review and Community Feedback survey results will guide final revisions to the standards.

Guidance and School Counseling
School counselors and charter staff will be completing an annual Student Services Report from March 1 to March 18. A review of the process for completing the Student Services Report was presented to school counselors through ZOOM, and staff in the ADE Guidance and School Counseling Unit are available to provide technical assistance and support to those completing reports. Specific concerns identified through this process are shared with district leaders.

This School Counselor Advisory committee will continue to meet both throughout the spring for review and revision of the Arkansas School Counselor Comprehensive Counseling Program Guide.

Professional Development
There will be an informational webinar on Thursday, March 3 at 9:00 AM to recruit next year's cohort for the Literacy Design Collaborative/Mathematics Design Collaborative (LDC/MDC). This event will be recorded for future viewing by those not able to attend. LDC will be offered to the next cohort through a new hybrid model which includes face-to-face professional development, on-site technical assistance visits, and online courses. Use of the hybrid model will enable teachers to receive LDC without having to spend as much time away from their students. Also, plans are underway for the summer LDC/MDC conference that will be held in Little Rock on July 26-27.

The ADE Dyslexia Conference Literacy for All: Understanding Dyslexia was held in Hot Springs on March 7-8. The response from Arkansas educators was overwhelming. Sessions featured speakers that included Commissioner of Education Johnny Key; Congressman Bruce Westerman; Senator Joyce Elliott; Dr. Nikolai Vitti, Superintendent of Duval County Public Schools in Jacksonville, Florida; Dr. Sally Shaywitz, author and co-founder of the Yale Center for Dyslexia and Creativity; Dr. Timothy Odegard, Chair of Excellence in Dyslexia Studies, Middle Tennessee State University College of Education, Center for Dyslexia; Dr. Susan Hall, author and founder of 95% Group; and Susan Barton, founder of Bright Solutions.

During January and February, professional development opportunities were provided to almost 100 science educators, representing the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, Arkansas State Parks and other non-traditional educational organizations. The participants were introduced to the new K-8 science standards and examined how their programs can be modified to support teachers and schools in the implementation of the new science standards. Participants appreciated the workshops and expressed enthusiasm about the resources and the assistance they can offer students and classroom teachers.

Science specialists housed at the educational service cooperatives and university STEM centers are developing three new state-initiated science professional development opportunities targeting grades K-4, 5-8, and 9-12. Organized around the theme Grasping Phenomenal Science: Navigating from Standards to Instruction, participants will be engaged in grade-specific lessons to help students make sense of science phenomena. It is anticipated that more than 1,000 science educators will receive this training in June, July, and August.

Alternative Learning Environment (ALE)A workshop titled Foundations of ALE was held in Hope on February 24. Designed to support new ALE programs and answer questions for those desiring to submit program descriptions for the first time this spring, the workshop will be repeated on March 10 in Harrisburg. Descriptions for 2016-2017 ALE programs are due by March 31.

Plans are underway for the ALE summer conference which will be held on July 10-12 in Rogers.

Two meetings of the ALE Task Force have been held. The implementation of Act 1272 has been the primary focus of these meetings while future Task Force discussion will include the implementation of best practices and methods to support ALE students and teachers.

A-1 Progress Report on Pine Bluff School District Schools Classified as Academic Distress and/or Priority

Pine Bluff Superintendent Mr. T.C. Wallace said the district was focused on utilizing state standards for staffing. He said this would help the district become more efficient. He said a systems change in human resources and budgeting was being implemented. He said the district was receiving technical assistance for budgeting from the ADE.

Pine Bluff School Board President Mr. Henry Dabner said the board was meeting twice each month. He said the community was involved in the meetings. He said the Arkansas School Boards Association would provide board training during upcoming meetings. He said the district was considering a reduction in force. He said the board contracted with a superintendent search team. He said the district was looking for a superintendent that would be strong in finance, school improvement and Arkansas law.

Chief School Reform Officer Ms. Alesia Smith said the district was continuing the learning with the University of Virginia at Arlington (UVA). She said the team was trained as trainers on Response to Intervention, differentiation and core instruction. She said UVA has agreed to continue the work if the next trained as trainers on Response to Intervention, differentiation and core instruction. She said UVA has agreed to continue the work if the next superintendent was supportive.

Ms. Smith said the district was working to improve teacher recruitment and retention. She said Teach for America teachers have been beneficial but the two-year turnover has been a challenge for the district. She said the district was working with the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff but needed additional conversation to address the teacher pipeline.

Ms. Smith said the Keith Sanders Group (consultant) was working in two of the priority schools.

Ms. Smith said discipline was an issue. She said the district was working on a positive discipline system. She said they were also working on behavioral interventions.

School Improvement Director Dr. Richard Wilde said the vote was 5-2 on the superintendent search firm. He went on to clarify that the 2 dissenting votes were based on the desire to save money and not in opposition to having assistance. Dr. Wilde said the discussion between recruitment and reduction in force means that some positions may be eliminated while other positions may need to be filled. He said the district has hired school improvement specialists for the buildings. He said the district leadership team was monitoring staff evaluations. He said Pine Bluff was a district in transition and functioning at the management level, rather than from a visionary leadership model.
He reminded everyone that Dr. Wallace is an interim and his primary role is keeping the district operating while the Pine Bluff School Board developed the superintendent search plan and conducted the search. Visionary leadership was not the charge given to Dr. Wallace.

Ms. Smith said it has been a challenge to get students to participate in after-school tutoring and Saturday school. She said the district was providing transportation and meals.

Ms. Smith said the district hired four school improvement specialists. She said the specialists are very qualified in school turnaround and a systems approach.

Ms. Smith said the district utilized The Learning Institute (TLI) and teacher-made assessments. She said the district was also considering the ACT Aspire interim assessments.

Mr. Dabner said he visited with Simmons Bank, the Mayor of Pine Bluff and UVA to consider how to best move the district forward. He said the business community was very supportive of the district. Mr. Dabner recognized Pine Bluff School Board Member Mr. Harold Jackson.

The subcommittee encouraged the district to utilize the services of the Department. The subcommittee will meet with the Pine Bluff School District in May for a progress report.

Mr. John Hoy, Superintendent
Helena-W. Helena School District
P.O. Box 369
Helena, Arkansas 72342

Dear Mr. Hoy:

This letter is to certify that the Helena-West Helena School District has corrected all criteria for being placed in fiscal distress and completed all activities and strategies as outlined in the District's Fiscal Distress Improvement Plan. On March 10, 2016, Arkansas Department of Education (ADE) will recommend to the State Board that the Helena-West Helena School District be removed from fiscal distress. ADE's recommendation will be to return the district to the control of a locally-elected school board, upon the election and training of the new board.

Please plan to attend this meeting and be prepared to answer any questions the State Board may have concerning your District and its programs. The meeting will begin at 10:00 a.m. in the ADE Auditorium, Four Capitol Mall, Little Rock, Arkansas.

We congratulate the Helena-West Helena School District and encourage continued diligence to sustain this improvement.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Smith

Brief Explanation for Requesting Each Waiver (to enable the State Board of Education to make an informed decision)

The Helena-West Helena School District is requesting all waivers on the same basic premise. A number of students in the Helena-West Helena School District have requested and received permission to attend the charter school in our district. We understand that our parents want an option to enroll their children in a program that emphasizes successfully placing children in college and preparing them to be successful in college. As part of a strategic plan being developed and implemented in the District, we are seeking to implement academies that are based on the same or similar philosophies, methodologies, procedures and practices as KIPP Delta Charter School. It is our intent to implement these academies K-6 beginning in the 2016-17 school year and to expand to the high school beginning in the 2017-18 school year.

It is our belief that we will not need, or use, all of the waivers requested, but we feel that it is in the District's best interests to request all waivers at one time. Not requesting all waivers allowable by law may unnecessarily burden the district with having to reappear before the state board each time we find ourselves needing a waiver that we did not request.

The District requests these waivers for a period of five years with an annual review for reconsideration to the state board of education beginning in the spring of 2017.

Waivers from Title VI of the Arkansas Code Annotated (Education Code)

Ark. Code Ann. §6-10-106 - Uniform dates for beginning and ending of school year.
The District is considering a design that may include a summer program each year that is at the beginning rather than the end of the school year.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-13-109 - School superintendent and section 15.01 of the ADE rules governing the standards for accreditation.
The District requests a waiver from employing a full-time superintendent. This will give the district the flexibility to employ a person fulfilling similar responsibilities under the title of director if this flexibility is needed. Currently the district has a full time certified superintendent. To fully effectuate the waiver, the District is also requesting waivers of Ark. Code Ann. § 6-17-427, and the ADE Rules Governing the School Superintendent Mentoring Program. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-13-601 et seq. - District boards of directors generally
The District wishes to be exempted from this portion of the Education Code to the extent that its provisions relating to board size, qualifications, residency within a particular school district, elections, duties, powers, terms, meeting time and locations, and vacancies are generally not applicable to the open-enrollment public charter school in our District. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-13-619(a)(1) - Monthly board meetings
The District requests flexibility to have quarterly board meetings with the possibility of monthly committee meetings. If the District chooses to exercise this flexibility, a standing finance committee would be established to meet monthly to review financial reports and address financial management issues, to include both short and long-term financial planning and compliance issues, and would report back to the full board. While the District intends to comply with this statute it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-13-619(c)(1)(A) - Requiring a board member to be physically present at a meeting to be counted for purposes of a quorum or to vote.
The District requests this flexibility in case where board members may not be able to be physically present at a meeting, but would be able to fully participate by telephone or other type of electronic communication.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-13-635 - School board review and approval of salary increases
Our Board of Directors already will be seeking the authority to approve the district budget where increases of staff salaries in the amount of 5% or greater are reflected. Therefore a simple resolution for these increases would be redundant. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-15-902(a) - Grading scale—Exemptions
We plan on using the grading scale described by 6-15-902, but requests to remain as flexible as possible in this area.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-15-902(c)(2) - Requiring quality points for Advanced Placement courses be contingent upon teacher AP training documentation

We plan on providing the quality points for Advanced Placement described by 6-15-902(c)(2), but requests to remain as flexible as possible in this area.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-15-1004 - Qualified teachers in every public school classroom
The District requests the flexibility to employ teachers it feels will be the most successful in the program regardless of certification status.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-15-1005(b)(5) - Pertaining to alternative learning environments
To fully effectuate the waiver to alternative learning environments requested in 6-18-508 the district requests a waiver of this statute.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-15-1603 - Establishment of local task forces on closing the achievement gap
The District feels the intent of the educational task force is already served through our work with multiple organizations which routinely discuss strategies to reduce the achievement gap. These organizations include our school's parent teacher organizations, and School Improvement Committees. Consequently, we feel the existence of this educational task force is redundant.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-111 - Duty-free lunch periods
The District's concept of supervision and student/teacher interactions requires staff to be present with the students during lunch. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-114 - Daily planning period
While it is the intent to provide adequate planning time, the District request greater flexibility than what is in the code in case this flexibility is needed. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-201(c)(2) - Pertaining to teacher compensation
In clarification of the waiver the District is requesting for minimum salaries and personnel policies, and to fully effectuate the waiver, the district is also requesting this waiver. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-203 - Committees on personnel policies—Members (Note: The District intends to maintain personnel policy committees and is not requesting to change this standard of compliance. It is only listed here because it is a waiver granted to the charter school operating in the district.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-302 - Principals—Responsibilities
The District wishes to have the flexibility to employ school leaders trained through alternative leadership programs, regardless of certifications.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-309 - Certification to teach grade or subject matter—Exceptions—Waivers
In clarification of the waiver the District is seeking for teacher licensure, and to fully effectuate the waiver, the District is also requesting waivers of this statute.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-401 - Teacher licensure requirement
The District requests to not be restricted in its hiring practices, but have maximum flexibility in employing the best teachers available.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-418 - Teacher licensure—Arkansas history requirement
The District requests the flexibility to hire a teacher who has not completed at least three (3) hours of college coursework in Arkansas history if that person is the best candidate available for the teaching position.

Ark. Code Ann. § 6-17-427 - Superintendent license—Superintendent mentoring program required
While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.
Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-902 - Definition (definition of a teacher as licensed)
As the District may not necessarily employ only certified teachers, this law would be restrictive.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-919 - Warrants void without valid certification and contract (the ability to pay a teacher's salary only upon filing of a teacher's certificate with the county clerk's office if the requirement of a teacher's certificate is waived for such teacher)

As the District may not necessarily employ only certified teachers, it would need a waiver from this restriction.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-1301 et seq. - School Employees' Minimum Sick Leave Law
As it stands now, our policy allows all salaried employees to accumulate sick leave. Hourly employees, nearly all of whom are not exempt, do not require sick leave as paid time off. They are paid for the hours that they report to work. Most bus drivers and food service workers work partial days. When they are unavailable to report to work due to illness, they report the absence and a substitute worker is found. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-1501 et seq. - Teacher Fair Dismissal Act
(Note: The District intends to maintain due process for all teachers and only request to change this standard of compliance from "Teacher Fair Dismissal" to compliance with the "Public School Employee Fair Hearing Act".

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-1701 et seq. - Public School Employee Fair Hearing Act
(Note: The District intends to maintain due process for all staff and is not requesting to change this standard of compliance. It is only listed here because it is a waiver granted to the charter school operating in the district.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-2203 - Minimum salary
In clarification of the waiver the District is requesting for minimum salaries and personnel policies, and to fully effectuate the waiver, the District requests waivers of Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-2203. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-2205 - Paid breaks for certain classified employees
The District is seeking a waiver from 6-17-114, providing for daily planning periods for instructional employees. We seek a waiver of this statute to provide consistency in this area, as several teaching assistants and non-licensed teachers may fall under the purview of "classified employee". While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-17-2403 - Minimum teacher compensation schedule
The District requests this flexibility in case the flexibility is needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-18-503(a)(1)(C)(i) - Pertaining to alternative learning environments
To fully effectuate the waiver to alternative learning environments requested in 6-18-508 the District also requests waivers of this statute.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-18-508 - Alternative learning environments
The District will provide other alternatives when appropriate. The District will still provide appropriate services and interventions to those students who would usually be classified as ALE.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-18-1001 et seq. - Public School Student Services Act
We request this waiver for the District. The KIPP Delta charter school already possesses these waivers, and we wish to make the application of this waiver consistent in this school attendance area. The granting of this waiver would not mean that the District would not provide guidance and counseling services to its students, but would afford it the flexibility to do so without the use of separate, full-time staff.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-20-2208(c)(6) - Monitoring of expenditures (gifted and talented)
In clarification of the waiver, the District is requesting for gifted and talented education, and to fully effectuate the waiver, the District additionally requests waivers of this statute. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-25-103 - Library media services program defined
In clarification of the waiver, the District is requesting for media services, and to fully effectuate the waiver, the District requests a waiver of this statute. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

Ark. Code Ann. §6-25-104 - Library media specialist—Qualifications
In clarification of the waiver the District is requesting for media services, and to fully effectuate the waiver, the District requests a waiver of this statute. While the District intends to comply with this statute, it seeks this flexibility if needed.

The PBA consisted of extended tasks and applications of concepts and skills for ELA/Literacy and Math. ELA/Literacy included writing effectively when analyzing text and research simulation. Math included solving multi-step problems requiring abstract reasoning, precision, perseverance and strategic use of tools.

The EOY assessment consisted of innovative, short-answer items including the following: ELA/Literacy reading comprehension; Math short items that address both concepts and skills.

PBA Only and EOY Only are not included in performance calculations.

Number of enrolled students with completed PBA only:	18

Percent Tested: Source and Use of Enrollment

For percent tested and school/district performance calculations student enrollment files were downloaded from eSchool via TRIAND to establish the students expected to test. These files were downloaded May 15, 2015.

When students' test and enrollment records were matched by school and student state identifier the demographic values from the enrollment files were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had a test record and did not match an enrollment record the demographic values from the student's test record were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had an enrollment record that did not match a test record the demographic values from the student's enrollment record were used in ESEA calculations.

Content experts such as Fork lift drivers, Computer Programmers, Engineers, Professional Musicians, Licensed Health Care Professionals, etc. may be allowed to teach non-core classes. Any individuals hired as a result of this waiver will meet all other requirements and the successful completion of criminal background and Child Maltreatment Registry checks. We see this as an enhancement to the relationship which we seek to develop with the business community. Teachers in non-core subjects not in possession of state certification will be closely monitored and replaced if student achievement fails to meet or exceed our high expectations.

Sect. 4 ADE Rules Governing the Distribution of Student Special Needs Funds

The flex schedule will allow us to provide ALE services to all of our students. Its will allow us the ability to shift students into more structured pods with more intensive help when needed. We will be able to deliver intensive intervention early when issues begin to arise. We work on an individualized basis with students and parents to address student needs and provide accommodations as needed. Our program description has focus primarily on credit recovery, and that aim can be achieved without placing students in ALE. A waiver would lessen the district's paper work, and it would not have a negative impact on student learning. This will allow our current ALE staff to serve a larger number of students.

Flexibility in Time Waivers

10.01.4 Planned instructional time
10.02 Class Size and Teaching Load
6-18-210 (2) Definition of planned instructional time
ADE Rule Rules Governing the Arkansas Mandatory Attendance Requirements For Students in Grades 9-12

A flex schedule will best serve the differentiated needs of our students and use our teachers in the most efficient manner. It will allow time for the most experienced teachers to work with our students that have been identified in our RTI program. It will allow many of our students to accelerate through the curriculum of the classes. The flex schedule will allow more time for enrichment opportunities, career development, and community service projects.

The Performance Based Assessment (PBA) component was given before the End of Year Assessment (EOY). The PBA consisted of extended tasks and applications of concepts and skills for ELA/Literacy and Math. ELA/Literacy included writing effectively when analyzing text and research simulation. Math included solving multi-step problems requiring abstract reasoning, precision, perseverance and strategic use of tools.

The EOY assessment consisted of innovative, short-answer items including the following: ELA/Literacy reading comprehension; Math short items that address both concepts and skills.

PBA Only and EOY Only are not included in performance calculations.

Percent Tested: Source and Use of Enrollment

For percent tested and school/district performance calculations student enrollment files were downloaded from eSchool via TRIAND to establish the students expected to test. These files were downloaded May 15, 2015.

When students' test and enrollment records were matched by school and student state identifier the demographic values from the enrollment files were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had a test record and did not match an enrollment record the demographic values from the student's test record were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had an enrollment record that did not match a test record the demographic values from the student's enrollment record were used in ESEA calculations.

RE: Notice of Charter Authorizing Panel Decision
Cross County High School

Dear Ms. Wilson:

On February 17, 2016, the Charter Authorizing Panel met and approved the renewal application for Cross County High School for a period of 5 years. Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-702(b)(2)(A) allows charter applicants and affected school districts to request that the State Board of Education review a final decision of the Charter Authorizing Panel. A request must state the specific reasons that the Board should review the decision.

Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-703(a) requires the State Board of Education to consider requests for review of Charter Authorizing Panel decisions at its next meeting after the decisions are made. Therefore, a review request must be submitted, via email, no later than noon on Wednesday, February 24, 2016, in order for the request to be included in the State Board of Education agenda materials for the meeting on March 10, 2016. Email the request to ade.charterschools@arkansas.gov. Be advised that the decision of whether to review a Charter Authorizing Panel decision is discretionary. See Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-702(b)(3). Regardless of whether a review of the Panel's decision is requested, the application will be an action item for the State Board of Education on March 10, and, at that time, the Board will determine whether or not to review the Panel's decision. If the State Board decides to review the Panel's decision, the review will take place at a later meeting.

Please contact me by phone at (501) 682-5665 or by email at alexandra.boyd@arkansas.gov with any questions.

Remaining Concerns
- The applicant did not explain how students are being prepared to be successful in AP courses and receive college credit for earning a 3, 4, or 5 on AP exams.
- It remains unclear that implemented behavior plans were successful or that behavior plans are modified to meet individual student needs.
- It appears from the following statement included in the response that male students receive more consequences than female students:

> Staff may spend more time trying to resolve girl drama, but it often results in no disciplinary action.

Comments and Additional Questions:
- Discuss Pre-AP and AP courses and results.

Applicant Response:
The chart below indicates the 2014-2015 AP course enrollment and the results. In an effort to increase our scores, we are working to ensure all AP instructors are fully certified to teach the course through College Board requirements. Additionally, the school is beginning a new venture for the 2015-2016 school year in the way we offer some concurrent credit. In a partnership with East Arkansas Community College (EACC), we are offering concurrent college credit for Biology through our AP Biology course. That instructor is the school's Biology teacher who is certified to teach AP Biology and has been approved to teach the concurrent credit Biology as well. For the 2016-2017 school year we are offering AP Environmental in this format. We are also changing the instructor for this course. This instructor is also an employee of the District. We are also exploring more offerings for the 2016-2017, but we have not gotten other courses set at this time.

The school did not offer AP Calculus this year, instead we wanted to go another route and offer AP Statistics in hopes that maybe this would be more relevant to students' interests. Based on a survey given to students, AP Stats was a more desired offering.

Remaining Concerns: The applicant did not explain how students are being prepared to be successful in AP courses and receive college credit for earning a 3, 4, or 5 on AP exams.

Part B: Discipline and Attendance Data
Applicants are requested to review the discipline and attendance data for the charter and the resident district and describe the ways in which the charter improves student behavior and attendance.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:
- A thoughtful narrative, supported by the data, describing the ways in which the charter improves student behavior and attendance;
- Thorough explanation of disproportionate representative by subgroups, if any; and
- Complete information in response to charter-specific prompts, if any.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:
- Explain how there are not disproportionalities in discipline actions/infractions given that –
  - For every black student enrolled there have been approximately two discipline infractions/actions taken and for every white student enrolled there has been less than one discipline infraction/action taken; and
  - For every male student enrolled there has been more than one discipline infraction/action taken and for every female student enrolled there has been less than one discipline infraction/action taken.
- Provide an example of training that teachers receive to deal with misbehavior in the classroom and explain if the training is designed to help teachers deal with students that come from poverty stricken homes.
- Explain how having a part-time employee in charge of school discipline can be effective. Explain how the school cares for the whole student (academically, RTI, health services, food program, other, etc.)

Applicant Response:

- Explain how there are not disproportionalities in discipline actions/infractions given that –
    - For every black student enrolled there have been approximately two discipline infractions/actions taken and for every white student enrolled there has been less than one discipline infraction/action taken; and
    - For every male student enrolled there has been more than one discipline infraction/action taken and for every female student enrolled there has been less than one discipline infraction/action taken.

Discipline is only for those students who break the rules. There are disproportionalities in discipline data on paper, but if you consider that typically schools report that 90% of discipline issues is caused by 10% of the students we expect some discrepancy. We pulled individual ISS records of four of our students that we knew had a lot of disciplinary referrals in 2014-2015. The four students were boys; two boys were white and two boys were black. These four students were referred 30 times during the year. Of those students, we implemented behavior plans and alternative learning environments to help them find success. Because of our small size, a few students can drastically affect the data, especially when speaking in proportions. Also, in a building with grades 7-12; we usually see more 7th and 8th grade referrals than we do senior high school students, and more males than we do females. Staff may spend more time trying to resolve girl drama, but it often results in no disciplinary action. If there were no disparities then we should expect every student to be the same. If every student is the same, maybe we could say they only get two infractions during the year. But the world is not like that, and we have to treat discipline as the infractions occur. The district follows the handbook guidelines and discipline is disbursed as outlined in the handbook.

We are concerned with the number of days some of our students are assigned to In-School Suspensions and the staff has already started discussions to find alternatives to ISS.

- Provide an example of training that teachers receive to deal with misbehavior in the classroom and explain if the training is designed to help teachers deal with students that come from poverty stricken homes.

New teachers participate in a new teacher orientation during summer in-service and state mandated mentoring throughout the year. During the orientation, classroom management strategies and tips are discussed using Fred Jones' and Harry Wong's work as a guide. The local educational cooperative offers sessions to address classroom management as well. Our trust card system is used school-wide and is used as a management strategy in classrooms. Ruby Payne materials are also available and used or recommended on an individual basis. As part of every classroom evaluation (4 yearly), teachers are observed and evidence is gathered in Managing Student Behavior. In this case, teachers may receive individual supports based on evidence observed during these evaluations. Examples of support may include peer observations and student management plans.

- Explain how having a part-time employee in charge of school discipline can be effective.

To clarify, we have a dean of students who is available the majority of the day to address discipline on a daily basis. He facilitates two classes (Athletics and one semester of Career Orientation). He does not deal with discipline on a part time basis.

- Explain how the school cares for the whole student (academically, RTI, health services, food program, other, etc.)

Cross County Schools is a Coordinated School Health (CSH) site that focuses on the eight components of CSH. We operate a School-based health center (SBHC) on our campus providing physical and mental health care daily. Our mission is to educate the whole child and we try to accomplish that with the tenants of CSH. Our school offers many services/programs to assist students academically and with RTI such as using Reading Plus, APEX (credit recovery opportunities), Writing Center, Math Lab, after school tutoring, and post-secondary college "advising" through the College and Career Access program just to name a few. We follow all guidelines set forth to make sure all students are offered and provided a breakfast and lunch daily. We partner with outside sources to provide programs that pertain to tobacco use, etc. and even host flu clinics every year in partnership with our SBHC.

Remaining Concerns:

- It remains unclear that implemented behavior plans were successful or that behavior plans are modified to meet individual student needs.
- It appears from the following statement included in the response that male students receive more consequences than female students: Staff may spend more time trying to resolve girl drama, but it often results in no disciplinary action.

Part C: Best Practices

Applicants are requested to identify and describe one (or more) best practice(s) that lead to the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current approved academic goals.

Evaluation Criteria:

A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A thoughtful narrative, supported by data, describing one (or more) best practice(s) that lead to the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current approved academic goals.

Fully Responsive Partially Responsive Non-Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:

- Describe in detail how the charter ensures that every student (7-12) participates in a college trip. Provide a timeline and a budget. Provide any documents/templates used by charter staff to execute this best practice.
- Describe in detail how the charter ensures that every 11th grade student participates in a job shadowing experience. Provide any documents/templates used by charter staff to execute this best practice.

Applicant Response:

- Describe in detail how the charter ensures that every student (7-12) participates in a college trip. Provide a timeline and a budget. Provide any documents/templates used by charter staff to execute this best practice.

Every student (7-12) is provided the opportunity to take a college trip. If a student is unable to attend selected dates, for whatever reason, they will have a similar opportunity next year. 7th-9th grade trips occur during the school day. A bus will take half of the class (around 25 students) twice (the average class size is around 50 students). 10th and 11th grade trips are overnight. The 10th grade uses the split class model -- half the class goes at a time. The 11th grade goes in smaller groups using school vans.

-->Spring: 7th grade: East Arkansas Community College OR comparable -- $1000*
-->Spring: 8th grade: Arkansas State University OR comparable -- $1000*
-->Fall: 9th grade: University of Central Arkansas/Hendrix OR comparable -- $1000*
-->Fall: 10th grade: University of Arkansas AND Arkansas Tech University (overnight) - $5000*
-->Fall: 11th: Vanderbilt and Union University OR University of Mississippi OR Southern Arkansas University (students get to choose one) -- $6000*
→ Fall Break: 10th, 11th, and 12th grade (application selection): Rock Star Trip -- 6 nights, 5 days, 6 colleges. This year we went north and toured or experienced U of Chicago, Lawrence University, University of Wisconsin - Oshkosh, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Purdue University, and Washington University. 11 students went on this trip.

* Nearly all budgeted costs associated with the college trips is covered by outside funding.
 The 11th grade and Rock Star trip locations are decided on using student interest in different colleges. The above is this year's choices, but locations may be different next year and beyond.

- Describe in detail how the charter ensures that every 11th grade student participates in a job shadowing experience. Provide any documents/templates used by charter staff to execute this best practice.

Students in the College and Career Planning course, a compulsory class for all 11th graders were taken on job shadows in November 2015. Students were given the choice of which job shadow experience that they attended by utilizing the attached form. Opportunities included trips in many different career fields; for example, law, medicine, business, and engineering were all covered.

Students were grouped in factions of five or six and were transported from Cross County High School to the first job shadow location, then to lunch, then to the second job shadow location, and then back to Cross County High School. Locations ranged from Memphis, TN, to Little Rock, AR, to Jonesboro, AR and no trips required an overnight stay.

Students were graded by the charter's on-site faculty member on their professionalism throughout the day. The 150 point grade was part of their final grade in College and Career Planning.

See a few of the documents used in this process here.

Part A: Current Performance Goals
Applicants are requested to evaluate the progress toward achieving each of the charter's current student academic performance goals and provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the progress.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:
- A narrative description of the charter's progress toward achieving each goal; and
- Supporting data that documents the charter's progress in achieving each goal.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions

- Explain how the school is meeting the goal of increasing attendance by 1% each year for the first two years and .5% each subsequent three years.

Applicant Response:

The school did not meet the indicated goal of increasing 1% for the first two years and .5% each year after. The school's attendance did hold steady at an average of 95.5% for third quarter averages. The state averages used as a comparison at at 94.1% (2013) and 94.4% (2014). The state goal for 2014 was 91.13%. The school did not meet this charter goal; however, the school is still above the state average and state goal as indicated by 2013 and 2014 released state data. We formulated our new goal to state "the school will increase attendance rates by .5% [yearly] or meet state goals" in hopes that we can meet or exceed our attendance goal annually.

Part B: New Performance Goals

Applicants are required to confirm their understanding that achieving all goals and/or objectives set by the state, during the period of renewal, is expected and to develop other student academic achievement performance goals for the renewal contract period.

Evaluation Criteria:

A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A confirmation that the charter is expected to achieve all goals and/or objectives set by the state; and
- For other student academic performance goals -
    - Measureable student academic performance goals;
    - The specific tool that will be used to measure academic performance for each goal;
    - The level of performance that will demonstrate success; and
    - The timeframe for achieving each goal.

Fully Responsive

SECTION 6: FINANCE

Applicants are requested to discuss corrective actions for any findings in the most recent financial audit reports prepared during the current contractual period.

Evaluation Criteria:

A response that is fully responsive will include the following:

- Each finding from the financial audit reports or a statement that there were no findings;
- A statement for each finding to indicate if it had been noted in prior year audits;
- Corrective actions take to rectify each issue; and
- The date by which each issue was or will be corrected.

Fully Responsive

SECTION 7: WAIVERS

Applicants are requested to review the current waivers approved for the charter and to identify any changes requested in the charter's waivers from Title 6 of Arkansas Code Annotated, State Board of Education Rules and Regulations, and/or the Standards for Accreditation.

Part A: New Waiver Requests

Applicants are requested to identify any additional law and rule that the authorizer is requested to waive.

Evaluation Criteria:

A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A list of each law and rule that the charter would like to have waived; and

1. Physical Education

Section 9.03.4.10 ADE Rules Governing the Standards of Accreditation

The size of our district, the location of the school due to a prior consolidation, and the distance to school for most of our student athletes demonstrate the need for football and basketball to be embedded into our school day. We realize that athletics is important to students and to the community. The community strongly supports our athletic program. Athletes in grades 9-12, spend a large amount of time addressing fitness, movement, and team building (personal and social behavior) which are the major components of the PE courses. Practice and preparation for competition ensures they are the most physically fit students on campus. Since we are offering basketball and football during the school day, we are asking to waive Section 9.03.4.10 ("Physical Education") of the ADE Rules Governing the Standards for Accreditation in a effort to allow students to receive a maximum of the 0.5 required PE credit for participating in a semester of basketball or football. This waiver would provide the opportunity for our students to take other academic courses during the day such as concurrent credit courses or other required or requested courses.

Section 1 – General Description of the Charter School's Progress and Desegregation Analysis

Part A: Charter School Progress

Provide a narrative about the successes of the charter during the current contractual period. Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Cross County High School a New Tech School (CCHS) has seen a variety of successes since the implementation of the school's charter. Our school's vision is "to provide all students with the experiences and opportunities necessary to live a passion-driven life." As we continue to grow towards our vision, we have found that innovation is key to ensuring that all students find success at CCHS and beyond. A major emphasis in our original charter application was the desire to be affiliated with the New Tech Network (NTN). We implemented project-based learning, the Teacher Advancement Program (TAP), a college and career access program (College x Career x Choice, C^3), and a high school writing center. All of this work started with a focus on the data. We realized that to improve, we needed to change -- to grow, we needed to innovate. All the successes mentioned below originate from this mindset.

CCHS became a New Tech Network school during the 2011-2012 academic year. The New Tech Network is a nonprofit organization that transforms schools into innovative learning environments. The project-based learning approach engages students with dynamic, rigorous curriculum. Through extensive professional development and hands-on coaching, New Tech teachers evolve from keepers of knowledge to facilitators of rich, relevant learning. As a key to New Tech design principles, New Tech Network schools develop and maintain a culture that promotes trust, respect, and responsibility. Each year, NTN surveys students about their perception of school culture. This formative assessment is used as data to help build a strong culture around academic agency and success. The survey data shows a positive trend. When surveyed:

- 78% of students felt a strong connection to the school in 2015, as compared to 69% in 2013.
- 76% of students felt that they had a strong connection to the adults in the school in 2015, as compared to 66% in 2013.

The school district implemented TAP: The System for Teacher and Student Advancement during the spring semester of 2010. The goal of TAP is improved teacher professional practice resulting in improved student achievement. TAP is a reform system designed to elevate the teaching profession through the implementation of four interrelated elements: multiple career paths, ongoing applied professional growth, instructionally focused accountability, and performance-based compensation. One of the core principals of TAP is that instructional effectiveness should be measured partly in terms of contributions that the teacher and the school make to student achievement, using a method called value-added assessment.

Value-added uses annual achievement test scores as the pretest and posttest to measure an entire year's learning. The essence of value-added assessment is simply to use gains or growth in student achievement to measure the instructional performance of teachers and schools. The school-wide score is a composite of all the tested grades and subjects in the school. A school that achieves a year of academic growth as compared to other schools with similar students receives a score of "3." CCHS scored a value added of a "3" during the academic years of 11-12 and 13-14. The value added reports along with standardized test data drives the ongoing applied professional growth (weekly cluster group meetings), which occurs during the regular school day. Cluster group meetings allow teachers to examine student data together, engage in collaborative planning, and learn instructional strategies to increase student achievement. The National Institute for Excellence in Teaching (NIET) awarded CCSD the TAP Ambassador Award and the TAP Award of Distinction. These awards were given because of the commitment that the district has shown to implement this initiative while working together to restructure systems and culture in support of building highly effective instructional teams.

While the implementation of the programs listed above has been successful, we realized that something was lacking: our students were enrolling in postsecondary opportunities at a rate far lower than the state and national average. In a response to this data, we launched the CCHS College and Career Access Program (C^3) during the 2014-2015 academic year. This program provides guidance and support to our students and alumni in order to level the playing field. Many of our students are first generation (meaning they are the first in their family to attend college) or come from situations of poverty. This puts them at a disadvantage, since going to college is only made easier by having "experts" in your life to assist you through the difficult, often frustrating, process. The CCHS College and Career Access Program (C^3) is designed to mitigate these disadvantages by taking control of the conversation, the timeline, and working to adjust mindsets. As part of the program, we:

- implement curriculum, strategies, and guidance carefully designed to help our students understand that postsecondary experiences are possible for them;
- plan trips to show our students what is possible (a college trip for every student, 7-12);
- provide our students, parents, community members with the resources and guidance necessary to help those around them achieve their goals;
- designed and launched a college and career course which is a requirement for all 11th graders;
- plan job shadowing experiences for all 11th graders;
- provide ACT boot camps to students prior to the ACT;
- provide guidance and support to CCHS alumni throughout college.

Last September, we were honored to host Governor Asa Hutchinson, along with other politicians and distinguished guests, for the expansion of our college and career access program (C^3). In his address, Governor Hutchinson noted, "[...]I am excited about what you are doing here [...] because you will create students that go beyond high school and get a technical certificate or an associate's degree or a four-year degree, and they will go on because you prepared them well." Overall, this program is a school-wide initiative intended to ensure that all students find success in high school and beyond." We have found much success in making sure that students have choices upon graduation. As the charts below show (data sourced from National Student Clearinghouse), we have made big gains in the percentage of students who are enrolling in postsecondary opportunities. More students are going to four-year schools with high graduation rates. More students are starting at a community college or technical school (2-year postsecondary includes all community college and technical school), with many intending to continue on. As the program continue to expand, we will continue to focus on to providing access, but we are also want students who are prepared and eligibility. We do not just want to help students get into a postsecondary experience, we want to ensure that they find success. In this, we will be tracking and supporting our alumni throughout their journey. We realize that their success is directly connected to our own.

The ACT (American College Testing Assessment) is the primary college-readiness assessment used in our region. The ACT allows for students to take the test up to twelve times. There are several reasons for taking the ACT multiple times; it increases a students chance of increasing their scores, it increases their probability of getting scholarships, and it lowers the possibility of required remediation in college. Thus, one of our focuses has been on increasing our student's ACT scores and increasing the frequency in which they take the test. Through ACT boot camps, integration in our classrooms, and an awareness campaign, we have found success. For the Class of 2015, 92.5% of graduating seniors took the ACT, with 62% of students taking the test more than once. The average frequency rate was 2.51 tests per student. Additionally, CCHS was awarded the 2012 College Readiness Award by the Arkansas ACT Council. The school was recognized for having a significant increase in ACT scores over the last five years while, at the same time, increasing the number of students taking the ACT.

In making sure that students are prepared, eligible, and aware, we have found success. As part of the New Tech surveys all seniors are surveyed prior to graduation. In this survey, students are asked a variety of questions to gauge their awareness and eligibility. When surveyed, 82% of the Class of 2015 identified as aware of their options as compared to 56% for the Class of 2013. Additionally, 92% of the Class of 2015 identified as eligible for postsecondary options as compared to 62% for the Class of 2013.

During the 2013 school year, in collaboration with the University of Arkansas, CCHS launched, a high school writing center, the first of its kind in the state. A writing center is a complete redesign in how a student interacts with writing. Normally, students receive an assignment, proceed through the writing process, and then they are assessed on their work. Writing Center Theory realizes that even the best writers need support outside of the classroom. Therefore, we train peer tutors to facilitate conversations with students during advisory. The forty-minute session is voluntary and completely student-driven. The tutor and the tutored plot the course of the conversation together. The peer tutor does not write or rewrite a paper for the student. Instead, writing center tutors know that the development of a student's writing requires an opportunity to talk about their writing. The peer tutors, like successful teachers of writing, engage students in conversations about their work thereby helping students understand and apply a broad range of writing principles. Overall, a writing center is a low risk environment where there is reverence for writing. The CCHS Writing Center has seen a steady flow of clientele in its two and a half years of operation.

Due the success of the writing center, CCHS decided to launch a high school math lab last year. The math center functions similar to the high school writing center. Students who are effective communicators, collaborators, and have advanced math skills, are selected and trained in tutoring theory. Students, 7-12, are able to access the math lab's services during advisory.

Part B: Desegregation Analysis

Describe the impact, both current and potential, of the public charter school on the efforts of affected public school district(s) to comply with court orders and statutory obligations to create and maintain a unitary system of desegregated public schools.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font.

Pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. §6-23-106, the Cross County School District has carefully reviewed the impact that the renewal of Cross County High School's (CCHS) conversion charter would have upon the efforts of Cross County School District and any other school district to create and maintain a unitary system of desegregated public schools. The renewal of CCHS' conversion charter will have no effect on any Arkansas public school districts' efforts to comply with court orders and statutory obligations to create and maintain a unitary system of desegregated public schools. The Cross County School District is not under any federal desegregation order or court-ordered desegregation plan, and neither are any of our surrounding districts. Nothing in the operation of the CCHS will hamper, delay, or in any manner negatively affect the desegregation efforts of any public school district or public school districts in this state.

Section 2 – Composition of the Charter School's Governing Board and Relationships to Others

Part A: Composition of Governing Board

Describe the governance structure of the charter, including an explanation of the board member selection process and the authority and responsibilities of the charter board.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 5 pages.

Cross County is a District Conversion Charter that has a seven member governing board one from each of the seven school board zones established before the charter was established. Each board member is elected by the constituents living in their respective zone. Members are elected in a public election to a five-year term. The school follows a "staggered" election schedule so only one to two zones open yearly. The board operates as all public schools under the same policies, procedures, and recommended guidelines set forth by the Arkansas School Board Association. The board's authority and responsibilities are no different than any other public school.

Part B: Disclosure Information

Identify any contract, lease, or employment agreement in which the charter is or has been a party, and in which any charter administrator, board member, or an administrator's or board member's family member has or had a financial interest.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Because the governing board and staff adheres strictly to the disclosure rules of all public schools, the District ensures all these rules are followed. The District does employ a teacher who is a board member's sister. She was employed with the District before charter status and is assigned to the elementary building. She is a fully licensed teacher, recommended for employment by a hiring committee that does not include board members.

Complete the table on the following page.

2015-2016	32	0	0

Review the data in the Teacher Retention Table.
Discuss the reasons that teachers leave the charter and current practices and future plans to retain teachers.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Teachers leave Cross County High School, a New Tech School for a variety of reasons:

1) Teachers find a job closer to their home. Since our rural area has a declining population with a lack of industry/jobs and housing means most of our teachers live in surrounding towns (Jonesboro, Harrisburg, Wynne, etc.)
2) District hires teachers with Teach for America who make a two year commitment then often leave.
3) The surrounding districts pay higher salaries.
4) Some teachers leave education completely for a different career.
5) Some teachers prefer a more traditional instructional approach as opposed to New Tech and project/problem-based learning.
6) Teachers change positions within the school through New Tech and TAP advancement.

Teacher turnover is detrimental to our students' educational success. Selecting good teachers is one of the most important responsibilities of school leaders. The district strives to find the best teachers available and the current teacher shortage in so many areas, the district's location, and a lower salary has made it hard to find high quality teachers. In response, the district has partnered with Teach For America. The quality of the teachers we have recruited from Teach for America has been exceptional, but the turnover still exists. Teach For America is currently working with their participating schools to develop a retainment plan for irreplaceable teachers. This year there have been three meetings scheduled to address recruitment and retainment strategies.

To combat the persistent turnover in the high school the district has and is implementing several initiatives. First, the district has implemented the Teacher Advancement Program (TAP). TAP utilizes a system for continuous improvement of teacher quality through meaningful classroom evaluations, in-house professional development, teacher mentoring and a pay-for-performance reward system. Though funding could limit the performance pay portion, the actual benefit of the program comes from the extensive support system. The embedded, weekly professional development ensures that all staff work toward continuous improvement. Profession development is targeted to individual teachers and utilizes best practices and engaging strategies to combat weak areas in student performance. The TAP evaluation system provides four observations for each teacher by at least three different trained staff. The post conferences reinforce the individual teachers successes and identifies an area to focus improvement efforts and refinement. The TAP system provides assurance to all teachers, especially new teachers, in a non-threatening, non-punitive atmosphere of continuous support and improvement. TAP also offers multiple career paths for teacher advancement and increases in salary.

The district is making strides in growing our own teachers. We have four veteran teachers in the high school that graduated from Cross County High School and came back to teach. For several years, the staff has encouraged students to enter the education field with an emphasis on coming back home to teach. In the past four years, we have hired four more former graduates to teach. These home grown teachers have a deep commitment to the district and pride in being a part of making the district a success.

Another strategy that the district has implemented this year is to start the retainment conversations early in the year. The administration began in November holding conversations with individual teachers about their plans for next year. Based on these conversations and the input and feedback from teachers the district officials began taking notes and making decisions on those low cost, high reward initiatives that might entice a teacher to stay. For instance, one teacher might really want to teach at a different grade level, or have a particular course she/he would like to teach. Hopefully there may be easy solutions to keep some of our teachers. Cross County High School is committed to obtaining and retaining effective teachers to provide the best possible education to our students.

Section 4 –Data and Best Practices

Part A: Test Data

Review the following assessment data, 2012-2014, for the charter and the district in which the charter resides.

		Cross County School District (District in which the charter is located)			Cross County High: A New Tech School

	TAGG	62.15%	64.23%	64.86%	46.00%	60.16%	64.86%

Describe the ways in which the testing data support the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current approved academic goals. Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 6 pages.

We feel our data does not truly reflect the depth of our accomplishments. With any implementation of new programs or initiatives, there is an anticipated implementation gap. Our ACTAAP score data beginning in 2012, shows the school narrowly missing state AMO targets for that year. 2012 literacy AMO targets were 63.3% for performance indicators and 63.1% for growth indicators. For that given year, our school's performance was 61.2% in the performance indicator; however, we did meet the target for the student growth indicator with 65.06% of our students demonstrating growth in math skills. Math scores were close to targeted AMOs. Those AMO goals were 74% for performance and 56% for growth. The school's actual performance was 67% in overall performance and 56.6% in growth. During that same year, based on comparable school data with the TAP program, the school was awarded a value add score of 3, which is based on performance comparisons, and indicates students actually grew one full year.

The 2013 test scores attests to the expected dip in student performance. The goals for literacy were 65% in performance and 68.5% in growth with the school's actual performance being 63.48% in performance and 61.18% in growth. Math AMO goals were 70.33% for performance and 60.9% for growth. CCHS actually scored 61.7% in performance and 48.2% in growth with a school-wide value added score of 2 in 2013.

2014 garnered a school-wide value added score of 3 demonstrating students were showing growth, but the school did not meet the state's AMO targets that year. Math did show a marked improvement with students scoring 63.95% with a state goal of 73%. Math increased 15.75 percentage points the following year. Literacy goals for this year were 69.02% in the performance indicator and 72.05% for growth indicators. Our school performance showed only 55.88% of our students met performance goals and 58.62% of students met growth goals, therefore, our literacy scores dipped and were 13.14% from the targeted goal that year.

In 2014, the school ratings were published; we were prepared for a "C", but were surprised when we received a "D." Analysis of the report indicated the district had an exceptionally low graduation rate for the school; keeping in mind that the rates reported on ESEA Accountability reports for a given year reflect the previous years graduation rate. The 2013 graduation rate was 72.22%, which is substantially lower than any in the five-year period. The rates over the last five years were as follows: 2011-81.13%, 2012-82.69%, 2013-72.22%, and 2014-89.13%. Throughout the years, we have stayed focused on the core tenets of academic success, including challenging and rigorous coursework, as well as, student-driven learning. These efforts are indicated from our 0% grade inflation rate from 2013 and 2014 as compared to the state's rate of 2.51% and 7% respectively. This focus led to a huge improvement in 2015.

2015 demonstrated yet another year of growth for Cross County High School. The 2015 ESEA Accountability Report shows the school exceeded new AMO targets in literacy by 9.71 percentage points and narrowly missed new targets in Math by only 3.84 percentage points. The scores indicate the school is beginning to see positive growth and better student performance. School-wide strategies and effective teaching has shown to be main reasons for this growth and progress. Specifically, PARCC scores showed areas of need in some content areas or grade levels, but also demonstrated in some areas that we exceeded the state averages.

The leadership team, made up of mentor teachers, master teachers, and the principal, new tech trainers and advocates, researches and implements school-wide strategies to address deficit areas and track that data weekly. Once a deficit is identified, the leadership researches strategies that will help address these areas of need. These strategies are field tested on a group of students and adjustments are made to meet the needs of our students. Both quantitative and qualitative data is collected to track the progress of the field-tested students. Once the strategy has proven to show improvements, it is then rolled out for the entire staff to implement. The strategies and data are presented in weekly cluster meetings (PLC) as part of student and staff support and are implemented across all content areas and used by all teachers. During the 13-14 school year, based on the 12-13 ACTAAP Benchmark data, our students struggled with constructed response (responding to text) questions. Based on that data, the leadership team designed a research-based strategy to address constructed responses. Overall, students improved in the area of constructed response and essay questions. The charts below show student performance during the 2013 & 2014 school years. The performance comparison data highlighted in green indicates an increase from 2013 to 2014. The most dramatic increases were amongst IEP students as indicated in the second chart below.

The school has been utilizing TLI (The Learning Institute) interim assessments and ACT testing to track student academic growth and progress. This data is updated regularly and is compared to strategy data to determine trends and effectiveness. While TLI historically provided useful data that was strongly correlated to previous testing (ACTAAP), when the test actually changed to PARCC, the data proved less useful and it became difficult to correlate TLI data predictions to the PARCC assessment. Additionally, with an intense focus on college and career access, awareness, and eligibility, CCHS has recently doubled its efforts on ACT awareness and preparation. In collaboration with the University of Arkansas' Center for Multicultural and Diversity, CCHS trained all teachers in the ACT. As part of the school model, ACT is an integral part of our classrooms. Additionally, some teachers were provided additional, extensive training. Two times a year, these experts lead an ACT boot camp. The five-day, after school boot camp, provides students with extension ACT study and practice, as well as assistance with content deficiencies, for 15-20 students. The school also plans to utilize the state's ACT Aspire interim assessments as a tool to help track student growth and progress.

In years past, CCHS has struggled with motivating some students in their coursework. Thus, when designing our college and career access program (C^3), we knew that we had to change mindsets on what is possible for our students, as well as help students understand the purpose of their work in high school. Our partnership with East Arkansas Community College (EACC), and their concurrent credit program, has helped drive us towards this aim. All 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students are provided the opportunity to take concurrent credit. Some courses are offered online, while some courses are offered at CCHS and taught by CCHS teachers. Since the recent evolution of the concurrent credit program, we have seen a large increase of students taking advantage of this program. The 2014-2015 school year indicated only 10 students took a concurrent credit course. During the first semester of 2015-2016, 28 students have enrolled in concurrent courses. We currently have 14 students initially signed up for the spring semester.

Discuss the disciplinary infraction and action data. Be certain to discuss any disproportionate representation by one or more subgroups.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

The data indicates a possible discrepancy with economically disadvantaged (FRL) subpopulations. During those years, the school traditionally had from 70-74% that qualified for free and reduced lunch status. The vast majority of that students in the District make-up our FRL subpopulation. It was anticipated the subgroup would have a higher infraction rate occurring. When data is broken down further, 229 of the infractions with that subgroup is only 46% of the total number of infractions. There also appears to be disproportion between whites and blacks, but when looking at the total enrollment approximately 11% of the students are African American and 89% of the students are white. So essentially enrollment numbers is the logical explanation for all of the differences in data. All discipline follows the student handbook.

Explain how the numbers of out-of-school and in-school suspensions impact student achievement.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

The most concerning data item in the table is the 419 total days assigned to in-school suspensions. Many of these are due to class tardies. Students who have been tardy for a class 4 times, and have had a trust card pulled twice is assigned a day of ISS. The district is currently researching alternatives to suspension, especially with tardies. Any time a student is out of the classroom, it can have a detrimental/negative effect on that student's learning and achievement. Absences from class and/or school are directly related to student achievement. The more students are in school, the more likely they are to be successful and demonstrate proficiency. Schools do still have the responsibility to create and foster a safe environment for students, and unfortunately, that means students may have an instance(s) of out of school suspension (OSS) or in school suspension (ISS).

In the event a student is suspended from school (OSS), they do not receive a zero/no credit (if work is completed). Students can make up their work upon their return or work on any assignment after a suspension is over to receive credit for assignments, within a reasonable timeframe. At any time, a student can contact a teacher via email or phone to get any assistance during the suspension period.

During ISS, students have access to the materials they would normally have access to (i.e., laptops and other materials). Students also have access to teachers, if needed, either through email, face-to-face interactions, etc.

The school will be pursuing amendments to the tardy policy and the consequences to make efforts to lower ISS assignments; connecting community service hours is one option the school is exploring. Other strategies the school will explore to deter ISS instances are student research projects, lunch detentions, and/or after-school detentions.

To explain the enrollment discrepancy, the October 1 enrollment reflected 285 students. The data shows 285 students in the gender categories, but does not in the race categories. The race categories total 275 students. Data presented to the school in the charter renewal application only reported black and white students. There were 10 students reported as other races on the cycle 2 report based on October enrollment numbers.

Discuss the strategies used by the charter to ensure that discipline is administered in a fair and equitable manner.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

The school employs a full-time principal and part-time dean of students. The dean of students responds to and deals with all discipline. The dean does confer with the building principal in certain cases and the building principal handles severe issues. To ensure equity, the school's handbook is followed and having that one person in charge of discipline helps to ensure student discipline is as consistent and fair as possible. Following the handbook consistently means everyone has prior knowledge of the consequences and everyone is treated the same. In the event a parent has a complaint or the dean requires or requests assistance, the building principal will step in and investigate to determine the best course of action.

2014-2015 Attendance

Describe the methods used by the charter to improve student behavior and attendance.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

The school implements a "trust card" system, which is similar to PBIS (Positive Behavior Intervention System) that focuses on the foundations of trust. Every student enrolled in the school, receives an ID card that is also their "trust" card. When students have their "trust" cards, they have certain privileges that are consistent school-wide. Students have input in some of those privileges. The privileges for the 2015-2016 are as follows. Students with trust cards can:

1. work on projects outside the room in a designated area;
2. go to the restroom and office without a hall pass;
3. re-enter sporting events;
4. listen to music during work time in the classroom;
5. go the library and other supervised areas during lunch with a note;
6. attend Friday night tailgate parties (pre-game parties);
7. go to the front of lunch line;
8. take computer home;
9. have a dry snack and drink in class;
10. fun reward trip for those who keep trust card all semester.

Students are awarded each semester for exhibiting good behavior (#10 on list) and proving they can be trusted. These rewards vary year to year, but have included trips to nearby areas to bowl, to eat, etc.

Attendance is not a large, encompassing problem for the school, but there are certain students who do miss more than a reasonable number of days. The school follows the law in terms of reporting compulsory attendance. The school issues written notification to parents informing them of student absences. The principal and counselors have conferences with students and parents as another way to help improve attendance. The school is currently researching best practices and award systems to help improve attendance.

The school offers a School-Based Health Center partnering with a local medical clinic chain (ArCare) located on campus and also partners with local mental health professionals (Mid-South Health Systems) who are on campus daily. When students are sick, parents can make an appointment with the health center so students can see the doctor on campus and return to school. This service has been a positive intervention in helping improve student attendance. We have a very strong partnership with the medical clinic, which is in its fifth year of operation.

Students may also be referred for mental health counseling and assigned a certified therapist and case manager that provide counseling services on-site. These services assist in improving attendance and behavior. Counselors are on site daily to intervene and assist in behavior and discipline cases as needed. The counselors follow-up with students in cases of behavioral issues, they attend meetings with parents, and serve as committee members for IEP's, 504, and Alternative Education (if they provide services to the specific student). Our current mental health service provider is in its third year and the school could not be more pleased with that partnership.

Part C: Best Practices

Identify and describe one (or more) best practice(s) that support the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current approved academic goals. Provide the data that led to the determination that this practice is effective.
Respond in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

The mission of Cross County School District is to educate the whole child by preparing them to be lifelong learners and responsible citizens in a global society. In order to succeed in a rapidly changing world, all students will be able to:

• Think analytically
• Solve problems creatively
• Utilize technology appropriately
• Collaborate effectively
• Communicate articulately

School representatives and stakeholders both agree these are the skills students need to be successful in the globalized world. In an effort to provide the best opportunity for students to excel in applying these skills, the school chose to adopt school-wide learning outcomes, adopted the TAP model, and just recently launched a college and career access program (C^3).

School-Wide Learning Outcomes

Cross County High School has adopted school-wide learning outcomes (SWLO) that are assessed in all classes:

- Written communication;
- Oral communication;
- Agency (work ethic);
- Knowledge and thinking (problem solving); and
- Collaboration

The school and other stakeholders developed a mission statement for the school district that shows the parallels between the SWLOs and what stakeholders deemed as important skills for students in the mission. Every teacher assesses SWLOs through the context of their content to foster the development of real-world skills students will need in their postsecondary careers. Students present or speak publicly at least 32 times over the course of one school year. Additionally, students learn and apply skills in work ethic, problem solving, and understand the importance of being able to work together and collaborate to accomplish a shared goal within a project. Being proficient in these skills, demonstrates our students are more real-world ready.

During the 2011-2012 school year, CCSD implemented CCSS K-12 literacy and then 2012-2013 K-12 math two years ahead of the mandated state implementation to ensure a smoother transition to Common Core State Standards (CCSS) from Arkansas Curriculum Frameworks. New Tech pushes our students to reach out into the community more and to be more effective problem solvers. Students present to each other, the teachers, and, at times, key community leaders. Our students are more comfortable with speaking publically, working together to solve problems, and thinking critically about text as a result of adopted school-wide learning outcomes. The school has made progress to meet the charter's goals as a result.

All of these requirements allow our students to meet the same goals as Common Core, which were designed to ensure that students are prepared for today's entry-level careers, freshman-level college courses, and workforce training programs. Common Core focuses on developing the critical-thinking, problem solving, and analytical skills students will need to be successful. Providing students an environment and a platform to showcase these skill-sets is what education today is all about. For a school that has a high rate of poverty and is isolated, the culture of the school says a lot about the students and community.

TAP and Cluster Meetings (PLC)

To continually improve instruction, CCSD implements the TAP model with fidelity. In order to ensure that all teachers develop an in-depth understanding of the TAP instructional rubric, all teachers attend weekly cluster meetings. The first cluster cycle focuses on understanding and implementing best practices by honing in on what each indicator from the TAP rubric looks and sounds like in a classroom. The following cluster cycles consist of teachers learning how to implement the strategies that have been field tested to strengthen identified student weaknesses. The meetings begin by looking for trends in student data from the week before and using that data to help drive teacher instruction for the approaching week. Most of the cluster time is spent developing ways for the strategy to seamlessly be implemented into their own curriculum. Master and mentor teachers model and label the indicators when facilitating cluster, as well as in the classroom when providing follow-up support to teachers.

Support is determined during each cluster meeting. Just like a teacher would provide differentiated support to their students depending on what their individual needs might be, master and mentor teachers provide differentiated support for teachers to meet their individual needs in order to grow them as teachers. Throughout the year, teachers have the support of master and mentor teachers to make suggestions, model, co-teach, observe, and plan. Each teacher is observed four times throughout the year. After each observation, teachers are given a reinforcement area that they are strongly encouraged to continue and a refinement area to work on. All teachers reflect weekly on their teaching practices by keeping an on-going individual growth plan. Implementing this model, has allowed for personal growth for each teacher, which results in student achievement gains.

College and Access Program (C^3)

Cross County High School (CCHS) is a school dedicated to the academic success of every student. However, we feel that is not enough. Our focus is on the whole child. We want to ensure that all students have the opportunities and experiences to live passion-driven lives. The CCHS College and Career Access is designed to help the school meet this vision. An outline of the college and career access program's work can be found in Section 1. This work (college trips, additional counseling/support, parent involvement practices, college and career course, etc.) is all based on best practices and the Cycle of Inquiry (data, analysis, strategy, repeat).

The work on the college and career access program (C began with the data in the Spring of 2014. Upon investigation, we realized that our students were engaging in postsecondary experiences at a rate far below the national and state averages. This realization started a discussion and analysis period: we wanted to know why. As we dug deeper, we found three things. Students either 1) thought they were not smart enough for postsecondary ("only smart kids..."), and thus, often did not care about their school work, 2) students thought that only wealthy kids had opportunities after high school, and thus, they often did not care about their course work in high school 3) students were often ill-informed, mistaken, or wrong about what is necessary to be accepted and successful in a postsecondary experience.

Yet, upon reflection, this analysis left us with more questions than answers. We often talked about intelligence being malleable in our classrooms. Like most schools, we often discussed career choices and college options. And, the guidance counselor often provided a lot of information about college and career choices. The question remained: why was it not enough?

Therefore, we entered back into the cycle of inquiry. We connected our students to the research available. What we found was that populations like ours, a large population of students from situations of poverty and a large population of first generation students, needed more. At this point, we knew it was time to innovate. We began our work with partnerships. We worked with KIPP, the University of Arkansas, Arkansas Tech, and others to create a system of support. Through the use of the cycle of inquiry, we identified our desired outcomes and attacked with strategy. We realized that students were limited in their mindsets around what is possible, thus, we launched a college trip for every grade, every year. We realized that parents were not involved in the process; thus, we decided to host a parent night for all 9th-12th grade parents to get them up to speed. We realized that students were limited in their knowledge of possible careers, thus, we set up a job shadow for every 11th grader. And, we realized that our student required student post-high school, thus, we created an alumni support program.

Our work with the college and career access program is steeped in best practices. The program itself is a product of the Cycle of Inquiry. The work inside the program is data-informed, innovative, relentless, and thoughtful. We know the vision that we have for students and we are willing to do whatever it takes to accomplish our goals.

Section 5 – Academic Performance Goals

Part A: Current Performance Goals

Each of the charter's student academic performance goals, as approved by the authorizer, is listed. Describe the charter's progress in achieving each goal and provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the progress. If a goal was not reached, explain why it was not reached and the actions being taken so that students can achieve the goal.
REDACT ALL STUDENT IDENTIFIABLE INFORMATION.

Goals as stated in 2013 renewal application:

Describe the charter's progress to achieving each goal and provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the progress.

Goals in Literacy

Cross County High School Reading and Reading Comprehension will increase to meet Annual Measurable Objectives (AMOs) and individual student growth goals each year for the first five years.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

All students will demonstrate growth and progress toward the school's AMO expectations/projections as indicated by TLI assessments and ACTAAP testing.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

Since both goals are interconnected, the following response will address both goals. As you notice from the chart, we did not meet the AMO for 2012-2013 and 2013-2014 school year. Cross County High School met its AMO target for literacy based on 2014-2015 PARCC testing data.

	Literacy Performance %			Literacy Growth %
Year	AMO	CCHS	+/-	AMO	CCHS	+/_
2012	63.33	61.27	-2.06	63.15	65.06	+1.91
2013	65.14	63.49	-1.65	68.55	61.18	-7.37
2014	69.02	55.88	-13.14	72.05	58.62	-13.43
2015	21.47	31.18	+9.71

We realize some of the data in the table is not positive, but we are implementing interventions to help address the deficits. Those efforts are discussed in further detail below. The implementation of PBL (project-based learning) and PrBL (problem-based learning) began in 2012. And while we are now benefiting from the fruits of our labor, the process was long and tough, both for teachers and students. We believe the implementation, and the implementation gap that was likely to occur, is visible in this literacy data. However, throughout the implementation, we did not let our work become stagnant. We actively incorporated research-based programs and strategies to push our student achievement in literacy. Some of these items can be found described below. We put many mechanisms in place to track all instructional processes to address individual growth including:

1. Value add scores to break down student growth further;
2. Field testing to identify student growth and progress toward school-wide instructional strategies;
3. School-wide instructional strategies that track weekly progress of high, medium, and low work (quantitative and qualitative) for all students;

4. Data walls to track each student based on a set baseline to indicate achievement using TLI, ACT scores, ACT interim assessments and pre and post-test data;
5. APEX, Naviance, and Reading Plus, for an example, are added computer aided platforms used to track all students.
6. ACT Aspire interim assessments and Noble Network interim assessments;
7. ACT boot camps, ACT Prep.

TAP Literacy School-wide Instructional Strategy

As part of the TAP model, the school's leadership team researches and field-tests best academic strategies to implement school-wide in areas identified from state testing data. These strategies are rolled out in the school's cluster meetings (PLCs). Cluster leaders explain, model, and keep track of student data throughout the duration of the strategy and other testing endeavors, i.e. TLI interim assessments and ACT pretests. As part of this work, we partnered with The Noble Network of schools, who developed interim assessments to target 9th/10th ACT testing. 11th grade students were given an ACT exam to break down skills deficits. TLI data was also used to set baselines for student growth and analysis. The school rolled out a pre-test to determine need areas and began charting that information. As strategies are implemented, post-testing will occur to determine growth in those identified areas. Previous strategies the school implemented to address reading include constructed response strategies, vocabulary development strategies, and close reading strategies. Additional supporting documents are attached regarding strategies and data.

New Tech School-wide Learning Outcomes

We also assess students using school-wide learning outcomes. Students are assessed in content, but also in how well they can communicate ideas both verbally and through writing, think and respond critically to texts, and collaborate with others to understand texts and improve the ability to present information. Additionally, students are assessed on agency (work ethic) and how well they endure and demonstrate effort during extended reading and writing. The 2015 ESEA Accountability Report demonstrates Cross County's students did meet AMO targets in literacy. Previous data indicates slow, but steady progress in literacy (reading/writing) skills. Students are reading more and delving into more complex text and are better able to analyze those texts for understanding based on literacy strategies implemented.

Cross County High School Writing Center

The school has been implementing a student-led Writing Center for nearly three years as an additional support to students. Students apply to be selected to be tutors within the Writing Center. A certified teacher trains all students in support strategies to implement during the time. Students make appointments to see a tutor during advisory time, which occurs four times weekly. Students have the opportunity to receive 160 minutes of tutoring weekly in reading and writing.

Other Literacy Supports

Other supports, such as computer-assisted programs, are used as additional interventions to target growth in literacy skills. These programs include, but are not limited to, Reading Plus, STAR testing, and APEX. Kindles were introduced this current school year as tools to improve and motivate students to read more. Overdrive, an online library, allows students to check out more books at any time of day (during off times, summer, and breaks). ACT boot camps are set up to ensure that students have best opportunity possible to be successful on ACT exams. Naviance provides a platform for students to train and pre-test ACT materials. Naviance tracks students' ACT scores, GPA, and college applications, all available to students at anytime via a personal log-in. After school tutoring is yet another option available to assist in student achievement.

Goals in Mathematics

Math Performance %				Math Growth% *
Year	AMO	CCHS	+/-	AMO	CCHS	+/_
2012	74.38	67.03	-7.35	57.62	56.63	-.99
2013	70.33	61.71	-8.62	60.97	48.24	-12.73
2014	73.62	63.95	-9.67	65.38	52.87	-12.51
2015	12.09	8.24	-3.85

We realize the data in the table is not positive, but we are implementing "interventions" to help address the deficits. Those efforts are discussed below. The implementation of PBL (project-based learning) and PrBL (problem-based learning) began in 2012. And while we are now benefiting from the fruits of our labor, the process was long and tough, both for teachers and students. We believe the implementation, and the implementation gap that was likely to occur, is visible in this math data. However, throughout the implementation, we did not let our work become stagnant. We actively incorporated research-based programs and strategies to push our student achievement in mathematics. Some of these items can be found described below. Since both goals are interconnected, the following response will address both goals. Cross County High School has struggled to meet AMO goals. The 2015 ESEA Report does indicate positive growth. Individual student progress and success is just as important as overall performance. We put many mechanisms in place to track all instructional processes to address individual growth including:

1. Value add scores to break down student growth further;
2. Field testing to identify student growth and progress toward school-wide instructional strategies;
3. School-wide instructional strategies that track weekly progress of high, medium, and low work (quantitative and qualitative) for all students;
4. Data walls to track each student based on a set baseline to indicate achievement using TLI, ACT scores, ACT interim assessments and pre and post-test data;
5. APEX and Naviance, for an example, are added computer aided platforms used to track all students;
6. ACT Aspire interim assessments and Noble Network interim assessments;
7. ACT boot camps and ACT prep.

TAP School-Wide Instructional Strategy

As part of the TAP model, the school's leadership team researches and field tests best academic strategies to implement school-wide in areas identified from state testing data. These strategies are rolled out in the school's cluster meetings (PLCs). Cluster leaders explain, model, and keep track of student data throughout the duration of the strategy and other testing endeavors, i.e. TLI interim assessments and ACT pretests. The Noble Network of schools developed interim assessments to target 9th/10th ACT testing. 11th grade students were given an ACT exam to break down skills deficits. TLI data was also used to set baselines for student growth and analysis. The school rolled out a pre-test to determine need areas and began charting that information. As strategies are implemented, post-testing will occur to determine growth in those identified areas. Strategies assessed include content vocabulary, fractions and math computation, and problem solving.

New Tech School-Wide Learning Outcomes

In an effort to increase student achievement in math, the school is transitioning from project-based learning (PBL) to problem-based learning (PrBL) to better align the needs of effective instruction and student learning. As part of adopted school-wide learning outcomes (SWLOs), problem solving has been more beneficial in math and with the use of problem-based learning (PrBL). The problem-solving SWLO provides the teachers the opportunity to assess a student's logic, ability to justify, and ability to identify and generalize the underlying mathematical structures of a problem.

Other Math Supports

There are a variety of other math supports provided by CCHS. In an effort to continue the progress, we have implemented a Math Lab that is very similar to the school's Writing Center. This is a student-led math tutoring service available four days weekly. Students have the opportunity to receive up to 140 minutes of tutoring every week. After school tutoring is available to all students. Teachers in the classroom implement Visual Instructional Plans (VIPs) that scaffold and breakdown math equations into a visual reference point. APEX offers opportunities for students to catch up and receive credit recovery during the year. Policies are being developed to create a better avenue for students to receive credit recovery and the work they do within APEX. Intentional supplemental math connections are made in Agriculture and Family and Consumer Science courses daily. Students taking these courses are engaged in real-world application math processes.

Cross County High School Mathematics and Mathematical Reasoning will increase to meet Annual Measurable Objectives (AMOs) and individual student growth goals each year for the first five years.

Cross County High School is meeting attendance goals. Attendance rates have stayed steady with the following rates (all based on ESEA Accountability Reports 3rd quarter averages):

YEAR	CCHS (3rd Q)	State Avg.	State Goal 2014
2012	96.71%	NA
2013	95.15%	94.1%
2014	95.22%	94.4%	91.13%
2015	94.94%	NA

2012: 96.71%, 2013:95.15%, 2014: 95.22%, 2015: 94.94%. The school has met or surpassed the recent state goal of 91.13% as stated on the 2014 School Report Card. When comparing the school performance on the 2014 School Report card for attendance, the school's attendance rates are as follows: 2012: 96.7%, 2013: 93.3%, and 2014: 93.8%. In both instances, the school's performance did exceed the state's goal.

Cross County High School offers a school-based health center on campus partnering with local medical and mental health providers. Having the health clinic on-site allows parents to make an appointment with the doctor's office for students to walk over, meet with the doctor, and come back to school. Most students do return unless the doctor recommends otherwise. Mental health counseling is also available on-site daily. Counselors provide services to students making it unnecessary for students to miss school in order to make it to counseling sessions. Educating the whole child is necessary to keep them healthy both physically and mentally.

We also host project showcase nights as a motivational component to keeps students and parents alike interested and engaged in the happenings at Cross County High. As part of our college and career access program, all students grades 7-12 participate in college and career visits and job shadowing in an effort to keep students interested in the importance of school and a good education. These trips also give the school the opportunity to 'tap' into student interests as well, giving them voice and choice in some instances. For example, a small group of students may request a visit to a local community college to observe a welding program; the school may be able to arrange that visit. Students are also interested in forming clubs that are not necessarily those "typical" clubs. Additionally, we have had students take the initiative to form three clubs this school year. Our students are taking note of outside interests and bringing those to school in a positive format to share with others in the form of new clubs.

One goal of the school overall is to provide more engaging and relevant instruction to help appeal to all students. When students are more engaged, they are more likely to be more successful and want to come to school. Our hopes are that as PBL becomes more and more mainstream, students will see the value in it and the value in New Tech and feel that CCHS is the place for them and encourage fewer absences.

In the second year, the graduation rate will increase by 2%, and will continue to increase by the same increment each subsequent year.

YEAR	AMO	CCHS	+/-
2012	83.02	81.13	-1.89
2013	84.90	82.69	-2.21
2014	86.79	72.22	-14.57
2015	88.68	89.13	+.45

Based on our goal, the school's rate did increase from 2012 to 2013 by 1.56%. The following year, the rate decreased. The school's 2014 graduation rate did drop significantly. School officials worked diligently with several students to reduce the chances of them dropping out and despite those efforts, that particular cohort year, there were many students who did drop out of school due to different personal reasons. The following year did show a 16.91% increase.

While the most recent data shows significant growth, we believe there is much work to be done. We pride ourselves in being innovative, progression, and responsive. Our vision requires that all students graduate with the opportunities and experiences necessary to live a passion-driven life.

A major part of our work in helping students graduate is helping them find a purpose for their work today by helping them connect today's work to their future. In the past, our students have struggled with finding the worth in assignments that don't feel connected to their future. This was occurring for a variety of reasons: a) some students did not see the importance of education in the pursuit of their goals, b) some students had a limited view of what was possible, c) some students did not know how their coursework today could connect to their future. Cross County High School's leadership team decided that we needed to find a way to help students understand that what they are doing today will affect what is possible beyond our school.

The biggest mechanism used to attack these negative mindsets is the college and career access program (C^3). The college and career access program (C^3) is designed to help students understand the importance of their current coursework by showing them what is possible in the future and counseling them through their educational journey. We found that when we are able to show students what is possible, their work becomes purposeful and meaningful. When students try and see worth in their work, they not only are more likely to graduate, but more likely to be a highly successful student.

Another element that is leading to a higher graduation rate is our conversion to project-based learning (PbL). With PbL, students are challenged with authentic, rigorous course that meets the state standards while connecting to a student's interests. This student-centric model allows for more student voice, involvement, and buy in. Again, when students are more invested, they are must more likely to graduate and find success.

Finally, CCHS provides opportunities for credit recovery. If a student does not pass a course, they are able to make up the credit through APEX, a computer-based, online instructional system.

Part B: New Performance Goals

Confirm the understanding that, during the term of the charter renewal, the charter is expected to meet all goals and/or objectives set by the state.

List other student academic performance goals for the period of time requested for renewal. For each goal, include the following:

- The tool to be used to measure academic performance;
- The level of performance that will demonstrate success; and
- The timeframe for the achievement of the goal.

Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Literacy: The school will narrow the achievement gap between the school's performance as compared to the state's performance by 2% each year until the school reaches the state average.

Math: The school will narrow the achievement gap between the school's performance as compared to the state's performance by 2% each year until the school reaches the state average.

Graduation: Based on our commitment to college and career readiness, we will meet or exceed the national graduation rate each year.

Attendance: The school will increase attendance rates by .5% or meet state goals.

Section 6 – Finance

Review the charter's most recent annual financial audit report. For each finding, address the following:

- If the finding had been noted in any prior year audits;
- The corrective actions taken to rectify the issue; and
- The date by which the issue was or will be corrected.

During the most recent financial audit ending June 30, 2014, the audit stated "Upon auditor's review of free and reduced lunch applications, it was noted that an application that was incorrectly processed as reduced, was in fact, based on income and household size, qualified for free status." Subsequent reviews did not uncover additional incorrect applications, and it was believed to be a one-time error and not a systematic error. The employees responsible for processing applications have been made aware and will continue to strive for accurate processing on a go-forward basis. No other findings were noted.

Section 7 – Waivers

Review the following list of statutes and rules that have been waived for the charter school:

Statute/Standard/Rule to be Waived

Arkansas Code Annotated

Standards for Accreditation

- 9.03.4.10 ("Physical Education") of the ADE Rules Governing the Standards for Accreditation

ADE Rules

Rationale

The size of our district, the location of the school due to a prior consolidation, and the distance to school for most of our student athletes demonstrate the need for football and basketball to be embedded into our school day. We realize that athletics is important to students and to the community. The community strongly supports our athletic program. Athletes in grades 9-12, spend a large amount of time addressing fitness, movement, and team building (personal and social behavior) which are the major components of the PE courses. Practice and preparation for competition ensures they are the most physically fit students on campus. Since we are offering basketball and football during the school day, we are asking to waive Section 9.03.4.10 ("Physical Education") of the ADE Rules Governing the Standards for Accreditation in a effort to allow students to receive a maximum of the 0.5 required PE credit for participating in a semester of basketball or football. This waiver would provide the opportunity for our students to take other academic courses during the day such as concurrent credit courses or other required or requested courses.

2012-2013 School Goal:

Based on 2011-2012 Benchmark test results for grades 7-8 and results from the End of Course (EOC) test results for 11th grade Literacy, Algebra I, and Geometry; by May 2013, Cross County High School, A New Tech School will increase the number of students who are proficient and advanced from 62.96% to 75% in literacy and 67.44% to 75% in math.

- The number of students in seventh grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 37 students in literacy and math.
- The number of students in eighth grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 35 students in literacy and math.
- The number of students in Algebra I who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 37 students.
- The number of students in Geometry who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 35 students.
- The number of students in Grade 11 Literacy who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 35 students.

In addition, CCHS will maintain or increase the achievement in the economically disadvantaged sub-population.

Cluster Goal:

By May 2013, all students will improve performance on benchmark tests by one proficiency level on reading comprehension section of the TLI test, which is aligned to the state literacy exam, due to teachers demonstrating proficiency in teaching strategies for interacting and responding to text as a result of modeling and grouping.

Strategy:

Master/Mentor teachers field tested a reading comprehension strategy, which focused on improving the students ability to take their background knowledge, combined with text clues to make inferences. This reading comprehension strategy was field tested prior to school-wide implementation to determine effectiveness and critical attributes for student success.

Pretest Data for Field Test Group (12 students in grades 10-11 from all benchmark categories: needs significant attention, needs attention, may need attention, likely proficient)
High Level Student Performance	0
Medium Level Student Performance	4
Low Level Student Performance	8

Post Test Data for Field Test Group
High Level Student Performance	4
Medium Level Student Performance	4
Low Level Student Performance	2

The Inference strategy was modeled for career teachers in weekly cluster (PLC) meetings. Career teachers Inference Strategy school-wide with the support of Master/Mentor teachers.

Inference Strategy:
BK (Background Knowledge) + TC (Text Clues) = I (Inference)

Using the Inference Equation:
Questions to Drive Thinking

BK..... Do I know anything about this?
Have I heard it before?
Does the word have parts that have their own meanings?
Do I already have an idea what it means?

TC..... What does it say in the sentence with the word?
What's going on in the paragraph?
What's the situation in the moment where I find the word?
Does the title or subject of the text give me a clue about the word?

I..... Does my BK knowledge help me?
Does my inference make sense compared to any text clues I've found?
Am I just guessing?

Driving Question:
How could students using their background knowledge and text clues help them make better inferences and improve reading comprehension?

Lesson 1: Objective: I will define inferring; I will use BK+TC=I to make an inference. Using the gradual release method, introduced the "Inference Equation", BK+TC=I with a graphic organizer identifying the parts of the equation, after reading an informative text one paragraph at a time. The unfamiliar word is already underlined. Gradual Release Model: After reading the first paragraph, did a think aloud documenting background knowledge of the word, identifying text clues, and inferring the meaning of the word. Completed Box #1. We do - Repeated process working with students to formulate answers and completing Box #2. Had students copy onto paper. They do - Students independently completed two more words (boxes #3 & 4).	Lesson 1: High: 3 Medium: 3 Low: 4 Total: 10 Students were able to pull out text clues relating to the unfamiliar word. However, they struggled with background knowledge. Some students (high/medium) already knew the identified words. Not high-interest reading material. Critical Attributes: - Think Aloud - Model - After inferring meaning, replace unfamiliar word with definition to determine if it "makes sense". Student interest was higher. Familiar with equation and graphic organizer.
Lesson 2: Objective: I will use a BK+TC=I graphic organizer to infer the meaning of unfamiliar words. T- probed for background knowledge based on title of article (current event) Through gradual release, used Background Knowledge + Text Clues = Inference graphic organizer with informational text (unfamiliar words underlined).	Lesson 2: High: 1 Medium: 5 Low: 4 Total: 10 Students were able to somewhat identify background knowledge and text clues, but not get the correct definition. However, if they had multiple choices like they did on the pretest or benchmark, would they get it correct???
Lesson 3: Objective: I will use a BK+TC=I to infer meaning and use the word in an original sentence.	High interest; better background knowledge; easily works with graphic organizer. Lesson 3:

Gradual release, adding writing an orginal sentence to the graphic organizer. 9/06/12 Post -test	High: 4 Medium: 2 Low: 4 Total: 10 Critical Attributes: - Relevant text - Probe for background knowledge based on title or subject - Think aloud model (gradual release) - Using in sentence solidifies understanding - Replace word with definition High (3-4): 4 Medium (2): 4 Low: (0-1): 2 Total: 10

Based upon benchmark data and the 2013 ESEA Accountability Report in Literacy All Students fell below the AMO by 1.65%, and the TAG Group fell below the AMO by 1.76%.

Cycle Cluster Goal:

By May 2014, all students will improve performance on benchmark tests by 1 proficiency level with students performing in the highest proficiency level maintaining their scores due to teachers demonstrating proficiency in a constructive response strategy that address needs reflected in the individual student testing data.

Strategy:

Master/Mentor teachers field tested a Constructed Response Strategy, which focused on improving the students ability to use textual evidence when responding to a prompt. This writing strategy was field tested prior to school-wide implementation to determine effectiveness and critical attributes for student success.

However, due to the targeted literacy constructive response strategy, we began closing the gap between the district and state average on open responses and essays. There was an improvement in all populations, but a notable increase in open responses for our special education population.

2014-2015 School Goal:
Based on 2013-2014 Augmented Benchmark test results for grades 7-8 and results from the End of Course (EOC) test results for 11th grade Literacy, Algebra I, and Geometry, Cross County High School, A New Tech School had 61% of their students proficient and advanced in Literacy and 66% of their students proficient or advanced in Math (62.4% overall proficient or about 137 students out of 220). Given that information Cross County High School hopes to increase the amount of students who score within a similar band on the PARCC assessments, and correlating EOC exams. This means there will be about 186 out of 244 who score in a similar band for Literacy (76%) and about 198 students out 244 who score in a similar band for Math (81.2%). These percentages correlate to the state's AMO set for the 14-15 school year, which are based off of Augmented Benchmark and EOC from the 13-14 school year (proficiency cut scores have not been determined for PARCC so the required AMO may not correlate).

- The number of students in seventh grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase from 36 to 43 students in literacy and from 35 to 45 students in math.
- The number of students in eighth grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase from 26 to 35 students in literacy and 23 to 38 students in math.
- The number of students in ninth grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase from 29 to 38 in literacy.
- The number of students in tenth grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 36 in literacy.
- The number of students in Grade 11 Literacy who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 34 students.
- The number of students in Algebra I who scored proficient or advanced will increase from 30 to 40 students.
- The number of students in Geometry who scored proficient or advanced will increase from 31 to 39 students.
- The number of students in eleventh grade who scored proficient or advanced will increase to 36 in math.

In addition, CCHS will maintain or increase the achievement in the economically disadvantaged sub-population.

Cycle Cluster Goals:
By the end of the cluster cycle, 76% of students in grades 7-11 will be proficient or advanced or within a similar band as determined by PARCC (high and medium students) in the area of tone and author's purpose by using Close Reading strategies. Students falling in the remaining 24% will show growth due to teachers demonstrating proficiency in teaching Close Reading strategies.

By the end of the cluster cycle, 76% of students in grades 7-11 will be proficient or advanced or within a similar band as determined by PARCC (high and medium students) in the area identifying and using stronger text evidence by using "Students Are Researching" strategy. Students falling in the remaining 24% will show growth due to teachers demonstrating proficiency in teaching "Students Are Researching" strategy.

Strategy:
Master/Mentor teachers field tested a close reading and researching strategy, which focused on improving the students ability to identify main idea, author's purpose, word meaning, tone, and identifying textual evidence. Additionally, the strategy was modified to support students understanding of math word problems. This reading and researching strategy was field tested prior to school-wide implementation to determine effectiveness and critical attributes for student success.

Driving Question: How could students understanding of academic vocabulary improve their ability read, process information, and respond to various texts and word problems?
Lesson 1	What is academic vocabulary? How can the school create a list of academic terms that are horizontally and vertically aligned? Phase 1: Make decisions about the target number of words to be taught at each grade level and, by extension, across a grade-level interval (7-8, 9-10, or 11-12) or a multigrade span (7-12). Phase 2: For each academic content area in the program, create a rank ordered list of words considered important to the grade-level interval or multigrade span by selecting words which support the Common Core Standards, AR Frameworks, and ACT College and Career Readiness Stands and adding words that reflect local standards and curriculum materials. Phase 3: Based on the length of these lists, determine how many terms should be taught in each academic area. Phase 4: Generate the final list of terms for each academic area by making additions, deletions, or other alterations. Phase 5: Assign terms to specific grades.
Lesson 2	Step 1: Provide a description, explanation, or example of the new term. ▫ Definition vs. Description ▫ Explaining Features of Words

	▫ Providing Examples
Lesson 3	Step 2: Ask student to restt4e the description, explanation, or example in their own words. ▫ Linguistic and Nonlinguistic Representations ▫ Vocabulary Notebooks
Lesson 4	Step 3: Ask students to construct a picture, symbol, or graphic representing the term or phrase.
Lesson 5	Step 4: Engage students periodically in activities that help the add to their knowledge of the terms in their vocabulary notebooks. ▫ Identifying similarities and differences o Comparing and Contrasting o Classifying o Creating Analogies ▫ Examining Affixes and Root Words
Lesson 6	Step 5: Periodically ask students to discuss the terms with one another ▫ Role Cards ▫ Paired Thinking ▫ Inside-Outside Circle
Lesson 7	Step 6: Involve students periodically in games that allow them to play with terms. ▫ Games should present challenges that are appropriate and manageable for students. ▫ Games should arouse students' curiosity ▫ Games should prompt students to imagine different circumstances and situations. (Possible games: alphabet antonyms, classroom feud, create a category, definition shmefinition, digital vocabulary field trip, draw me, magic letter-magic word, motor imaging, name it, name that category, opposites attract, possible sentences, puzzle stories, root relay, secret language, semantic feature analysis)
Driving Question: How could improving students understand and computation of fractions increase their understand and math applications when solving mathematical problems?
Lesson 1	Comparing Mentally Strategies appropriate to the numbers at hand ▫ Uses relationship between numerators and denominators to compare o Understanding relationships between numerators and denominators can make comparisons with fractions easier. For example, when comparing 3/8 and 5/6 some students reason that 5/6 is closer to 1, or that 3/8 is less than 1/2, and 5/6 is greater. When comparing 5/12 and 5/8, some students reason that eighths are larger than twelfths and since there are the same number of each, 5/8 must be greater than 5/12.
Lesson 2	Comparing Mentally Continued Strategies not appropriate for the numbers at hand ▫ Converts to common denominators to compare o Converting to common denominators is not always an efficient strategy for comparing fractions. For example, when mentally comparing 3/8 and 5/6, converting to common denominators indicates a lack of attention to the relationships between the numerators and denominators of the fractions at hand.

Lesson 3	Computing Mentally Strategies appropriate to the numbers at hand ▫ Reasons with decimals or percents o When students reason with decimals or percents to compare and compute with fractions, they show an understanding of equivalence. Quick recall of common equivalents can make mental comparison and computation easier. For example, when solving 3 1/2 ▫ 2 students may relate the problem to decimals and reason that 3.5 ▫ 2 = 7.
Lesson 4	Computing Mentally Continued Strategies appropriate to the numbers at hand ▫ Extends understanding of operations with whole numbers to operations with fractions. o Applying understanding of operations with whole numbers to operations with fractions is essential for computing efficiently with fractions. For example, when solving 3 1/2 ▫ 2, some students apply the distributive property by multiplying 3 ▫ 2 to get 6, 1/2 ▫ 2 to get 1, and then adding 6 + 1. Other students apply the understanding of multiplication as adding equal groups and think of 3 1/2 ▫ 2 as 3 1/2 + 3 1/2.
Lesson 5	Computing Mentally Continued Strategies appropriate to the numbers at hand ▫ Uses benchmark of 1▫2 or 1 to estimate. o Learning to estimate is as important as learning to perform exact calculations. Estimation can be used to check the reasonableness of answers or to figure out an answer that does not need to be exact. The strategy of using benchmark numbers to make estimates requires relating fractions to an appropriate benchmark and then computing mentally. For example, when asked whether 11/12 + 1/5 is greater than 1 or less than 1, some students reason that 11/12 is 1/12 away from 1 and 1/5 is greater than 1/12 so the sum must be greater than 1.
Lesson 6	Computing Mentally Strategies not appropriate for the numbers at hand ▫ Uses standard algorithm to compute. o While using a standard algorithm is not a concern for an individual problem, it's a concern when students rely on the algorithm as their only strategy for computing mentally. For example, figuring out 3 1/2 ▫ 2 by renaming 3 1/2 to 7/2 and then using the multiplication algorithm is inefficient and may indicate a lack of being able to numerically reason.

Lesson 7	Computing Mentally Strategies not appropriate for the numbers at hand ▪ Figures exact answer to estimate. o Learning to estimate is as important as learning to perform exact calculations. Estimation can be used to check the reasonableness of answers or to figure out an answer that does not need to be exact. Relying on figuring exact answers when estimating may indicate a lack of flexibility to reason in other ways with the numbers at hand. For example, when asked if 11/12 + 1/5 is greater or less than 1, students who need to compute the exact answer indicate a lack of being able to reason numerically.
Lesson 8	Applying Understanding ▪ Models with mathematics to solve problems in context. o Solving problems in contexts requires that students can model situations mathematically—relate situations to the appropriate numerical operations and provide answers that relate to the problem contexts. For example, to figure out how many 1▪4-pound hamburgers can be made from 2 1/2 pounds of meat, students figure out the number of 1▪4s in 2 1/2 by either reasoning with equivalent fractions (2 1/2 = 10/4) or dividing 2 1/2 by 1▪4.
Lesson 9	Applying Understanding Continued ▪ Understands equivalence in context o Students may be able to apply a procedure to convert a fraction like 3/4 into 6/8. However, it's also important for students to understand the meaning of equivalence; that is, that the two fractions represent the same quantity. For example, when told that Carlos lives 3/4 of a mile from school and Terrell lives 6/8 of a mile from school, students who understand equivalence know that the boys lives the same distance from school.

Researchers at the National Institute for Excellence in Teaching (NIET) and elsewhere have studied the effectiveness of TAP: The System for Teacher and Student Advancement in raising student achievement, improving the quality of instruction, and increasing the ability of high-need schools to recruit, retain, and support effective teachers. This document describes some of the most recent results that have emerged from the research on the TAP System to date. Data collection and analysis efforts are ongoing, and the findings described here will be updated periodically as information becomes available.

NIET Mission

Recognizing that an effective teacher is the most important school-based factor impacting student achievement, NIET is committed to ensuring a highly skilled, strongly motivated, and competitively compensated teacher for every classroom in America. NIET supports states, districts and schools in recruiting, developing, supporting, and retaining high-quality human capital in order to raise achievement levels for all students. NIET seeks to accomplish this commitment through two signature initiatives TAP™: The System for Teacher and Student Advancement and the NIET Best Practices Center.

TAP: The System for Teacher and Student Advancement Description

Introduced in 1999, the TAP System has become America's leading comprehensive educator effectiveness model that offers powerful career advancement and leadership opportunities for educators, a fair and transparent evaluation process that is linked to job-embedded professional development, and performance-based compensation. Each of these core elements is discussed below. For more information, visit www.niet.org/tap-system.

- Multiple career paths. In TAP schools, skilled teachers have the opportunity to serve as master and mentor teachers, receiving additional compensation for providing high levels of support to career teachers and increasing instructional effectiveness across the faculty. Master and mentor teachers form a leadership team, along with administrators, to deliver school-based professional support and conduct evaluations with a high level of expertise.

- Ongoing applied professional growth. Led by master and mentor teachers, TAP teachers participate in weekly cluster group meetings where they examine student data, engage in collaborative planning, and learn instructional strategies that have been field-tested in their own schools. Teachers benefit from a national TAP database of instructional strategies and their colleagues' experiences. Professional development continues in the classroom as master teachers model lessons, observe classroom instruction, and support teachers' pedagogical improvement.

- Instructionally focused accountability. TAP teachers are observed in classroom instruction several times a year by multiple trained observers, including principals and master and mentor teachers, using rubrics for several dimensions of instructional effectiveness. Evaluators are trained and certified, and leadership teams monitor the reliability and consistency of evaluations in their schools. These classroom evaluations are complemented by analyzing student achievement growth, rounding out a multi-measure system of teacher evaluation. Evaluation results are used as formative feedback in one-on-one mentoring sessions and guide planning for cluster group meetings.

- Performance-based compensation. TAP teachers have the opportunity to earn annual bonuses based on their observed skills, knowledge and responsibilities, their students' average achievement growth, and school-wide achievement growth. Master and mentor teachers receive additional compensation based on their added roles and responsibilities, and principals can earn additional compensation based on school-wide achievement growth and other measures of effectiveness.

Best Practices Center Description

The NIET Best Practices Center (BPC) provides innovative services, support, and solutions to schools, districts, and states to improve educator effectiveness. Based on more than a decade of experience in schools across the country, the BPC works with its partners to redesign educator evaluation, deliver effective professional development, implement performance-based compensation systems, and train teacher leaders in schools. The BPC offers a network of expert trainers and access to a range of innovative Web-based resources and tools to support individual initiatives and goals. For more information, visit www.niet.org/best-practices-center.

TAP Influence in Schools

Since its inception in 1999, the TAP System of comprehensive educator effectiveness has operated across multiple states in hundreds of schools. TAP has grown steadily in the number of schools participating, with over 90% identified as high-need. In addition to schools and districts implementing the full TAP System, a number of states, districts, and schools are using TAP System materials and practices—in particular, the online portal which houses hundreds of hours of effective teaching across subjects and grade levels, the TAP teacher observational rubric, and the certification and recertification process for educator evaluators. As of the 2014-15 school year, NIET initiatives are impacting over 200,000 educators and more than 2.5 million students, approximately 5% of the American public school student population.

TAP Impact in Schools and Districts

A notable success of the TAP System is the expanding preponderance of performance data that comes from examining the impact of the system across multiple locations and conducted by different researchers using varied methodological frameworks (Algiers Charter School Association, 2011; Barnett, Rinthapol, & Alexander, 2015; Barnett, Rinthapol, & Hudgens, 2014; Buck & Coffelt, 2013; Daley & Kim, 2010; Hudson, 2010; Schacter et al., 2002; Schacter, Thum, Reifsneider, & Schiff, 2004; Schacter & Thum, 2005; Solmon, White, Cohen, & Woo, 2007). The next section discusses several of these studies demonstrating the impact of the TAP System. Following this general review, three new reports and the results from the 2014 TAP Teacher and Administrator Attitude Survey are presented.

Instructional Measurement That Leads to Improved Practice

To improve the quality of classroom instruction, the quality of each teacher's instruction must be assessed. Traditional school systems have not been successful at measuring and assessing classroom instruction. The New Teacher Project (TNTP) published a revealing report in 2009 showing that schools fail to evaluate their teachers in any meaningful way (Weisberg, Sexton, Mulhern, & Keeling, 2009). As TNTP reported, most teachers were rated at the very highest levels (replicated as Figure 1 below), despite the fact that most schools were not performing at these highest levels on achievement indicators.

A 2014 report from the National Council on Teacher Quality (NCTQ) indicated that while improvements in educator evaluation have occurred since the 2009 report, still many of the same problems persist.

Given that differences in teacher effectiveness represent the single most important school-related factor affecting student learning, accurately measuring differences in teacher performance is critical to the improvement of teaching and learning.

In contrast to traditional evaluation methods noted above in Figure 1, the TAP System has developed a comprehensive approach to teacher evaluation and incentives that depends on multiple measures of both teaching practice and teaching outcomes. This system provides differentiated feedback for teacher improvement, in contrast to the often found inflated ratings found in evaluation systems (see Figure 2).

[1] Teacher evaluations in five urban school districts, based on data taken from http://widgeteffect.org/downloads/TheWidgetEffect.pdf. Scores on 3-point and 4-point scales have been interpolated to a 5-point scale using a cumulative probability density function based on reported data.

Note: Teacher Skills, Knowledge, and Responsibilities distribution of TAP evaluations using 1-5 scale in half-point increments. Figure based on 13,891 teachers and approximately 55,564 observations, 2013-14.

The above ratings are based only on the classroom evaluation component of the TAP System, before considering student learning growth measures. Teachers are observed several times a year by multiple trained and certified raters who consider 19 areas of effective instructional practice. These observers use a multi-dimensional, research-based set of standards and rubrics that are fair, transparent, and curriculum-independent. Results are provided immediately as feedback to the teacher in post-observation mentoring sessions. The scores from all observations of these 19 classroom indicators are combined with seven responsibility indicators at the end of the school year to create an overall Skills, Knowledge, and Responsibilities (SKR) score for each teacher. On a scale of 1.0 to 5.0, 1 represents unsatisfactory performance on a certain standard, 3 represents proficiency on that standard, and 5 represents exemplary performance on that standard. Teachers earn scores in increments of 0.5.

TAP Teachers Demonstrate Consistent Improvement across Time

TAP results show a steady improvement in observed skills during the course of the school year. Figure 3 shows recent improvement for teachers in TAP nationally. This shows the improvement in instructional quality scores over a two-year period. In the data shown, despite a slight dip over the summer, teachers demonstrated an overall path of improvement that continued over both years. This graph is based on a sample including all TAP schools during the years 2012-2014.

We tracked a cohort of 5,469 teachers through observations grouped into six periods in fall, winter and spring of the 2012-2013 and 2013-2014 school years. The cohort was composed of teachers working in TAP schools both years, with observations in each of the observation periods. Teachers present in only one school year or who lacked an observation in one of the quarters were excluded from the sample. Including teachers present in only some of the periods would have complicated efforts to compare the level of instructional quality at different time points, since each average could reflect substantially different groups of teachers.

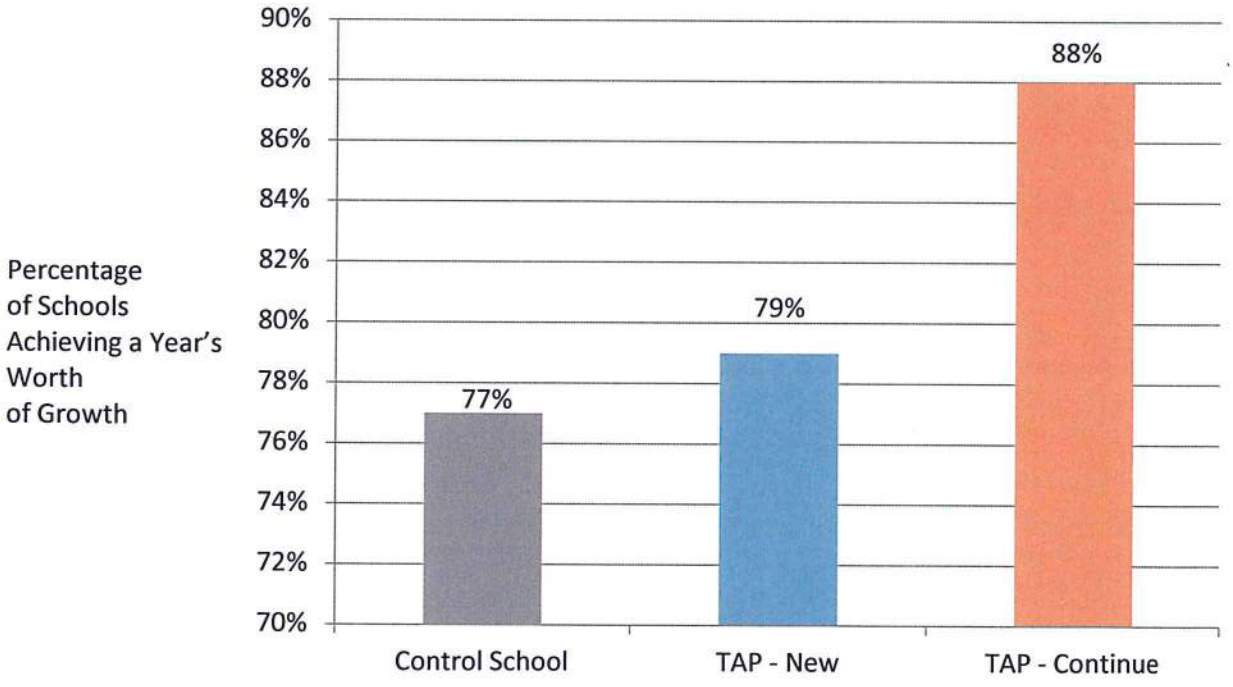
Within the TAP System, improvements to teacher instructional practices translate into gains in student achievement. More importantly, these improvements increase over time.



Note: Figure created with raw school-level, composite math and reading score data provided by SAS® for control (n=3,870) and TAP schools (n=353).

With student achievement gains and high performance scores on the teacher observation rubric, thus demonstrating increases in effectiveness, teachers are able to earn performance-based compensation. To represent this impact, Figure 4 shows how the salary of an effective teacher (defined as obtaining one year or more of student achievement growth and/or being rated as proficient on the TAP observation rubric, a top 10% effective teacher, and a TAP mentor and master teacher compares to all other teachers.

As demonstrated by the left side of the graph, teachers in schools with no additional financial awards for improving the performance of students or improving their own practice as demonstrated by high scores on a teacher observation rubric would receive the same salary (reflected on Figure 5 as the average teacher's salary nationally). However, on the right side of the graph, we see that in the TAP schools effective teachers can earn an average bonus of approximately $2,250 (4% of their annual salary), while teachers performing in the top 10% (those growing their students' performance by significantly more than one year's growth and demonstrating exemplary classroom practices) earn an average bonus of approximately $3,750 (7% of their annual salary). Further, in TAP schools, the multiple career paths allow for master and mentor teachers to earn approximately $10,000 (18% of their annual salary) through their performance bonus and salary augmentation for increased responsibilities.

Results from Prior Selected Studies of TAP's Impact

- Mann, Leutscher, and Reardon (2013) examined the impact of the TAP System across fifteen schools in Louisiana. In order to determine impact, a one-to-one nearest-neighbor matching algorithm with replacements was created to find a comparison school for each TAP school. Based on the propensity scores computed using the selection model, the algorithm chooses the non-TAP school with the propensity score closest to the propensity score of the TAP school. There was no significant difference between the TAP schools and their matched comparison schools in the pretreatment year, $t(26) = 0.080$, $p > 0.05$. However, results of the study indicate that in the four primary subjects assessed, there was a significant effect in favor of the TAP schools for ELA: $F(1, 6421) = 6.334$, $p = 0.012$; Mathematics: $F(1, 6421) = 86.386$, $p = 0.000$; Science: $F(1, 7084) = 31.792$, $p = 0.000$; and Social Studies: $F(1, 7085) = 87.411$, $p = 0.000$]. Further, the study examined the impact of the TAP System across time to find that the TAP schools significantly outperform comparison schools, $F(1, 24) = 5.30$, $p = 0.031$. The study also found that 92% of teachers reported that the TAP System made a positive difference on student achievement in their school and 91% reported that the AYP status was improved as a result of the TAP System.

- In 2010, Hudson examined the effect of the TAP System on student achievement across 151 schools in 11 states. Hudson used a statistical control matching method to ensure that the TAP schools and the comparison schools were equivalent prior to the intervention being implemented. Hudson also used a differences-in-differences approach to further account for any differences between the groups and to ensure that the evaluation was able to isolate the impact of the program. Results of the study indicate that students in TAP schools outperformed students in comparison schools by approximately 0.15 standard deviations in mathematics, and smaller effects but in favor of the TAP schools in reading. Hudson explains these findings in context to other education interventions by noting that "the estimated effect of TAP on mathematics achievement is more than twice as large [as class size reduction effects]" (p. 28).

- In 2007, Solmon et al. analyzed the impacts of the TAP System in terms of value-added gain scores across 650 classrooms in six states, including 61 TAP schools and 285 control schools. Researchers analyzed the student achievement gains at two levels of comparison—teacher-to-teacher and school-to-school. To evaluate TAP teachers (and similarly in evaluating TAP schools), researchers calculated the effect of each teacher on student progress as assessed by the difference between the actual average scores of the teacher's students and the expected average scores of those students (as derived from previous scores). Through this process, researchers created a statistical control group for the TAP teachers based on performance. Results of the study indicate that in every state more TAP teachers demonstrated statistically significant at or above average amount of student achievement growth than control group teachers. Further, TAP schools outperformed their controls in 57% of the categories in math and in 67% of the categories in reading.

- In their 2002 study, Shacter et al., analyzed the growth in achievement of students (n=3,319) whose schools implemented the TAP System compared to the growth of achievement of students (n=7,055) from matched comparison schools. The schools were matched on achievement (percentile rank in reading, mathematics, and language), school size, percent of students eligible for free lunch, school configuration, and location. A statewide cluster analysis was conducted to match the schools. Beyond the matched comparisons, the results in achievement were based on a multi-level value-added model utilizing prior test scores as covariates. Results of the analysis revealed that TAP schools made significantly higher improvements in student achievement gains. Further, this study found that those schools that implemented the TAP System with higher fidelity more significantly outperformed comparison schools.

- In their 2004 follow-up study, Schacter et al. examined the impact of the TAP System across 11 schools. The same cluster level analysis with multi-level multivariate analyses were employed using all available covariates to compare growth between the TAP and control schools. Results from the study indicate that 65% of the TAP schools outperformed their matched controls in reading, language, and mathematics achievement, with the magnitude of change ranging from 6% to 46%. The teacher satisfaction component of this study indicated strong support for the four core principles of the TAP System.

Following a consistent pattern of multiple researchers investigating TAP in different locations using varied methodological approaches, three new reports are highlighted and summarized below demonstrating TAP's consistently positive impact on schools, teachers, and student achievement.

New TAP Studies

Evaluation of TAP System across Louisiana

A study released in fall 2014 (Barnett, Wills, & Kirby, 2014) evaluated the impact of the TAP System across 66 schools in Louisiana. The study, Comprehensive Educator Effectiveness Models that Work: Impact of TAP: The System on Student Achievement in Louisiana, was conducted by researchers within NIET and a third-party external evaluator, Dr. Peggy Kirby, president of ed-cet, inc., a firm specializing in education program evaluation. The study of schools from across Louisiana included elementary, middle, and high schools in urban, suburban, and rural communities. The study examined the impact of the TAP System on student achievement using two rigorous analytic strategies.

First, the authors employed a linear regression to compare 2012-13 Assessment Index (AI) performance of the 66 TAP schools and non-TAP schools statewide, controlling for prior (2010-11) achievement, percentage of students receiving free or reduced-price lunch, school configuration, school size (number of students), and percentage of English language learners.

Second, the authors compared the TAP schools with a propensity score matched group of non-TAP schools. The authors matched on baseline (2010-11) student achievement, school configuration (grades taught), percentage of students receiving free or reduced-price lunch, and school size (number of students). The matched groups were compared on 2012-13 K-8 AI as the dependent variable.

To answer the first question (Do students in TAP schools outperform students in similar schools statewide?) student performance was examined alongside a statewide group of comparison schools. Regression coefficients for all covariates were significant at $p < .05$ ($n = 1003$ schools with all covariate information), as shown in Table 1. Controlling for the covariates, implementation of the TAP System showed a significant positive effect on 2012-13 achievement: the 66 TAP schools scored 3.7 points higher on average than non-TAP schools ($p < .01$).

	Estimate	Standard error	t	p
Intercept	19.252	3.558	5.41	.000
2010-11 AI	0.786	0.022	36.16	.000
% FRL	-0.183	0.022	-8.27	.000

TAP school	3.699	1.221	3.03	.003

* $p < .05$.  $p < .01$.  $p < .001$.

For the second research question, the authors selected one propensity score matched control for each of the 66 TAP schools. The covariates in this model were 2010-11 AI, school configuration, percentage of students receiving free or reduced-price lunch, and school size (number of students). To verify the quality of matching, the authors assessed the standardized differences in means of the covariates between the TAP schools and the matches; all differences were well below the maximum acceptable value of 0.25 (Stuart, 2010). Like the TAP schools, the matched group consisted of 47 elementary schools, 15 middle schools, and 4 combination schools that serve students in the K-8 range.

The average 2012-13 AI for TAP schools (64.45) was 5.47 points greater than the average for the matched controls (58.98). To illustrate the gain in score for the TAP schools, Figure 6 shows the equivalent starting point for both TAP and control schools as a function of the maximum score on the 2010-11 AI (maximum of 200) and the change in score relative to the maximum score on the 2012-13 AI (maximum of 150). The score comparison indicates the TAP schools made larger gains in student achievement than matched comparison schools.

TAP's Effect on Teacher Retention

Counter to the national trends that show greater teacher attrition levels in high-need schools, a study from NIET finds that campuses implementing TAP: The System for Teacher and Student Advancement are keeping effective teachers at a higher rate than similar high-need schools and the national average overall (Barnett & Hudgens, 2014).

The TAP System retains teachers by creating teacher leaders; instituting high-quality and relevant professional development; building a structure for educator observation that supports faculty members through a trajectory of continual improvement; and offering opportunities for pay based on educators' roles and responsibilities, their accomplishments in the classroom, and the learning growth of their students. Specifically, the study—Staying Power: The Impact of the TAP System on Retaining Teachers Nationwide—reports that these methods have helped TAP schools retain approximately 14% more teachers than similar high-need schools and 10% more than the national average (Figure 7).

The study also examines the characteristics of different groups of teachers in TAP schools. The results of these analyses demonstrate that TAP teachers continue to improve while working in TAP schools. Specifically, the teachers in the TAP schools demonstrate growth in their instructional ability (TAP schools refer to this as Skills, Knowledge and Responsibilities or SKR scores). For stayers, SKR scores increased from 2010-11 ($M = 3.32$; $SD = 0.54$) to 2011-12 ($M = 3.44$; $SD = 0.51$), $t(2761) = 14.42$, $p = .00$, $d = 0.23$. Additionally, SKR scores increased from 2011-12 ($M = 3.25$; $SD = 0.50$) to 2012-13 ($M = 3.39$; $SD = 0.51$), $t(6412) = 28.84$, $p = .00$, $d = 0.28$.

More importantly, this growth in instructional ability also occurred while student performance scores demonstrated growth, as measured by the gain in the classroom value-added scores from 2011-12 ($M = 3.19$, $SD = 1.16$) to 2012-13 ($M = 3.25$; $SD = 1.13$), $t(1604) = 2.03$, $p = .04$, $d = 0.05$.

To put these findings into perspective, across the eight comparisons—two groups, two outcome measures, two change years—TAP schools resulted in higher mean scores in seven of the eight comparisons. In all four comparisons of teacher instructional ability, the TAP teachers demonstrated significant increases ($p < 0.05$). Further, in three of the four classroom value-added comparisons, the TAP schools also showed increases. This result indicates the TAP teachers remaining in TAP schools were more effective each year.

To also understand the degree of impact in retaining teachers, beyond a 14% comparative advantage, the effect size calculations provide further insight. The average effect size across the comparisons is $d = 0.26$. This finding shows that the effect of the TAP System on retaining teachers is approximately equal to the effect size of reducing class sizes by one-third on student achievement (Coe, 2002). While these are different outcome measures, they provide some relativity to showcase how substantial the effect of the TAP System is on keeping teachers in schools.

To further explore the net effect of retaining teachers, and as demonstrated, more effective teachers, we examined the ongoing conversation about the costs of educator attrition for schools, teachers, students, and communities. Given the discrepancy in costs (ranging from $5,000 to 200% of the departing teacher's salary), a conservative estimate of teacher attrition may be defined at $8,500 per teacher (see ACORN, 2004; Barnes, Crowe, & Schaefer, 2007; Simon & Johnson, 2013; Texas Center for Educational Research, 2000).

To illustrate this impact, consider a representative elementary school with 40 teachers and a 20% attrition rate. In this school, eight teachers would depart the typical school each year. In a TAP System representative elementary school with 40 teachers, two teachers (6% attrition) would depart each year. The cost of attrition difference between these two schools on a conservative estimate would be $50,000[3]. Using higher estimates of attrition and larger schools, one can quickly glean the impact of the TAP System retention rate on the overall budget of a school when examining solely the attrition aspect. Non-pecuniary benefits (i.e. collegiality, morale, teacher satisfaction) would be expected to increase as a result of lower attrition as well.

TAP High School Summit

Educators were drawn from TAP partnering high schools across the nation, including administrators and teachers from traditional public and charter schools, representing education agencies at the school, district, and state levels. The purpose of this meeting was to collect information from educators with regard to implementing the TAP System at the high school level, specifically focusing on "what makes the high school implementation different/unique." Dozens of insights and solutions were discussed. The participants organized their insights around three key areas—cluster, field testing, and follow-up—and shared their experience in how the TAP System effectively impacts their high schools (see Figure 8 for list of topics).

[3] This example uses a conservative estimate in a representative non-TAP and TAP school, each comprised of 40 teachers. In the non-TAP school, 8 teachers would leave each year (20% loss). In the TAP school, 2 teachers would leave each year (6% loss). The conservative estimate for each teacher lost is $8,500. Therefore, the net loss of 6 teachers at the non-TAP school results in a cost of $50,000.

National TAP Attitude Surveys - 2014

Teacher Results – 2014 TAP Attitude Survey

Critics of performance incentives for teachers claim that they will result in competitiveness and a loss of collegiality among teachers. Notwithstanding, we find evidence of a high degree of collegiality in TAP schools. In the 2014 TAP national survey of teacher attitudes, 93% of teachers in TAP schools agree with statements reporting a high level of collegiality in their schools, and approximately 70% report strong agreement. This evidence for collegiality has been remarkably high over the last decade, as shown in Figure 9[4], which indicates that TAP schools consistently have a collaborative and collegial environment.

[4] The five dimensions represented in this and the next figures are constructed from multiple teacher survey items using factor analysis. Most items in the survey are based on a 5-point Likert scale indicating agreement (1=Not at All and 5=Very Much). For reporting purposes on collegiality and the four TAP elements, the results are presented as Moderate (weighted average of 3 on the items for that factor) and Strong (weighted average of 4 or 5 on the items for that factor).

Beyond the overall high levels of reported collegiality within TAP schools, the levels of support for the specific elements of TAP including multiple career paths, ongoing applied professional growth, instructionally focused accountability and performance-based compensation are also high and growing, as shown in Figures 10-13.

A growing number of teachers report that the creation of teacher leader roles in their school has a positive impact on student achievement and school goals. Teacher leaders and administrators form a leadership team that articulates school goals and supports each teacher in developing and achieving their own instructional goals based on their skills and their students' needs. Teacher leadership roles also provide a pathway for teachers to make a greater contribution to the instructional excellence of a school without leaving the classroom.

In TAP schools, master and mentor teachers lead weekly cluster group meetings where they examine student data, engage in collaborative planning, and discuss instructional strategies that have been field-tested in their own schools. Teachers benefit from access to a national TAP database of instructional strategies and their colleagues' experiences. Professional development continues in the classroom as master teachers model lessons, observe classroom instruction and support teachers' pedagogical improvement. Figure 11 demonstrates the increasing strong level of support for the professional growth that occurs in TAP schools, and further shows the sustained high level of overall support.

TAP teachers are observed in classroom instruction multiple times a year by multiple trained observers, including principals and master and mentor teachers, using rubrics measuring indicators of instructional effectiveness. Evaluators are trained and certified, and leadership teams monitor the reliability and consistency of evaluations in their schools. These classroom evaluations are complemented by analyzing student achievement growth, rounding out a multi-measure system of teacher evaluation. Evaluation results are used as formative feedback in one-on-one mentoring sessions, and guide planning for cluster group meetings. Figure 12 illustrates the strong level of support for the instructionally focused accountability reported by TAP teachers across the nation.

TAP teachers have the opportunity to earn annual bonuses based on their observed skills, knowledge and responsibilities, their students' average achievement growth, and school-wide achievement growth. Master and mentor teachers receive additional compensation based on their added roles and responsibilities, and principals can earn additional compensation based on school-wide achievement growth and other measures of effectiveness. Figure 13 demonstrates the level of support for the performance-based compensation system from TAP teachers. Levels of support for performance-based compensation in TAP schools has increased significantly over time, from 49% in 2005 to 76% in 2014.

Principal Results – 2014 TAP Attitude Survey

The above substantially positive results from the TAP teacher survey are echoed by the 2014 TAP Principal Survey. As shown in Figure 14, principals have overwhelmingly reported that TAP has a positive effect on collegiality, instructional practices, and teacher effectiveness. Virtually all principals reported TAP's professional growth activities increased teacher instructional practices. Further, as noted on Figure 15, a significant majority of principals (86%) agree that the TAP System helps retain effective teachers.

Upcoming Projects

Teacher and Administrator Attitude Survey

The annual TAP Teacher and Administrator Attitude Survey measures the impact of TAP on teacher attitudes and job satisfaction. The survey contains questions that assess the perceptions of the implementation of TAP at the school and teachers' and administrators' overall job satisfaction. NIET asked approximately 14,000 teachers and 1,000 administrators within TAP schools across 11 states (i.e. AR, AZ, CA, CO, IA, IN, LA, MN, SC,TN, and TX) to complete the survey. The preceding results provide a glimpse into those responses aggregated across all respondents and comparing an early adoption year (2005) to the current year (2015). The next step in this analysis is to examine the changes across time and within each location, as well as examine additional questions reported throughout the survey, including the qualitative data and open-ended responses.

Measurement Stability of TAP Rubric and Alignment with Value Added

We are investigating multiple approaches to the stability of TAP observational rubric scores. One metric is the correlation between scores obtained from the same subjects at different time points. The correlations between average SKR scores in the 2010-11, 2011-12, and 2012-13 school years were highly significant and large, approaching 0.7 for consecutive school years. Another metric we investigated was the distribution of maximum year-to-year score changes. For more than 90% of teachers, scores either did not change over the period, or changed by 0.5. Score changes were within 1.0 for nearly 99% of teachers. Overall, the preliminary evidence—high year-to-year correlations, generally small year-to-year score changes, and a large proportion of score patterns consistent with improvement—is consistent with an instrument that generates stable scores while providing teachers with actionable feedback that guides them in improving their practice.

In addition, we are examining the relationship between TAP rubric scores and the classroom value-added component of teacher evaluation. The correlation of TAP SKR scores with classroom value-added exceeds all correlations between observational and classroom value-added measures reported in the literature to date (with the exception of one reported correlation with an equal value). This is encouraging evidence that the TAP observation rubric measures aspects of teacher practice that contribute to improved student test performance.

Career Ladders in Knox County, TN, TAP Schools

NIET received a federal Teacher Incentive Fund grant (TIF3) in 2010 to expand TAP System implementation in Knox County, TN, schools. With assistance from NIET, a third-party external evaluator is examining the career trajectories of former TAP mentor and master teachers who have transitioned into administrative leadership positions. Through the use of interview, survey, and focus group data, the authors explore structures within TAP that promote teacher leadership and prepare administrators to be effective instructional leaders.

Conclusion

The TAP System stands out because of its more than a decade-long track record of growth and success in raising student achievement in high-need schools. The research evidence also reveals several key reasons for TAP's positive impact: an evaluation system capable of differentiating teacher performance levels and providing detailed feedback for improvement, ongoing professional growth in classroom practice using student and teacher data to guide improvement, recruitment and retention of effective teachers, and the creation of a challenging, rewarding, and collegial environment focused on high-quality instruction and student learning.

New Tech Network

RE-IMAGINING TEACHING & LEARNING

ALUMNI REFLECTIONS

My first year at New Tech included an integrated history and English course called American Studies. My classmates and I were given an assignment to create an informative website describing a movement in American history during a designated time period. A fellow student and I decided to document the development of union laws. Our understanding was developed through the use of traditional classroom resources and those of the internet. We used documents, articles, witness accounts and photographs to determine the cause and effects of the labor movement. As a result of our growing passion for the subject, our research led us to an investigation on current global working conditions. I had never felt such emotion in a school project as I did during our research on the sweat shops. In addition to our assigned project, we went beyond and created a site tracing popular fashion items to the pitiful labor conditions and wages that produced them. When the student is the one directing their own education, there is a natural feeling of discovery and enthusiasm that reaches beyond the subject at hand.

I've found that I consistently rely upon the skills and abilities developed at New Tech. My biggest fear was that I might be unprepared for the traditional academic work of college. During my freshman year at MIT, I participated in a course which investigated the complex problem of monitoring and preserving the Amazon rainforest. This was a very open-ended project, one which the students were required to determine the structure. I noticed that many of my classmates had never encountered such a task; their previous experience primarily involved bookwork and exams. Some of them had never worked in groups, delivered presentations, or defended the results of their own findings. Although I had very little technical background on the subject matter at hand I fell naturally into the dynamics of this project due to my experience at New Tech. I was confidently able to adapt and be a leader in the situation, and to figure out the necessary steps to achieve our final product.

I believe that my curiosity and passion for learning was cultivated at New Tech, and the skills I developed — critical thinking, self-discipline and time management, communication and team work — have proven invaluable in nearly every aspect of my life.

COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS FOR ALL STUDENTS

"I wanted to inform you that the skills I learned through New Tech have benefited me so much. I am able to open myself up to new opportunities because I have learned how to network with different people and different companies. In public speech and communication courses, speaking in front of hundreds of my peers is a breeze because of the New Tech model. My professors love it because I have been trained to critically think, I know what questions to ask during lectures. I find myself creating my own know/ need to know charts."
Letter from a New Tech Graduate

Ensuring all high school students graduate ready for college and career benefits not only the individual student but also greatly strengthens our country's health and vibrancy. The U.S. increasingly depends on educated workers for economic well-being and growth. In the last three decades, the percentage of jobs that require a post-secondary education doubled, with only 28% of jobs requiring a college degree in 1973 and 59% requiring a college education in 2008.[1] This increase in demand for a college-educated workforce is linked to productivity and economic growth, spurring innovation, attracting business investments, and developing leaders.[2] For individuals, a college degree means higher wages and a better quality of life. College graduates earn almost twice as much as those with only a high school education.[3] Further, those with a college degree enjoy better access to healthcare and live, on average, more than five years longer than non-college graduates.[4]

Despite the benefits of a college education, the current US college graduation rates aren't producing sufficient quantities to meet employer needs. By 2018, the U.S. will fill only 86% of an estimated 22 million jobs requiring a college education.[5] While college enrollment has been increasing steadily since the mid-1980s, in the last three years, college enrollment has declined slightly.[6] Further, too many students who start college never finish, with some estimating that less than half of those who enroll in college complete a degree.[7]

A significant reason for low completion rates may be that students are ill-prepared for the demands of college.[8] In fact, only 30% of students graduate high school with the minimum readiness for college or career.[9] Many claim that the skills and attributes necessary for success in college and career go beyond traditional academic content knowledge. In addition to content knowledge, skills necessary for postsecondary success include cognitive and metacognitive strategies (i.e. critical and analytical thinking), and intrapersonal and interpersonal skills.[10] Moreover, employers rate collaboration, communication, and problem solving ability among most important skills for the contemporary workplace.[11]

Recognizing the need for a broader skill set, New Tech Network strives to prepare high school students for college, career and civic life. In New Tech Network schools, students gain the content knowledge, critical thinking, collaboration, oral and written communication skills, as well as a personal agency that will lead them to success in postsecondary education and career.

NEW TECH NETWORK STUDENTS: REPRESENT THE DIVERSITY ACROSS THE U.S.

Students are the center of the New Tech Network learning community. The students in NTN schools are as diverse as the states, communities, and schools in which they learn and grow. Twenty-two percent of students in NTN schools are Hispanic, 20% are African American, 5% are Asian and Pacific Islander and another 5% identify with multiple ethnicities, while the remaining 45% are non-Hispanic white. Nine percent of students are English Language Learners, 11% are eligible for special education services and just over half (52%) qualify for free or reduced price meals.

On average, the New Tech Network student body is reflective of public school students across the U.S.[12] Yet, the composition of the student body varies substantially between the individual schools, reflecting their local communities. Ten NTN schools serve a student body comprised of more than 90% African American students and four schools serve a student body consisting of 90% or more Hispanic students. Asian students make-up approximately half of the student body in three schools and several schools in rural areas in the South and Midwest serve mostly non-Hispanic white students. The proportion of students eligible for free and reduced lunch in NTN schools ranges from less than 5% in three schools to 100% of students in eleven schools and four schools serve a predominantly English Language Learner population (>60%).

NEW TECH NETWORK SCHOOLS: LOCATED IN ALL TYPES OF COMMUNITIES

Located in 25 states and Australia, New Tech Network consists of 159 schools in which 3,150 teachers and 53,500 students learn together. Australia is currently home to two NTN schools. Across the U.S., NTN schools are found in all types of communities. Six states are each home to more than 10 NTN schools, with both California and Indiana hosting nearly 30 schools a piece. Thirty-nine percent of NTN schools are located in urban areas, 24% in suburban locations, 19% in mid-size towns, and 18% in rural areas.

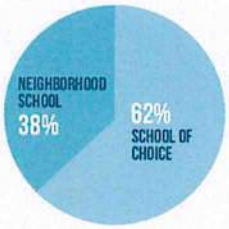
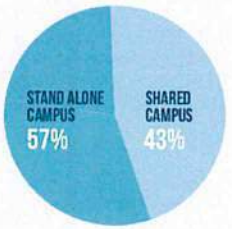
New Tech Network works closely with school leaders and educators in 134 public district schools, 23 charter schools and 2 independent schools to align the learning systems to support the desired student outcomes.





Historically, New Tech Network worked with public school districts to re-imagine high schools. Within the last three years, New Tech Network has partnered with school districts to create NTN middle schools and elementary schools. Currently, New Tech Network supports 122 high schools, 28 middle schools and 9 elementary schools across the U.S and Australia.

Because each school's context is different, the implementation of NTN schools reflects the needs of the local communities. Some communities choose to start brand new schools and allow students the choice to enroll, while other communities convert existing neighborhood schools. Currently, 62% of NTN schools are schools of choice.

The facilities in which NTN schools are housed are also driven by local preferences. Over half (57%) of NTN schools operate in autonomous buildings. The remaining 43% of schools share their campuses with other schools, most of which serve the same grade levels. A handful of NTN schools are located on college campuses and a few share students with other schools for a portion of the instructional day.

BUILDING COLLECTIVE CAPACITY: SUPPORTING SCHOOLS, LEADERS, TEACHERS

To support learning across the diverse Network, NTN strives to build the collective capacity of educators at all levels working in NTN districts and schools. NTN works directly with district leaders, school administrators, and teachers to ensure they have the knowledge and skills needed to help students become college and career ready. Teachers and administrators participate in comprehensive and rigorous professional development and receive on-site and virtual coaching provided by NTN.

DISTRICT SUPPORT

In NTN schools, success is built on the capacity of the system. Schools are most effective when the organizational environment is designed to promote individual and collective learning and improvement. The nature of NTN's support helps to build capacity of district leadership to develop and sustain school improvement. With a focus on developing leaders, aligning systems and structures, and developing and sustaining a professional culture with a focus on continual improvement, NTN's support at the district level leads to greater and deeper impact.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

NTN believes quality leadership is a function, not a position, and is essential to the success of any school. Formal leadership development work allows school leaders to develop the capacity to implement NTN design principles with fidelity, increase agency and efficacy in leading change, and build the district's ability to affect lasting change in their communities. The focus on increasing the capacity of school leaders is grounded in theories of adaptive leadership and learning organizations.

ADULT LEARNING

In order to realize the potential of each and every student, teachers must have opportunities to learn themselves. Through adult learning opportunities, teachers become skillful at creating authentic learning that is grounded in inquiry, reflection, and individual agency. Teacher learning is at the core of Professional Learning @ NTN, a multi-faceted, personalized system of adult learning opportunities. Through national and regional face-to-face events, as well as virtual experiences and asynchronous professional development pathways, educators connect and learn with other professionals. NTN also provides tools and resources for teachers through the NTN Project and Resource Libraries inside Echo, the NTN learning management system.

14 YEARS' EXPERIENCE SUPPORTING SCHOOLS, LEADERS AND TEACHERS

100,000+ PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT HOURS, ANNUALLY, FOR SCHOOL LEADERS AND TEACHERS

ALIGNING CULTURE, LEADERSHIP AND STRUCTURE

NTN's Learning Organization Framework delineates how culture, leadership and structure come together to build the capacity of the system to adapt in the ongoing pursuit of college and career readiness for all students. Our Learning Organization Framework guides an approach to short-term improvements in student learning animated by focused cycles of inquiry (the interior of the diagram). Simultaneously, it informs a method of changing the organizational conditions that tend to impede or advance the ability of a school system to improve the collective quality of student learning. Over time, using the NTN Learning Organization Framework to guide the development and organization of the system increases the capacity of our schools to learn their way out of challenges they did not or could not anticipate. In short, it helps our schools learn how to learn.

"The level of professional development and on-going 24/7 support from the NTN is outstanding! It goes to the heart of the transformation process and provides skills and knowledge for sustainability. It changes the culture, the climate, the experience, and the outcome. The redesign process is not for the faint of heart, but it is for those with a mission to ensure students become self-directed learners with the skills and aptitudes for success in college, career, and life. I have seen teachers become re-energized through the process and with the relationships and successes they have with their students."

A K-12 PATHWAY

NTN's first decade focused on spreading NTN high schools to communities interested in providing a more relevant learning experience for their students. Today, with a goal of college and career readiness for all students and the recognition that student readiness starts long before high school, we are focused on aligning the learning systems across districts to dramatically improve student accomplishment. For an increasing number of districts, this means incorporating the NTN design principles--teaching that engages, culture that empowers, and technology that enables-- in elementary, middle and high schools.

In elementary schools, the NTN design principles are adapted to ensure they are developmentally appropriate for younger students. Project-based learning at the elementary level is student-centered and inquiry-based, just as it is in middle and high schools. Foundational skills are taught within the context of projects that integrate multiple subjects. Literacy skills are the anchor of project-based learning at the elementary level, with reading and writing embedded in the context of the projects. Math is focused on reasoning and sense-making, collaborative and experiential by nature, and integrated in multi-disciplinary projects. The infusion of technology allows for differentiated learning, exploration of ideas, and practice of skills.

"New Tech contains some of the best education minds and leading edge thinkers on student-centered, inquiry based learning. The network is full of experts to collaborate with who are willing to experiment and push the edges on things such as integrating projects across content areas, using authentic, real world experiences, and developing 21st century schools to prepare students with vital skills to be productive citizens in our global economy."

Mike Kaechle, Teacher-Kent Innovation High

NTN middle schools are very similar to NTN high schools, with projects grounded in grade level appropriate subject matter content. In addition to academic content knowledge, a great deal of emphasis is placed on creating a positive school culture and developing a sense of personal agency within students. Students make community connections through relevant and meaningful projects. They learn to ask questions and think deeply about the content. They learn to have meaningful conversations and speak intelligently as they engage with community experts and present their work to external audiences. Students in NTN middle schools are prepared with the academic, problem-solving and communication skills necessary for success in high school and beyond.

TEACHING THAT ENGAGES

Learning Outcomes

The years spent in a New Tech Network school allow students to gain the academic and deeper learning skills necessary for success in any postsecondary option. NTN students learn disciplinary knowledge and skills to conduct inquiry and solve real-world problems. Throughout a project, they collaborate with peers, facilitators, and experts in the field. Students demonstrate their learning through effective oral and written communication for authentic audiences. Ownership of their learning experience and engagement in relevant and challenging tasks helps students develop a sense of agency, a skill essential to success in college, career, and civic duty.

Project-Based Learning

Project-based learning is at the heart of NTN's instructional approach. In PBL, students start each new unit of study with a complex and authentic task to complete. Often occurring in integrated subject area courses, students collaborate with their peers to investigate a real-world problem which demands mastery of subject matter content, critical thinking and problem-solving skills, oral and written communication skills, and individual agency. Entry Events, the Need-to-Know (NTK) process, engaging with content area experts, skill building workshops, and authentic assessment support student inquiry along they way. Projects culminate with the development and presentation of a real-world product, evaluated by community experts, educators, and peers.

College Ready Assessments

To gauge student growth and attainment of deeper learning that occurs in project-based learning, many NTN schools are beginning to use College Ready Assessments (CRAs). CRAs represent a common, high quality standard for written student work grounded in a discipline. CRAs, originally co-developed, refined, and validated by the Stanford Center for Assessment, Learning and Equity (SCALE) and Envision Learning Partners, are aligned to Common Core State Standards and are embedded in project-based learning. These assessments start early, with skills and standards scaffolded until high school juniors and seniors can demonstrate college-ready work. Results from this new effort will be analyzed and reported in upcoming years as most NTN schools incorporate CRAs into their design.

NTN schools successfully engage students at all grade levels. The high rates of student attendance in New Tech Network schools provides evidence of student engagement. NTN elementary schools demonstrate an average attendance rate of 96%, one percentage point higher than the national average for elementary schools. NTN middle and high schools achieve an average attendance rate of 94%, two percentage points higher than the national average for secondary schools. Serving as further evidence of student engagement, NTN schools of choice have 90% of eligible students return each year.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

CULTURE THAT EMPOWERS

By making learning relevant and providing a collaborative learning culture, students are connected to, engaged in, and challenged by their work, one another, and the community. Each NTN school maintains a culture that promotes trust, respect, and responsibility; this culture encompasses both student and professional culture. At NTN schools, students and teachers alike have exceptional ownership of the learning experience and their school environment. Educators in schools collaborate in team-taught classes, provide constructive feedback to each other, and share leadership of the learning community. In this way, the professional culture for adults mirrors the culture we hope to build for students.

Common cultural structures across NTN schools include, but are not limited to: advisory courses, community meetings, interdisciplinary courses, and student-led organizations. Additionally, NTN educators strive to develop cultures that foster student agency. As a result of the intentional and pervasive focus on school culture, 84% of NTN students report they are proud of and connected to their school, and nearly 80% agree that they engage well with others in the learning community.

TECHNOLOGY THAT ENABLES

The smart use of technology supports New Tech Network's innovative approach to instruction and culture. Grounded in a belief in anywhere-anytime learning, 100% of NTN schools embrace one-to-one computing and access to the internet, anywhere on campus and outside school hours, for students using devices such as laptops, tablets or smart phones. All schools use Echo, NTN's proprietary web-based learning management system. Echo is designed to facilitate project-based learning and support a network which helps students, teachers, and parents connect to each other and to student projects across the country. With access to the web, Echo, and the latest in collaborative learning technology, every student becomes a more self-directed learner no longer relying primarily on teachers or textbooks for knowledge and direction.

NewTechNetwork

Echo, NTN's proprietary learning management system (LMS), is designed to support classroom based PBL and assessment of deeper learning outcomes. Teachers, students, and parents at NTN high schools use Echo on a daily basis to access course resources, project plans, assignments, a multi-dimensional gradebook, online groups, and an extensive library of instructional resources for teachers. Google Apps for Education is seamlessly integrated into the platform, providing schools with a powerful suite of communication and publishing tools. COLLEGE & CAREER READINESS

For New Tech Network, college and career readiness means students are aware, eligible and prepared for the postsecondary option of their choosing.[13] To make an informed decision about postsecondary plans, students must have an awareness of their options, as well as the costs and benefits of each option. In addition, students must be eligible for admission to the postsecondary option of their choosing. For all students, this means a high school diploma, completion of necessary coursework and proficient scores on admissions exams. Finally, students must be prepared for the demands of college, career and civic life. Preparedness includes not only academic content knowledge and problem-solving skills, but also the communication skills and personal agency skills to attain personal goals.

AWARE

In NTN schools, students explore postsecondary options through community-based projects, engagement with content area experts, internships, and college coursework. As a result, 94% of NTN students are optimistic about their future as reported by graduating seniors in the 2014 Student Exit Survey.

College-Level Coursework

Student engagement in college-level coursework and community-based internships is key in the preparation for college and career. Eighty-four percent of NTN high schools provide the opportunity for students to enroll in college courses and 70% offer AP courses. Many NTN schools have formal partnerships with local community and technical colleges. In most schools, 50% of students participate in dual enrollment and/or AP classes, while in some schools 100% of students participate.

Community-Based Internships

NTN students also engage in experiences designed to prepare them for success in the contemporary workplace. By collaborating with others on projects, students acquire a level of responsibility similar to a professional work environment. Students engage with field experts and community stakeholders during projects, and final products are presented to authentic audiences. Additionally, over half of NTN high schools offer community-based internships, with nearly half of all seniors participating.[14]

ELIGIBLE

High school graduation is an essential eligibility requirement for most postsecondary options, including military enlistment, technical and trade school attendance, or 2-year and 4-year college enrollment. NTN students are meeting this requirement at an impressive rate. Across 37 schools with graduating classes in 2014, NTN schools boast an average 4-year cohort graduation rate of 93%. NTN schools have consistently outpaced the national average for high school graduation, since NTN began tracking the data from 10 schools in 2010. For the most recent year in which comparison data is available, 2012, New Tech Network schools demonstrate an 88% graduation rate, a rate 9% greater (or 7 percentage points higher) than the national rate of 81%.

Not only are NTN students completing high school at an impressive rate, they are completing high school with the eligibility for postsecondary education. Over 80% of NTN seniors apply to at least one college. Of those who apply, 80% are accepted to at least one college.

CWRA: College & Work Readiness Assessment

NTN uses the College and Work Readiness Assessment to assess deeper learning and college readiness in a representative sample of Network schools.[15] This nationally normed assessment, administered by the Council for Aid to Education, uses realistic performance tasks to assess four domains of deeper learning: analytical reasoning and evaluation, writing effectiveness, writing mechanics, and problem solving. The assessment measures students' growth of deeper learning during high school.

Students in New Tech Network schools demonstrate 65% more growth in measures of deeper learning between their freshman and senior years than do students in the national comparison sample. The trend of greater growth for students in NTN schools has persisted since the 2010-2011 when NTN began using the CWRA, with increasing number of schools participating in the assessment. The outstanding growth of NTN students is a promising indicator of the impact of New Tech Network schools.

Measuring Learning: College Ready Assessments

More than 40 New Tech high schools are currently working to embed College Ready Assessments (CRAs) in projects as a way of preparing students for the demands of college work, as described previously. While New Tech Network is just beginning to measure student progress and success on the CRAs, early indicators are promising. Seniors in NTN schools implementing the CRAs outscored seniors in schools not using the CRAs by one-third of a standard deviation on the externally administered College and Work Readiness Assessment, when controlling for student and school differences.

EMBEDDED PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT PAYS OFF

GROWTH IN HIGHER ORDER THINKING

FOR 4 YEARS, NTN STUDENTS GROW MORE IN HIGHER ORDER THINKING THAN COMPARISON

COLLEGE READY

The combined awareness, eligibility and preparation is leading to success for NTN graduates. NTN students enroll in college at a greater rate than the national average, a trend sustained since New Tech Network began tracking college enrollment in 2005.

In 2013, 72% of NTN graduates enrolled in college compared to only 66% of high school graduates nationally, a rate 9% greater (or 6 percentage points higher). Mirroring national trends for 4-year college enrollment, 42% of NTN graduates enrolled in 4-year institutions in 2013. In this same year, 30% of NTN graduates entered 2-year colleges compared to only 24%, nationally. In previous years, NTN graduates enrolled in both 4-year and 2-year colleges at a higher rate than high school graduates across the U.S.

NTN GRADUATES ENROLL IN COLLEGE AT GREATER RATE

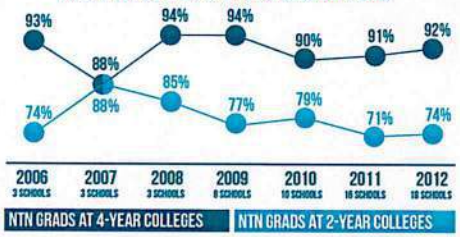
NTN GRADUATES PERSIST IN COLLEGE

FOR 7 YEARS, NTN GRADUATES DEMONSTRATE IMPRESSIVE RATES OF PERSISTENCE BETWEEN THEIR FRESHMAN AND SOPHOMORE YEAR OF COLLEGE



Benefits of a college education are maximized for society and individuals if students persist and earn a degree. For the class of 2012, 84% of NTN graduates who enrolled in college continued their postsecondary educations into a second year. The ability to persist is evident for both students attending 4-year colleges, where 92% return for their sophomore year, and students attending 2-year institutions, where 74% return for a second year. The trend of persistence from freshman to sophomore years is consistent over time as the number of NTN schools has grown. Soon, we will be able to measure college completion rates as well.

MANAGEMENT LETTER

The Board of Education
Cross County School District No. 7
Cross County, Arkansas

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Cross County School District No. 7 as of and for the year ended June 30, 2014, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Cross County School District No. 7's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing in our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of its internal control.

However, during our audit we became aware of certain matters that provide opportunities for strengthening internal control and operating efficiency. The memorandum that accompanies this letter summarizes our comments and suggestions regarding these matters. We previously reported on Cross County School District No. 7's internal control over financial reporting in our report dated March 13, 2015. This letter does not affect our report dated March 13, 2015, on the financial statements of Cross County School District No. 7.

Management's response to these findings and recommendations accompanies this management letter. We did not audit the District's response; and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion on it.

We will review the status of these comments during the next audit engagement. We have already discussed these comments and recommendations with certain Cross County School District No. 7 personnel, and we will be pleased to discuss it in further detail at your convenience, to perform any additional study of these matters, or to assist you in implementing the recommendations.

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 2014

1. Federal Program Compliance

Our review of fifteen free and reduced lunch applications disclosed that one application was determined to be on reduced status due to income; however, upon our review of income and household size, this applicant was qualified for free status.

We determined that this was an isolated incident and not indicative of how applications were normally processed. Reviewing and approving free and reduced lunch applications exercise due diligence in determining that the appropriate income limit has been used.

Dear Mr. Cobb:

We are writing in response to your audit findings and recommendations for the audit period ended June 30, 2014. Our response to your findings and the plan of action we plan to take to correct these findings are as follows:

Finding #2014-1

> Upon auditors' review of free and reduced lunch applications, it was noted that an application that was incorrectly processed as reduced, was in fact, based on income and household size, qualified for free status.

Subsequent reviews of processed applications did not uncover additional incorrect applications; therefore we believe this to be a one-time error rather than a systematic problem within the District. The employees responsible for the processing and review of applications have bee made aware of the error and will continue to strive for accurate processing of applications on a go-forward basis.

Thank you for your diligence in your audit of our financial statements and ensuring our compliance with accounting standards and state and federal laws.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Wilson

The Performance Based Assessment (PBA) component was given before the End of Year Assessment (EOY). The PBA consisted of extended tasks and applications of concepts and skills for ELA/Literacy and Math. ELA/Literacy included writing effectively when analyzing text and research simulation. Math included solving multi-step problems requiring abstract reasoning, precision, perseverance and strategic use of tools.

The EOY assessment consisted of innovative, short-answer items including the following: ELA/Literacy reading comprehension; Math short items that address both concepts and skills.

PBA Only and EOY Only are not included in performance calculations.

Number of enrolled students with completed EOY only:	4

For percent tested and school/district performance calculations student enrollment files were downloaded from eSchool via TRIAND to establish the students expected to test. These files were downloaded May 15, 2015.

When students' test and enrollment records were matched by school and student state identifier the demographic values from the enrollment files were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had a test record and did not match an enrollment record the demographic values from the student's test record were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had an enrollment record that did not match a test record the demographic values from the student's enrollment record were used in ESEA calculations.

Panel	For	Against	Abstain	Reason
Barnes	X			I believe the school is implementing sound instructional practices and if the current measures in place to address deficits are put forth with integrity, positive results will occur.
Gotcher	X			The school leadership teams are solid, along with a capacity for sustainable student leadership. I feel strongly that a legacy model of education is being formed with continued support and accountability.
Lester	X			Going forward, I believe the charter has the plan in place to improve on the concerns that the Panel has presented.
Liwo	X			Although the math scores and the Achievement Gap cause concern, the Cross County High School leadership has researched the problems being faced and has plans in place, which will hopefully improve their performance. A five year renewal will allow sufficient time to determine whether the new plans are successful in increasing student academic achievement and preparing students for college and/or careers.
Pfeffer	X			The district demonstrates plans for moving forward and has evidence of progress toward meeting goals to prepare students in terms of college readiness. The charter will need to continue to monitor outcome data on student performance for multiple measures to be sure that data align with a focus on graduation rate, math and literacy scores.

Rogers	X			The school leadership has plans in place to address concerns of the Panel going forward. I think a 5 year renewal will allow time for leadership's plans to demonstrate evidence of success.
Saunders	X			Five years will give time for new changes to show improvement. I still have concerns over Math/Literacy scores.
Smith	X			My questions regarding concerns with math and AP were answered. Students could articulate the actions of the school within their presentation.

RE: Notice of Charter Authorizing Panel Decision
Blytheville High School - A New Tech School

Dear Mr. Atwill:

On February 18, 2016, the Charter Authorizing Panel met and made the decision to take no action after reviewing the processes and procedures that Blytheville High School is employing to improve its academic standing. Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-702(b)(2)(A) allows charter applicants and affected school districts to request that the State Board of Education review a final decision of the Charter Authorizing Panel. A request must state the specific reasons that the Board should review the decision.

Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-703(a) requires the State Board of Education to consider requests for review of Charter Authorizing Panel decisions at its next meeting after the decisions are made. Therefore, a review request must be submitted, via email, no later than noon on Wednesday, February 24, 2016, in order for the request to be included in the State Board of Education agenda materials for the meeting on March 10, 2016. Email the request to ade.charterschools@arkansas.gov. Be advised that the decision of whether to review a Charter Authorizing Panel decision is discretionary. See Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-702(b)(3). Regardless of whether a review of the Panel's decision is requested, the application will be an action item for the State Board of Education on March 10, and, at that time, the Board will determine whether or not to review the Panel's decision. If the State Board decides to review the Panel's decision, the review will take place at a later meeting.

Charter Authorizing Panel Hearing
Blytheville High School - A New Tech School
February 18, 2016
Supporting Documentation

Blytheville High School New Tech, as part of the Blytheville School District, is transforming teaching and learning.

- The work of BHS New Tech is not purely an isolated effort in a stand-alone school. It is a connected and vital piece of shifting the system of the Blytheville School District.
- Our efforts to transform teaching and learning began ahead of designations of distress from the state department and were born out of our belief that we had to prepare students for a technologically-rich world with the knowledge, skills and attributes to be successful in all of their many career pathways.
- As a district, we are working to establish coherence between leadership focused entirely on improvement of instruction, collective efficacy beliefs of faculty members and the work of students.
- The Work of BHS New Tech is not simply a change in WHAT we are doing with high school students, it is a shift in WHY we are doing WHAT we are doing and HOW we are doing WHAT we are doing; in effect, the entire system is shifting.
- Resulting Math and Literacy scores at the high school level are not purely a result of the instruction found at the high school level; it is a system-wide gap and one that the district has readily taken on and begun work.
- The result of the work in the system and district as a whole involves a clear purpose for instructional practices and a challenge to change relationships and interconnections between practices and students/teachers. The work we will share about BHS today is being taken on in each of our buildings across the district because we understand that addressing only one part of the system does not result in success for students.
- It is not just a thing we are doing; it is a new way of being.

Legislative Intent

An explanation of the ways in which the charter maintains and promotes the legislative intent for charter schools

- (1) Improve student learning;
  - Improved reading and comprehension skills
    1. Reading Grade Level
       2013-2014 Average Grade Level = 5.8
       2014-2015 Average Grade Level = 7.0

2015-2016 1st Semester Average Grade Level = 6.8

2. Students are reading 3 and half times as much now as compared to three years ago.
    a. 2013-2014 - 1756.2 points; 60.4% comprehension
    b. 2014-2015 - 4269.0 points; 71.7% comprehension
    c. 2015-2016 - 6368.0 points; 71.7% comprehension

- Improved Math Skills
    1. 2013-2014 Average Grade Level = 7.0
    2. 2014-2015 Average Grade Level = 8.0
    3. 2015-2016 1st semester average Grade Level = 7.9
- ACT Data
    1. 2013 - 15.9 composite
    2. 2014 - 16.4 composite
    3. 2015 - 16.6 composite
- Improved targeted learning with School Wide Learning Outcomes
    1. Oral Communication
    2. Written Communication
    3. Collaboration
    4. Agency
    5. Knowledge & Thinking grade distribution across core content areas:
        a. 2013 - A=15.10%, B=19.72%, C=17.24%, D=15.51%, F=32.43%
        b. 2014 - A=21.77%, B=23.87%, C=20.76%, D=10.62%, F=22.99%

            ii. Q2 - A=29.59%, B=37.39%, C=18.67%, D= 8.49%, F= 5.80%
- Improvement in Student Engagement
    1. Student engagement has improved as evidenced by:
        a. Classroom observations by administrators and instructional facilitator
        b. Attendance - student attendance continues to improve and points towards an increase in student engagement in learning and in the classroom.
        c. Discipline – Office referrals and out-of-school suspension rates are on the decline pointing to increased engagement in the classroom
    2. Save a dip in the 2015 cohort, improvement in Graduation Rate indicates students are engaged, are attending school, are completing projects and coursework to earn credit and ultimately graduating.

- (2) Increase learning opportunities for all students, with special emphasis on expanded learning experiences for students who are identified as low-achieving
    - Integrated English & History Courses with Special Education Co-Teacher support provides students with deepened supports in both content areas.
    - Robust Special Education program offers targeted support for students and a variety of stand-alone, integrated and co-taught environments to meet the needs of students.
    - Alternative Learning Environment for students not thriving in the main setting

- Critical Reading Courses – targeted, additional class period of instruction for students identified in 4-6 grade reading level. This course offers intervention and supports for improving student skills in literacy and thereby increasing grade-level competency.
- Regular Targeted Intervention within Math & English/History Courses through workshops.
- Targeted Reading Practice built into every class weekly (Drop Everything And Read)
- Targeted Math Skill Practice built into every class weekly (Drop Everything And Divide)
- Write On! Targeted writing skill practice where students are provided with 5-10 minutes once per week free writing in an elective course. Students who were initially reluctant to express themselves are beginning to enjoy free writing. The extra practice with writing will help to build their communication skills while also helping to change the culture around students' attitudes about writing.
- Jobs for Arkansas Graduates - a school-to-work transition program focused on helping at-risk youth graduate from high school and pursue college or a career
    1. we currently have 19 in JAG II, 14 in Apprenticeship/Work-Based Learning, and 42 in JAG I.
        a. The JAG I students are going through the frameworks learning the process searching for a job, applying for a job, keeping a job, and quitting a job. Also, they are learning about themselves in the process, for example, their self-concept.
        b. JAG II is in the process of applying for a job or college. Students are focusing on what they see for their future and how they can plan for the future.
        c. Apprenticeship/Work-Based Learning students, must go and find a job on their own. If they do not find a job, they stay in the classroom and work on completing a certification. Last semester, the students practiced and took a certification test to be certified in Microsoft Office. This semester, they must complete at least two certifications.
            i. Current jobs for students in Apprenticeship:
                1. Burger King
                2. Pizza Hut
                3. Backyard Burger
                4. Palco (Healthcare)
                5. Hardee's

- (3) Encourage the use of different and innovative teaching methods;
    - PBL: Relevant, Contextualized - solving real-world problems -
        1. Recent Projects: World Studies - with the historical context of the effects of colonization on countries, students are asked to propose solutions for the deterioration of conditions in Iraq to President Obama.

GeoLit - Odyssey Travel Package - Homer's Odyssey, Modern day locations. Biology - Students have been tasked, by Dr. Gregory Mendel, with analyzing the genetic background for a couple seeking to have a child to determine risk for genetic disorders as well as phenotypic and genotypic traits the child would have. The students will present their findings to the panel of experts and the couple.

2. Individual Assessments of Knowledge & Thinking (Common Assessments - know what every student knows and how to push individual and collective learning further): Example: How does The Great Gatsby reflect the time period of F. Scott Fitzgerald? After researching the Roaring Twenties (both primary and secondary sources), write an essay that analyzes social interaction during the 1920s, using specific evidence from the text(s) to support your description.
3. Community Connections - community leaders to sit on the panel and hear student presentations on how to solve crises (and stop history from repeating itself) in our community in American Studies; city water treatment facility director being a guest expert in a classroom as students are working on a water quality project in Biology
4. Integrated Course offerings: Integrations in Humanities and Sciences to date; future integrations are in the plans
    a. GeoLit - Geography & English 9
    b. World Studies - World history & English 10
    c. The American Story - US History & English 11
    d. Environmental Biology - Environmental Science & Biology

- Technology
    1. 1:1 Students are equipped with a Chromebook - the device is not the end game but a means to the end of extending learning and learning opportunities.
    2. Echo: online learning management system - - allows the organizational structures of the classroom and learning to be streamlined and focused with learning management system. Gives students real-time access to teacher feedback on learning, grades, daily agendas, project flow and project briefcases for every single course. Parents have the exact same view and can see daily what students submit, teacher feedback and grades.
- Culture: Student agency is a critical component. Students drive learning and own their learning process. We push them to use effort and practice to grow, to seek challenges, to grow from setbacks, to build confidence and to find personal relevance in learning. Additionally, they must meet benchmarks, seek feedback, tackle and monitor learning, actively participate, build relationships and impact themselves and their community. This is a critical method to the transformation of teaching and learning.
- Innovative practices only work if they are working and the only way to measure that impact is through consistent measures used with fidelity.
    1. Rubrics: for Oral Communication, Written Communication, Collaboration & Agency the rubrics remain the same course-to-course and are on a continuum 9-12 with more expected of the students each year. For Particular courses, there are content rubrics in thinking & knowledge (i.e. Textual Analysis, Scientific Research, History/Social Argumentation/Explanation, Math Problem Solving). Additionally, we have a School Success Rubric to assess where we are as a school in terms of learning outcomes, cultural outcomes and college & career outcomes

2. Common Assessments & Individual Assessments of Knowledge & Thinking - solid formative assessments guiding student learning

- Classroom physical space - the physical space must match the expectations for learning. We expect students to collaborate, communicate, solve problems and learn together so the physical space becomes an extension and piece of the learning. With walls down, tables and chairs in place of desks in rows, student-centered learning is reflected in the physical space.

- (4) Create new professional opportunities for teachers, including the opportunity to be responsible for the learning program at the school site;
  - Ongoing Professional Learning Communities - Weekly within content and monthly by grade level; during the week the PLC time is built into the school day for teacher learning and planning together. The culture PLC is part of the embedded learning time and takes place after school. These are led by teachers who are supported in ongoing development and training
  - Embedded, responsive professional development - Professional development is provided for all teachers (minimum of 60 hours) and is based on teacher needs as gained by teacher voice, classroom observations and student learning data
  - Learning through New Tech - New Tech Network supports teacher learning in a significant way and helps teachers build networks with other teachers who can support in one another's learning.
    1. Virtual Learning - Badging Process
    2. Content Specific Convenings
    3. Leadership Summit
    4. Annual Conference
    5. Math/Literacy Cohorts
  - Leadership Opportunities -
    1. 7 Teacher leaders have stepped up into lead capacities: 4 content leads (Science, 9/10 Humanities, 11/12 Humanities and Math) + 3 culture leads (grade levels 9, 10, 11/12) who take on the work of leading their peers in collaboration and learning to improve student outcomes.
    2. Career & tech ed, art, foreign language instructors participate in content & culture PLCs to support rounded learning for students but also have their individual learning opportunities.
    3. Teacher leaders are supported in their learning opportunities through monthly learning times, through the New Tech coach and ongoing work with director.
    4. Within each of the PLCs, there are leadership roles established by the group.
    5. In addition, other leadership posts are opened to teachers to serve on sub-teams focused on various aspects of the school in service of student learning.

- (5)Provide parents and pupils with expanded choices in the types of educational opportunities that are available within the school system; and
  - Project-Based/Problem-Based Learning with technology integration - This learning environment offers students the opportunity to experience learning in an entirely new way - to solve problems using required content knowledge while collaborating with team members, building communication skills and learning to interact with technology in a productive manner.
  - Blended Concurrent Credit College/AP courses - Blended Concurrent Credit/AP courses are offered in a partnership with Arkansas Northeastern College and give students the ability to earn college credit while also earning 5.0 quality points for AP course on their transcript. With AP credit not readily accepted in a growing number of colleges and universities, this ensures students college credit while also giving credit for deeper learning.

Innovation Continues

In spite of the reality of lagging student scores, BHS New Tech remains innovative. That approach is paying dividends in shifting mindsets of all learners (adults included), improving student academic abilities and improving student preparation for success in high school and beyond the doors of the school.

- [redacted] - At BHS New Tech, we want students to possess the knowledge, skills and attributes to be successful in learning. We want Students to be connected, engaged and challenged. We want students to be aware, eligible and prepared for their options beyond high school (college and career). Through our School Success Rubric, we consistently measure and push ourselves against the norm.
- [redacted] - Students, Teachers and leaders own the learning, are part of the process and influence the shape and direction of the school. The culture of agency and ownership is not purely an expectation of students, it is how business is done from the principal through the teachers to the students. BHS New Tech has a solid core leadership team structure to support innovation in student learning and to ensure effective communication at every point in the process. This sort of transparency and work ensures open lines of communication and a solutions-based approach where every teacher is part of the solution and learning towards improving student learning, not just a select few. We are all innovators!
- [redacted] - Innovation in the wrong context or on the wrong point is not innovation at all. We consistently focus on the data. What data? Student Achievement data: Student performance data on common assessments and on skills assessments (STAR) as well as other classroom data from teachers; School Culture data: student referral and behavior data, attendance data, student voice and surveys, teacher voice and surveys, parent voice and surveys. The data is the point of entry for the work and so begins a natural cycle of inquiry around a particular focus. Collect data, analyze data and innovate strategy and approach in response...continue the cycle and systematically generate new strategies as necessary to meet the needs of student learning.

- Academic/Instructional Focus - Writing - came about how? The leadership team analyzed the results of student writing based upon a writing diagnostic that all students, grades 9-12, completed at the beginning of the school year, and compared these results to recent data from a writing summative assessment that students completed at the end of December, which was graded based upon the same Written Communication Rubric that was used to assess the writing diagnostic students took in August. The data indicated that in August, none of our ninth grade students, only 13% of our 10th grade students, only 17% or our 11th grade students, and 23% of our 12th grade students were able to score proficient or advanced on the Written Communication rubric. In December, only 15% of our ninth grade students, 25% of our 10th grade students, 33% of our 11th grade students and 37% of our 12th grade students were able to score proficient or above on the Written Communication rubric. In response to this data, the leadership team developed the following school wide learning focus: "To improve written communication across disciplines."
- Cultural Focus - as a team teacher support with student voice and relationships -
- Through our inquiry and focus, we have been able to identify gaps in practice and instruction as well as make progress in responding and seeing student achievement improve.

- [redacted] - Recruiting and retaining the best teachers: Focus on retaining now with having intentional conversations with teachers who are irreplaceable. Those conversations surround, support and build confidence. Working to ensure the process for onboarding new teachers is helpful, useful and allows for teachers to jump into the process without a huge disconnect. Recruitment and retention has historically been an issue for the school district and for the high school. Through our work and transformation, the level of applicants has risen, and we are finding moderate success (although not to our liking) in retention.
- [redacted] - Teachers must have time and space to learn together, collaborate, innovate and grow their instructional practices. This time is intentionally scheduled in their daily schedules and monthly scheduled in after-school times. Other times of development are provided in response to teacher needs and student data. The support from New Tech Network through our coach, the virtual learning opportunities, the convenings, the onsite development, the annual conferences and leadership summits provide not only additional space and time for those opportunities but connections with other educators across the state, nation and world.
- [redacted] - every system is perfectly aligned to get the results it gets. As a district, we recognize this is not a High School deficit but rather one that has compounded over time as a result of the system's alignment. We have worked diligently over the last three years to follow the data and engage in a workable cycle of inquiry around that data. Major shifts and changes have been made. This is the beauty of having a district conversion charter. As a district, we know what our ideal graduate is, and we are able collaborate K-12 to bring that into reality.

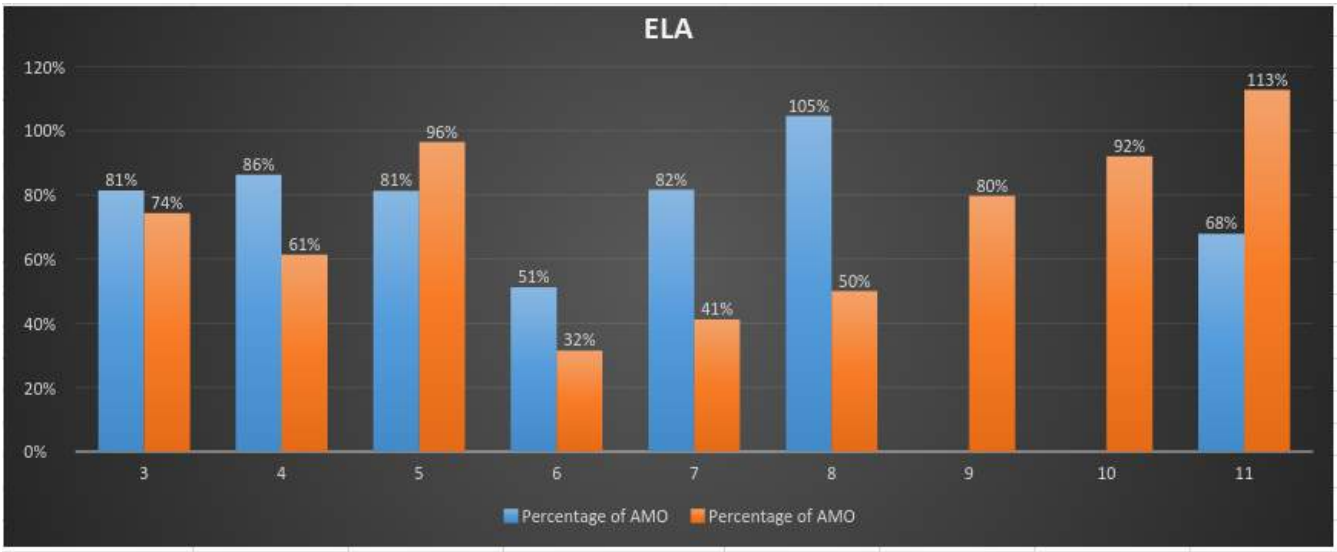
- [redacted] - As we continue to keep the mission central, we also have to be aware of where we are, what is working and what is not working and be willing to shift our practices accordingly. This requires innovation in organizational processes and structures - such as the master schedule, class pairings and integrations (i.e. Environmental Biology - not working based on data, teacher recommendation)

Brief Stop by PARCC

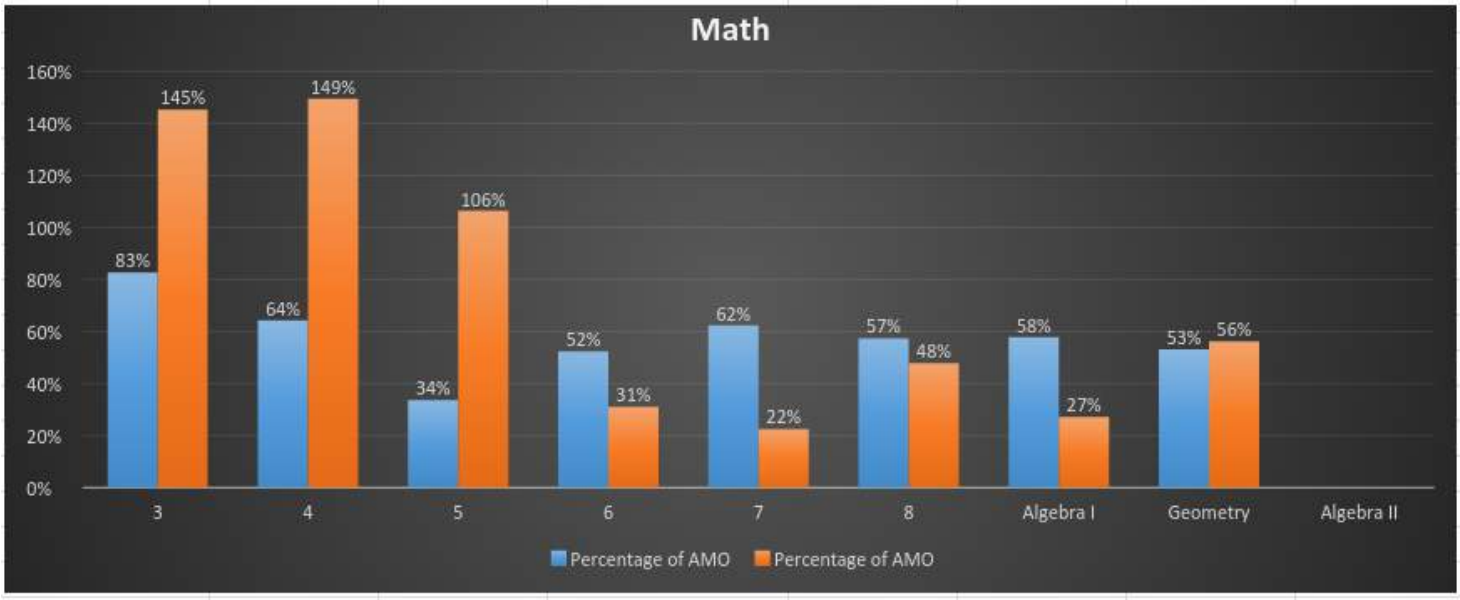
- While BHS New Tech did not meet AMO, we did see a 1.425% growth in scores: 2012-2104 42.664% and 2013-2015 44.089%

English Language Arts Consolidated Testing Report



The graph above shows English Language Arts 2014 data (BLUE) compared to 2015 data (ORANGE) for grades 3 through 11. The blue bars indicate the percentage of AMO on the ELA section of the 2014 ACTAAP assessments. The orange bars indicate the percentage of the adjusted AMO on the ELA section of the 2015 PARCC assessments. In 2014, there was no ELA assessment in grades 9 and 10. However, the 11th grade data shows a marked improvement of progress towards AMO in 2015 compared to the percentage of AMO from the previous school year.

Math Consolidated Testing Report



Explanatory Narrative: The graph above shows Math 2014 data (BLUE) compared to 2015 data (ORANGE) for grades 3 through 10. The blue bars indicate the percentage of AMO on the Math section of the 2014 ACTAAP assessments. The orange bars indicate the percentage of the adjusted AMO on the Math section of the 2015 PARCC assessments. For the Algebra I section last year, our students only made 27% of their AMO. The year before, the same students (for the most part) scored 57% of the AMO on their 8th grade Benchmark exam.

For the Geometry exam, the PARCC assessment results was comparable to the 2014 Geometry EOC results, even showing a slight improvement in 2015. The same students (for the most part) made 58% of their AMO on the Algebra I EOC the previous year. In 2014, there was no Algebra II EOC test, so there is no comparative data. The ESEA Report did not include scores from the Algebra II PARCC scores.

Explanatory Narrative: Testing comparisons can only be made as a percent of total score to AMO goal. For the 2014 school year, the English 11 score was 44.23% and the AMO was 65.16%. This amounted to 67.87% of our AMO. For the 2015 school year, the English 11 score was 24.20% and the AMO was 21.47%. This was 112.72% of our adjusted AMO goal. As a note: English 11 was not required to test in 2015 and is not accounted for in the ESEA Report. No detailed data is currently available from the PARCC assessment.

Plans to Improve Academic Achievement

- 2013-2014 year, under direction of Arkansas Department of Education School Improvement Unit, we began preparing quarterly plans with tasks (45-day plans) that targeted twelve academic distress recommendations.

- 2014-2015 - Academic Distress recommendations narrow in focus to four recommendations, and the work on quarterly reporting continued. (attached)
- 2015-16 With the Priority School Designation, we were given focus around specific indicators and are working diligently as a school to dig into those indicators, provide assessment of measurable outcomes and practices based on the data available and enact strategies and tasks to meet those indicators (attached) towards improvement.
- Specific plans implemented in the past with data that demonstrate the results and include a discussion of student performance and growth
  - Quarterly Plans & Reports based on priority indicators in IMO Area 1: Change in Teacher & Leader Practice
    IMO Area 3: Student Safety & Discipline
    IMO Area 4: Family & Community Engagement
  - The Quarterly plans are focused with the learning organization framework

1. Structures, leadership and culture are regular points of focus throughout the process of improvement and serve to support the strong cycle of inquiry around particular areas of focus
2. Areas of focus have emerged from data presented instructionally and culturally. These areas of focus are addressed in the quarterly plans and subsequent data in reports.

  - Quarter 1 Plan/Report - Attached
  - Quarter 2 Plan/Report - Attached
- Specific Plans for the future that include methods of assessing success
  - Quarter 3 Plan - Attached

- Area of Schoolwide Focus has emerged from Data: The leadership team analyzed the results of student writing based upon a writing diagnostic that all students, grades 9-12, completed at the beginning of the school year, and compared these results to recent data from a writing summative assessment that students completed at the end of December, which was graded based upon the same Written Communication Rubric that was used to assess the writing diagnostic students took in August. The data indicated that in August, none of our ninth grade students, only 13% of our 10th grade students, only 17% or our 11th grade students, and 23% of our 12th grade students were able to score proficient or advanced on the Written Communication rubric. In December, only 15% of our ninth grade students, 25% of our 10th grade students, 33% of our 11th grade students and 37% of our 12th grade students were able to score proficient or above on the Written Communication rubric. In response to this data, the leadership team developed the following school wide learning focus: "To improve written communication across disciplines."

Students set goals for behavior and work with behavior interventionists to meet those goals. Students remain in the program until their goals are met.
- Cultural teams are working at each grade level and have identified the top offenses by grade, are implementing strategies (from teacher to support to student support to positive reinforcement through PBIS connections) towards further reduction of referrals. The end result of which will be students engaged and on-task in learning. Data will continue to be collected and analyzed and strategies adjusted as data suggests.

- Attendance Data

Quarter 1 - 94.17% ADA 19 students missed 10+days
Quarter 2 - 94.45% ADA 14 students missed 10+ days
Semester 1 ADA - 94.31%
Taking Attendance Seriously: Every Day Counts
1. BHS operations/Attendance team communicates with District Attendance officer when tardy and/or absenteeism notices (3 & 6 day) are generated and the officer follows up with parents.
2. Remaining consistent with follow up regarding documentation (doctor's excuse, note from parent, etc.) for days missed.
3. Implement a regularly scheduled attendance video (perhaps weekly/monthly) program.
4. Students are emailed their personal absenteeism information on a weekly basis.
5. The district will review the attendance policy with the juvenile office/juvenile judge. BSD will work with the juvenile authorities to formulate a plan which will be beneficial to students, and assist them with retaining credit.

Progress Towards Charter Goals

- Increase in Student Scores
    - [redacted] Blytheville High School Reading, Reading Comprehension, Mathematics and Mathematical Reasoning will increase to at least meet yearly state AMO goals and individual student growth goals for each year for the first six years.
    - [redacted] Student growth is taking place and scores are increasing but not yet at the level to which AMO is met
    - [redacted]
        1. Literacy Intervention & Critical Reading Courses -
            a. BHS has implemented nine Critical Reading classes, which is designed for students who are reading on a 4th-6th grade level to help bring those students up to grade level. Students in Critical Reading classes have also shown an improvement in the average reading level for those classes, which was 5.8 in September, and is currently 6.1.

b. students receive specific scheduled intervention based upon Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) through English classes at least once per week.

2. Math Interventions
   a. Algebra I is the focal point to address the skills gaps affecting our students in this foundational subject. The interventionist, a high school math certified teacher, identifies students that are struggling in Algebra I through collaboration with the Algebra I teachers as well as analyzing the data from various sources, such as STAR data, previous grade-level assessments, and work habits that need to be addressed, to determine student needs and develop strategies to pull students to grade level, push grade-level and beyond students to growth and assist students in being successful and able to move to the next math level with confidence. A firm grasp in Algebra I curriculum leads to success in future math courses and preparing our students to be college and career ready.
   b. Students in all Math classes receive specific scheduled intervention based upon Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) through their math classes at least once per week.
3. Academic Improvement Plans - all students who scored Did Not Meet, Partially Met or Approaching on PARCC received Academic Improvement Plans targeting specific learning goals.

- STAR Growth
  - [redacted]There will be 1.5 years of grade level growth on Renaissance Learning, STAR Enterprise testing for each individual student each year, regardless of proficiency in Reading, Language Usage and Mathematics.
  - [redacted]

       a. In this cohort, we started with 185 students, had 43 students move out and 36 students move in. Of those 36, 20 had negative codes, left without transfer data, Job Corp, expelled and five dropped for lack of attendance and not able to be located by School Truancy Officer
  - Action:
    1. Connections - Advisory Period where teachers connect and maintain relationships with group of students to the end of high school success with credit, attendance and graduation requirements. Through a connection with a local bank, students are working their way through EverFi course offerings (Health & wellness, Financial Literacy, Civic Engagement and Career Success) at each grade level.
    2. College & Career Pathways - BHS New Tech Counselors are reframing the Comprehensive guidance program. They work to stay in constant communication with students to remind them of mindset, grades, credits, college and course offerings/schedules. Counselors hold monthly class meetings to keep students on track. Counselors work at Mid-term and Quarterly with students on the bubble of and those with D's and F's
    3. Student Voice
       a. Committee - As part of the Arkansas Leadership Academy, BHS New Tech has a Student Voice Committee that has addressed student concerns from lockers to learning styles in service of keeping one another engaged with learning and on track to graduate.
       b. Student Council - students have the opportunity to be elected to represent their peers on the student council and to drive school pride through social events and learning opportunities.
       c. Culture Survey - students are given a culture survey, from New Tech, twice a year and are asked how they feel about everything from rules to pedagogy to relationships. The data is analyzed and strategies formed in response in service of student learning and progress towards graduation.
    4. Parental Involvement - College & Career Fair, FAFSA & College Application Night, Step-Up to High School, First Things First and a host of other parent-requested and school provided learning opportunities build parent capacity to support college and/or career-bound students in persistence towards graduation.

Overall Effectiveness

The Story in Timeline

- 2009 – 2010 Mr. Ashley Becomes principal and makes first priority of transforming culture, establishing consistency in procedures & processes, aligns curriculum, worked with state improvement specialist, external provider.
- 2010-2011 - – Mr. Ashley & team worked to solidify culture, align curriculum and crosswalk Common Core State Standards, align courses and work towards improving student achievement through interventions and hyper-focused work around removing the gaps for student learning.
- 2011-2012 – Mr. Ashley & team continued to work towards student growth but the overall level of students entering BHS and then learning while at BHS continued to lag. Through targeted work with data on graduation rate, it became evident that most students who failed to graduate fell behind within the first semester of their freshman year. In response to this data, Mr. Ashley appointed a team to begin work on establishing a Freshman Academy to target Freshmen. The move to Common Core State Standards was also in process, and it was evident that the students were also lacking soft skills, such as communication and collaboration, and needed more than simple classroom instruction to meet annual measurable objectives. In the spring of 2012, Mr. Ashley took two teams of teachers and school leaders to Cross County High School to view the work students and teachers were doing as a newly transformed New Tech School. Later that spring, another group took a closer look at New Tech with an executive tour of Ruston New Tech in Ruston, LA. Through this process, it became evident that the New Tech process to engage, empower and enable students through PBL, 1:1 technology and a further shift in culture was the next step towards improving student learning and students owning their learning. Through district support and local board of education support, Blytheville High School entered into a planning agreement with New Tech Network in the Summer of 2012. Mr. Ashley, Mrs. Spears, Mrs. Cooke and the teacher leaders of the newly formed freshman academy attended the Planning Track of the New Tech Annual Conference during the Summer of 2012 and began the first steps of the process.
- 2012-2013 – Mr. Ashley and his team continued diligently working to grow student learning and achievement with limited success. During the Fall of 2012, the process began with the conversion charter application. Spring 2013, Leadership residency, teacher residence. Summer 2013 New Schools training
- 2013-2014 – Roll – out of Year 1
- 2014-2015 – Year 2
- 2015-2016 – Year 3

- New Tech Support & Measures of BHS New Tech Growth
  - Instructional Shifts:
    1. PBL is the primary mode of instruction in BHS New Tech classrooms
    2. BHS New Tech is working to elevate classroom-based PBL to community/field-based PBL to make learning more relevant and authentic

3. Performance assessment is a leading mode of assessment and is used in conjunction with formative assessments (built in common with content-alike PLCs) and Skill-based assessments to determine student mastery and needs.
4. BHS New Tech is using external standards for quality assurance - rubrics normed and vetted through New Tech Network National and Nationally-normed Skills-based Renaissance STAR assessments.

- Cultural Shifts (Adults)
  1. Teachers are active learners and continually work to model agency, collaboration and other skills for students in the learning process
  2. Teachers actively collaborate around PBL instruction including project design and analysis of student work/learning
  3. Teachers have an active voice in leading learning and have active leadership opportunities - Teacher Culture Survey
  4. BHS New Tech is shifting practices to be driven by inquiry at the lead of data.
  5. System and school leaders actively participate in network learning.
- Cultural Shifts (Students)
  1. Students actively collaborate to complete project tasks, requirements, products and presentations.

     a. Positive Connections to School
     b. Positive Learning Experiences through PBL/PrBL
     c. Positive Feelings About Discipline (discipline is fair, enforced and based on rules students helped establish)
     d. Positive feelings about peer relationships on campus
     e. Positive feelings about adult relationships on campus
     f. Positive feelings about preparation for college & career
  3. Students routinely present mastery of Knowledge & Thinking to a variety of community members beyond district and school staff.
  4. Students have an active voice in the learning community
- Developmental Indicators
  1. Staff consistently use Echo for grading
  2. Staff consistently use rubrics aligned to SWLOs when assessing the final product of a project
  3. Staff are disciplined in their use of collaborative planning time to improve project design and facilitation
  4. BHS has clear structures and practices designed to attend to student relationships and collaboration at project and school level
  5. Staff have begun using 'Looking At Student Work protocols to assess the impact of their instruction and inform their learning

- Growing Parent Engagement
  - PTO is thriving with projects ranging from Homecoming parades to Christmas baskets for students in need to Valentine's court to community support.

        - Parent Voice - Advocacy & Input Surveys and Positive Contacts
        - College & Career Nights for Families of Juniors & Seniors
        - First Things First - highest rate of attendance in history

    - Growing Technology
        - Students are demonstrating responsibility and shift in agency with their devices
        - Since the 2013-14 roll-out, only seven devices have been unreturned (out of 879 total).
        - Students have option to enroll in a work-it-off program to pay for damages and repairs on their computer.
        - Ritter Communications has partnered with the district to offer deeply discounted internet service to families.
        - Blytheville School District is on the front edge of equipping school buses with wifi

The stories between the numbers reveal much.

Student grit and persistence are steadily increasing. A hefty anecdotal piece of data came from multiple teachers around PARCC assessment. PARCC represented a new type of testing and also a different level of testing. Teachers were pleased with student participation, performance and willingness to persist even when extremely difficult. The same is true of projects and problems. Student learning expectations have become more rigorous and the bar has been raised. Students, in large part, no longer complain, but jump to the tasks at hand to tackle their own learning.

Student agency continues to be displayed in every-day ways from management of their devices to facing obstacles head-on, to meeting benchmarks, seeking feedback, to dealing with interpersonal conflict (managing relationships) and more.

We are growing, learning and transforming teaching and learning. We are seeing results and the hard work is beginning to pay off. The results are not rising quickly enough to remove us from distress and priority in one fell swoop, but we are making incremental, positive, sustainable changes that will, in turn, leave the system permanently adjusted to the outcomes we desire.

[redacted]

[redacted] School leadership will develop and implement a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts.

[redacted] The system will include procedures for analyzing data (i.e., student achievement; personnel recruitment and retention; professional development programs; leader and teacher evaluation results; aligned, standards-based curriculum; instructional and assessment strategies, community and family engagement; and student groupings and services) to evaluate the level of effectiveness of efforts and interventions to improve student outcomes.

[redacted] School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the school/district.

[redacted] The plan will identify the following:

- an induction system that accelerates the assimilation of new staff
- specific monthly activities related to recruitment, induction, and retention
- quarterly evaluation of the activities
- An analysis of the reasons teachers leave the district or remain.

[redacted] School leadership will implement a team structure that supports student learning and improved achievement as its primary purpose.

[redacted] The leadership team is the recipient of data from instructional teams and provides guidance and support for improved student outcomes. Instructional teams are the primary source for planning, implementing, and assessing teaching and learning. In addition to instructional teams, the leadership team also develops a structure of support teams that include parent teams, student teams (when appropriate) and community teams.

[redacted] School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will facilitate an analysis of current English/language arts and math curricula across all grade levels and articulate in writing the process for deep curriculum alignment.

[redacted] An aligned curriculum will address state and local standards, courses of study, pacing guides, instructional unit plans, daily lesson plans, and assessment and instructional strategies. The primary assessment of student learning will occur following the completion of each instructional unit (approximately two – three weeks) by the instructional team that is responsible for the planning and implementing instruction. This assessment will result in interventions for students who need additional support to master standards and enrichment for students who have mastered unit standards. The focus on unit assessments does not preclude the need for ongoing, daily, formative assessments within a classroom or assessments that occur at longer intervals, such as quarterly or semester exams. Leadership will regularly evaluate the process and determine the need for modifications.

District policy specifies the team structure for all schools which include a description of the team's' purposes and how they are constituted. New school leaders are apprised of this expectation and how the effectiveness of teams is determined. A common team structure for a school consists of (but not limited to) a Leadership Team (consisting of principal and teacher leaders), teacher Instructional Teams (teaching common subject area or grade level), student team (a diverse group of student leaders), management team (campus administrators and other personnel as needed) and a School Community Council (with a majority of members being parents (ID01). Each team has a specific purpose and scheduled time to meet and works from agendas and minutes (ID04).

The Leadership Team meets at least twice a month in regularly scheduled meetings of at least an hour (ID07). They serve as a conduit of communication to the faculty and staff in a way that enables the Leadership Team to receive input from the faculty and staff (ID08). The Leadership Team regularly looks at school performance data and aggregated classroom observation data and uses that data to make decisions about school improvement and professional development (ID10).

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

The Blytheville High School Leadership Team, in collaboration with the District Leadership Team, spent the summer revamping the leadership structure. We have now established the following sub-teams that report back to the leadership team in service of student learning: Instructional Team, Operational Team, Stakeholders Committee, and Cultural Team. Sub-team leaders were selected with input from instructional leaders, assistant principals and key building personnel and have been appointed and tasked with type-specific areas. The instructional sub-team is responsible for content collaboration, assessment data, planning, interventions for students falling behind and teacher support around instruction. The operations sub-team is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the building including the physical plant, bell schedule, procedures and student and teacher attendance. The cultural team works with teacher and student voice, fall and spring culture surveys of the school, teacher retention, positive behavior and intervention supports, discipline data and grade level PLCs for teachers. The stakeholder sub-team is responsible for garnering ongoing parent input and involvement in decision-making for students and for the movement of the school as well as breaking barriers between the school, home and community. In addition to the stated structure, the director of the Blytheville High School Alternative Education program reports to the core leadership team on the progress of her program and students.

A major component of the leadership process is the involvement of teacher leaders. Teacher leaders were selected through their willingness to take on tasks and in their demonstration of ability to lead their peers. Teacher leaders lead the two humanities teams (9-10 grade and 11-12 grade), the science team and the math team. Those teams comprise the instructional sub-team. Additionally, teacher leaders lead the grade level PLC teams that are a portion of the cultural team. Beginning in May of 2015, the seven teacher leaders were gathered for learning, training, development and support. That work continued through the summer (July 13, 2015) just ahead of their first time to work with their teams during the New Tech Annual Conference. As evidenced by the tasks below this group meets regularly to work around student learning needs, teacher learning needs.

On 9/16/2015, the BHS Leadership Team determined that ID04, "All teams will prepare agendas for their meetings," and ID07, "A Leadership Team consisting of the principal, teachers who lead the Instructional Teams, and other key professional staff will meet regularly (twice a month or more for an hour each meeting)" have both been fully implemented as a result of our work. At that time, ID01, "A team structure will be officially incorporated into the school governance policy" was assessed as being only partially implemented because we had to research to determine if our new leadership policy had been officially incorporated into school governance policy. After researching the indicator, on October 12, 2015, the Blytheville High School Leadership Team was able to revisit the indicator and assess it as fully implemented.

Quarterly Objective:
Establish teams that report to the leadership team, including an Instructional Team, Operational Team, and Cultural Team, and include members on the leadership team who report from these teams as well as the previously existing Parent Teacher Organization and Student Voice Committee.

1. Develop and support teacher leaders in their work in Content Collaboration (by area of instruction) and in Culture Collaboration (by grade level) in preparation for their work during professional development and the first two weeks of school.	8/7/15	8/7/15	Teryn Spears	X		The teachers leaders met on August 7 and worked in areas of leading self, leading other and leading the system. Goals were set for support on a monthly basis (meetings to be held the first Tuesday of the month), for key areas of focus for each teacher's team beginning the year (based on the Spring 2015 Student Culture Survey data) and for the cross-team support for teachers (included stated times for peer observations and cross-walks). The agenda, sign-in and minutes document give the detailed account.

2. Develop framework for a collaborative weekly agenda for the core leadership team that has stated purpose.	9-2-15	8-26-15	Robin Sneed, Bobby Ashley & Teryn Spears	X		The agenda framework was created as a google document and shared with sub-team leaders to populate. The framework will continue to be in place in each week for leadership meetings.
3. Set schedule for weekly leadership meetings.	9-2-15	8-26-15	Bobby Ashley	X		The meetings have been set for 12:45-1:30PM every Wednesday.

Gaps, areas of concern and suggestions for teacher support were brought forward and intentional plans for supporting teachers with classroom management and instructional support (by both their peer teachers and administrators and instructional leaders) were put into place. Additionally, the monthly support has moved to Wednesdays so that after-school tutoring is not a conflict. The agenda, sign-in and minutes document give the detailed account.

Collaborate with New Tech coach Julia McBride to identify key areas for leadership development and support for the core leadership team and for teacher leaders to inform Julia's agenda and work.	9-16-15	9-16-15	Teryn Spears, Bobby Ashley	X		Via phone conference, Bobby Ashley and Teryn Spears collaborated with Julia McBride to craft an agenda and work to provide support and development for the leadership team on Julia's 9-23-15 visit to Blytheville High School.
7. Quarterly Leadership Transformation Workshop with Julia McBride, New Tech Coach	9-23-15	9-23-15	Bobby Ashley, Teryn Spears, Julia McBride	X		The workshop with Julia was held and the goals to ground school leadership team in shared learning, content, and frameworks that create common language around practice, leadership, and improvement, all in service of state-level and BHS teaching and learning goals served as the lens for the work. Agenda, Sign in and minutes provide details.
8. Attend New Tech Leadership Summit to continue learning and work around building a leadership team that supports student learning through meaningful assessment of rich data.	10-14-16 10-15-16 10-16-16	10-14-16 10-15-16 10-16-16	Bobby Ashley, Teryn Spears	X		Bobby Ashley and Teryn Spears attended the New Tech Leadership Summit (along with District Curriculum Director, Sally Cooke) and extended learning of meaningful leadership and learning through deep assessment of data. Travel receipts, New Tech Registration and work from the Summit provide more detail and evidence.
9. Research Current Policy to determine if ID01 has been fully implemented.	10/12/15	10/12/15	Paul Jenkins	X		The Blytheville Public School Board approved the amended team structure on September 28, 2015.

IMO AREA 1-CHANGE IN TEACHER AND LEADER PRACTICE

ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will develop and implement a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts. (#1) School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will facilitate an analysis of current English / language arts and math curricula across all grade levels and articulate in writing the process for deep curriculum alignment. (#3)

Effective Practice within Category:
Engaging teachers in assessing and monitoring student mastery (IIB02, IIB04)

Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation:
The Instructional Teams develop instructional units based on the curriculum standards and the local curriculum document. This unit typically encompasses three to six weeks of work and includes pre-/post tests administered at two to three week intervals (IIB01). The pre-test and post-test assess the same learning objectives and inform the Instructional Team members' (teachers) plans for differentiated instruction within the unit and/or re-teaching as necessary following the unit (IIB04).

The Instructional Team reviews the results of the pre- and post-tests and uses the information to guide efforts to assure that every student masters the instructional standards taught in the instructional unit (IIB03). The Instructional Team also uses the results from the pre-/post-test analysis to plan for professional development, inform subsequent instructional unit plans and/or make adjustments to the curriculum (IIB02, IIB05).

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):
Math and English Language Arts teachers have been working this quarter to revise units of instruction based on analysis of the curriculum Total Instructional Alignment (TIA) documents. Teachers have worked collaboratively to develop a total of two pre- and two post-assessments during the first quarter, and to analyze data from those assessments to inform curriculum decisions (including vertical alignment) and instructional decisions (including individual student intervention and extension needs).

The Blytheville High School Leadership Team assessed IIB02, "Unit pre-tests and post-tests will be administered to all students in the grade level and subject covered by the unit of instruction" and determined that our current level of implementation is "Limited Development." While the goal is to have all students in math and English Language Arts classes take pre- and post- tests, only 85% of students have been assessed in English and Math courses this quarter. Upon full implementation, a minimum of 95% of students will take common assessments, documentation of scores and score analysis will be presented to the Leadership Team, and the team will use this data to make decisions for improvement.

Quarterly Objective: Math and English Language Arts teachers will create, collect data from, and analyze data for a minimum of two unit assessments.

Indicator / Tasks	Target Date	Completion Date	Person assigned	Met	Not Met	Evidence of Completion

1. Ninth and tenth grade Humanities instructional teams (English and History teachers) will develop two unit pre -assessments and analyze the data.	9/30/15	9/30/15	Robin Sneed	x		Teachers reported data via a Google Doc. and data analysis was completed during department collaboration. Following data analysis, teachers made plans to use the data to inform instruction.

Eleventh and twelfth grade Humanities instructional teams (English and History teachers) will develop two unit pre -assessments and analyze the data.	9/30/15	9/30/15	Robin Sneed	x		Teachers reported data via a Google Doc. and data analysis was completed during department collaboration. Following data analysis, teachers made plans to use the data to inform instruction.
3. Based upon the results of pre-assessment data, the Humanities instructional teams will determine two sets of skills to focus on this semester for vertical alignment across grades 9-12.	9/30/15	9/30/15	Robin Sneed	x		The humanities department (English and history integrated departments) used the data from the first pre-assessment and the data pertained from the Looking at Student Work (LASW) protocol to analyze student writing from an Independent Assessment of Knowledge and Thinking (IAKT) essay that required students to analyze a piece of literature to determine the following focus skills for the quarter: verb usage (particularly active voice, subject-verb agreement, and shift in verb tense) and academic vocabulary (particularly the correct use of homophones when writing and using context clues to aid in reading comprehension).
4. After determining focus skills, the humanities instructional teams will determine support skills for each focus skill and break them	10/1/15	10/1/15	Robin Sneed	x		The humanities department created a google document that aligns the two agreed upon skills based on pre-assessment data. For example: For into grade level bands, agreeing that by the end of the semester 70% of students in each grade will master the agreed upon skills.						Verb usage, one specific skill that many students need remediation upon is using active voice in their writing. Therefore, ninth grade teachers agree to ensure that students can differentiate among active, linking, and helping verbs and use them correctly in writing. Tenth grade teachers agree to ensure that student can differentiate between active and passive voice, and revise sentences to make them active. Eleventh grade teachers agree to ensure that students can use specific verbs (show rather than tell) within their own writing, and revise their own writing so that verbs in essays are active at least 50% of the time. Twelfth grade teachers agree to ensure that students write using active voice at least 70% of the time. Other skills that are broken down in a similar fashion include: verb conjugation, subject-verb agreement, verb tense (consistency of usage), etc.

5. Ninth and tenth grade Humanities instructional teams (English and History teachers) will develop two unit post-assessments and analyze the data.	10/12/15	10/12/15	Robin Sneed	x		Teachers reported data via a Google Doc. and data analysis was completed during department collaboration. Teachers reflected upon instructional practices, and made plans to reteach skills to those who are still struggling.

7. The instructional team of ninth through twelfth grade math teachers will break into content-alike (algebra, geometry, algebra II, etc.) teams to develop two unit pre-assessments and analyze the data.	9/30/15	9/30/15	Robin Sneed	x		Teachers reported data via a Google Doc. and data analysis was completed during department collaboration. Based on the analysis, the following skills were selected to focus on: Resource Algebra - Writing Algebraic Expressions and Graphing Inequalities; Algebra I - Evaluating Functions and Slope; Geometry - Undefined terms in Geometry - Points, Lines, and Planes, and Ratios and Proportions; Algebra II - Multi-step and Literal Equations; Pre-Cal - Vertical Line Test and is the Expression a Function; AP Stats - Quantitative Data Displays and 5-Number Analysis; AP-Calc - Trig and Inverse Functions. Teachers used these analyses to plan upcoming and future units.
8. The math department instructional leader (who is a certified Google trainer) will provide support in using Google forms, Google classroom, doctopus, and flubaroo to facilitate data collection and analysis.	9/30/15	9/30/15	Tyler Isbell	x		Through collaboration, Mr. Isbell has been able to provide brief mini-lessons on Google docs, Google classroom, Google forms, Doctopus, and Flubaroo, and answer questions as needed. Teachers then used this training to report and analyze data. Teachers are also using the training to facilitate other areas of project based learning (PBL) and project

9. The instructional team of ninth through twelfth grade math teachers will break into content-alike (algebra, geometry, algebra II, etc.) teams to develop two unit post-assessments and analyze the data.	10/12/15	10/12/15	Robin Sneed	x		Teachers reported data via a Google Doc. and data analysis was completed during department collaboration. Teachers reflected upon instructional practices, and made plans to reteach skills to those who are still struggling with the above stated focus areas in math.
10. English teachers will create Academic Improvement Plans (AIPs) for students who have not reached proficiency on their previous state assessment.	10/15/15	10/15/15	Bobby Ashley	x		Academic Improvement Plans have been written. Plans are in place to get parents to sign the AIPs during Parent-teacher conferences on October 20th and October 23rd. Teachers agree to contact parents who do not attend PT conferences.

Math teachers will create Academic Improvement Plans (AIPs) for students who have not reached proficiency on their previous state assessment.	10/15/15	10/15/15	Bobby Ashley	x		Academic Improvement Plans have been written using data from the previous state assessment as well as the current STAR Instructional Planning Report. Plans are in place to get parents to sign the AIPs during Parent-teacher conferences on October 20th and October 23rd. Teachers agree to contact parents who do not attend PT conferences.

13. Math teachers will create an Action Plan for those students who have Ds or Fs in their classes at the end of the quarter.	10/15/15	10/15/15	Bobby Ashley	x		For those students who have Ds or Fs, teachers analyzed each student's data to determine the reason for their poor performance: attendance, work ethic (agency), lack of foundational skills, etc. The Action Plan includes specific actions for each student, their parent, and their teacher. Plans are in place to have these plans signed by parents during Parent-teacher conferences on October 20th and October 23rd. Teachers agree to contact parents who not attend PT conferences.

IMO AREA 3-STUDENT SAFETY AND DISCIPLINE
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will develop and implement a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts. (#1) School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the district. (#2)
Effective Practice within Category: Expecting and monitoring sound classroom management (IIIC10)
Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation: The faculty and staff develop a discipline management plan that guides student behavior throughout the school. Each teacher establishes rituals and routines within the classroom that produces an atmosphere conducive to learning. Each teacher consistently teaches the campus and classroom plans to all students. Each teacher consistently teaches the rules and procedures in their classroom. Each teacher consistently enforces the agreed upon rules and regulations (IIIC10).
Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are): The Blytheville High School Leadership team assessed indicator IIIC10 and determined that our current level of implementation is "Limited Development." While being reinforced in some classes, the expected behavior is not implemented in all classes consistently.

The BHS faculty and staff has developed a discipline T-Chart that determines classroom managed behavior versus office managed behavior, and we have a PBIS team that periodically provides Professional Development support for positive behavioral intervention. The PBIS team has identified Level II students to whom the faculty provides additional behavioral support. Students who need a more structured learning environment are evaluated for possible placement in our Alternative Learning Environment (ALE) program.
Quarterly Objective: The Cultural Team will oversee the restructuring of the PBIS team and program.

IMO AREA 4-FAMILY AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the district. (#2)

Effective Practice within Category:
Defining the purpose, policies, and practices of a school community (IVA01)

Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation:
No Child Left Behind stipulates that each school in the Title I program develop an agreement, or "compact," that outlines how parents, school staff, and students will share responsibility for improving academic achievement. Compacts describe how the school and parents can work together to help students achieve the state's standards.

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

The Blytheville Leadership Team assessed IVA01, "The school's Title I Compact will include responsibilities (expectations) that will communicate what parents (families) can do to support their students' learning at home (curriculum of the home, with learning opportunities for families to develop their curriculum of the home)" and determined that our level of development is "Limited Development." A new compact has been developed and will be signed during parent teacher conferences during the week of October 19th – 23rd. In April, parents and community stakeholders will take part in the annual evaluation and revision of the Compact as well as the parental involvement plan.

Quarterly Objective: The Leadership Team will review and approve a parent-school Compact and make plans to have them signed during the upcoming Parent Teacher Conferences.

Tasks	Target Date	Completion Date	Person assigned	Met	Not Met	Evidence of Completion

IMO AREA 4-FAMILY AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the district. (#2)
Effective Practice within Category: Post-Secondary School Options (VA01)
The school has a guidance plan that includes options for students as they plan their college and career opportunities. The school routinely tracks their recent graduates' success at the next level as they pursue their college and career goals. ADE will monitor the following: ● The guidance plan ● The process of tracking recent graduates
Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are): Blytheville High School New Tech has limited implementation of VA01 - The school provides all students with guidance and supports (academic, financial, etc.) to prepare them for college and career. The guidance and counseling office is staffed with three counselors, one of whom is a specialist with college and career advisement and most recently worked as a career coach. The counseling department is in the process of creating a comprehensive guidance plan that includes services offered through the counseling office as well as through local partnerships such as with Arkansas Northeastern College. BHS New Tech has an effective working relationship with Arkansas Northeastern College and provides office space and time with students for career coach Jeff Echols. The career coach provides assistance with ACT registration, college applications and career pathway advisement. The counselors are working to identify the best process by which to provide individualized plans for each student and have taken on, as tasks this quarter, investigating various resources by which students help create and manage those plans. No final decisions have been made as there is one more resource to test. BHS New Tech does not have a sustainable process by which recent graduates are tracked. Recent graduates have been tracked through connections with local colleges and through connections with students. Identifying a tracking process is a task the guidance teams has also taken on this quarter.

As a component of the overall guidance plan for the school, the counselors have established an advisory period, Connections, for the purpose of connecting students with their future. Through this advisory time, counselors are able to work with students, teachers are able to mentor students and make them aware of options as well as remind them of transcript position and graduation requirements and students gain real-world skills and understanding in service of their life beyond high school through EverFi (provided through a partnership with a local bank).

Through the work this quarter, the counselors have identified areas of weakness in students transitioning from Middle school to high school and have also identified areas that a comprehensive district counseling plan would address. As part of the movement towards full implementation, the counselors have identified new tasks to move into next quarter as well as continued work on the current tasks.

Quarterly Objective: Evaluate current guidance plan, recent graduate tracking procedures and other guidance/counseling processes in order to identify gaps, needs and seek appropriate resources.

1. Evaluate current guidance plan and graduate tracking	10/15/15	10/15/15	Scottie Landess, Emily Crosskno, Susan Stonner	X		Counselors met with Teryn Spears and Bobby Ashley to work on Connections Advisory for students and to evaluate the current guidance plan and graduate tracking. The current guidance plan needs a clear articulation. The individualized guidance plans for students do not include as much college and career connectivity as academic planning and as such need to be connected both to the work of the career coach and in a resource where students have access. The graduate tracking process is informal and not sustainable. Therefore, a new process and resource needs to be gained.

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT 1st QUARTER

Has there been a meeting with the District Leadership Team to review the school's needs and progress? YES or NO (Please circle) If yes, what support have you received from the district?

The District Leadership Team has provided support around the team structure, vertical alignment, improving instructional practices, and teacher recruitment and retention. Through the principals' monthly Learning and Growth time (held for all building principals across the district), the district has provided specific learning and support in effective use of data, modeling observation/feedback cycle with teachers and the identification of action steps to grow teacher practice and thus student learning and the modeling of team leadership, structures culture. Through the principal meetings and Instructional Facilitator meetings, the district has facilitated a vertical alignment process that specifically addresses the needs not only of our own school, but of our feeder schools as well. As a component of vertical alignment, one of the two monthly meetings with the principals' Learning & Growth is a tour of another campus. In September, Mr. Ashley, along with the other principals across the district, toured and observed classrooms in the Primary School. Following the observation, the debrief conversation provides opportunity to examine practices and the alignment across the district in service of student learning. In October, the principals will experience the Elementary School.

The district, as it works to assure vertical alignment, has worked with Blytheville Middle School to implement a Strategic Reading class to address the reading deficit and worked with Blytheville Primary and Elementary Schools on specific interventions, dyslexia and strategic reading goals.

The District Leadership Team has quarterly meetings in which building core leadership teams meet to evaluate data to determine progress and engage in a cycle of inquiry, to align practices and gain support for to support.

Additionally, the district leadership team scheduled training for Instructional Facilitators to attend at the end of October that focuses on Student Centered Coaching.

The District Leadership team has created a plan for Recruitment of Teachers that includes attending the National Teacher Project, requesting teachers who resign to complete exit surveys, and providing ongoing, job-embedded professional development that address the needs of teachers.

Please describe the interventions your school is utilizing specific to closing the achievement gap (Focus) or for improving the outcomes for students basic and below basic (Priority). (Do not include general school wide efforts.)

BHS has implemented nine Critical Reading classes, which is designed for students who are reading on a 4th-6th grade level to help bring those students up to grade level. Our math interventionist works daily with ninth and tenth grade students who are performing below grade level. In addition, students receive specific scheduled intervention based upon Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) through both math and English classes at least once per week. The September STAR baseline report indicated a 6.7 Grade Equivalency (GE) as the new average for the high school. We are still in the testing window and are working on make-up assessments for the month of October; however, preliminary results indicate a 6.8 GE, which is a slight improvement over the baseline data. Students in Critical Reading classes have also shown an improvement in the average reading level for those classes, which was 5.8 in September, and is currently 5.9.

In math, September baseline data indicated a school-wide average of 7.3, and preliminary results from the current October assessment shows a school-wide average of 7.5. For math, our interventionist is concentrating on Algebra I as the focal point to address the skills gaps affecting our students in this foundational subject. The interventionist, a high school math certified teacher, identifies students that are struggling in Algebra I through collaboration with the Algebra I teachers as well as analyzing the data from various sources, such as STAR data, previous grade-level assessments, and work habits that need to be addressed, to determine student needs and develop strategies to pull students to grade level, push grade-level and beyond students to growth and assist students in being successful and able to move to the next math level with confidence. A firm grasp in Algebra I curriculum leads to success in future math courses and preparing our students to be college and career ready.

In addition, all student who scored basic or below basic have Academic Improvement Plans. Scheduled in-class or after school interventions are in place.

What support(s) have you or your team received from the external provider, internal SIS, and the ADE SIS Team?

Our external provider, Pamela Chipman, provides support for leadership and specifically Mr. Ashley. When on our campus, she visits classrooms with the principal, conducts observations, and offers immediate feedback to teachers. She offers the principal and instructional facilitator advice on providing support in classroom management and instruction.

An internal SIS, Teryn Spears, has recently been appointed to our school. Spears works closely with instructional leader Robin Sneed to provide leadership and support for teacher leaders. Additionally, she works with Mr. Ashley to support his work as instructional leader. In collaboration with New Tech Coach, Julia McBride, Spears and McBride have created a structure and plan for supporting the building core leadership team and teacher leaders throughout the course of this school year. The plan includes quarterly transformational leadership workshops purposed to ground school leadership team in shared learning, content, and frameworks that create common language around practice, leadership, and improvement, all in service of state-level and BHS teaching and learning goals. Additionally, through targeted learning and work time with teachers leaders, Spears has worked to assist teacher leaders in actively and openly sharing their work, progress and struggles with one another to get feedback and to accelerate learning across the system in service of BHS improvement goals. Spears also attended the New Tech Leadership Summit with Principal Ashley to provide support and assistance in planning adult learning in the building as well as developing and implementing a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts.

Our ADE SIS Team, Dr. Robert Toney and Ms. Jamie Holiman, has guided us in structuring the ADE Recommendations to align the recommendations with district needs, best practices and Priority Status requirements. The team has also provided us with an explanation of the requirements for the 45-Day plan. They have attended District and School Leadership meetings and provided feedback. Dr. Toney was very instrumental in the revitalization of the team structure.

What are the barriers, if any, in improving student outcomes?

- Poverty- 79.5 percent of the students in our school are classified as living in poverty, and 16.6 percent are classified as homeless.
- Teacher turnover - 18 teachers are newly hired this school year, of those 10 teachers are first year teachers.
- Students entering ninth grade below grade level in math and reading. Fifty-four percent of our incoming freshmen tested three or more years below grade level in math on their baseline STAR Math assessment in August. Seventy-two percent of our incoming freshmen tested three or more years below grade level on their baseline STAR Reading Assessment in August.

How is your leadership team monitoring student progress in the skill area of science?

Ms. Sneed, the instructional facilitator, attends science department collaborations and assists teachers in looking at student data and aligning curriculum. She reports progress back to the Leadership team. Data review includes scores from an ACT Diagnostic that was given at the beginning of the school year. Currently, the science team is working on aligning skills that are tested on the ACT Aspire, and determining at which grade level those skills should be taught. The team is also developing higher order questions, modeled after those found on the ACT Aspire. The leadership team reviews information from these meetings and offers feedback that Ms. Sneed takes back to the department.

How is your leadership team monitoring student progress in the skill areas of math, reading, writing? How are you responding to the results?

Ms. Sneed, the instructional facilitator, attends math and humanities department collaborations and assists teachers in looking at student data and aligning curriculum. She reports progress back to the Leadership team. Scheduled time has been set aside for each student to practice math skills through the Renaissance program, Math Facts in a Flash, and for reading practice through a Drop Everything and Read program that is monitored by progress on the the STAR Math and Reading assessments and the Renaissance Accelerated Reading program. Blytheville High School has adopted the following School Wide Learning Outcomes (SWLOs): Written Communication, Oral Communication, Thinking and Knowledge, Collaboration, and Agency. We can pull reports for progress for all SWLOs and across all content areas. The math and English Language Arts PLCs work collaboratively to design Common Assessments based on curriculum objectives. The Leadership team reviews the data from all of these data sources and provides feedback that Ms. Sneed takes back to the departments.

What have been the most meaningful decisions and actions made by the School Leadership Team this quarter as documented in the minutes?

We assigned our internal team structure and responsibilities for each individual in the leadership team:
Instructional Team is responsible for keeping the Leadership Team apprised of

- Data obtained from Common Assessments, STAR Math and Reading Assessments, and other forms of assessment
- Data obtained from classroom walkthroughs
- Number of students with disabilities (SWDs); types of support offered to SWDs.
- Number of ELL students
- Number of students below grade level in reading and math
- Number of students who failed math or English the previous quarter
- Number of students who make a D or F during each quarter of the current school year

Operational Team is responsible for keeping the Leadership Team apprised of

- Building maintenance concerns
- Total number of students enrolled
- Number of students in each TAGG group
- Teacher attendance
- Student attendance

· Bell Schedule Cultural Team is responsible for keeping the Leadership Team apprised of · Discipline data · Concerns from the Student Voice team · Cultural Survey data · Connections (advisory) program information · Scheduling Issues (student schedule; master schedule) Stakeholders Team is responsible for keeping the Leadership Team apprised of · Minutes from Parent Teacher Organization meetings · Positive Parent Contact per month information ● Community Events hosted by the school or district
If anything, what do you intend to change or modify for the next quarter? The leadership structure has been a positive adjustment and has freed our team to work more effectively. We are going to hone our focus next quarter and really dig into the multiple streams of data as a core team. As the data has come in towards the end of this quarter, we have had the opportunity to engage in a cycle of inquiry around that data. As a team, we are going to be strategic with our time and work with teachers around that data and our feedback.

Comments/ Clarifications:

The ninth grade appears to be overly represented in the number of students with 5 or more referrals as well as the number of students who have been absent 10 or more days; however, the ninth grade also includes those students who have been retained due to failing to earn enough credits to be promoted to the tenth grade. The data for referrals will continue to be analyzed by the PBIS & Cultural Team and that team will provide supports and interventions for students receiving five or more referrals. The data for student absentees will continue to inform the attendance team (on the operations sub-team), and those students will be provided support through both the school and the school attendance officer.

Comments/ Clarifications:

There are six (6) content area teachers who have missed five (5) or more days due to illness, personal business, school business or professional development. Of those six, four (4) are math teachers, and two (2) are literacy teachers. One of those literacy teachers, a reading interventionist, has since resigned due to illness. Included with the number of students reading below grade level is also the percentage of students, which was determined by dividing the number of students below grade level by the number of students tested. The first quarter data is from the baseline data in September. In addition, math students performing below grade level was calculated by the same method as reading.

BHS has implemented nine Critical Reading classes, which is designed for students who are reading on a 4th-6th grade level to help bring those students up to grade level. Our math interventionist works daily with ninth and tenth grade students who are performing below grade level. In addition, students receive specific scheduled intervention based upon Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) through both math and English classes at least once per week. At the end of the 2014-2015 school year, the average reading level for BHS was 7.0. However, due to the “summer slump” as well as the loss of last year’s graduating seniors and the gain of a new ninth grade cohort, the September STAR baseline report indicated a 6.7 Grade Equivalency (GE) as the new average for the high school. WE are still in the testing window and are working on make-up assessments for the month of October; however, preliminary results indicate a 6.8 GE, which is a slight improvement over the baseline data. Students in Critical Reading classes have also shown an improvement in the average reading level for those classes, which was 5.8 in September, and is currently 5.9.

Comments/ Clarifications: Overall, the number of students who scored Ds and Fs on the Unit 1 and Unit 2 exams were fairly consistent and produced somewhat of a bell curve. Many teachers report that students' scores improved drastically over the pre-assessment. One teacher expressed dismay that students who scored low on the first Unit assessment did so because they simply refused to work some of the word problems, which she knew they understood the formula for based upon the Multiple Choice items over the same concept (distance). Support for those students receiving D's and F's comes directed through teacher/parent-created Action Plans that address specific skills and needs on which the student needs to work. Those Action Plans are worked on with parents at Parent-Teacher Conferences and then shared with the students in class (for those students who do not attend with their parents). The plan serves as a living actionable guide for the teacher, parent and student to guide the student to improving skills necessary to reach the learning goals.

The instructional teams will analyze data, not only instructional but also anecdotal, to determine the root cause of the above situation and other similar situations that are occurring. One early possible conclusion is related to the students' ability to read and comprehend the information given in word problems, which would include mentally holding multiple pieces of data while avoiding distractions within each problem. Recent analysis of student performance on a common assessment in Geometry revealed the assessment was written far above average student lexile range. Through the use of a Looking at Student Work protocol for data analysis, it became evident that the students struggled more with reading the content of the assessment than they did with actual Geometry skills. In response to that data, the teachers are implementing reading strategies to support student decoding and comprehension as well as specific strategies for noted Geometry gaps. This cycle of inquiry will be continued in each content area: data brought to the table around the D's and F's, Analysis of the data and then strategies put in place to address what the data reveals. The strategies are then implemented and the results (data) will be reported back to the team, and the cycle will continue.

After we finish our parent teacher conferences on October 23rd, the instructional teams will also include information gleaned from the parents on issues they feel are exacerbating the situation, especially for those students with D's and F's.

The instructional teams will submit their data, findings and practices to the building core leadership team for additional support and learning.

On the first 10th grade unit test, 70% of students made Ds or Fs, of which 57% were Fs. On the second tenth grade unit test, 37% of students made Ds or Fs, of which 33% were Fs. The ELA PLC plans to focus on differentiated instruction and intervention strategies. The instructional facilitator will hold post-quarter data conferences with all ELA teachers and their team teachers and co-teachers over the next three weeks.

Do you have other data sources that support and/or identify that you are making gains in student outcomes (For example: Interim assessments such as ACT Aspire, TLI, etc.)? You may include a chart to describe your data.

The 2015 PARCC assessment data will be available on November 16, 2015.

To encourage independent reading and help improve reading scores, BHS implemented a Drop Everything and Read (DEAR) program last year. It was successful, and so we are continuing with the program this year. The chart below shows the growth in reading during the first quarter, according to Accelerated Reader.

1st Quarter 2013-2014 (before DEAR)	1,756.2 AR points	60.4% comprehension
1st Quarter 2014-2015 (first year of DEAR)	4,269.0 AR points	71.7% comprehension
1st Quarter 2015-2016 (second year of DEAR)	6,595.2 AR points	71.6% comprehension

As the chart above indicates, students are not only reading more books (which is how they get their AR points), comprehension on independent reading quizzes has improved since prior to implementation of the DEAR program. This also translates to a higher school-wide average reading level. At the end of May 2014, the average reading level for the high school was 5.8. At the end of May 2015, the average reading level was 7.0.

IMO AREA 1-CHANGE IN TEACHER AND LEADER PRACTICE

ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will implement a team structure that supports student learning and achievement as its primary purpose. (3)

Effective Practice within Category:

The Leadership Team serves as a conduit of communication to enable input from faculty and staff and to make decisions for professional development based on data presented (ID08, ID10)

Establishing a team structure with specific duties and time for instructional planning (ID01, ID04, ID07)

Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation:
The Leadership Team serves as a conduit of communication to the faculty and staff in a way that enables the Leadership Team to receive input from the faculty and staff (ID08). The Leadership Team regularly looks at school performance data and aggregated classroom observation data and uses that data to make decisions about school improvement and professional development (ID10).

The LEA/School provides all staff high quality, ongoing, job-embedded, and differentiated professional development (IF11). Professional Development (PD) activities include whole faculty, small group and individual PD based on identified needs from observations (IF08). Teachers develop individual professional development plans based on classroom observations which inform the teachers' plans (IF06).

The Leadership Team reviews the principal's summary reports of classroom observations and takes them into account in planning professional development (IF02).

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

The Leadership Team is set up in a way that enables it to receive input from the faculty and staff through their responses and participation with their cultural and instructional team meetings, as well as through direct conversation with any member of the Leadership Team and input received during faculty meetings. Pertinent communication from the Leadership Team is shared with faculty and staff through announcements made during collaboration meetings or during monthly faculty meetings. Currently, we do not make agendas and minutes available to faculty and staff.

Professional Development is planned according to classroom observation data and teachers' responses to professional development needs surveys. BHS offers a variety of breakout sessions as a part of its annual August PD sessions so that teachers can choose the sessions that fit their individual needs. In addition, each content teacher attends PLC collaboration meetings in which they receive feedback from their peers about lessons, plan common assessments, review student work, and align curriculum. The principal, Instructional Facilitator, and outside consultant offers feedback and suggests resources following classroom observations. Currently, the principal's and IF's observations, as well as Needs Assessment Surveys completed by the teachers, inform professional development; however, the leadership team does not currently review or plan PD.

Through our TESS Evaluation system, teachers create individual Professional Growth Plans based upon classroom observation data and teacher self assessment. Each teacher then plans to attend professional development based upon his/her PGP and must address that plan to earn credit for their 18 Flex PD hours. The PGP and the Flex plan are reviewed by the principal and each teacher is responsible for bringing in documentation.

Quarterly Objective:
The leadership team will work to fluidly receive input from the faculty and staff through instructional and cultural professional learning communities and will regularly engage in a cycle of inquiry around improving student learning outcomes based on analysis of data from classroom observations, teacher data meetings and common assessments. That analysis will lead to specific strategies teachers will implement in their classrooms and administrators and instructional leaders will look for and specifically scaffold in classroom observations and will provide feedback on in subsequent data meetings.

IMO AREA 1-CHANGE IN TEACHER AND LEADER PRACTICE
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will develop and implement a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts. (#1) School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will facilitate an analysis of current English / language arts and math curricula across all grade levels and articulate in writing the process for deep curriculum alignment. (#3)
Effective Practice within Category: Engaging teachers in assessing and monitoring student mastery (IIB02, IIB04) Assessing student learning frequently with standards-based assessments (IID02, IID06)
Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation: The Instructional Teams develop instructional units based on the curriculum standards and the local curriculum document. This unit typically encompasses three to six weeks of work and includes pre-/post tests administered at two to three week intervals (IIB01). The pre-test and post-test assess the same learning objectives and inform the Instructional Team members' (teachers) plans for differentiated instruction within the unit and/or re-teaching as necessary following the unit (IIB04). The Instructional Team reviews the results of the pre- and post-tests and uses the information to guide efforts to assure that every student masters the instructional standards taught in the instructional unit (IIB03). The Instructional Team also uses the results from the pre-/post-test analysis to plan for professional development, inform subsequent instructional unit plans and/or make adjustments to the curriculum (IIB02, IIB05). Assessing student learning frequently with standards-based assessments (IID02, IID06).IID02 The school tests each student at least 3 times each year to determine progress toward standards-based objectives. (100) IID06 Yearly learning goals are set for the school by the Leadership Team, utilizing student learning data.

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

Currently, the Blytheville High School Math and Humanities (literacy and history integrated) teams are administering pre- and post-assessments at approximately every three to four week intervals. Teachers are using pre-assessment data to inform instruction at the classroom level, and to some degree, the teams are analyzing post-assessment data to align curriculum and inform departmental decisions. However, we are not quite where we would like to be on these. The instructional teams have determined that one area that we need to focus on is scaffolding. Because we have still these goals, the Blytheville High School Leadership Team has determined that IIB02 and IIB04 are both in Limited Implementation. The Blytheville High School Leadership Team tabled discussion on IID02 until third quarter because we need to research whether the STAR assessments that we are based on standards. IID06, the establishment of annual learning goals utilizing student data, is fully implemented as of January 4, 2016.

On January 4, 2016, the BHS Leadership committee announced "To improve writing across disciplines" as its annual learning goal for this year. Using the Data Driven Dialogue Protocol, teachers made inferences about the current reality of our students' writing abilities based on recent writing data. Following this school-wide discussion, instructional teams developed a Round 1 plan of a Cycle of Inquiry and developed Theories of Action. Some examples of Theories of Action include: "If we as a humanities department collaborate on grading, then we will be more aligned" and "If we as a Math department collect common, foundational constructive response data (what data will you gather?), then we can gauge where students are in math writing."

Quarterly Objective:
The humanities and math instructional teams will engage in a Cycle of Inquiry concerning data collection, analysis, and strategy development regarding various forms of data, especially from common pre- and post- assessments.

1. They were able to network with other humanities teachers from NTN schools in the state around the purpose of defining literacy, exploring the topic of disciplinary literacy, and creating literacy tasks (IAKTs, which are Question: “How can we use literacy as a driver of deeper learning?”						writing prompts that students complete individually during a project in order to demonstrate their proficiency towards that project’s focus standards). They used NTN IAKT templates, which were designed by the Literacy Designed Collaborative to draft their IAKTs. Then, each teacher worked with a team of teachers from other schools in order to evaluate IAKTs based on the NTN IAKT Creation Checklist/Rubric, using the Critical Friends process. Teachers expressed that they came away from the conference with a deeper understanding of a quality IAKT, as well as an understanding of the difference between the two forms of IAKTs: literacy tasks (which take 1-3 days) and College Readiness Assessments (CRAs, which take 5-8 days).

3. Data conferences will be held with all content area teachers in order to analyze student data for growth and needs, brainstorm strategies, and determine next steps and an area of focus. Teachers will then draft a Theory of Action: If I _____, then my students will _____. This ToA will be used by principals and the Instructional Facilitator as they observe classroom instruction as an area of teacher support.	11-13-15 11-17-15 11-19-15	11-13-15 11-17-15 11-19-15	Robin Sneed Bobby Ashley Teryn Spears			Instructional leaders met with all content area teachers individually, or in teams with their team-teachers (teacher pairings for integrated courses) or with co-teachers (for special education co-taught classes). Data conferences were approached as a formal way of reflecting on teaching and learning. Teachers referenced data from STAR Reading and/or STAR Math assessments, as well as Common Assessments and ACT Diagnostic assessments in order to answer the following questions: 1. What growth have you noticed as a result of instruction so far this year? 2. What do you notice as overall student need? 3. What are some strategies that you have or plan to employ in order to meet that need? 4. What are some next steps for you? Teachers then completed their individual Theories of Action based upon the results of their answers to the above questions.

						Written communication, reading, and math skills were needs that were mentioned repeatedly in the conferences. One teacher's ToA statement appears as follows: "If I use more instances of written 'justify, argue, explain' questions, then my students will understand what skill a question is requiring them to perform." Another teacher wrote, "If I model the use of context clues and other related vocabulary skills, then my students' reading comprehension scores will improve on the next STAR assessment."

Teachers then brainstormed strategies to help those students who were struggling to learn content or struggling with the agency/responsibility that it takes to take ownership of one's own learning. There were fewer students with Ds/Fs in second quarter as compared to the first quarter in the

12. Review lesson plans within ECHO, our online learning management system, to determine the level of consistent implementation of IIB04.	12-18-15	12-18-15	Robin Sneed			A review of lesson plans and data from common assessments indicates that pre- and post- assessments are given regularly in English and humanities courses. In science courses and in elective courses, formative assessments are used, but less consistently. All core teachers do bring data from their assessments and bring student work to collaboration and to data conferences and evaluate that data to determine student growth, students need, brainstorm instructional strategies, and determine next steps.

13. The Science department will evaluate data from ACT aligned common assessments twice during this quarter.	11-12-15	11-12-15	Robin Sneed Virginia Andrews			On November 12, 2015, the Science department brought data and discussed around the following questions: 1- What trends did you notice from your assessment? 2- How do these trends relate to data from you diagnostic assessment in August? 3- How will modify your day to day teaching based on the results of this formative assessment? 4- How will you modify your long term implementation of teaching ACT skills based on the results of this formative assessment? 5- What assistance do you need from others in the group in order to make these modifications? Some of the Next Steps shared by the group are: They will use lab reports to create questions, start low/work up with same set of data (scaffolding); they will implement ACT style questions into lab report (authentic learning); they need more ACT / ACT Aspire PD.

She is a New Tech Certified Teacher and Certified Trainer.						department met (12-10-15) to discuss their visit using the following protocol: (What did we SEE? - concrete, objective, visual, or auditory observations and conversations; What did this make us THINK? - subjective opinions, ideas, feelings, goals; How should we ACT - next steps, people to contact, conversations to have, strategies to implement) Overall, the department saw students gathering materials without being prompted, getting to work on Echo immediately, students using rubrics on their own, students using technology wisely, etc. They think that the level of agency demonstrated by the students was a result of a school wide consistency in rewards/discipline, which Cross County facilitates through their Trust Card Initiative. They agreed that some actions our science department needs to take include scaffolding project work time; including “mini-projects” as benchmarks instead of a whole overarching entity, keeping college mindset, talking to guidance about a college tracking system, ensuring that all projects are aligned to standards. As a result of the Cross County visit, the science department began conversations around and brought to the leadership team the recommendation to realign the science curriculum; one suggestion being to integrate Pre-AP Biology and Environmental Science, but not to integrate regular Biology/ Environmental because the integration has enabled some students not to take a science in their junior year and caused some students to struggle with the science section of the ACT.

IMO AREA 3-STUDENT SAFETY AND DISCIPLINE
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will develop and implement a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts. (#1) School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the district. (#2)
Effective Practice within Category: Expecting and monitoring sound classroom management (IIIC10)
Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation: The faculty and staff develop a discipline management plan that guides student behavior throughout the school. Each teacher establishes rituals and routines within the classroom that produces an atmosphere conducive to learning. Each teacher consistently teaches the campus and classroom plans to all students. Each teacher consistently teaches the rules and procedures in their classroom. Each teacher consistently enforces the agreed upon rules and regulations (IIIC10).
Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are): The Blytheville High School Leadership team assessed indicator IIIC10 and determined that our current level of implementation is "Limited Development." While being reinforced in some classes, the expected behavior is not implemented in all classes consistently. The BHS faculty and staff has developed a discipline T-Chart that determines classroom managed behavior versus office managed behavior, and we have a PBIS team that periodically provides Professional Development support for positive behavioral intervention. The PBIS team has identified Level II students to whom the faculty provides additional behavioral support. Students who need a more structured learning environment are evaluated for possible placement in our Alternative Learning Environment (ALE) program. In order to accurately determine the necessary supports, surveys have been given to teachers, students and parents and the data will be analyzed and used to inform ongoing behavioral supports and interventions as well as other cultural processes.

Quarterly Objective:
The PBIS team will provide positive behavioral intervention and support to targeted students who have been identified as Level II students and will analyze discipline data and classroom observation data, specifically addressing classroom management, and will use the data to brainstorm strategies to strengthen support for students and teachers. In addition, key stakeholder groups (teachers, students and parents) will be surveyed to gain insight into satisfaction and needed supports.

Ms. Miner meets with the students twice a week after the data is received and goes over behavior, objective and goals. October "No Tardy Party" (11/5/15) students were allowed to watch a movie at the beginning of November if they did not receive any tardies for the month of October. November - "PBIS Giving Thanks" PBIS purchased inspiration rubber bracelets (distributed 11/20/15), and the students were encouraged to send one person a "I'm thankful for you" to demonstrate that PBIS is thankful for students' respectful behavior and for the students demonstrating respectful behavior to other individuals. It was set up in a Google Doc (11/16/15-11/18/15) and the thankful slips were attached to the bracelets. The bracelets were distributed to students' English teachers.

						December - No Referral Celebration (12/11/15) Students with no referrals for the first semester were invited to a celebration that included drawings for prizes. The celebration was took place by two grade divisions: 9-10 and 11-12.

IMO AREA 4-FAMILY AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the district. (#2)
Effective Practice within Category: Defining the purpose, policies, and practices of a school community (IVA01)
Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation: No Child Left Behind stipulates that each school in the Title I program develop an agreement, or "compact," that outlines how parents, school staff, and students will share responsibility for improving academic achievement. Compacts describe how the school and parents can work together to help students achieve the state's standards.
Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are): The Blytheville Leadership Team assessed IVA01, "The school's Title I Compact will include responsibilities (expectations) that will communicate what parents (families) can do to support their students' learning at home (curriculum of the home, with learning opportunities for families to develop their curriculum of the home)" and determined that our level of development is "Limited Development." A new compact has been developed and was signed during parent teacher conferences during the week of October 19th – 23rd. In April, parents and community stakeholders will take part in the annual evaluation and revision of the Compact as well as the parental involvement plan.
Quarterly Objective: The Leadership Team will review and approve a parent-school Compact and make plans to have them signed during Parent Teacher Conferences.

IMO AREA 4-FAMILY AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will plan and implement a program designed to recruit, induct, and retain high-quality employees for all employment categories within the district. (#2)

Effective Practice within Category:
Post-Secondary School Options (VA01)

The school has a guidance plan that includes options for students as they plan their college and career opportunities. The school routinely tracks their recent graduates' success at the next level as they pursue their college and career goals.

ADE will monitor the following:

- The guidance plan
- The process of tracking recent graduates

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

Blytheville High School New Tech has limited implementation of VA01 - The school provides all students with guidance and supports (academic, financial, etc.) to prepare them for college and career. The guidance and counseling office is staffed with three counselors, one of whom is a specialist with college and career advisement and most recently worked as a career coach. The counseling department is in the process of creating a comprehensive guidance plan that includes services offered through the counseling office as well as through local partnerships such as with Arkansas Northeastern College. BHS New Tech has an effective working relationship with Arkansas Northeastern College and provides office space and time with students for career coach Jeff Echols. The career coach provides assistance with ACT registration, college applications and career pathway advisement.

The counselors are working to identify the best process by which to provide individualized plans for each student and have taken on, as tasks this quarter, investigating various resources by which students help create and manage those plans. No final decisions have been made as there is one more resource to test. BHS New Tech does not have a sustainable process by which recent graduates are tracked. Recent graduates have been tracked through connections with local colleges and through connections with students. Identifying a tracking process is a task the guidance teams has also taken on this quarter.

As a component of the overall guidance plan for the school, the counselors have established an advisory period, Connections, for the purpose of connecting students with their future. Through this advisory time, counselors are able to work with students, teachers are able to mentor students and make them aware of options as well as remind them of transcript position and graduation requirements and students gain real-world skills and understanding in service of their life beyond high school through EverFi (provided through a partnership with a local bank).

Through the work this quarter, the counselors have identified areas of weakness in students transitioning from Middle school to high school and have also identified areas that a comprehensive district counseling plan would address. As part of the movement towards full implementation, the counselors have identified new tasks to move into next quarter as well as continued work on the current tasks.

Quarterly Objective: Evaluate current guidance plan, recent graduate tracking procedures and other guidance/counseling processes in order to identify gaps, needs and seek appropriate resources.

Has there been a meeting with the District Leadership Team to review the school's needs and progress? YES or NO (Please circle) If yes, what support have you received from the district?

The District Leadership Team has provided support around the team structure, vertical alignment, improving instructional practices, and teacher recruitment and retention. Through the principals' monthly Learning and Growth time (held for all building principals across the district on October 26, November 10, December 4 and December 8), a learning and growth time specifically for assistant principals and work with instructional facilitators the district has provided specific learning and support in effective use of data, modeling observation/feedback cycle with teachers and the identification of action steps to grow teacher practice and thus student learning and the modeling of team leadership, structures culture. Through the principal meetings and Instructional Facilitator meetings, the district has facilitated a vertical alignment process that specifically addresses the needs not only of our own school, but of our feeder schools as well. As a component of vertical alignment, one of the two monthly meetings with the principals' Learning & Growth is a tour of another campus.

The District Leadership Team and school improvement specialists (Teryn Spears and Sally Cooke) began a study during the second quarter to determine the level to which each building in the district demonstrated internal coherence. The results of that study revealed a need for coherence between classrooms in buildings and buildings within the district. In order to accomplish this, the leadership team will work in the third quarter to analyze data and develop strategies to use and train building leadership teams. The goal is to increase each school's capacity to engage in deliberate improvements in instructional practice and student learning across classrooms, over time. The work will focus on three common patterns of organizational features the school improvement literature associates with schools' capacity to improve: leadership focused on the support for instructional improvement, individual and collective efficacy beliefs of faculty related to instructional practice and student learning, and the whole school and team-level organizational structures and processes that support improved instruction and student achievement over time.

The District Leadership Team also provided building administrators with the opportunity to take part in the National Teacher Project Training in Little Rock on November 12, 2015. As a result of the first portion of the training, the administrators have focused clearly on staff members with whom they should have 'stay conversations' and have carried out those conversations. The training will continue with a webinar on January 19, 2016. The end goal of this training is to retain solid, highly-qualified teachers through intentional conversations and support.

The District Leadership Team has quarterly meetings in which building core leadership teams meet to evaluate data to determine progress and engage in a cycle of inquiry, to align practices and gain support for to support.

Additionally, the district leadership team facilitated training for Instructional Facilitators at the end of October that focused on Student Centered Coaching, the effective use of data, the importance and types of formative assessment, and modeling observation/feedback cycle with teachers. This work was continued through the monthly IF meetings in November and December.

The district leadership team's weekly meetings also provide support and provide clarity in communication around indicators and support the school needs to move forward.

Please describe the interventions your school is utilizing specific to closing the achievement gap (Focus) or for improving the outcomes for students basic and below basic (Priority). (Do not include general school wide efforts.)

The Leadership Team continues to monitor the progress of students who were placed in our Critical Reading classes, which was designed for students who are reading on a 4th-6th grade level to help bring those students up to grade level. Within the Critical Reading classes, students are grouped based upon the list of recommended skills for small group instruction that the Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) generate based upon the most recent STAR Reading assessment. Skill recommendations are based on the median score for each Instructional Group. Specifics skill are taught around engaging readers, comprehension strategies, how to respond to text, and vocabulary development.

ELA teachers have set aside specific class time to devote to intervention and remediation. They, too, use STAR Reading IPRs to develop intervention for individual and small groups of students who have the same skill recommendations. In addition, teacher hold conferences with students following each STAR Reading assessment in order to discuss progress toward their Projected Scaled Score (SS). The Renaissance STAR Reading program determines the Projected SS using data they have collected from millions of student users for which they have found that 50% of students in the same grade whose baseline assessment are the same will achieve the Projected scale score within one school year. During these conferences, teachers also set each student's new Accelerated Reader point goal based upon their most recent STAR Reading assessment. Accelerated Reader point goals are individualized for each student. The program determines how much a student who reads within a specific Zone of Proximal Development (ZPD) range should be able to achieve over the course of a semester at 85% comprehension and at a minimum set daily reading time. ELA teachers and the school librarian then assist students with finding books in their ZPD based upon their reading interests.

Our math interventionist works daily with ninth and tenth grade students who are performing below grade level. The math interventionist uses the STAR Math Instructional Planning Reports (IRPs) to develop intervention for individual and small groups of students who have the same skill recommendations. In addition to this data, the math interventionist works closely with the Algebra I teachers to support classroom instruction, particularly around foundational skills which common pre-assessments indicate students are lacking, such as numbers and operations in base ten, numbers and operations in fractions, and pre-algebra and pre-geometry skills.

For math, our interventionist is concentrating on Algebra I as the focal point to address the skills gaps affecting our students in this foundational subject. The interventionist, a high school math certified teacher, identifies students that are struggling in Algebra I through collaboration with the Algebra I teachers as well as analyzing the data from various sources, such as STAR data, previous grade-level assessments, and work habits that need to be addressed, to determine student needs and develop strategies to pull students to grade level, push grade-level and beyond students to growth and assist students in being successful and able to move to the next math level with confidence. A firm grasp in Algebra I curriculum leads to success in future math courses and preparing our students to be college and career ready.

In addition, students receive specific scheduled intervention based upon Instructional Planning Reports (IPRs) through both math and English classes at least once per week. All students who scored basic or below basic have Academic Improvement Plans. Scheduled in-class or after school interventions are in place.

What support(s) have you or your team received from the external provider, internal SIS, and the ADE SIS Team?
Our external provider, Pamela Chipman, provides support for leadership and specifically Mr. Ashley. When on our campus, she visits classrooms with the principal, conducts observations, and offers immediate feedback to teachers. She offers the principal and instructional facilitator advice on providing support in classroom management and instruction.

Our internal SIS, Teryn Spears, works closely with instructional facilitator, Robin Sneed, to provide leadership and support for teachers. She attended and helped analyze data from Data Conferences in order to provide insight on Professional Development need and strategies to implement to target student need for the third quarter. Additionally, she works with Mr. Ashley to support his work as instructional leader. In collaboration with New Tech Coach, Julia McBride, Spears and McBride have created a structure and plan for supporting the building core leadership team and teacher leaders throughout the course of this school year. The plan includes quarterly transformational leadership workshops purposed to ground school leadership team in shared learning, content, and frameworks that create common language around practice, leadership, and improvement, all in service of state-level and BHS teaching and learning goals. Additionally, through targeted learning and work time with teachers leaders, Spears has worked to assist teacher leaders in actively and openly sharing their work, progress and struggles with one another to get feedback and to accelerate learning across the system in service of BHS improvement goals. Spears has also worked with New Tech Network to facilitate the administration of a teacher culture survey and the student culture survey. The data from these surveys will be given back to the school in January and will be part of the third quarter analysis/ inquiry in order to identify areas for growth and need for support.

Our ADE SIS Team, Dr. Robert Toney, Ms. Jamie Holiman, John Calaway, and Judy Foote, has guided us in structuring the ADE Recommendations to align the recommendations with district needs, best practices and Priority Status requirements. The team has also provided us with clarity and led insightful discussion around indicators and best practices that satisfy indicators. In addition, the team has provided direction on how to share meaningful data and points to consider as we monitor student growth. They have attended District and School Leadership meetings and provided feedback.

What are the barriers, if any, in improving student outcomes?

- Poverty & Community Culture- 79.5 percent of the students in our school are classified as living in poverty, and 16.6 percent are classified as homeless. In many cases, the family unit of our students do not see education or school attendance as a priority.

- Teacher turnover - 18 teachers are newly hired at the beginning of this school year, of those 10 teachers are first year teachers. We have also had teachers to resign during this school year. Coach James took a position as a head football coach in another district, and his wife, Christina James, resigned simultaneously. She was our ALE Science teacher. Mindy Middleton, one of our reading interventionists, resigned due to illness. At the end of second quarter, since we were unable to replace her, we reworked the schedule so that her students' needs are being met in one of our other Critical Reading classes.
- Students entering ninth grade below grade level in math and reading. Fifty-four percent of our incoming freshmen tested three or more years below grade level in math on their baseline STAR Math assessment in August. Seventy-two percent of our incoming freshmen tested three or more years below grade level on their baseline STAR Reading Assessment in August.
- Teacher attendance - Particularly in our ALE building, but with some pockets of attendance issues with our regular core teachers as well. Ms. Walling, our ALE Director, brought this barrier forward in our January 13th leadership meeting. Since she has fewer teachers, when one is out, it really affects her students, particularly since Ms. James resigned and there has been a long-term sub in the science classroom.

How is your leadership team monitoring student progress in the skill area of science?

Ms. Sneed, the instructional facilitator, attends science department collaborations and assists teachers in looking at student data and aligning curriculum. She reports progress back to the Leadership team. Data review includes scores from an ACT Diagnostic that was given at the beginning of the school year.

The science team gave ACT-style common assessments and analyzed the results during collaboration. All students had a written assessment, and they analyzed their lab reports against a common rubrics. The science instructional team discovered a huge gap in their data. We had two sets of 40 questions, but did not know why students were missing the multiple choice questions. Therefore, the science instructional team has designed and will implement scaffolded Constructed Response questions so that they can pinpoint why students are missing the questions they are missing on the ACT-style common assessments.

In addition, the science instructional team has completed curriculum maps for the first semester so that the department was more aligned for the next year, and began connecting the maps to the Next Generation Science standards. They also began creating their curriculum maps for the second semester. The science instructional team has planned to use their collaboration time during the entire month of May to revise their maps in preparation for next school year, so that if someone leaves, the new teacher will have a revised, fully-aligned curriculum to begin their planning for the 2016-2017 school year.

Mr. Ashley, Ms. Spears, and Ms. Sneed conducted Data Conferences with each science teacher in which teachers reflected on data to determine student need, student growth, scaffolding strategies, and next steps. Teachers also created a Theory of Action (ToA) that illustrated the next steps in an if - then statement. Based on the data, the ToA are a hypothesis in which teachers create a hypothesis that anticipates change in student behavior and/or learning as a result of the change in teacher action.

How is your leadership team monitoring student progress in the skill areas of math, reading, writing? How are you responding to the results?

Ms. Sneed, the instructional facilitator, attends math and humanities department collaborations and assists teachers in looking at student data and aligning curriculum. She reports progress back to the Leadership team. Scheduled time has been set aside for each student to practice math skills through the Renaissance program, Math Facts in a Flash, and for reading practice through a Drop Everything and Read program that is monitored by progress on the the STAR Math and Reading assessments and the Renaissance Accelerated Reading program. Blytheville High School has adopted the following School Wide Learning Outcomes (SWLOs): Written Communication, Oral Communication, Thinking and Knowledge, Collaboration, and Agency. Reports for progress across all SWLOs and across all content areas are pulled. The math and English Language Arts PLCs work collaboratively to design Common Assessments based on curriculum objectives, to analyze the data from the Common Assessments, and to develop strategies for meeting student need based upon that analysis. Teachers are responding and adjusting lessons based upon student need. The Leadership Team is monitoring through observation and feedback.

The leadership team monitored student growth through results of Common Assessment Pre- and Post- assessment data reports generated by teachers, as well as from STAR Math and STAR Reading reports as generated by Renaissance Learning, Inc. In addition, the leadership team analyzed the results of student writing based upon a writing diagnostic that all students, grades 9-12, completed at the beginning of the school year, and compared these results to recent data from a writing summative assessment that students completed at the end of December, which was graded based upon the same Written Communication Rubric that was used to assess the writing diagnostic students took in August. The Leadership team reviews the data from all of these data sources and provides feedback that Ms. Sneed takes back to the departments. The data indicated that in August, none of our ninth grade students, only 13% of our 10th grade students, only 17% or our 11th grade students, and 23% of our 12th grade students were able to score proficient or advanced on the Written Communication rubric. In December, only 15% of our ninth grade students, 25% of our 10th grade students, 33% of our 11th grade students and 37% of our 12th grade students were able to score proficient or above on the Written Communication rubric. In response to this data, the leadership team developed the following schoolwide learning focus: “To improve written communication across disciplines.”

Mr. Ashley, Ms. Spears (our internal SIS), and Ms. Sneed conducted Data Conferences with each math, history, and English teacher or teacher team in which teachers reflected on data, particularly the data from the common pre- and post- assessments and STAR Growth reports, to determine student need, student growth, scaffolding strategies, and next steps. Teachers also created a Theory of Action (ToA) that illustrated the next steps in an if - then statement that articulated a particular area of growth needed for students and a clear action plan that if they as teachers take a particular action, the anticipate students will grow in this area.

What have been the most meaningful decisions and actions made by the School Leadership Team this quarter as documented in the minutes?

The leadership team agreed that the most meaningful decisions made by the team include

- establishing a School Wide Learning Focus: Improve Writing Across Disciplines
- identification of key areas of growth within the indicators for the quarter, particularly those around the organization of team structures and around the use of data from frequent formative assessment to determine areas of support for staff and student
- readjustment of staff placement for ALE scheduling to better meet the needs of students in the ALE program, particularly in regards to electives.
- Readjustment of scheduling to accommodate the resignation of Mindy Middleton, reading interventionist.

If anything, what do you intend to change or modify for the next quarter?

One of our major goals for the third quarter is to implement and monitor a “Write-on” program, to facilitate our School Wide Learning Focus of Improving Written Communication Across Disciplines. Our data indicated that written communication is seen somewhat negatively by much of our student population. The leadership team brainstormed ways in which we could improve the culture and shift the mindset around written communication. Many students feel that they don’t write well or that it is something they do not use in their Write-on will give students 4 to 5 minutes per week in some elective courses, such as Foreign Language, Critical Reading, Dramatic Literature, and some CTE classes, to type a journal style free response in order to practice typing skills and to help shift the culture around writing to one in which students begin to see writing as a form of self-expression and a pleasurable experience. The Leadership team decided that this program should be done through electives rather than English courses to facilitate this shift.

In addition, the administrators and instructional facilitator will be looking for evidence of the schoolwide focus during classroom observations, and offering support through the Observation-Feedback loop. The principal will be reporting this data in his Principal’s Report to the leadership meeting monthly so that we can monitor progress and plan targeted professional development to support teacher and student growth in the area of written communication.

Comments/ Clarifications:

BHS has adopted a policy in which students who have more than 6 unexcused absences in a semester in any course do not receive credit for that course. The chart below shows that the number of students who lose credit in their courses has decreased this year as compared to last year. The total number of absences per quarter has also decreased since last year.

School Year	NC List	1st Quarter Absences	2nd Quarter Absences
2014-2015	72 students on the list, 18 lost credit in all classes	7,488	3,732
2015-2016	34 students on the list, 4 lost credits in all classes	6,968	3,690

The number of students with 5 or more referrals has increased 4% in the first quarter to 6% in the second quarter. The largest jump has been in the ninth grade group, with an increase from 8% for the first quarter to 12% second quarter. One of our target areas when observing classrooms during the first semester was student engagement. In the Instructional Reports to the leadership team, the administrators and the instructional facilitator reported improving percentages of engagement during the second quarter as compared with the first quarter, and an overall improvement in engagement this year as compared to last year. As administrators are being more consistent with the policy and as teachers are working in collaboration to make projects more authentic, rigorous, and engaging, student attendance is improving.

The number of total discipline incidences increased by 20 infractions during second quarter this year as compared to first quarter. During the second quarter of last year, there were 710 referrals written. In comparing the first semester this year to the first semester of last year, there has been a significant decrease in referrals overall.

The increase in referrals from the first quarter to the second quarter is unsurprising, as it is a yearly trend that we have noticed, particularly as the holiday begin to approach. The PBIS team will further analyze trends in data to discover the reasons behind the increase in referrals from one quarter to the next. The data indicates an overall positive trend in behavior improving, which directly impacts ability for instruction to continue to improve.

Comments/ Clarifications:

In September, 129 of our ninth grade students (or 72%) were reading three or more grades below grade level. Currently, that number is 118 (or 64%) are reading three or more grades below grade level, according to the December STAR Assessment data. The table below indicates further this information of this kind for grades 9-12 in both reading and math as determined by the STAR Assessment from the month indicated.

*Percent of students is based on the number of students who tested during the testing window.

The table above indicates that, with the exception of junior and senior reading scores, the percentage of students performing 3 or more years below grade level has decreased by at least four percentage points across the board.

Renaissance Learning allows us to pull a Growth Report for Reading and Math STAR assessments following the December assessment cycle. The report allows to not only the change in Scale Score (SS) from the pretest and the posttest, but also the change in grade equivalency from the pretest to the posttest. In addition to this data, we get a Student Growth Percentile (SGP) report for each student, and a Median SGP for each class, grade, and for the entire student body. According to Renaissance Learning:

> A Student Growth Percentile, or SGP, compares a student's growth to that of his or her academic peers nationwide. Academic peers are students in the same grade with a similar scaled score on a STAR assessment at the beginning of the time period being examined. SGP is reported on a 1–99 scale, with lower numbers indicating lower relative growth and higher numbers indicating higher relative growth. For example, if a student has an SGP of 90, it means the student has shown more growth than 90 percent of academic peers.
> SGPs adds significantly to the understanding of how well a student is doing in school. While knowing a student's level of achievement tells you whether the student is performing below, above, or on grade level, an SGP indicates what kind of progress the student is making. For example, a student may be performing at a low level, yet experiencing high rates of growth. Conversely, a high-performing student could be stagnating.
> Specifically, SGPs shows whether a student's growth is more or less than can be expected. For example, without an SGP, a teacher would not know whether an increase of 100 scaled scores represented average, above-average, or below-average growth. This is because students of differing achievement levels in different grades grow at different rates. For example, a high-achieving second grader grows at a different rate than a high-achieving eighth grader.
> Because STAR assessments are given to so many students, Renaissance Learning has data for millions of testing events. Using a dataset of more than 11 million students, we are able to calculate growth norms. In other words, we can approximate how much growth is typical for students of different abilities in different grades from one time period to another. Thus we can provide a score that is a fair representation of just how well a student is growing using our Student Growth Percentile or SGP calculation in STAR. Furthermore, because all SGP scores are reported on the same scale (1–99) we can calculate a median, or middle score, that represents an SGP for a group, such as a class, grade, or school as a whole. Median growth percentiles can be used for comparison purposes.

After speaking with teachers in data conferences, it has been determined that while the Growth Report, data from which can be seen in the chart below, indicated a slight growth in student performance in reading, the score actually dropped from the October STAR assessment. Data from the October STAR assessment is not used by Renaissance Learning to generate the Growth Report. Renaissance Learning defines the Pretest as the first assessment that was taken and Posttest as the most recent assessment. Teachers feel that the week long Thanksgiving break, just prior to the December assessment, and the anticipation of the upcoming Christmas break attributed to the drop in scores from the October testing cycle. In looking at longitudinal data, teachers have noticed that there seems to be a trend with the December dip. During the third quarter, the instructional facilitator will lead teachers in a protocol to analyze the dip and understand which students dropped, the reasons for the drop, and work to set in place interventions to help those students get back on their trajectory for growth. In spite of the anticipated December dip, the STAR Reading data does indicate overall improvement.

The above table and chart both indicate that growth between the Baseline and the December assessment was minimal. Some students who scored in the 4th grade range in September actually scored lower on the December test, increasing the red category and lowering our overall SS and GE for the combined student population. The December drop is a trend that we have noticed for several years. The following shows the comparison between the September Baseline scores and the October scores, which teachers feel is a truer reflection of student achievement. In looking at longitudinal data, teachers have noticed that there seems to be a trend with the December dip.

During the third quarter, the instructional facilitator will lead teachers in a protocol to analyze the dip and understand which students dropped, the reasons for the drop, and work to set in place interventions to help those students get back on their trajectory for growth. In spite of the anticipated December dip, the STAR Reading data does indicate overall improvement.

The above charts indicates that there were fewer students (from 6% to 5%) who scored below 3rd grade level on the December STAR assessment as compared to the September baseline assessment. In addition, the percent of students scoring in the 4th-6th grade range and the 7th-8th grade range declined as well. Students performing at the high school (9-PHS, or Post High School) level in math increased from 42.6% in September to 51% in December. During the 3rd quarter, data will continue to be analyzed by teachers to push student learning deeper and increase growth.

Comments/ Clarifications: During this quarter, and most particularly after the Unit 2 (for Geometry) and Unit 3 (for Algebra) common assessments, teachers indicated that they felt they were attempting to cover too many skills on the post-assessments because the percentage of students with Ds or Fs on post assessments have actually increased this quarter as compared to last quarter. Also, many teachers indicated that pre-assessment items helped them to catch foundational skills that their students are lacking.

For example, in Geometry, for the unit in which students were required to prove the Pythagorean Theorem, students were not even able to identify the hypotenuse at the beginning of the unit. The teachers had to remediate on that before moving on in the unit. Because of this, Geometry teachers were only able to do two Unit/Common Assessments for second quarter. However, the percent of pass rate on the second common assessment (70%) was a vast improvement over their performance of the first Unit/Common Assessment (47%) of the quarter. One teacher said, in his Data Conference for second quarter that if they hadn't taken the time to remediate over the foundational skills, "going through the rest would have been a waste. If I would have taught without the [pre-] assessment, the project would have failed." Teachers are beginning to see the validity behind conducting pre- and post- assessments.

Comments/ Clarifications:

After looking deeply at student data, the Humanities department identified a weakness in student writing and chose for itself the goal of improving student writing. This decision and the data behind the decision was later brought to the leadership team by instructional facilitator, and their decision to make writing a focus was a stepping point to the leadership team's decision to adopt writing as a schoolwide focus.

In response to the data concerning student writing, the team decided to implement the completion of IAKTs as their common assessments for second quarter. IAKT is a New Tech term, which stands for Individual Assessment of Knowledge and Thinking. The two instructional team leaders and the Instructional Facilitator attended an additional training over IAKT prompt development. The IAKT Task Quick Check Resource was used by instructional team members to design literacy tasks that assess the standards/skills taught within a given period within a PBL unit. The Quick Check Resource uses Literacy Task prompt templates designed by the Literacy Design Collaborative in 2011 and modified for use in the NT model in 2012. The following are four sample IAKT (literacy) tasks provided by the New Tech Network:

Argumentative Analysis – Science

Are genetically modified foods safe? After researching genetically modified foods, write an editorial that argues your position on the use of genetic engineering in food production. Support your position with evidence from your research. Be sure to acknowledge competing views. Give examples from past or current events or issues to illustrate, clarify, and support your position.

Argumentative Analysis – Math

After researching the population decay and growth of Texas Desert Bighorn Sheep, write a journal article that assesses repopulation efforts and argues your position, pro or con, on whether or not hunting licenses for the species should be reissued. Be sure to support your position with graphs, tables, and information from your research.

Narrative Description– Social Studies

After interviewing a veteran of the Vietnam War and researching texts on the time period, write a short biographical piece that describes the veteran's experiences during and directly after the war. Use figurative language and sensory details to develop a narrative.

Informational Synthesis – Social Studies

What was life like in American cities during the Industrial Era? After viewing Jacob Riis' photographs and researching life quality, write an essay that answers the question. In your discussion, address the credibility of Jacob Riis' photographs. Cite at least three sources, pointing out key elements from each source. Include a bibliography of sources.

Because IAKT completion and the grading process is quite a bit more lengthy than the common assessments we had students do in the first quarter, we opted to set the goal of two IAKTs as Common Assessments per quarter. IAKTs/Literacy Tasks take two to three days (rather than 15 to 20 minutes) to complete due to the research/information gathering/brainstorming, drafting, and revising process that is required. As a department, the Humanities team is also working toward aligning/calibrating scoring and grading practices by participating in a Looking at Student Work (LASW) protocol. Each ELA teacher or Humanities team brings to collaboration three work samples (a high, medium, and low essay), and the department scores the samples according the the New Tech Written Communication Rubric, which is aligned with College Readiness Standards. As a part of this protocol, we analyze student writing, discuss scaffolding that is needed to help students reach the next level on the rubric, and analyze the prompt itself. (Did the students do what the teacher expected? If not, how can the prompt be revised to more clearly communicate the teacher's expectations?) The following are the IAKTs/Literacy Tasks that students completed for their second Common Assessment for the second quarter:

Sophomores:

After researching theories and historical articles around Imperialism and Colonization in the 18th and 19th centuries, write an argumentative proposal that argues your position on the effects of American colonization of Iraq. Support your position with evidence from Nigeria's Ibo Tribe in Things Fall Apart, your chosen country and its imperialistic history, and information you found that supports your claim about America in Iraq. Be sure to acknowledge and rebut the opposing viewpoint using evidence from the texts.

Freshmen:

Prejudice: an unfavorable opinion or feeling formed beforehand or without knowledge, thought, or reason.
Ex: After 9/11, many Americans formed a prejudice against Muslims.

After reading To Kill a Mockingbird, write about the prejudice apparent in the novel. Give at least two examples and describe how those examples support your argument. Make sure not to focus only on prejudice based on race; also consider gender, and age.

The following table is a representation of student growth based on scores from the Writing Diagnostic at the beginning of the year and the IAKT students completed during the month of December:

	Emerging		Emer/Develop		Developing		Devel/Proficient		Proficient		Prof./Adv.		Advanced
Grade	Pre	Post	Pre	Post	Pre	Post	Pre	Post	Pre	Post	Pre	Post	Pre	Post
9th	57%	22%	29%	17%	14%	21%	0%	25%	0%	11%	0%	3%	0	1%
10th	49%	38%	1%	1%	37%	35%	0%	1%	12%	18%	0%	1%	1%	6%

Percent proficient for the ninth grade between the pre-assessment and the post-assessment improved from 0% to 15%. Percent proficient for the tenth grade between the pre-assessment and the post-assessment improved from 13% to 25%. The scoring rubric categories are Emerging, Developing, Proficient, and Advanced. The NT Written Communication rubric allows for sub categories between the main categories. For example, a student who does not quite meet the proficiency standard on some criteria, but is scoring proficient in one or more of the remaining criteria can be classified as Developing/Proficient.

After running the Data Driven Dialogue Protocol following the post assessment, teachers agreed that for future assessments, Domain specific comparative data needs to be gathered as well to determine the weakest areas of student writing in each grade level.

(Optional)

Do you have other data sources that support and/or identify that you are making gains in student outcomes (For example: Interim assessments such as ACT Aspire, TLI, etc.)? You may include a chart to describe your data.

We recently received our PARCC Scores. The following charts and explanations have been supplied to us by Paul Jenkins, our District Testing Coordinator. According to Mr. Jenkins, the only way to compare the data from year to year, since the test and AMO both changed, was to compare the percent we made towards our AMO. For example in 2014, our AMO was 65.16% and our actual score was 44.23% proficient. Therefore, to get the percent of AMO, Mr. Jenkins divided our actual score(44.23) by the AMO (65.16) to get our percent toward AMO, which was 67.87% of the AMO.

11th Grade Literacy Comparative Data

Explanatory Narrative: Testing comparisons can only be made as a percent of total score to AMO goal. For the 2014 school year, the English 11 score was 44.23% and the AMO was 65.16%. This amounted to 67.87% of our AMO. For the 2015 school year, the English 11 score was 24.20% and the AMO was 21.47%. This was 112.72% of our adjusted AMO goal. As a note: English 11 was not required to test in 2015 and is not accounted for in the ESEA Report. No detailed data is currently available from the PARCC assessment.

Explanatory Narrative: Testing comparisons can only be made as a percent of total score to AMO goal. For the 2014 school year, the Algebra I score was 38.61% and the AMO was 66.79%. This amounted to 57.80% of our AMO. For the 2015 school year, the Algebra I score was 3.28% and the AMO was 12.09%. This was 27.13% of our adjusted AMO goal. As a note: Algebra I and Geometry are combined to populate the ESEA report. No detailed data is currently available from the PARCC assessment.

Geometry Comparative Data

2014 Geometry End of Course as Compared to 2015 PARCC

2014	Geometry Totals					2015	Geometry Totals

Explanatory Narrative: Testing comparisons can only be made as a percent of total score to AMO goal. For the 2014 school year, the Geometry score was 35.54% and the AMO was 66.79% This amounted to 53.21% of our AMO. For the 2015 school year, the Geometry was 6.19% and the AMO was 12.09%. This was 51.20% of our adjusted AMO goal. As a note: Algebra I and Geometry are combined to populate the ESEA Report. No detailed data is currently available.

Algebra II 2015 PARCC Scores

2015	Algebra II Totals
Did not Meet	Partially Met	Approaching	Met	Exceeded
Level 1	Level2	Level3	Level 4	Level 5

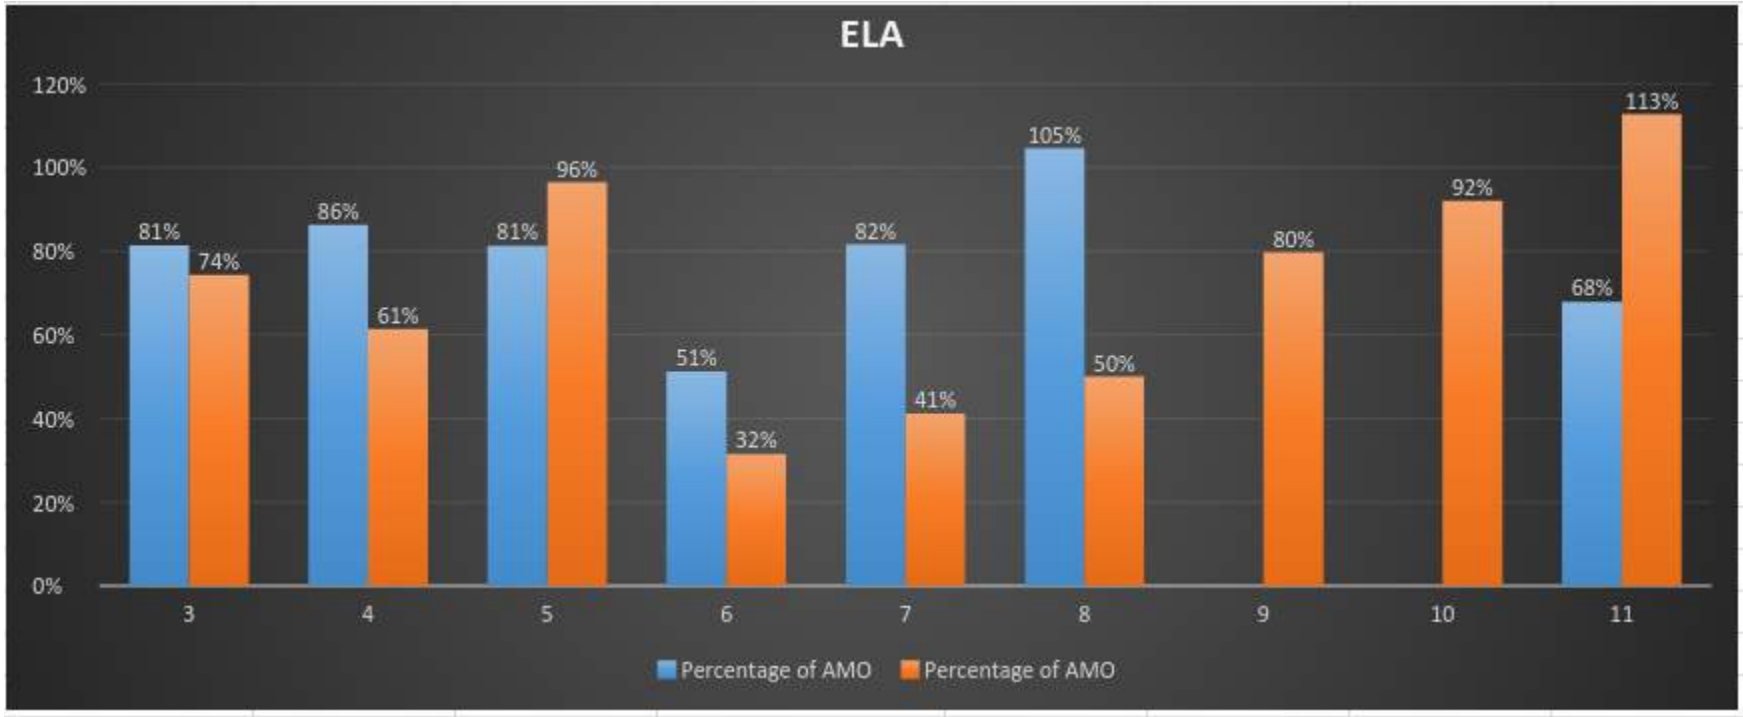
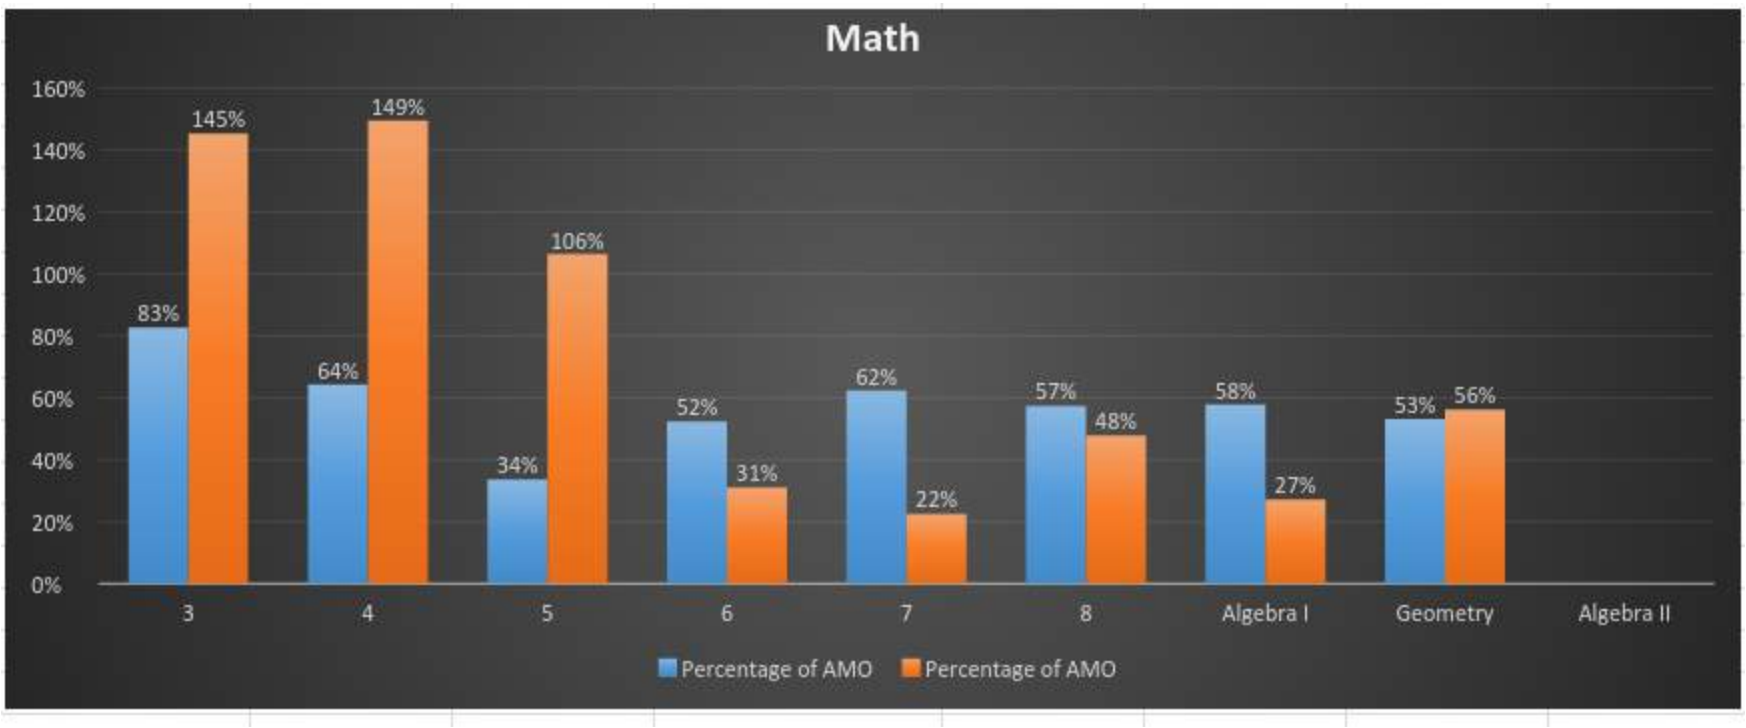
Explanatory Narrative: In 2014, there was no Algebra II EOC test, so there is no comparative data. The ESEA Report did not include scores from the Algebra II PARCC scores.

Consolidated Testing Report: ELA



Explanatory Narrative: The graph above shows English Language Arts 2014 data compared to 2015 data for grades 3 through 11. The blue bars indicate the percentage of AMO on the ELA section of the 2014 ACTAAP assessments. The orange bars indicate the percentage of the adjusted AMO on the ELA section of the 2015 PARCC assessments. In 2014, there was no ELA assessment in grades 9 and 10. However, the 11th grade data shows a marked improvement of progress towards AMO in 2015 compared to the percentage of AMO from the previous school year.

Consolidated Testing Report: Math



Explanatory Narrative: The graph above shows Math 2014 data compared to 2015 data for grades 3 through 10. The blue bars indicate the percentage of AMO on the Math section of the 2014 ACTAAP assessments. The orange bars indicate the percentage of the adjusted AMO on the Math section of the 2015 PARCC assessments. For the Algebra I section last year, our students only made 27% of their AMO. The year before, the same students (for the most part) scored 57% of the AMO on their 8th grade Benchmark exam.

For the Geometry exam, the PARCC assessment results was comparable to the 2014 Geometry EOC results, even showing a slight improvement in 2015. The same students (for the most part) made 58% of their AMO on the Algebra I EOC the previous year. In 2014, there was no Algebra II EOC test, so there is no comparative data. The ESEA Report did not include scores from the Algebra II PARCC scores.

IMO AREA 1-CHANGE IN TEACHER AND LEADER PRACTICE

ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will implement a team structure that supports student learning and achievement as its primary purpose. (3)

Effective Practice within Category:

The Leadership Team serves as a conduit of communication to enable input from faculty and staff and to make decisions for professional development based on data presented (ID08, ID10)

Establishing a team structure with specific duties and time for instructional planning (ID01, ID04, ID07)

Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation:
The Leadership Team reviews the principal's summary reports of classroom observations and takes them into account in planning professional development (IF02).

The campus will have procedures and practices in place that provides for extended time for student learning and teacher collaboration. An extended learning time plan is written and included in the campus teachers' handbook. The plan outlines the procedures used to identify the need for extended learning/collaboration time and how the school day schedule will be restructured to accommodate the needs of the plan. The procedures and practices utilized to identify the students who need the additional support provided by the extended time are written within the campus extended time plan. Teachers and other staff members who provide services within the extended day program are provided specific and targeted professional development training concerning the implementation of the extended time instruction. The plan includes the procedures and practices that will be used to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the extended time program on student achievement growth. (IG01)

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

The Leadership Team is set up in a way that enables it to receive input from the faculty and staff through their responses and participation with their cultural and instructional team meetings, as well as through direct conversation with any member of the Leadership Team and input received during faculty meetings. Pertinent communication from the Leadership Team is shared with faculty and staff through announcements made during collaboration meetings or during monthly faculty meetings. Currently, we do not make agendas and minutes available to faculty and staff.

Professional Development is planned according to classroom observation data and teachers' responses to professional development needs surveys. BHS offers a variety of breakout sessions as a part of its annual August PD sessions so that teachers can choose the sessions that fit their individual needs. In addition, each content teacher attends PLC collaboration meetings in which they receive feedback from their peers about lessons, plan common assessments, review student work, and align curriculum. The principal, Instructional Facilitator, and outside consultant offers feedback and suggests resources following classroom observations. Currently, the principal's and IF's observations, as well as Needs Assessment Surveys completed by the teachers, inform professional development; however, the leadership team does not currently review or plan PD.

Through our TESS Evaluation system, teachers create individual Professional Growth Plans based upon classroom observation data and teacher self assessment. Each teacher then plans to attend professional development based upon his/her PGP and must address that plan to earn credit for their 18 Flex PD hours. The PGP and the Flex plan are reviewed by the principal and each teacher is responsible for bringing in documentation.

Quarterly Objective:
The leadership team will work to fluidly receive input from the faculty and staff through instructional and cultural professional learning communities and will regularly engage in a cycle of inquiry around improving student learning outcomes based on analysis of data from classroom observations, teacher data meetings and common assessments. That analysis will lead to specific strategies teachers will implement in their classrooms and administrators and instructional leaders will look for and specifically scaffold in classroom observations and will provide feedback on in subsequent data meetings.

On January 4, 2016, Ms. Sneed presented the PD to the teachers. Information presented in the PD included 1) a comparison of the ACT Aspire to the PARCC and ACTAAP Assessments, 2) a comparison of the ACT Aspire with the ACT assessment, 3) a revelation that 39% of the total ACT Aspire score will be based upon what the students write in their responses to Constructed Response questions and to the Expository Analysis essay they will write on the Writing portion of the exam. Ms. Sneed then provided data concerning students' current written communication abilities. Using a data discussions protocol, the Faculty discussed the data within their instructional PLCs. Ms. Sneed framed a task for each team, in which each instructional PLC would determine their role concerning our new school wide learning goal: To improve writing across disciplines" by creating a Cycles of Inquiry and Theories of Action concerning what that goal will look like in their department.

CPAD - ACT Prep Program (IG01) -The College Preparatory Academy of the Delta (CPAD) is an after-school ACT Prep program that supports students whose data suggests they are currently on a trajectory to score too low on the ACT college entrance assessment to avoid remedial college classes in one or more areas. CPAD is a partnership between Blytheville High School, Arkansas Northeastern College, and Arkansas State University, and is funded, in part, by the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation.

Homework Helpline (IG01) - The after school tutoring program, Homework Helpline, offers students free help in math, science, and English language arts as well as free computer and internet access from 4:00-6:00 each Tuesday and Thursday.

IMO AREA 1-CHANGE IN TEACHER AND LEADER PRACTICE
ADE Academic Distress Recommendation: School leadership will develop and implement a system for the effective use of data to inform all school improvement decisions and efforts. (#1) School leadership, in collaboration with district administration, will facilitate an analysis of current English / language arts and math curricula across all grade levels and articulate in writing the process for deep curriculum alignment. (#3)
Effective Practice within Category: IIA01 Engaging teacher in aligning instruction with standards and benchmarks.
Description of full implementation of the Effective Practice and/or Recommendation: Teachers, working in teams, build the taught curriculum from learning standards, curriculum guides, and a variety of other resources. Instructional Teams organize the unit plans to assure that all students master the standards-based objectives and provide opportunities for enhanced learning. The Instructional Team develops units of instruction, typically three to six weeks of work, which is shared with all teachers who are responsible for teaching the unit. The alignment process serves as a check on guide/text/test congruence and provides teachers with organizational structure for their own planning.

The unit plan is developed by the instructional Team to define a unit of instruction and outline the standards and target objectives (typically grade level) addressed in the unit of instruction. The Instructional Team:

1. Determines the concepts, principles, and skills that will be covered within the unit.
2. Identifies the standards/benchmarks that apply to the grade level and unit topic.
3. Develops all objectives that clearly align to the selected standards/benchmarks.
4. Arranges the objectives in sequential order.
5. Determines the best objective descriptors.
6. Considers the most appropriate elements for mastery and constructs criteria for mastery.
7. Develops pre/post-test items that are clear and specific and would provide evidence of mastery consistent with the criteria established.

Current reality of effective practice (Assess where we are):

Currently, the Blytheville High School Math and Humanities (literacy and history integrated) teams are administering pre- and post-assessments at approximately every three to four week intervals. Teachers are using pre-assessment data to inform instruction at the classroom level, and to some degree, the teams are analyzing post-assessment data to align curriculum and inform departmental decisions. However, we are not quite where we would like to be on these. The instructional teams have determined that one area that we need to focus on is scaffolding. Because we have still these goals, the Blytheville High School Leadership Team has determined that IIB02 and IIB04 are both in Limited Implementation. The Blytheville High School Leadership Team tabled discussion on IID02 until third quarter because we need to research whether the STAR assessments that we are based on standards. IID06, the establishment of annual learning goals utilizing student data, is fully implemented as of January 4, 2016.

On January 4, 2016, the BHS Leadership committee announced "To improve writing across disciplines" as it's annual learning goal for this year. Using the Data Driven Dialogue Protocol, teachers made inferences about the current reality of our students' writing abilities based on recent writing data. Following this school-wide discussion, instructional teams developed a Round 1 plan of a Cycle of Inquiry and developed Theories of Action. Some examples of Theories of Action include: "If we as a humanities department collaborate on grading, then we will be more aligned" and "If we as a Math department collect common, foundational constructive response data (what data will you gather?), then we can gauge where students are in math writing."

Quarterly Objective:
The humanities and math instructional teams will engage in a Cycle of Inquiry concerning data collection, analysis, and strategy development regarding various forms of data, especially from common pre- and post- assessments.

Indicator / Tasks	Target Date	Completion Date	Person assigned	Met	Not Met	Evidence of Completion

A segment of the January 4th PD will be devoted to aligning curriculum and creating action plans to address the newly adopted annual learning goal: “To improve writing across disciplines.” Ms. Sneed will meet with instructional team leaders to prepare them to lead the work.	12-30-16 1-2-16 1-4-16	12-30-16 1-2-16 1-4-16	Robin Sneed Chad Wheeler Nicole Washington Virginia Andrews Tyler Isbell			During the second quarter, the BHS Leadership Team selected “To improve writing across disciplines” as its yearly learning goal. On December 30th, Ms. Sneed met with humanities instructional team leaders, Chad Wheeler and Nicole Washington, to prepare them for their roles for the January 4th PD. On January 2nd, Ms. Sneed met with science and math instructional team leaders to prepare them for their roles for the January 4th PD. In both meetings, we discussed the data that led to the leadership team’s decision and reviewed our previous work with New Tech coach Julia McBride concerning Cycles of Inquiry and Theories of Action so that the instructional team leaders would be confident in their roles as they led their teams through the tasks. On January 4th, Ms. Sneed and the Leadership Team announced “To improve writing across disciplines” as our school wide annual learning goal and briefed the faculty on their tasks (to create a cycle of inquiry and theories of action that would define for them how improving writing would look within their departments) before dismissing teachers to work within their instructional PLCs. Instructional team leaders led their teams in the development a Round 1 plan of a

						Cycle of Inquiry and Theories of Action. Some examples of Theories of Action include: "If we as a humanities department collaborate on grading, then we will be more aligned" and "If we as a Math department collect common, foundational constructive response data (what data will you gather?), then we can gauge where students

On January 5th, the English instructional team aligned their expectations on the New Tech Writing Rubric and began the process for aligning 10th grade Humanities curriculum. On January 7th, the 9/10 English instructional team analyzed data from last semester and decided upon the TPCASTT, an AP strategy, to analyze poetry in preparation for writing poetry explication. They als On January 12th and January 14th, the instructional team brought student work on poetry for which they used TPCASTT to analyze, using a Looking at Student Work protocol to analyze the work. On January 19th, January 21st, January 26th, the instructional team continued the work of aligning the 10th grade curriculum, planning a project together, discussing the standards that the project will address, and discussing possible scaffolding needs for struggling reading and writers.

The 11/12 Humanities Instructional Team will devote collaboration time to designing quality IAKTs (literacy tasks/writing prompts), Looking at Student Work (LASW), analyzing data, and aligning curriculum.	1-4-16 1-5-16 1-7-16 1-12-16 1-14-16 1-19-16 1-21-16	1-4-16 1-5-16 1-7-16 1-12-16 1-14-16 1-19-16 1-21-16	Robin Sneed Chad Wheeler			On January 4th, the 11/12 Humanities instructional team began creating a Cycle of Inquiry and Theories of Action. On January 5th and January 7th, the English instructional team revised their Cycle of Inquiry and Theories of Action based upon feedback from the 9/10 Humanities instructional team. They then set dates for their common assessments and began drafting IAKTs, using New Tech resources that Ms. Sneed, Mr. Wheeler, and Mr. Bice shared with them last quarter concerning construction good IAKTs (literacy tasks). On Jan 12, Jan 14, Jan 19, and Jan 21st revised their IAKT, analyzed the quality of the IAKT compared to the New Tech IAKT Checklist, revised the IAKT, designed a rubric for grading the IAKT, and looked at scaffolding tools. They also looked at the data from past IAKTs and made speculations on which parts of the task/rubric students would have the most difficulty with and began planning scaffolding activities based upon the data from those previous writing samples. In addition, the instructional team began the process of aligning the 11th grade curriculum, planning a project together, discussing the standards that the project will address, and discussing possible scaffolding needs for struggling reading and writers. Some of the teachers filled out the template that could help them become New Tech Certified teachers.

The Science Instructional Team will devote collaboration time to designing quality IAKTs (literacy tasks/writing prompts), Looking at Student Work (LASW), analyzing data, and aligning curriculum.	1-14-16 1-19-16 1-21-16 1-26-16 1-28-16	1-14-16 1-19-16 1-21-16 1-26-16 1-28-16	Robin Sneed Virginia Andrews			On January 14, Virigina Andrews led the science team through a LASW protocol, in which student analyzed high and low student lab reports to examine both student work and the rigor of the task. Based upon the conversation, the department decided that some next steps for the department to consider would be to: ● include both a rubric and an exemplar written sample so that students can determine what is expected of them (an A exemplar, a B exemplar, etc.) ● scaffold lessons with some academic vocabulary instruction ● If we require complete sentences in lab reports, we need to make sure to include that in our instructions and rubric On January 19th, the science department reviewed several New Tech resources for IAKTs that will help them ensure that they are creating quality, authentic literacy tasks. They also discussed scaffolding techniques to help students be more successful with the writing: modeling how to break down the prompt, requiring students to complete one part of the prompt at a time as benchmarks and seek feedback on each part of their essay, teaching organization and thesis statement development, etc. They agreed to bring back IAKTs that they have written on Thursday in order to evaluate them according to the New Tech IAKT Checklist. On January 21st, the science instructional team brought teacher created IAKTs and offered peer feedback on the tasks themselves, using the New Tech IAKT Task Quality Checklist. On January 26th and January 28th, science teachers brought IAKT prompts, rubrics, and sample student responses (2 high, 2 medium, 2 low) responses and examined the data using the following protocol: 1. What do you see (objectively)? 2. What does this make you think, feel, believe (subjectively) about the class, students, teacher? 3. What next steps would you recommend for/about this teacher's practice?

						Some inferences made from the data is that students are struggling with looking holistically at charts and graphs. Students can answer specific scaffolded questions, but are struggling with trends. Many students can accurately read a graph or chart, but do not have the scientific vocabulary to correctly articulate the data. Action steps for teachers as a result of this data include to include instruction on annotating the prompt, targeting/scaffolding specific skills, and reviewing exemplar work and analyzing student responses. Strategies will include modeling our thinking.
The Math Instructional Team will devote collaboration time to designing quality constructed response items, Looking at Student Work (LASW), analyzing data, and aligning curriculum.	1-21-16 1-26-16 1-28-16	1-21-16 1-26-16 1-28-16	Robin Sneed Tyler Isbell			On January 21st, math teachers analyzed a Constructed Response question that one of the Geometry teachers created (modeled after the ACT Aspire CR questions), and they analyzed student responses to the prompt using a Looking at Student Work (LASW) protocol. Teachers determined that some next steps for the teacher are to develop a scoring rubric (which is difficult because we could not find a ACT Aspire CR scoring rubric for math) and to teach students the difference among showing their work, explaining their work, and justifying their work. Many students provide great responses as far as how they got their answer, but fall short of explaining why their answer is correct. Another next step that they determined for the teacher was to put sample student responses in front of the students and have students identify three things the student did well and three things they could improve upon in order to help students think critically about their written communication responses. On January 26th, teachers evaluated a math writing rubric to determine whether they would adopt it, revise it, or keep looking. The team decided to revise portions of it and then analyze how it could be used to evaluate a few different prompts. If it is generic enough to be applicable to multiple prompts, then the team will discuss adoption. On January 28th, teachers evaluated student work using the Looking at Student Work protocol and determine that students had an understanding of the mathematical concept (line of symmetry), but most were unable to articulate their understanding and most failed to answer all parts of the prompt. They then discussed whether the rubric they chose would be beneficial to score the selected student work and prompt, and talked through further revisions that are necessary to make on the rubric.

Improvement Plans

Specific Plans

2013-2014 year, under direction of Arkansas Department of Education School Improvement Unit, we began preparing quarterly plans with tasks (45-day plans) that targeted twelve academic distress recommendations.

2014-2015 - Academic Distress recommendations narrow in focus to four recommendations, and the work on quarterly reporting continued.

2015-16 With the Priority School Designation, we were given focus around specific indicators and are working diligently as a school to dig into those indicators, provide assessment of measurable outcomes and practices based on the data available and enact strategies and tasks to meet those indicators towards improvement.

The Performance Based Assessment (PBA) component was given before the End of Year Assessment (EOY). The PBA consisted of extended tasks and applications of concepts and skills for ELA/Literacy and Math. ELA/Literacy included writing effectively when analyzing text and research simulation. Math included solving multi-step problems requiring abstract reasoning, precision, perseverance and strategic use of tools.

The EOY assessment consisted of innovative, short-answer items including the following: ELA/Literacy reading comprehension; Math short items that address both concepts and skills.

PBA Only and EOY Only are not included in performance calculations.

Number of enrolled students with completed PBA only:	22

Percent Tested: Source and Use of Enrollment

For percent tested and school/district performance calculations student enrollment files were downloaded from eSchool via TRIAND to establish the students expected to test. These files were downloaded May 15, 2015.

When students' test and enrollment records were matched by school and student state identifier the demographic values from the enrollment files were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had a test record and did not match an enrollment record the demographic values from the student's test record were used in ESEA calculations.

When a student had an enrollment record that did not match a test record the demographic values from the student's enrollment record were used in ESEA calculations.

Panel	For	Against	Abstain	Reason
Barnes	X			Admittedly, I have some anxiety, but I believe the statements today warrant the opportunity to provide time to address the systemic issues that brings the charter before us today.
Gotcher	X			I feel strongly that the Leadership Teams and the shift to enable building principals to be instructional leaders are two major components towards the removal of priority status designation.
Lester	X			Based upon the report from the School Improvement Unit and the presentation, I feel as if the charter is on the right track for improvement. I like the focus on a systems approach, and I am impressed with the number of seniors that have been accepted to college.
Liwo	X			The charter is actively collaborating with the ADE to improve the current situation. Low performance may have been due to gaps in curriculum and shift in personnel/teacher retention. The charter is working to address these systemic issues by implementing extra intervention measures (i.e.-community partners tutoring, having interventionists in every building, Agency etc.), breaking down units so that additional time is taken to re-teach concepts not grasped by students, catering to the student as an individual, the Teacher Retention Committee, Leadership Meetings that allow leadership the time necessary to observe classes and give teachers feedback via TESS etc. The charter has taken a critical look at itself and is implementing carefully considered plans to achieve success with student performance.

Pfeffer	X			The district is fully engaged in their improvement process, in partnership with the ADE.
Rogers	X			The district is enthusiastic and working hard to continue improvement.
Saunders	X			The district is open to new ideas and working with the School Improvement Unit.
Smith	X			The district showed evidence of collaboration with ADE. I appreciated the enthusiasm in the presentation and the initiatives they have in place.

RE: Notice of Charter Authorizing Panel Decision
Covenant Keepers College Preparatory Charter School

Dear Dr. Tatum:

On February 17, 2016, the Charter Authorizing Panel met and approved the renewal application for Covenant Keepers College Preparatory Charter School for a period of 3 years. Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-702(b)(2)(A) allows charter applicants and affected school districts to request that the State Board of Education review a final decision of the Charter Authorizing Panel. A request must state the specific reasons that the Board should review the decision.

Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-703(a) requires the State Board of Education to consider requests for review of Charter Authorizing Panel decisions at its next meeting after the decisions are made. Therefore, a review request must be submitted, via email, no later than noon on Wednesday, February 24, 2016, in order for the request to be included in the State Board of Education agenda materials for the meeting on March 10, 2016. Email the request to ade.charterschools@arkansas.gov. Be advised that the decision of whether to review a Charter Authorizing Panel decision is discretionary. See Ark. Code Ann. § 6-23-702(b)(3). Regardless of whether a review of the Panel's decision is requested, the application will be an action item for the State Board of Education on March 10, and, at that time, the Board will determine whether or not to review the Panel's decision. If the State Board decides to review the Panel's decision, the review will take place at a later meeting.

Please contact me by phone at (501) 682-5665 or by email at alexandra.boyd@arkansas.gov with any questions.

Remaining Concerns

- It is unclear how the charter communicates with parents and students when the Spanish-speaking staff member is not available.
- The method to notify parents of the lottery results was not explained.
- It remains unclear how long the wrap-around support partners have agreed to supply assistance to the students at Covenant Keepers and exactly what those supports mean in the everyday lives of the students.
- The applicant did not discuss the effectiveness of the new system implemented in 2014-2015 designed to allow “students to reflect and adjust behavioral decisions before consequences become serious, effectively diminishing occurrences of more significant infractions” as requested.
- It remains unclear what the accumulation of points mean to the daily life of a student.
- It remains unclear that the charter provides dedicated professional development to help teachers deal with students’ behavior in the classroom.
- The performance goals may not demonstrate high expectations for students.

Priority Response

An explanation of the ways in which Covenant Keepers maintains and promotes the legislative intent for charter schools as outlined in Ark. Code Ann. § 102

As stated within the Arkansas Quality Charter Schools Act of 2013, Covenant Keepers strives to abide by the legislative intent for all open enrollment charter schools by:

(1) IMPROVING STUDENT LEARNING

Before we can work toward improving student learning, we must ascertain current levels of student abilities. The most effective and reliable instrument that we have to measure these abilities is NWEA MAP assessments. We use these assessments to determine areas of growth and weakness in individual students formatively throughout the year. We also use this assessment to determine the abilities of newly enrolled students in order to build a learning plan for them.

In regard to newly enrolled students, whether they are sixth graders or eighth graders; whether they come to us in July or mid-year; and whether they come to us from down the street, from a juvenile facility, or from out of the country, we commit to "meeting them where they are." We build a growth path that acknowledges their current proficiency levels and is designed to fill knowledge gaps as the student progresses toward grade-level achievement. Growth is celebrated while weaknesses are analyzed and strategically addressed.

Because we are a charter school and a middle school, we do not have our own feeder school. The result is that most of our students come from elementary schools inside the Little Rock School District; a few come from other charter schools in the area. With those students come the work habits and the sum total of knowledge they have acquired from their elementary or previous middle school education. Many of our students are thriving and eager to continue learning on the middle school level. Most, unfortunately, are coming to us from schools that have been underperforming for decades and those students have quite a bit of ground to make up in the three short years that they are with us before going to high school.

Data for students enrolling in Covenant Keepers during the 2014-2015 school year:

72% of 6th-8th grade students enroll at Covenant Keepers performing at 5th grade level or below in Reading; the majority being on 3rd or 4th grade level.

The vision of Covenant Keepers is to help these academically undeserved students rise above their circumstances. In order to meet this challenge, faculty, staff, parents, students, and community members collaborate in a coordinated effort to encourage students to strive for continual improvement.

Students are assessed regularly through formative assessments in each classroom. Teachers break down the data for each assessment using a school-side Data Tracking Sheet form. These assessments include pre- and post-tests as well as daily "Show What You Know" assessments.

Test data is brought to each PLC data team meeting (every other Monday), and each teacher presents their data and responses to questions as they discuss their students' weekly outcomes. Teachers use this data to plan additional lessons for clarification, and also to determine who may need one-on-one assistance. The leadership team also monitors these meetings to ensure that the curriculum is being adhered to with fidelity and to determine learning gaps.

Those in need of one-on-one assistance are assigned to a support team member for interventions in standard-specific areas of weakness as noted on the Data Tracking Sheet. These support team members range from Administrators, to Leadership Team members, to Support staff and volunteers.

(2) Increasing learning opportunities for all students, with special emphasis on expanded learning experiences for students who are identified as low-achieving;

Covenant Keepers is committed to additional seat time and skills practice. Our belief is that these kids have a long way to go, and they can't get there if they aren't in school. We build our school year on an extended calendar (190 student contact days) and an extended school day (7:45am—4:00pm). Students attend math and English class for 80 minutes each day. They also attend "Plus Time"—Tier 2 math and ELA remediation sessions four hours per week.

Several teachers volunteer to hold after-school tutoring several times a week for math or literacy. ELL students are given the opportunity to attend English tutoring after school several days each week.

We are also committed to reducing disciplinary issues and consequences and therefore keeping students in class as time lost to in-school or out-of-school suspension is detrimental for students who are already struggling.

Having said that, years of working with our students and their families has led us to realize that all the seat time in the world will not help a child whose needs are not being addressed. Our leadership team and teacher teams have kept abreast of educational movements and pedagogical practices, but we have come to realize that, at the end of the day, the path to success for our individual students must be custom-designed for each distinct student.

This year, Covenant Keepers has made a genuine effort to focus on the unique needs of individual students. This includes academic needs, physical needs, familial needs, and social/emotional needs. We have taken the emphasis on the "whole child" to levels that we have never seen in southwest Little Rock. Our academic interventions paired with "Wrap Around" services for students are specifically crafted to fill the unique needs of individual children.

(3) Encouraging the use of different and innovative teaching methods;

As noted above, CK is committed to best practices and incorporating sound pedagogy into every classroom, but we are driven by research. We are fully aware that we do not have time to experiment with the latest movements or to jump on a trending pedagogical bandwagon. Our leadership team and teacher teams study authoritative research on instructional methods, teaching at-risk students, incorporating High Yield Strategies, and content-related practices to bring tried and true methods into our classrooms.

We believe that what makes our methods innovative is that so few schools have adopted these practices on a school-wide level. We are so confident in the efficacy of these practices, we have mandated their use by every teacher for every class. While teachers have a great deal of flexibility with their lessons, each must incorporate certain components with fidelity.

- GANAG—Developed by Dr. Jane Pollock, this lesson-planning schema is an updated version of Madeline Hunter's Master Teaching schema.

  GANAG has changed the way that Covenant Keepers' teachers plan for instruction, compelling the student to be more engaged and active in their own learning. When students are given a goal for the class, they know what is expected of them, and are able to quickly assess where they currently stand with that goal at the beginning of class. The teacher then conducts a brief activity to prepare the students to learn by accessing their prior knowledge. This usually has a connection to the lesson for the day, or helps review information from a previous lesson. Next, the teacher shares the new information for the day that applies to the goal. The majority of class time should be spent allowing students to apply the learned information. This could be collaborative work, a hands-on task, or simply practicing the new skill. At the end of class, students revisit the goal for class and re-assess where they are. Because all teachers use GANAG structure, students know that the expectations do not change from teacher to teacher.

- Working hand in hand with GANAG, Interactive Notebooks are a tool for students to process information. Teachers provide new information in class in the form of anchor charts, pictures, charts, notes, videos, etc. which are documented on the right side of the student notebook, and the student reflects on the information, applying their knowledge through activities or questioning on the left side/facing page of the notebook.

- Anchor Charts—teachers create these in real-time with the students to reveal procedural and declarative knowledge in a visual way that is appealing and relevant to students.

- Authentic, real-world, cross-curricular learning—CK teachers try to make connections for students so that every piece of information has relevance to their lives or to some prior knowledge. We try not to teach in isolation, but instead, attach meaning and purpose to new knowledge so that students can grasp onto it and construct meaning in ways that make sense to them. We are aware that our students have been disengaged from learning for years, and we have to be deliberate in choosing research-based practices to intrigue their minds and make them want to learn and retain new information by attaching some personal context.

- Specialized Professional Development partnerships with Arkansas Public School Resource Center and Above & Beyond the Core—Teachers and leadership receive customized training during the school day with use of planning periods, demonstration lessons, classroom walkthroughs etc., or during Professional Development days. Topics include research-based practices, using technology in the classroom, curriculum-specific issues, ACT Aspire, GANAG, Interactive Notebooking, data analysis, etc. as noted below.

(4) Creating new professional opportunities for teachers, including the opportunity to be responsible for the learning programs at the school site;

Each year as we are in the teacher-hiring process, we tell candidates that teachers at Covenant Keepers do not "work on an island." What we mean by that is that we all work together in so many different ways: to research ideas, to learn new concepts, to analyze data, to make decisions, and to approach teaching and learning as a team. Rather than dictate all decisions, CK leadership empowers teachers to make decisions as a team. With the input of leadership, APSRC coaches, and even students, teachers work together to build a program that suits the needs of our particular students.

Outside of actual instruction, the primary way that teachers collaboratively contribute to the development of our school and to their own individual growth as a professional is through the development of our school's culture. The culture and expectations entrenched in Covenant Keepers today has been developed/improved by teachers over the last couple of years through extensive research and visiting other schools. Teachers have played a significant role in cultivating a new learning environment at CK that compels students to conform to more rigorous expectations regarding behavior and classwork.

Two of our teachers have been selected to participate in the Teacher Practice Network in association with the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. This program consists of a cadre of teachers with a history of innovation in their classrooms who were chosen to learn together and, in turn, lead their school colleagues in collaborative, professional learning.

Additionally, our teachers work together to bring data-driven instruction to life at Covenant Keepers. While many schools and individual teachers believe they are using data to make instructional decisions, as we once thought we were, our teachers have been on a journey to truly understand "data-driven instruction" and how it works on the classroom and school levels. Prompted by recommendations from our ADE School Improvement Team, our teachers and leaders have researched and practiced data analysis and ultimately, use this information to strategically move students forward while building their professional repertoire.

(5) Providing parents and pupils with expanded choices in the types of educational opportunities that are available within the public school system;

Our school was developed to catch those kids who are falling through the cracks and alter their paths. Our school's manifesto says it well.

"…Who are these students? They are the subgroups, which is data-speak for the poor, the non-white, the English Language Learners. They are the special-needs students. Some have behavior problems when they first arrive. And they are the children of parents and guardians who want a better future for them; parents and guardians who are tired of their kids languishing in the achievement gap," (CK Charter "Our Story," 2012).

Essentially, our community relies on schools like ours to provide an alternative for families who feel like their children cannot be successful in a traditional school. Parents choose Covenant Keepers because of our structure and discipline; our high expectations for academic effort; our smaller, safer environment; our non-intimidating way of working with parents; and our eagerness for communicating with families. Covenant Keepers simply provides parents with a better option for their children.

We believe in constant communication with parents, whether it is face to face, memos sent home, phone calls, texts, or other digital methods of communication. Covenant Keepers sends all communication home in both English and Spanish, and our front office assistant is bilingual, able to translate documents and interpret for parents during meetings. Teachers are encouraged to call parents for positive updates, not only when a student is struggling behaviorally or academically.

In the seven+ years that our school has existed, we have done a remarkable job of connecting with our community. We believe that we know who they are and what they need. We believe that we have established an excellent rapport with our stakeholders, and they know they are welcome and appreciated in our school. We believe that with continued mutual support, the achievement of our students will grow to levels never expected.

Given the current state of public school accessibility in southwest Little Rock, our school is more important than ever for families in the Geyer Springs area. Our families and our community have placed their trust in us to be there for them; to provide a safe environment; to welcome their children regardless of ability (physical, mental, or otherwise), proficiency level, or socio-economic status; and to grow their students' learning in a way that respects their current status and their individual needs. We are committed to fulfilling our promise to give them an alternative, which is especially important now that parent choice and student opportunity is increasingly limited in southwest. Our community is partnering with us in overwhelmingly powerful ways because they want us here, and they understand the impact we are having on our stakeholders.

(6) Holding the schools established under this charter accountable for meeting measurable student achievement standards.

We have designed a student, teacher, and leadership accountability system to hold the school accountable for meeting achievement standards.

In class, students are responsible for their own interactive notebook which serves as both a tool for processing new knowledge and an instrument to track their growth and achievements. The teacher provides the student with information in various formats (pictures, graphs, notes, examples) to place in their notebook, and the student reflects on and applies the information in their section of the notebook. Teachers can use the notebooks as a formative assessment tool to check for student understanding.

Teachers are held accountable by the leadership team for completing lesson plans on a weekly basis. Supervision of instruction is essential at Covenant Keepers. All teachers turn in lesson plans for the week every Monday morning. Lessons follow school curriculum guidelines and Common Core State Standards. Backwards design is a model used by staff as teachers are asked to think about the ultimate objective(s) when planning every lesson. Administrators monitor curriculum through formal and informal classroom visitations and observations as well as through review of weekly lesson plans.

Teachers share student assessment data (with test and analysis in hand) during PLC data meetings every other Monday. This allows teachers to track student, class, and school progress continually and communally and address issues as a team as they are uncovered.

Students complete feedback and reflection forms with each end-of-unit assessment. This is the students' opportunity to share concerns or kudos with teachers in regard to their learning experiences.

On alternating Mondays, teachers have PLC sessions where professional growth topics are covered, team issues are addressed, problems are resolved, and ideas are generated. This is the teachers' opportunity to hold each other accountable for meeting the team's expectations and following protocol.

Both teachers and members of the leadership team are held accountable through Covenant Keepers' Teacher Support Cycle (TSC). Every two weeks, each member of the leadership team meets with each teacher in the school. These meetings reflect the leadership team member's area of expertise: ELL, student discipline, lesson plan structure, classroom management, grading practices, assessment data usage, etc. The leadership team member may conduct a classroom observation before meeting with the teacher depending on the nature of the meeting. Documentation of these meetings is housed in a Google document shared with administrators for monitoring and feedback purposes.

The leadership team reports to the superintendent during leadership team meetings each Tuesday afternoon regarding what has been done to support the teachers since the previous meeting. The superintendent redirects members of the leadership team as necessary or makes decisions on professional development based on compiled reports.

Finally, students who are struggling behaviorally (and consequently academically) are held accountable for their personal growth through a system where they are partnered with an adult on staff. These partnerships are designed to allow a student and his or her staff partner to build a trusting relationship and explore the issues the student is having. The end goal is to encourage the student to experience a paradigm shift and ultimately adopt a new mindset that fosters behavioral and academic growth.

An explanation of the ways in which the charter remains innovative while struggling academically

In addition to the innovations noted above, Covenant Keepers has recently developed some intriguing new components that we believe can, in time, serve as model platforms for other struggling schools.

- Plus Time groupings—Plus Time is a one-hour session devoted to Tier 2 math and literacy interventions four days per week. Students are grouped based on their specific needs as determined by NWEA quarterly assessments and classroom assessments. Conversations take place during PLC data meetings every two weeks to determine needs during Plus Time. Professional Development sessions are held regularly to inspire creative approaches to meeting those needs.

- Wraparound Services—As we mentioned above, after years of working with children with extremely high needs, we have come to realize that no blanket approach or program will help us move our students to proficiency or our school from academic distress. We have to look at every student individually and determine what he or she needs in order to begin moving toward success. Beyond that, we have to effectively fill those needs. This is only possible with a team of committed, knowledgeable people on campus, cooperative parents, and willing partners in the community. Our vision is to finally meet the needs of these kids so that they can change their trajectory and experience success.

  This plan goes well beyond traditional on-site therapy sessions or general screenings. It identifies and eliminates barriers to student progress whether physical, emotional, or otherwise. Examples of wraparound services we offer include: health, dental, and vision care; mental health services; behavioral health, nutrition, and wellness; parent and family targeted services including adult education, such as classes on child development, English as a second language, and basic vocational skills; service referrals and assistance; social work and family crisis response.

  The theory behind wraparound services suggests that students whose health and wellness needs are attended to will be healthier, more focused, and better able to learn. Similarly, families engaged with our school and its supportive services have increased capacity to support child learning and health. Finally, having systems in place to help eliminate social challenges that impede learning, allows our teachers and administrators to focus on instruction.

- Mediation—One often-overlooked issue within a struggling school is the relationship between teachers and students. We know that, as stated by educator Rita Pearson, "kids don't learn from people they don't like." When a CK teacher and a student are having difficulties working together, Principal Blocker schedules a meeting with the two so they can discuss the problem with a mediator present. We have had remarkable results with this program.

- Meetings with families—Covenant Keepers values communication with families. If a student is struggling behaviorally or academically, the teachers meet with the student and the family to address the problem and develop a plan of action.

A brief analysis of the 2015 PARCC data

-Our 2015 AMO for all students was 21.47% for ELA, and 12.15% of students scored proficient or advanced.
-Our 2015 AMO for all students was 12.09%, and 7.02% of our students scored proficient or advanced.
-Our Hispanic students and ELL students met their AMOs, but our African American students did not.

We have not yet received reports from which we can analyze the data beyond what we show above.

An explanation of plans to improve academic achievement

Specific plans implemented in the past with data that demonstrate the results and include a discussion of student performance and growth

The major components of our academic improvement plans include the following, which were discussed in previous sections:

- Adopted a genuine data-driven instruction model
- Adopted a pre and post test formative assessment model
- Restructured our Plus Time program to strategically target weaknesses in math and literacy
- Adopted PLCs as our professional growth driver
- Effective use of NWEA's Learning Continuum in Plus Time and classroom
- Teacher support cycle
- Following School Improvement recommendations
- After school tutoring—math, literacy, ELL

Covenant Keepers is demonstrating recent increases in the percentage of students meeting or exceeding typical growth in both math and reading as demonstrated by nationally normed NWEA MAP assessments. Our students' growth during the 2014-2015 school year was very strong in both reading and math.

- 50% of students at a typical school meet or exceed their individual growth targets, in Fall 2014 to Spring 2015 NWEA result comparisons.
- 68% of our students met or exceeded their growth targets in reading;
- 59% met or exceeded their growth targets in math.
- This is a large improvement over school year 2013-2014 results with only 41% in reading and 39% in math meeting their individual goals.
- 73% of our low performing students (performing at or below the 33rd percentile nationally) met or exceeded typical fall to spring growth targets in reading.
- 64% met or exceeded growth targets in math for the 2014-2015 school year.
- Additionally, 66% of these students made at least 1.5 times annual growth in just one year in reading
- 54% of these students made at least 1.5 times annual growth in just one year in math.

Specific plans for the future that include methods of assessing success

As stated, one of the most innovative new projects we are taking on is the addition of our Wraparound Services. This is applied in conjunction with utilization of our NWEA Learning Continuum to grow students both personally and academically.

A few of the methods we use to assess our success are our NWEA MAP growth reports, our discipline data, our attendance data, and our student and teacher retention data.

Other methods of measuring our success include tracking our performance goals as stated in our charter renewal application:

Performance Goal	Tracking Tool	Timeframe
Covenant Keepers' proficiency level will be 3% higher than Cloverdale Middle School and Mabelvale Middle School in ELA	ACT Aspire or applicable state assessment	Examined as an average during a 3 year period
Covenant Keepers' proficiency level will be 3% higher than Cloverdale Middle School and Mabelvale Middle School in Math.	ACT Aspire or applicable state assessment	Examined as an average during a 3 year period

Covenant Keepers is committed to the recruitment and retention of a student population that mirrors and reasonably represents our surrounding community. Our demographics are comprised of a current 43% Hispanic student body and approximately a 57% African-American student body. Approximately 10% of our student body is classified as having special needs. Approximately 98% of our students qualify for free/reduced lunch.

Enrollment has increased by 17.12% according to this year's October 1 count versus October 1, 2014.
Black enrollment is 57.31% of our total, which is an increase of 25.64% over last year.
Hispanic enrollment is 42.69% of our total, which is a decrease of -07.35% over last year.

2013-2014 ELL total is 35 Students
2014-2015 ELL total is 43 Students
2015-2016 ELL total is 53 Students

Females	83	49.70%
Males	84	50.30%
Gender - Total	167	100.00%

2015-2016 saw a record-high re-enrollment rate for students returning for a second or third year.

- Attendance data

Covenant Keepers recognizes the importance of regular school attendance and strives for consistently high attendance rates for each student. Absentee situations are promptly identified and addressed to maintain maximum attendance of enrolled students.
Current attendance rate: 97%
2014-2015 attendance rate: 96%
2013-2014 attendance rate: 94%

- Discipline

For the past 3 years as a middle school, the data reflects that our African-American students have incurred the majority of the behavioral infractions in the school (74%). Our Latino population accounted for 26% of our disciplinary infractions.

Our Out-of-School Suspension rate for 2014-2015 was quite high. It is important to understand, however, that the number of suspensions does not represent the number of students suspended through the year, but rather the number of suspensions assigned. In other words, one student who had a bad year may account for several of the suspension actions within that total number.

As stated in previous sections, Covenant Keepers' desire is to help students grow emotionally, behaviorally, and socially as well as academically. In an effort to solve the problem of suspensions and the resulting harms, we are examining solutions that fall within these four broad categories:

1. Phasing out suspensions & promoting creative alternatives
2. Improving data collection & analysis as to alert us to the need for interventions
3. Building the capacity of students, teachers, Dean, and Principal in an effort to diminish behavioral incidents
4. Pushing comprehensive approaches such as our Wrap Around services

A discussion of the achievement of or progress toward the current charter goals with supporting data

Goals in Literacy

1. Meet the growth targets of AMO in literacy annually the school level

   We did not meet our growth target for literacy for the 2013-2014 school year. Because of this, we realized we needed to take a different approach with our students to meet their academic needs, based on the fact that 72% of our students enter at 5th grade level or below in literacy.

During the 2014-2015 school year, we:

- began a more aggressive approach using NWEA to allow students to understand their areas of deficiency
- changed our curriculum
- spent time and resources developing stronger teachers and leaders
- partnered with APSRC due to their expertise in building capacity in small schools and charters.
- ADE's academic distress team visited our school and gave us specific recommendations based on their findings. The leading question was "how do you know your students are moving toward proficiency?"
- Later in the year, ADE evaluated our implementation of their recommendations.
- Roxie Browning met weekly with our leadership team and a leadership coach representative from APSRC.

We are proving every day that change is possible. Our students are proving that they can close the achievement gap over time. We now understand that we have to clearly define success for each individual student and develop multiple interventions and individualized goals, focus intently on those goals, measure and monitor every child frequently, and quickly respond to changing needs.

2. Covenant Keepers will track literacy growth at each grade level and compare our outcomes to similar schools in the Little Rock School District, such as Cloverdale, Mabelvale, Pulaski Heights, based on AMO in literacy.
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

   We have compared growth in literacy at a school level with area schools.

   2013-2014 School Performance: Growth for Literacy

School	All Students
Covenant Keepers Charter School	49.09
Mabelvale Middle School	53.87
Henderson Middle School	44.81
Cloverdale Middle School	45.28

3. NWEA growth data will be tracked in literacy with a goal of increasing the number of students meeting their growth target annually

2013-2014 NWEA Growth—Reading	2014-2015 NWEA Growth—Reading
• 41% of our students met their growth goals for reading (Typically, 50% of students nationwide make typical growth from fall to spring on NWEA MAP assessments)	• 68% of our students met or exceeded their growth goal for reading • Our 6th grade students were in the 96th percentile nationwide for growth in reading • Our 7th and 8th grade students were in the 99th percentile for growth.

During the 2013-2014 school year, we were guided by our external provider ECS to use TLI as well as continuing our use of NWEA MAP. Typically, 50% of students nationwide make typical growth from fall to spring on NWEA MAP assessments, but only 41% of our students met their growth goals for reading.

However, during the 2014-2015 school year, our fall to spring NWEA MAP scores showed unprecedented growth. 68% of our students met or exceeded their growth goal for reading from fall 2014 to spring 2015. Our 6th grade students were in the 96th percentile nationwide for growth in reading, while our 7th and 8th grade students were in the 99th percentile for growth.

We attribute this growth to our support from APSRC, having individual data talks with students, the adoption of Expeditionary Learning as our ELA curriculum, and training teachers in the use of the Learning Continuum so they can individualize their lessons to address student learning gaps.

4. Establish and monitor "Student Learning Profile Logs" for students demonstrating proficiency and borderline students

   - We developed Student Learning Profile Logs and used them to help teachers and students determine progress toward proficiency in literacy.
   - It also allowed teachers to share assessment data with instructional team members to develop a plan for interventions (Plus Time).
   - As we received training from APSRC specialists, they introduced us to the concept of interactive notebooking, and all teachers are now required to implement it in their classes.
   - These notebooks not only track assessment data, but also contain information given directly from the teacher and classwork, reflections, and peer feedback to support student understanding as recorded by the student. These currently serve as our student profile learning logs.

- Documentation of examples of assessments, rubrics, and interactive notebooks:

Goals in Mathematics

Achieve measurable growth, based on tracing the AMO for students as demonstrated by state testing and NWEA MAP testing. Each of the following sub objectives will be considered as indictors for meeting this goal.

5. Develop an initiative "C.O.O.L" to meet AMO targets annually at the school level
   We did not meet our growth target for math for the 2013-2014 school year. Math has been our challenge each year, as 76% of our students are entering at 5th grade level or below, and many of these students are just arriving or have not been with CK over two years.
   - C.O.O.L. (Challenging Our Outstanding Learners) Math is our initiative to provide support for students who are below grade level in math.
   - To keep math aggressively at the forefront, we revamped Plus Time to provide students with reinforcement in basic math skills.
   - All teachers were provided with training in strategies as well as provided an online resource base to support teaching and learning.
   - A computerized RTI program, Skills Navigator, assesses students and provides them with lessons to address grade level deficiencies. This program is directly aligned to MAP assessment scores and will reset with each new assessment.
   - We continue to provide after school tutoring services for students who continually struggle with grade level standards.

6. Track the math growth at each grade level and compare our outcomes to similar schools in the Little Rock School District, such as Cloverdale, Mabelvale, Pulaski Heights, etc.

   We have compared growth in math at a school level with area schools.

   2013-2014 School Performance: Growth for Math

School	All Students
Covenant Keepers Charter School	45.67
Mabelvale Middle School	47.48
Henderson Middle School	39.06
Cloverdale Middle School	33.76

7. Track improvements in mathematics so that in 3 years Covenant Keepers students will be performing at 60% (advanced and proficient) in grades 6-8 on ACTAAP.

   According to our benchmark scores from the 2013-2014 school year, we did not meet our AMOs for math. During the 2014-2015 school year, we participated in the PARCC assessment, and our scores did not show 60% proficiency. Because we did not show proficiency, we continued to track our students' growth through NWEA MAP assessments from fall to spring.

2013-2014 NWEA Growth—Math	2014-2015 NWEA Growth—Math
• 39% of our students met their growth goals (Typically, 50% of students nationwide make typical growth from fall to spring on NWEA MAP assessments)	• 59% of our students met their growth goals • Our 6th grade students were in the 81st percentile nationally for growth • 7th grade students were in the 43rd percentile nationally • our 8th grade students were in the 88th percentile nationally

Our students made unprecedented growth in NWEA during from fall 2014 to spring 2015, with 59% of our students meeting their growth goals, with only 39% meeting their growth goal from fall 2013 to spring 2014. Our 6th grade students were in the 81st percentile nationally for growth, and our 8th grade students were in the 88th percentile. Our 7th grade students were in the 43rd percentile nationally, as the majority of students did not meet their growth goal.

Because we continue to see learning gaps in math, we have established Tier 2 interventions during Plus Time for students who are struggling with basic math facts. APSRC assisted us in looking at our NWEA MAP data to determine what specific math skills were causing students difficulty. Curriculum coaches from APSRC then trained teachers in strategies for reinforcing skills in multiplication, place value, and fractions, and also provided us with resources through Above and Beyond the Core (ABC), Khan Academy, and Skills Navigator. Pre- and post-tests are given in math every two weeks, and data from these assessments are disaggregated, analyzed, and brought to our bi-monthly PLC data team meetings for discussion and action planning. All teachers are required to bring this prepared data to each PLC data team meeting.

During the 2014-2015 school year, we adopted EngageNY as our Common Core-aligned math curriculum school-wide. The detailed lessons and accompanying pacing guide allow teachers to have a structured plan for the year.

8. Establish and monitor "Student Learning Profile Logs" for students demonstrating proficiency and borderline students

We developed Student Learning Profile Logs and used them to help teachers and students determine progress toward proficiency in math. It also allowed teachers to share assessment data with instructional team members to develop a plan for interventions (Plus Time). We also provided after school tutoring through a 21st Century Grant to address deficiencies present in the learning logs. When we noticed that students were lacking in basic mathematical skills, we revamped Plus Time school-wide, providing training to all teachers to address these learning gaps. As we received training from APSRC specialists, they introduce us to the concept of interactive notebooking, and all teachers are now required to implement it in their classes. These notebooks not only track assessment data, but also contain information given directly from the teacher and classwork, reflections, and peer feedback to support student understanding as recorded by the student. These currently serve as our student profile learning logs.

An explanation, with supporting data, of the utilization of approved waivers and how those waivers assist in meeting current charter goals

-6-10-106 School year dates
The extended calendar allows the school to have 10 additional contact days per year so students can have more classroom time. Our students are so far behind, we need to get them back in school as soon as possible after summer break. Our students typically return the last week of July and attend through the end of May or beginning of June.

6-13-108 Length of Directors' Terms
This waiver allows our small school to retain board members beyond five years. Having board members serve for an extended time brings added value to our school as they become intimately familiar with our school's needs.

-6-15-1004, 6-17-401, 6-17-418, 6-17-902, 6-17-919, Arkansas Department of Education Rules Governing Standards for Accreditation 15.0, 15.03, Certified Teachers
A waiver to hire qualified teachers rather than certified teachers provides the school with a larger pool of teachers to choose from who are skilled in their content area. With a larger pool, we have the ability to be more selective and hire teachers who we feel demonstrate a real potential to impact student growth. We often find that teachers who are masters in their content area are more valuable than a teacher who has been trained in pedagogy but may be lacking in content knowledge.

-6-17-203, 6-17-2301 Personnel Policy Committee Members
Allows the school leadership and School Board to adopt policy based on the needs of the students. While certainly taking the needs of the adults into consideration, we are bound by our mission to see to the needs of the students first.

-6-17-302 Waiver From Principal Qualifications and Responsibilities
Allows our school to position the person we feel best able to meet the needs of our students. Having the flexibility to look beyond qualifications opens the field to many more candidates with backgrounds that can truly serve our students' needs. Additionally, having the flexibility to construct Principal responsibilities to match students' needs allows us to go beyond traditional roles and create roles that support our mission.

-6-17-309 Waiver For Certification to Teach Grade or Subject Matter Provides the school with the flexibility to place Highly Qualified Teachers where needed regardless of licensure status giving us a much wider pool of candidates.

-6-17-1001, 6-17-2201, 6-17-2401, Waiver from Minimum Base Salary
Allows us flexibility in creating a salary schedule that fits within our budget limitations without negatively impacting our ability to meet standards.

-6-17-1501, 6-17-1701 Waiver from the Teacher Fair Dismissal Act
Allows the school to dismiss ineffective teachers who are impeding student growth. We are then able to bring in more effective teachers to impact student growth. The urgent needs of our students do not allow us to employ teachers who are not effective.

-6-18-706 Waiver from School Nurse-to-Student Ratio
Allows us to employ a nurse without fear that we will be out of compliance in regard to ratio. Our small budget allows for one nurse; adding an additional nurse would negatively impact student programs.

-6-18-1001, Arkansas Department Of Education Rules Governing Standards For Accreditation 16.01, 16.03, ADE Rules Governing Public School Student Services
Allows us to choose which student services to provide. Without the mandate to employ a counselor, placement specialist, nurse, etc., we are able to use those funds to impact student growth in more direct ways.

-6-20-2208(c)(6), 6-42-101, Arkansas Department Of Education Rules Governing Standards For Accreditation 18.0 Waivers from Gifted and Talented Expenditures Allows us to retain our foundation funding for more direct means of meeting standards and fostering student growth.

-6-25-103, 6-25-104, Arkansas Department Of Education Rules Governing Standards For Accreditation 16.02 Waivers from Media Services and Media Specialist
Allows us to retain our foundation funding for more direct means of meeting standards and fostering student growth.

-ADE Rules Governing Waivers for Substitute Teachers, ADE Rules Governing Parental Notification of an Assignment of a Non-Licensed Teacher to Teach a Class for More than Thirty (30) Consecutive Days Allows us organizational efficiency in eliminating the parental reporting requirement should we find ourselves in a situation with a substitute in a class for more than 30 consecutive days.

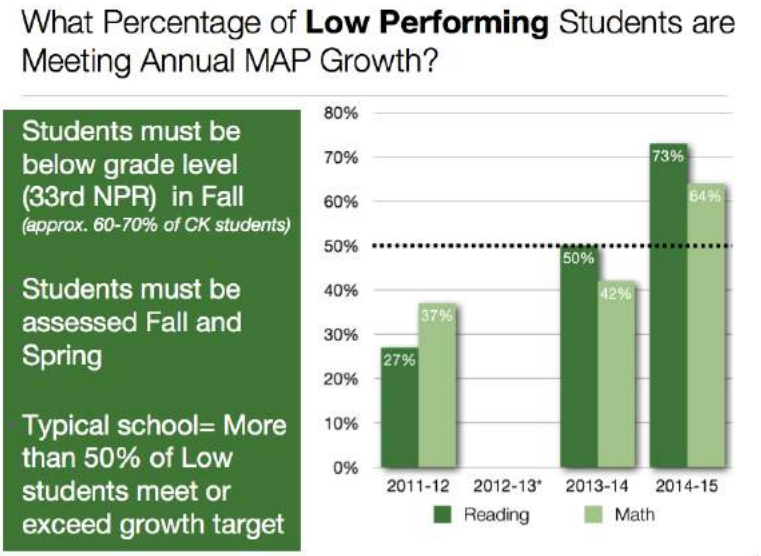
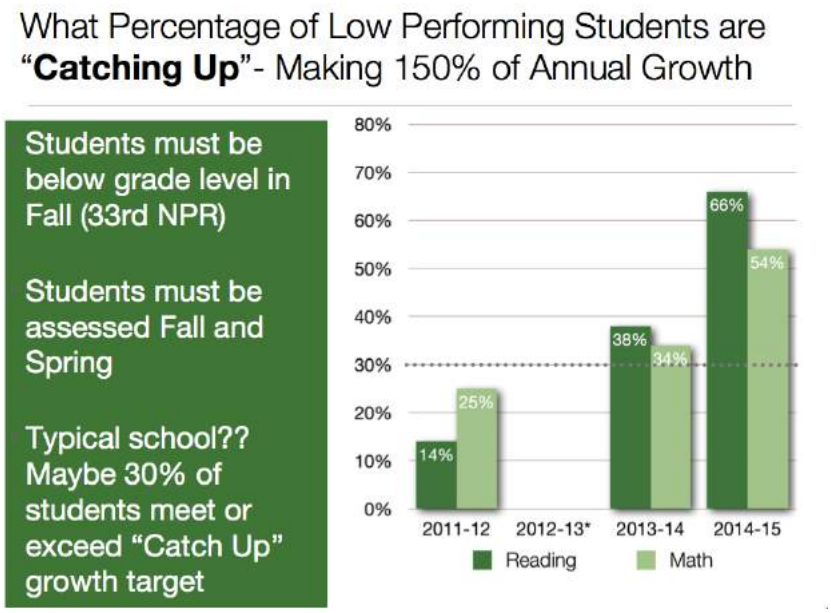
A summary of the overall effectiveness of the charter school





Covenant Keepers focuses on the growth of all students. Because we have taken the time to assist students in developing their own personal growth plan between testing cycles, students have taken responsibility for their own learning. After fall testing, students who score below the 33rd percentile nationally will be given a growth target for the spring that corresponds to 1.5 years of growth. Students who score above the 33rd percentile will have a target of 1 year of growth (typical growth according to NWEA's research). Student goals are not to score higher on the next test, but to grow in a specific skill. For example, a student may say their goal is to improve their reading comprehension of an informational text, as it is something they struggle with on assessments and in the classroom. Students must have a plan that accompanies their goal, like reading and summarizing an informational text on a weekly basis. Teachers assist students in the development of their goals and plans to insure they are rigorous but attainable.

Another reason we have seen growth in our students is due to our change in curriculum between the 2013-2014 and 2014-2015 school year. Covenant Keepers adopted Engage New York for mathematics and Expeditionary Learning for ELA, both of which are from the state of New York and are Common Core aligned to match the rigor required by the state of Arkansas. These curricula are research based and tested on schools that mirror our student population. The modules of instruction are paced appropriately to allow for intervention as necessary. Teachers use the first 45 minutes of class to teach the lesson built into the curriculum, and the last 35 minutes for remediation and interventions when necessary.

Helping students Thrive:
Because we are seeking out such a high needs population, we have to ensure students are able to thrive in our environment. To help with this, Covenant Keepers has implemented interventions such as:

- Plus Time
- Tutoring
- Therapist/Counselors: Life Strategies
- Student Empowerment Groups----GEMS
- Guest speakers

Along with Incentives and Motivators:

- Express Yo' Self
- Fall Fest
- Junior Achievement
- Volunteering in the Community
- Sports
- Learning trips

The 2015-2016 school year has been, by far, the year of greatest progress among teachers and leaders at Covenant Keepers. Our team has reached a level of understanding of the needs of our stakeholders and how to best fill those needs that finally allows us to focus on the carrying out of effectual plans rather than a continual cycle of revamping ineffective plans. Our strength this year has come from finally aligning ourselves with the right partners, building a strong team, and embracing the growth mindset that is helping us build students and adults based on data and awareness of our needs.

2015-2016 has brought CK and its teachers to new levels of professionalism and best practices. Our teachers started a grass-roots effort to incorporate a lesson plan schema school-wide based on brain research along with Interactive Notebooks for all students in all classes. The results have been a more engaged student body than we have ever seen at CK. We sought and received a grant from an outside donor to assist with the purchase and upgrade of our technology. We also offer teaching and learning alternatives through computer-aided websites for remediation, reinforcement, and research such as Khan Academy, Skills Navigator, Reading

Plus, Math.com, IXL Math, quarterly NWEA Testing, etc.

Our success in turning around at-risk students has led us to desire expanding our network of student services to allow area agencies to “Wrap Around” our students and provide much-needed support. We have evidence of success in growing students through various data sets, through the accounts of our service providers, by referrals from traditional public schools, from the support of community businesses, etc. It’s humbling to have other schools entrust us to make a difference as they refer families to enroll in our charter school. We plan to build on what we have learned to further develop Covenant Keepers and to create an innovative program for unprecedented student support within a school-based Wrap Around model.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:
- Discuss the program for LEP students, including methods to assess the progress made by students. Provide the qualifications of those who teach LEP students.
- Discuss the methods used by faculty and staff to effectively communicate with LEP students and their families.

Applicant Response:
Upon enrollment at Covenant Keepers, all parents complete a Home Language Survey. If any answer on the survey points to a language other than English being spoken at home, the student is given the LAS Links placement assessment to determine their eligibility for ELL services.

The language proficiency assessment committee (LPAC) develops and approves a plan for each individual student receiving ELL services based on their state test scores, grades, and teacher input from the previous school year.

During the month of September, LEP plans are given to the each student's family and explained by the ELL Coordinator with the assistance of an interpreter. Parents and students are given the opportunity to ask questions about their plan for the year.

Students are assessed in Reading and Language 3 times a year using the NWEA MAP assessment, and these scores are used to track student progress throughout the year. Level 1 and Level 2 students receive interventions 4 days a week in which the ELL Coordinator, who has an ESL endorsement, works with and assesses students in the areas of speaking, listening, reading, and writing throughout the school year. Writing samples are kept in their files and compared.

Due to the demographic makeup of our school, 100% of our teachers teach LEP students. All teachers receive at least 6 hours of ELL training each year, as well as ongoing individualized support from the ELL coordinator.

Every memo and text that is sent home to families is written in English and Spanish. Our front office assistant is bilingual and communicates via phone call and in person to parents regarding all school matters. During teacher and parent meetings, if the parent needs an interpreter, our front office assistant is present.

Remaining Concerns: It is unclear how the charter communicates with parents and students when the Spanish-speaking staff member is not available.

Part B: Lottery Procedures
Applicants must also describe the random, anonymous lottery selection process.

Evaluation Criteria:
- A clear, transparent, and public process for, and a guarantee of, an annual random, anonymous lottery process should there be more student applications than can be accommodated under the terms of the charter; and
- The method by which parents will be notified of each child's selection for the school or placement on the waiting list.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:

- Explain the "approved lottery preferences."
- Confirm that the names of all students wanting admission would be drawn during the lottery and that the "randomly-ordered waiting list" would be the order in which the names are drawn.
- Explain how and when parents/students will be notified of their placement status.
- Confirm that no new students can be enrolled for the next school year until after April 1.

Applicant Response:
To date, we have not needed to hold a lottery. When the time comes that we do need to, we have procedures in place; but at this time there is no need to institute a lottery process.

The confirmed lottery preferences would be any incoming students that currently have a sibling enrolled at CK. The names of all students seeking admission would be drawn during the lottery, and the remaining students would be placed on the waiting list according to the random order in which they are drawn.

The names of all students seeking admission would be drawn during the lottery and the randomly ordered waiting list would be the order in which the names are drawn.

All parents/students will be notified of admission no later than the last week in March.

New students will not be able to enroll until after April 1st once all notifications have been sent.

Remaining Concerns: The method to notify parents of the lottery results was not explained.

Part C: Teacher Retention
Applicants are requested to compile and evaluate teacher retention data.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A complete table with data about teachers who do not return;
- Reasons that can be substantiated for teachers who leave the charter; and
- Current practices and future plans to retain teachers.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:

- Revise the response and discuss a 47.22% rate of teacher turnover over the last three full school years (2012-2013, 2013-2014, 2014-2015).
- Evaluate the current initiatives to improve teacher satisfaction in light of the departure of 27.27% of the charter's teachers since the beginning of the school year in August 2015.

Applicant Response:
Our original application states that Covenant Keepers has averaged a 24.27% rate of teachers departing over the last four years. This number reflects the number of teachers who have left during the course of the year. The average number of teachers who have left the school at any point is 47.22% (during the year or at year-end).

As stated in the original application, teaching at Covenant Keepers is not for everyone. It has been our experience that the people who are successful at Covenant Keepers share the CK vision and our passion for children. Teachers who never catch the vision or do not share our passion for serving at-risk students simply cannot be effective in our environment. These teachers either resign or are non-renewed.

To ensure the Covenant Keepers faculty is getting the support they need, we are aggressively working to resolve any classroom issues they may incur. We have implemented a support cycle that gives our faculty an advisor that will support them weekly in various areas such as classroom management, discipline, E-school, lesson planning/GANAG, data, ELL, and/or technology. Through this support cycle, we are able to help provide the necessary professional development.

We also have a mentee support program where novice teachers and support staff are paired with members of the admin team to help build "a teacher support culture."

As a leadership team, we meet one-on-one with 100% of our faculty at least once a quarter to allow them time to reflect on their strengths, weakness, and needs. This again enables us to provide the necessary professional development for our staff.

Arkansas Public School Resource Center's Above and Beyond the Core Instructional Coach meets with the Covenant Keepers faculty weekly for professional development in the area of instruction. The coach visits each classroom to provide the necessary feedback when meeting with teachers individually and provides individualized support to every teacher.

Based on our teacher satisfaction survey, 80% of our teachers are satisfied with support system since the beginning of the school year. Comments from teachers who were not completely satisfied generally stated that the support was unnecessary or excessive.

Remaining Concerns: It does not seem that the charter is making a concerted effort to recruit and retain Spanish-speaking, bilingual teachers.

SECTION 4: DATA AND BEST PRACTICES

Part A: Test Data
Applicants are requested to review the testing data for the charter and the resident district and describe the ways in which the data support the achievement of the charter's current academic goals.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A thoughtful narrative describing the ways in which the testing data support the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current academic goals.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:

- Describe the ways in which the testing data support the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current approved academic goals.
- Explain how the charter's teaching staff will likely acclimate to the addition of duties required for the Wrap Around Program, especially the placement procedures.
- Provide a timeline for the implementation of the Wrap Around Program.
- Confirm that teachers will hold seats on the committees for students in the Wrap Around Program.

Applicant Response:
Covenant Keepers is a data driven environment. We collect data that impacts every aspect of our service delivery, especially around students and their achievement.

We collect classroom data through "Show What You Know" assessments. We use this data to target student weaknesses within the curriculum module, which allows teachers to intervene as necessary. For example, students take a pre-assessment (3 to 4 questions) at the beginning of class on a new skill within a standard. The teacher grades the assessment together with the class, gives immediate feedback, and allows students to give feedback to the teacher on the standard. At the end of the assessment, students rate themselves on how well they did on the assessment, on a scale from novice to expert. The next few days, the students are again given an assessment on that specific skill, and the same process of testing, grading, and feedback happens each day. This does not get in the way of the curriculum due to English and Math classes being double blocked. As the teacher records and analyzes the assessment data for the week, he or she determines whether students need additional interventions or a different whole-class approach to the skill. Teachers have seen improvements using this assessment method.

At the beginning of each instructional unit in Math and English, students are given a pre-test, and at the end of each unit, students are given a post-test, as recommended by ADE's Academic Distress Team. The pre-test allows teachers to see student abilities on the standards for the upcoming unit, and allows teachers to plan as necessary based on the test results. Post-tests are used to assess students.

Regardless of content area, all teachers are required to assess frequently on standards within their instructional unit and bring assessment data to our bi-monthly PLC data team meetings. During these meetings, teachers discuss student achievement on the standards level, and then determine interventions based on test results. Teachers also share instructional methods with each other and adjust their lesson plans based on student assessment scores. This process allows teachers to understand what students' needs are and how to go into a remediation support cycle, which is important, because students arrive at CK performing years below grade level.

After a student enrolls at Covenant Keepers, they are given an NWEA MAP Survey assessment in Reading and Math to determine their starting point and to allow the teachers to see a snapshot of the student's academic strengths and needs. Three times per year, the student body participates in NWEA MAP assessments. The school tracks student progress throughout the school year and throughout their education at Covenant Keepers.

Because the focus is on growth, every student receives their own personalized growth goal based on his or her test score in the fall. NWEA's research team determines the goal for typical growth, but for our students who are at the 33rd percentile nationally or below, their goal is to grow 1.5 years in one year. Last year, 73% of our lowest performing students at or below the 33rd percentile nationally met their growth goal for Reading, and 64% of our lowest performing students met their growth goal for Math. However, 66% of our lowest performing students exceeded their growth goal for reading, making gains equal to 1.5 years of growth, with 54% of students making 1.5 years of growth for math.

The expectation is that 50% of students at a typical school will meet or exceed annual growth goals. 68% percent of Covenant Keepers students met or exceeded typically Fall to Spring growth targets in Reading, and 59% of Covenant Keepers students met or exceeded typical growth in Math. This was a great improvement from the 2013-2014 school year, which was 41% in reading and 39% in math.

Covenant Keepers displays all NWEA scores on a wall within the data room on campus, which groups the students by grade level and subject area. This wall allows us to keep student achievement at the forefront, and directs our attention to student growth or decline between testing cycles, working as a springboard for action planning.

The state assessment scores are used as another data piece as we look at the trajectory of our student's achievement. It is important to remember that the majority of our students come to Covenant Keepers grade levels behind in math and literacy. However, they are making substantial growth on the NWEA MAP assessments. Growth does not always translate to proficiency on the state assessment, but our goal is to grow students as much as we can while they are attending Covenant Keepers. In analyzing PARCC data scores and interviewing our students, we identified a need for one-to-one technology, and we wrote a grant to put that technology in students' hands. We are starting the implementation of that effort this semester.

In regard to the Wrap Around Program, teachers will be involved with student referrals, recommendations, and feedback. Beyond that, teachers will have no further obligations outside of typical student interactions and the building of constrictive relationships and support within their classrooms. The primary source of support and direction for this program will come from our Resource Coordinator, Behavioral Health managers, and CK Leadership Support Team(s). Placements are determined based on chronic disciplinary issues, student or family trauma, emotional or behavioral disabilities, and family need within the community and school.

The preliminary stages of implementation of the Wrap Around program began in October 2015. With 98% free and reduced lunch, a small population of business sponsors was engaged to provide weekend food backpacks for students and families. Our October Community Fest provided the catalyst to begin the next level of Wrap Around planning and development.

During November, an extensive strategy was developed to bring in more partnerships with community organizations and leaders. The emerging concept focused on students' behavioral health and family needs. A new full-time Resource Coordinator was employed to move the Wrap Around from concept to reality.

In December 2015, key resources were leveraged to systemize student supports as they relate to disciplinary, behavioral needs, and family disparities. New Beginnings joined the program in December 2015. January brought several new partnerships into the program including: DHS; City of Little Rock; Pulaski Tech; AR Dept. of Health; Pulaski Co. Juvenile; Salvation Army; Arkansas Rice Depot; W.O.W. Fitness; Brandon House; Our House; Mosaic Church; Governor's Office; Upper Baseline Neighborhood; Dental- Dr. Lillian Prado; Music Support- Tara Jackson.

Currently, work has shifted to the systemization of the program. The model is quickly developing, and the goal is to have all components in place with all policies and procedures adopted by the end of June 2016.

Teachers will hold seats on the committees for students in the Wrap Around Program.

Remaining Concerns: It remains unclear how long the wrap-around support partners have agreed to supply assistance to the students at Covenant Keepers and exactly what those supports mean in the everyday lives of the students.

Part B: Discipline and Attendance Data
Applicants are requested to review the discipline and attendance data for the charter and the resident district and describe the ways in which the charter improves student behavior and attendance.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A thoughtful narrative, supported by the data, describing the ways in which the charter improves student behavior and attendance;
- Thorough explanation of disproportionate representative by subgroups, if any; and
- Complete information in response to charter-specific prompts, if any.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:

- Discuss the effectiveness of the new system implemented in 2014-2015 designed to allow "students to reflect and adjust behavioral decisions before consequences become serious, effectively diminishing occurrences of more significant infractions" in light of the 109 in-school suspensions and 122 out-of-school suspensions that year.
- Explain how the numbers of out-of-school and in-school suspensions impact student achievement.
- Explain when Leonard Blocker was hired as principal of the school.
- Provide an example of how teachers are being trained to deal with classroom discipline/behavior problems in light of the research sited in this section.
- Provide an example of an APA report for a student who may have been placed in ISS one or more times during the 2014-2015 school year.

Applicant Response:
Analysis of the 2014-2015 discipline data reveals that the 122 out-of-school suspensions were assigned to a total of 56 students. 37 of those 56 students were assigned 103 of the 122 suspensions; they were "repeat offenders". Similarly, the 109 in-school suspensions reflect consequences for a total of 63 students; 46 repeat offenders.

In other words, 122 incidents of out-of-school suspension reflect consequences for 56 students. 109 in-school-suspensions reflect consequences for 63 students.

In-school and out-of-school suspensions, of course, have the immediate, negative impact of lost instructional time for the student and therefore, achievement. Ultimately, however, we find that most students' misbehavior does taper off, often dramatically, which yields a positive impact on his or her achievement. Additionally, students who repeatedly have behavior issues are flagged for additional attention whether that is the assignment of an adult mentor or referral to the Wrap Around program.

Another important way that OSS and ISS impact school culture, and ultimately achievement, is that the removal a misbehaving student from class will (1) have a deterrent effect on other students and (2) yield a more productive learning environment for students.

Mr. Blocker was hired on February 11, 2015. He was moved into the principal role on October 16, 2015.

We have come to the realization that our population "speaks a different language" than most of their teachers and school leaders; not as it relates to English or Spanish, but the population we serve has a disposition, culture, community, and socioeconomic status that speaks louder than their native language. In support of our students' circumstances, we have implemented weekly, specialized training for our faculty to understand the nuances of our population. This allows the Covenant Keepers team to take a more objective and individualized approach in managing needs, discipline, and idiosyncrasies of the population we serve.

Our team has studied the research of Ruby Payne (A Framework for Understanding Poverty) and Eric Jensen (Teaching with Poverty in Mind) and the teacher/student relationship guidance of Rita Pierson ("Every Kid Needs a Champion").

Remaining Concerns:

- The applicant did not discuss the effectiveness of the new system implemented in 2014-2015 designed to allow "students to reflect and adjust behavioral decisions before consequences become serious, effectively diminishing occurrences of more significant infractions" as requested.
- It remains unclear what the accumulation of points mean to the daily life of a student.

- It remains unclear that the charter provides dedicated professional development to help teachers deal with students' behavior in the classroom.

Blocker & Coach
Behavior/Discipline System—items to be covered:

- Coach/Blocker will be in the classrooms more to help with relationship-building/connecting/engaging the students.
- Monthly/bi-monthly assemblies to hear from the student body. We have a dormant student leadership council. Nominees have been turned in, and we want to empower these students and foster peer-to-peer leaderships. These assemblies will also be for the leadership/teachers to report out to the students.
- Inspirational messages from community leaders to figure out what would be the best day to do this.
- Reminder: Teachers should have fast-paced engaging lessons prepared for the students. Submit on time each Monday morning.
- No student will be put out of class- they will be picked up from class after the following steps have been taken:
  -warning given to student
  -student has been redirected/isolated
  -student has had a one-on-one conversation with the teacher and make that connection
  -do not embarrass the student- this escalates the situation- no need to put the kid on blast.
  After you have done all of the above, text Coach/Blocker on a private thread to request that they be picked up from class. They will be taken to Blocker's office/Coach's office. In Blocker's room, they will complete some worksheets regarding their behavior. Send an email with a description of what happened to ckdiscipline@arkansas.gov. Coach will assign the points/consequences. Coach/Blocker have the discretion to place the student back in your class. Complete the behavior log for you to keep documentation of incidents.
  You don't have to call mom every single time on the same issue every day.
- Teacher:Student—One to One Meetings
  If you notice a disconnect between you and a student, there needs to be a mandatory meeting between Blocker, yourself, and the student. There has been a 100% success rate with these meetings. It is your responsibility to schedule this one to one meeting with Blocker and the student.
- Document everything. Be sure you are able to speak to everything.

Part A: Current Performance Goals
Applicants are requested to evaluate the progress toward achieving each of the charter's current student academic performance goals and provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the progress.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:
- A narrative description of the charter's progress toward achieving each goal; and
- Supporting data that documents the charter's progress in achieving each goal.

Fully Responsive

Part B: New Performance Goals
Applicants are required to confirm their understanding that achieving all goals and/or objectives set by the state, during the period of renewal, is expected and to develop other student academic achievement performance goals for the renewal contract period.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:
- A confirmation that the charter is expected to achieve all goals and/or objectives set by the state; and
- For other student academic performance goals -
    - Measureable student academic performance goals;
    - The specific tool that will be used to measure academic performance for each goal;
    - The level of performance that will demonstrate success; and
    - The timeframe for achieving each goal.

Fully Responsive

Comments and Additional Questions:
- Explain how the new performance goals ensure rigor and high expectations for student performance.
- Explain how Skills Navigator fits within the school's RTI process.

Applicant Response:
Our new performance goals state that we will score 3% higher in ELA and math on state tests than Cloverdale and Mabelvale. These goals are rigorous because they are based on proficiency, and even though our main focus is on growth, we want to ensure that we are continually moving students toward proficiency.

As we want to see our Wrap Around program grow and continue to provide support to students to encourage their development, we will continue to develop partnerships and aim for more partnerships each year. These partnerships and the resulting benefits of the program will serve to elevate expectations of students as we work to remove barriers and obstacles to student success.

With NWEA testing, student growth is addressed through individualized goals. 70% of our students below grade level will be expected to grow a year and a half within one school year, which is significantly above the national average of 50% of students showing growth. However, we realize that students who have needs that must be addressed will have different goals, such as attendance and staying enrolled at Covenant Keepers.

Skills Navigator, as a Tier II intervention, evaluates where students are on a given Common Core-aligned skill and then provides direct links to thousands of curated online educational resources to help remediate the student in that skill area. This system is recognized by the National Center for Intense Intervention as a progress-monitoring tool. These can be accessed at any time, even at the student's home.

Remaining Concerns: The performance goals may not demonstrate high expectations for students.

SECTION 6: FINANCE

Applicants are requested to discuss corrective actions for any findings in the most recent financial audit reports prepared during the current contractual period.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include the following:

- Each finding from the financial audit reports or a statement that there were no findings;
- A statement for each finding to indicate if it had been noted in prior year audits;
- Corrective actions take to rectify each issue; and
- The date by which each issue was or will be corrected.

Comments and Additional Questions:

- Explain the process followed to ensure that the board considers and takes required action on changes in salary.

Applicant Response:
Each year prior to the start of the school year, the CK board reviews all salaries for the upcoming school year. All salaries are reviewed and approved prior to any employees returning for the new school year. This includes any salaries changes via the salary schedule.

SECTION 7: WAIVERS

Applicants are requested to review the current waivers approved for the charter and to identify any changes requested in the charter's waivers from Title 6 of Arkansas Code Annotated, State Board of Education Rules and Regulations, and/or the Standards for Accreditation.

Part A: New Waiver Requests
Applicants are requested to identify any additional law and rule that the authorizer is requested to waive.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A list of each law and rule that the charter would like to have waived; and
- A rationale for each waiver request or a statement saying that no new waivers are requested.

See Legal Comments.

Part B: Waivers to Be Rescinded
Applicants are requested to identify any waiver that is no longer needed.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:

- An itemized list of each current waiver the charter would like to have rescinded; and
- A rationale for each request or a statement saying that the charter wishes to maintain all currently approved waivers.

See Legal Comments.

SECTION 8: REQUESTED AMENDMENTS

Applicants are requested to identify and explain amendment requests.

Evaluation Criteria:
A response that is fully responsive will include:

- A list of any requested charter amendments or a statement that no amendments are being requested;

- A rationale for each amendment requested; and
- A budget, showing that the charter will be financially viable, if there is an amendment request to change grade levels, the enrollment cap, the location of a campus, and/or an additional campus.

ADE Legal Review of Waivers Requested

Covenant Keepers
2015 Open-Enrollment Renewal Application

New Waivers Requests

1. Planning Time

ARK. CODE ANN. § 6-17-114

Covenant Keepers requests this waiver to have flexibility to, as needed, provide its teachers with the required planning time during their regularly scheduled hours of work, but not during the student instructional day (i.e. during a time range of 4:00-5:00). Our teachers do an exceptional amount of collaborative data analysis and planning; having planning time together after dismissal would align well with this practice and allow for much more comprehensive collaboration.

Legal Comments: None

2. Duty Free Lunch

ARK. CODE ANN. § 6-17-111

Covenant Keepers requests a waiver from this statute to provide flexibility in making assignments for duty-free lunches. Although we will continue to provide at least 150 minutes of duty-free lunch per week, we request greater flexibility in planning the lunchtime on a daily basis.

Legal Comments: None

3. School Boards

ARK. CODE ANN. § 6-13-619(c) and (d) (restrictions concerning board members who need to attend meetings electronically instead of in person)

Covenant Keepers requests flexibility from this statutory provision to allow for those occasions when board members are only available to participate by telephone or electronic communication.

ARK. CODE ANN. § 6-13-615, 616, 621, 628, and 630-634 (sections of the school board portion of the Code that are not applicable to open-enrollment public charter schools)

Covenant Keepers seeks exemptions from these portions of the Education Code to the extent that they govern school board operations. CK is requesting this waiver from these statutes, which are on their face applicable only to school districts, to ensure that there is no confusion as to the applicability of the statutes to the governance of CK's charter.

Legal Comments: None

4. School Elections

ARK. CODE ANN. §6-14-101 et seq. (provisions concerning school district board elections, which are not applicable to open-enrollment public charter schools)

CK seeks exemptions from these portions of the Education Code to the extent that they govern school board operations. CK is requesting this waiver from these statutes, which are on their face applicable only to school districts, to ensure that there is no confusion as to the applicability of the statues to the governance of CK's charter.

Section 1 – General Description of the Charter School's Progress and Desegregation Analysis

Part A: Charter School Progress

Provide a narrative about the successes of the charter during the current contractual period.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

A New Beginning, 2013-2014

With our charter's renewal in the spring of 2013 and the removal of our high school, we set out to refocus our efforts on our middle school (6^{th}-8^{th} grades). We quickly discovered that concentrating on middle school was simply the best decision we could have made. We began to move toward what works for our students and teachers. It truly allowed us to focus our efforts on teaching and learning. We researched: best practices; educational trends; analyzing data to drive decisions; assisting teachers with their commitment to rigor; and professional development aligned to our students' and teachers' needs. We recommitted ourselves to supporting teachers in their efforts. Stephen Covey said it best…"No involvement, no commitment!"

Our first year as a middle school proved to be quite challenging as we were faced with many unavoidable obstacles. The move to 5615 Geyer Springs Road presented us with a major problem in student recruitment. Despite our efforts in making parents and the community aware of our move, many people thought that our vacated building at 8300 Geyer Springs Road meant that our school was no longer in existence. Many parents called, and the phone number was no longer in service due to missteps from the phone service provider, so we used social media, radio stations, commercials, etc. to promote our new location. We were forced to start school a little late because of a lack of Internet connections and the addition of a T1 line for telephone service. School opened on August 11, 2013 with 65 students; approximately 40 were returning students. We ended the 2013-2014 school year with an ADM of 171.

We call our first year as a middle school the "restart" year. During this challenging year, we took the time to re-examine and re-evaluate our areas of setbacks in order to rebuild. The late spring and summer of 2013 was committed to reconstituting our school model with a new leadership team and several new teachers. There was an intense needs analysis of many components of our school. Decisions had to be made to support School Improvement and simultaneously align with the needs of our students. We looked closely at teacher support systems that would help teachers maintain rigor within the classroom. We researched curricula that would support Common Core State Standards while still assessing for Benchmarks. We searched diligently for teachers who demonstrated a heart for our mission. We looked at External Providers; we wanted a team of professionals who could provide resources such as curriculum development, researched-based professional development that matched the needs of our teachers, technology enhancements, legal support, etc. We reached out to Arkansas Public School Resource Center, as we were confident in their expertise and ability to help us turn around quickly. To our disappointment, APSRC did not have the capacity to take us on that summer, as they were over-extended serving other Priority Schools at the time.

Our second choice was to contract with ECS (Educational Consultant Services). This team offered a plethora of collective experience in leadership development, math and literacy support, and teacher development. Their plan for us was to concentrate on equipping our teachers with effective lesson planning through Marzano's High Yield Strategies and developing a data wall that would reflect student's progress toward proficiency. With their recommendation, we utilized TLI to assist with developing assessments according to the frameworks, which helped us track student learning and areas of need.

Because our student needs were so great the first year (with over 70% of our students being new to Covenant Keepers), we established relationships with middle schools in our area. We sought out assistance in acquiring student histories within multiple areas of concern such as 504 plans, special education records, LPAC plans, students assigned to mental health facilities, alternative learning placements, etc. We embraced our challenges, and our enrollment continued to grow. Our fiscal capacity, however, would not allow for the continued growth as we reached the tipping point of student/teacher ratios.

The Setting Sail Year, 2014-2015

We returned to school in the summer of 2014 with a renewed sense of direction. We were fortunate to finally be able to work with APSRC as our External Provider. Their particular model focused on leadership development and instructional support for teachers. As we set sail, Susan Owens, APSRC's Instructional Coach, worked diligently with our teachers during our two-week summer boot camp to demonstrate the "new" CCSS rigor, effective lesson planning (Jane Pollock's GANAG), and researched-backed Interactive Notebooking. These instructional tools set a momentum that brought undeniable success to each classroom. Our teachers embraced this instructional model, and we continued to see the growth our students were making towards proficiency. Each time our students took the quarterly NWEA assessment, we saw the impact that instructional strategies had in moving our students toward grade-level.

A major development that year was our move to regularly scheduled classroom assessments designed to provide teachers with the data necessary to make informed decisions about deficiencies and areas for re-teaching or enrichment on the student level. During weekly PLCs, teachers were held accountable for sharing their data. Additionally, each teacher presented data to leadership, shared data during parent conferences, and discussed data with their students during class to provide feedback and awareness of progress.

Susan Owens worked closely with our teachers twice monthly to ensure curriculum pacing and assessments were on track. Equally important, our literacy coach, Laurette Whipps, implemented Expeditionary Learning and EngageNY for math and literacy to support Common Core Standards and PARCC readiness. These curricula provided adjustable lesson plans, modules, pacing guides, assessments, and other resources to guide teaching and learning.

Thanks to the help of APSRC's leadership coaches, we began to change our instructional team into a professional learning community (PLC). The definition of a PLC, as taken from Solution Tree's website is: "An ongoing process in which educators work collaboratively in recurring cycles of collective inquiry and action research to achieve better results for the students they serve. Professional learning communities operate under the assumption that the key to improved learning for students is continuous job-embedded learning for educators."

Without formative assessment, a PLC cannot be effective. At each PLC data team meeting, teachers brought disaggregated data from current formative assessments to discuss student progress and for the purpose of making data-driven decisions. Starting out, our focus was on assessing literacy standards in each class (with the exception of math class where math standards were assessed). During data team meetings, our instructional team members presented data from assessments on literacy standards, discussed best practices for teaching literacy within different content areas, and determined next steps for students who were in need of additional support.

Growth Mindset

We were honored for State Representative Bill Gossage to serve as our Leadership Coach and guide us in a book study on Good to Great by Jim Collins. The principles within this book set a momentum for change among our leadership members. Mr. Gossage encouraged us to, "keep everything simple and clear," and he helped us nail our "Hedgehog Concept"!

It was during that book study that we began to face some brutal facts. 72% of our 6th-8th grade students arrive at Covenant Keepers at 5th grade level or below in reading; the majority being on 3rd or 4th grade level. 76% of 6th-8th grade students arrive at Covenant Keepers at 5th grade level or below in Math, the majority being on 4th grade level. As we analyzed our NWEA interim assessments and reconciled that data with the principles we learned from the book, we began to experience a paradigm shift. Taking a hard look at how far behind students are when they come to us, and the amount of growth they achieve while they are with us, we began to realize that, as we learned from Good to Great, our commodity, our "hedgehog" (the intersection of what we are passionate about, what we are best at, and what we offer the community) is student growth—in both the academic and personal sense. We began to celebrate our students' incredible progress as we realized that our students are not likely to grow five grade levels in one year to become "proficient", but they can certainly grow from reading on a third grade level to reading on a fifth grade level. For an eighth grader, this is true progress. It was simply refreshing to embrace this "Growth Mindset".

This set a momentum for our teachers, students, and staff. We are deeply passionate about helping underserved families in the SW Little Rock community, as we have strategically placed ourselves in this area to provide families with school choice. We are the best at educating students who have entered our school at least 4-5 grades levels behind. Independent data analysis by statisticians with the Office of Education Policy has shown when students remain with us for 3 years, they show higher than expected growth.

We are driven by our "economic engine", which involves writing a prescription for every child enrolled in our charter school. This direction starts upon enrollment. During intimate meetings with parents and newly enrolled students, many areas of concern are discussed to support the student from the onset. These meetings have proven incredibly beneficial in pinpointing student needs and learning deficiencies, or simply finding ways for students to continue to grow at advanced levels. Parents find these meetings to be innovative, as no school has ever invested that kind of time to focus on their student as an individual in the past.

Individual growth is spotlighted by way of data chats with our students. They are often surprised and overjoyed to see their progress corroborated on paper. The culture of growth has created the yearning for students to learn as they begin to take pride in their development, often for the first time. They have acquired an appreciation for time set aside to dialogue with their teacher about their growth goals and their plan for working hard to meet those growth goals every quarter.

We do not leave the aspiration for growth solely to our students; we involve our parents, as we feel that they must take on a certain degree of accountability in helping their students meet growth goals. Parents are called to student led conferences where students explain their scores to parents and describe areas of weakness that require their attention. Our parents have applauded the conferences we have scheduled to ensure their child succeeds.

As we move toward renewal, we often contemplate our presentation to the Charter Authorizing Panel and the State Board of Education in the spring of 2015 where our work was validated with cautions to remain on track as we move away from academic distress. As was mentioned by the SBE, "it feels right," and "keep up the good work" as they are looking for continued growth.

The Come Back Year- 2015-2016

The 2015-2016 school year has been, by far, the year of greatest progress among teachers and leaders at Covenant Keepers. Our team has reached a level of understanding of the needs of our stakeholders and how to best fill those needs that finally allows us to focus on the carrying out of effectual plans rather than a continual cycle of revamping ineffective plans. Our strength this year has come from finally aligning ourselves with the right partners, building a strong team, and embracing the growth mindset that is helping us build students and adults based on data and awareness of our needs.

2015-2016 has brought CK and its teachers to new levels of professionalism and best practices. Our teachers started a grass-roots effort to incorporate a lesson plan schema school-wide based on brain research along with Interactive Notebooks for all students in all classes. The results have been a more engaged student body than we have ever seen at CK. We also offer teaching and learning alternatives through computer-aided websites for remediation, reinforcement, and research such as Khan Academy, Skills Navigator, Reading Plus, Math.com, IXL Math, quarterly NWEA Testing, etc.

Our success in turning around at-risk students has led us to desire expanding our network of student services to allow area agencies to "Wrap Around" our students and provide much-needed support. We have evidence of success in growing students through various data sets, through the accounts of our service providers, by referrals from traditional public schools, from the support of community businesses, etc. It's humbling to have other schools entrust us to make a difference as they refer families to enroll in our charter school. We plan to build on what we have learned to further develop Covenant Keepers and to create an innovative program for unprecedented student support within a school-based Wrap Around model.

Part B: Desegregation Analysis

Describe the impact, both current and potential, of the public charter school on the efforts of affected public school district(s) to comply with court orders and statutory obligations to create and maintain a unitary system of desegregated public schools.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font.

Covenant Keepers Charter School (Covenant Keepers) is applying for the renewal of its current charter. Covenant Keepers expects to obtain most of its students from within the boundaries of the Little Rock School District (LRSD), as well as students who formerly attended private schools and home schools. This analysis is provided to inform the decision making of the charter authorizer with regard to the effect, if any, that the proposed charter renewal would have on the efforts of LRSD to comply with court orders and statutory obligations to create and maintain a unitary system of desegregated public schools.

I. The Status of Pulaski County Desegregation Litigation

Covenant Keepers is providing this desegregation analysis in accordance with Ark. Code Ann. §6-23-106 to review the potential impact that its charter renewal would have upon the efforts of LRSD to comply with court orders and statutory obligations to create and maintain a unitary system of desegregated public schools. In conducting its review, Covenant Keepers has substantiated that LRSD has been declared unitary in all respects of its school operations. The Pulaski County desegregation litigation was first filed in 1982. Little Rock School District, et al v. Pulaski County Special School District, et. a.l, Case No. 4:82:cv-00866-DPM. In 1989, the parties entered into a settlement agreement (the "1989 Settlement Agreement") under which the Arkansas Department of Education, the three Pulaski County school districts, and the intervenors agreed to the terms of state funding for desegregation obligations. LRSD successfully completed its desegregation efforts in 2007 and was declared fully unitary by the federal court in 2007. Little Rock School District v. Pulaski County Special School District, Case No. 4:82-cv-0866 (E.D. Ark.), Order filed February 23, 2007. In 2010, LRSD filed a motion to enforce the 1989 Settlement Agreement. The motion contended that operation of open-enrollment public charter schools within Pulaski County interfered with the "M-M Stipulation" and the "Magnet Stipulation." On January 17, 2013, Judge D.P. Marshall Jr. denied LRSD's motion, stating:

> "The cumulative effect of open enrollment charter schools in Pulaski County on the stipulation magnet schools and M-to-M transfers has not, as a matter of law, substantially defeated the relevant purposes of the 1989 Settlement Agreement, the magnet stipulation, or the M-to-M stipulation."

Little Rock School District v. Pulaski County Special School District, Case No. 4:82-cv-0866 (E.D. Ark.), Order filed January 17, 2013. LRSD appealed to the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals.
One year later, on January 13, 2014, Judge Marshall approved a Settlement Agreement that included a provision stipulating to the voluntary dismissal with prejudice of the pending appeal concerning the charter school issues. In light of LRSD's unitary status and the parties' 2014 Settlement Agreement, Covenant Keepers' proposed charter renewal cannot interfere with the purposes of the Pulaski County desegregation litigation, which has been fully concluded as to LRSD. After the dismissal and the settlement agreement, the case was completely concluded for all purposes as to LRSD, and the federal court terminated all jurisdiction in the matter. Because of that, there is no possibility that Covenant Keepers' proposed charter renewal could impact LRSD's unitary status. To be clear, Covenant Keepers' proposed charter renewal cannot impact LRSD's unitary status because 1) there is no case in which LRSD's unitary status could be an issue; 2) LRSD made a claim regarding operation of open-enrollment charter schools in federal court in 2010 and lost it; and 3) LRSD settled the charter school claim in 2014, and as a consequence released or waived any such claim.

II. The Requested Charter Renewal

According to the 2015-2016 school year enrollment figures as maintained by the ADE Data Center, LRSD had a student population of 23,164 students. Covenant Keepers' 2015-2016 student population would constitute approximately seven tenths (7/10) of one (1) percent of the total LRSD population, or 171 students. Under Ark. Code Ann. §6-23-306(6)(A), Covenant Keepers must be race-neutral and non-discriminatory in its student selection and admission process. While it is impossible to project its future racial composition accurately, Covenant Keepers will continue to implement admissions policies that are consistent with state and federal laws, regulations, and/or guidelines applicable to charter schools. For the 2015-2016 school year, 98 of Covenant Keepers' students are African-American (57.3%) and 72 are Hispanic (42.1%).

In addition, Ark. Code Ann. §6-23-106 requires that Covenant Keepers' operation will not serve to hamper, delay, or in any manner negatively affect the desegregation efforts of a public school district or districts within the state. As explained in more detail above, Covenant Keepers' careful review of the relevant statutes and court orders affecting LRSD and its student population shows that such negative impact is not present here. LRSD is completely unitary and no longer has any ongoing desegregation obligations.

III. Conclusion

Covenant Keepers submits that upon the basis of its review, neither any existing federal desegregation order affecting LRSD nor the 1989 Settlement Agreement prohibit the State's charter school authorizer from granting the requested charter renewal for an open-enrollment public charter school in Pulaski County.

Specifically address the reasons that students belonging to the TAGG demographic groups (economically disadvantaged, special education, and English language learners) leave the charter without completing the highest grade offered at the charter, if they do so at a higher rate than students belonging to other demographic groups. Discuss the reasons that other demographic group(s), if any, leave the school at disproportionate rates.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Covenant Keepers is committed to the recruitment and retention of a student population that mirrors and reasonably represents our surrounding community. Our demographics are comprised of a current 42% Hispanic student body and approximately a 58% African-American student body. Approximately 10% of our student body is classified as having special needs. Approximately 98% of our students qualify for free/reduced lunch.

Southwest Little Rock, "Southwest"—as it is known around the city—is a depressed community. The area has seen a dramatic increase in families living below the poverty level since the 1990s. This neighborhood has average income levels lower than 80.2% of U.S. neighborhoods. ("About Geyer Springs," n.d.). Decades of these economic conditions have resulted in multi-generational welfare recipients.

In regard to student mobility, a large number of our students come from low income, single parent homes. Though unfortunate, the nature of these households necessitates frequent moving about the city and often requires that the children change schools—often unexpectedly. Many of our students have a parent incarcerated or are in the foster care system. Many of our students live with extended families or even non-family, and by definition, these students are classified as homeless. The result of any of these unstable living conditions is that the children are subject to the needs of the family or the caregivers regardless of the outcome. The impact on the student's morale or even the student's character can be difficult to overcome as evidenced by many of the instances we have seen over the years. Of course, there are numerous exceptions, but far too often our students find themselves in situations that leave them with far greater difficulties than they deserve.

Our student mobility rate for 2013-2014 and 2014-2015 is an astounding 20.2%. This mobility takes quite a toll on the emotional and academic development of a child. We are pleased to see a dramatic decrease in mobility for the first quarter of 2015-2016 to only 11.97%. Exit interviews were conducted upon each student's withdrawal. These interviews support the findings above regarding family dynamics and family mobility.

We know that students who transfer frequently between schools during the school year are at greater risk for academic and behavioral problems. The Wrap Around component of our school (detailed later in this application) is designed to help students who find themselves affected by home and family instability such as high mobility. This ever-growing program affords students the opportunity to receive counseling, therapists, and other supports on-site within the school day to overcome many obstacles from their personal lives that hinder their academic and social growth.

Explain why the charter serves a much higher percentage of Hispanic students than the Little Rock School District.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

Little Rock's largest population of Hispanic families and individuals call southwest Little Rock home. ("About Geyer Springs," n.d.). Several Hispanic businesses operate in the area. Our school demographics reflect this in that our racial make-up is approximately 58% African American and 42% Hispanic.

The number of Hispanic students we serve in our school has grown each year as families share with each other about the success their children have had with our school and the programs within. The culture of these families is very intertwined and supportive of both family and nonfamily members. The families have grown to support each other as so many of them arrive in the southwest Little Rock community directly from various sections of Mexico and other Latin countries. When families share the news of their students' success at Covenant Keepers, families new to the area seek out our school in hopes of finding that same success for their children.

Hispanic families are also comfortable at Covenant Keepers because we partner with community groups that support those who have recently immigrated to the United States. Covenant Keepers has hosted events in conjunction with CDAH (Centro de Apoyo Hispano) and Arkansas United Community Coalition, which offer services specific to recent immigrants and Hispanic families. We also distribute information about adult English language classes and other resources offered by El Zocalo, another non-profit in Southwest Little Rock. Our director also communicates with Catholic Charities and LULAC, who have a presence in the Southwest Little Rock community. Our school also sends representatives to Working Together In The Community with Joan Adcock and Senator Frederick Love, a coalition that works to provide information to Hispanic families on applying for drivers licenses, applying for bank accounts, and immigrant support services, such as applying for deferred action.

Covenant Keepers ensures that every memo or notification that is sent home to families is printed in both English and Spanish. Our front office assistant is bilingual and responsible for interpreting during meetings and translating documents as needed. Our Hispanic families feel comfortable coming to school for parent/teacher conferences and other events knowing that someone on staff is able to communicate with them and address their needs.

Explain why "0" Title I students were reported in the 2014-2015 Cycle 4 School Report when the charter received FY15 funding for Title I students.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

This is the first time this situation has been brought to our attention. In the past seven years, we have not marked individual students as Title I because of our School Wide Title I status. However, this school year (2015-2016), all students have been marked as Title I in the Cycle 4 School Report. Through the process of submitting reports, we have been in constant contact with ADE, which keeps us abreast of any information related to federal funds.

Provide any additional commentary on student recruitment for the charter school, if needed.
This OPTIONAL response can be no longer than 2 pages in 11 point Times New Roman font.

We use several mediums such as radio, print, door-to-door marketing, word of mouth, and social media to recruit students. The most effective method for Covenant Keepers' recruitment is face-to-face conversations with families in their own neighborhoods. We also receive several referrals from other schools in the LR, NLR, and PCSSD Schools. Our PALS (Parent Association Leading and Serving) and the Southwest Community embrace our niche and play a vital role in recruiting and branding. Covenant Keeper's small intimate family atmosphere is accommodating to the students we serve.

Part B: Lottery Procedures

Describe procedures for conducting the an annual single lottery enrollment process, including the timeline for enrolling, the date of the lottery, and the way in which students will be placed on waiting lists, and the process for notifying parents about each child's selection or order on the waiting list. Explain how the charter will ensure that the lottery process is transparent to the public.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 4 pages.

Any Arkansas student can enter the school lottery if the school has open seats in the grade level the student will be entering. Covenant Keepers does not admit students based on test scores, essays, interviews, auditions or other measures of ability.

There are three basic steps to enrollment at our charter school.

First, a parent or guardian fills out a short form with the student's name, grade level, and basic contact information. The student is granted admission if there is space available in the appropriate grade level. (The school may also ask if the student is eligible for any approved lottery preferences.)

Second, the school holds a random drawing, either manually or using a computer program. The lottery procedure must follow the school's approved admissions policy.

Third, students who were selected in the lottery may choose to enroll in the school, or decline the offer. Students who were not selected go on a randomly-ordered waiting list.

Covenant Keepers will hold their annual lottery no later than April 1. The lottery must be held in an accessible place and open to the public, with an impartial observer present and detailed records kept. Applicants do not need to be present to be selected. Students must confirm enrollment by April 15. If the student declines the offer, the next student on the randomly-ordered waiting list will be notified.

To this point, enrollment numbers have not made it necessary for Covenant Keepers to hold a lottery.

Review the data in the Teacher Retention Table.
Discuss the reasons that teachers leave the charter and current practices and future plans to retain teachers.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Covenant Keepers has averaged a 24.27% rate of teachers departing over the last four years. Nationally, charter schools had an 18 percent teacher turnover rate during the 2012-13 school year, according to the latest National Center for Education Statistics survey. That's a drop from the survey conducted four years earlier, which found a 24 percent turnover rate (Barshay 2014).

To gain some perspective, we have noted that the rate is slightly lower at traditional public schools: during the 2012-13 school year, nearly 16 percent of teachers left. The problem is worse at high-poverty schools. In the 2012-13 school year, at public schools where at least 75 percent of students qualify for a free or reduced-priced lunch, 22 percent of teachers left their jobs. (Barshay 2014).

At charters like Covenant Keepers, which serve a student body that falls almost entirely into one or more subgroups, teachers work considerably longer hours than is typical—a minimum of 50 hours, sometimes as much as 60 or 70 hours a week. New teachers quickly realize they must do overwhelming amounts of after-hours work. They pour physical and emotional energy into their work, which breeds quick exhaustion. And they experience the frustrating uphill battle that comes along with teaching—particularly in low-performing schools. Sometimes the energy and emotion they invest seems to yield low or at least very slow dividends.

This heavy workload doesn't even take into account the impact of championing and advocating for students or internalizing the trauma and anguish of working with children who suffer all the physical and emotional indignities of poverty.

Because of the demanding nature of the jobs here at Covenant, departures are always expected. Several of our teacher exit interviews have echoed a common sentiment that being successful here at school directly conflicted with being successful mothers, fathers, and spouses. Indeed, we know that it takes a special kind of person to be successful here.

While we are not necessarily surprised by high turnover, and we certainly do not like it, it might be an unfortunate but necessary byproduct of an intense, results-driven approach. Because of the high needs of our students, charters such as ours embody the "no excuses" mentality with extremely high expectations of students and employees.

Sometimes are teachers are not renewed by Administration. Given the Teacher Fair Dismissal Act waiver, which most charters hold, teachers enjoy less job security than they would find in a traditional public school. This, in turn, means that teachers who are not performing to standard are dismissed at much higher rates than in traditional schools. We maintain that when a teacher is given copious amounts of documented support, development, and guidance yet fails to show progress, dismissing the teacher is what's best for students. While we do everything within our power to help teachers grow and meet expectations, we have an urgency that does not allow us to keep teachers who are impeding student growth.

Covenant Keepers' leadership has come to realize over the years that good teachers and support staff are our most valuable commodity. We know that we cannot give students what they need if we cannot recruit and retain individuals who have a heart for these kids and the spirit to do whatever it takes to help them grow. To that end, this year Covenant Keepers' leadership team introduced a series of initiatives designed to improve teacher and staff satisfaction. We know that employees won't stay unless they feel valued; they won't stay unless they have input; they won't stay unless they like their team of teachers and leaders; and they won't stay unless they feel supported. In short, in order to overcome all the difficulties of teaching or working in a high-needs school, a person has to love his or her job. Below are just a few of the ways we are helping make that happen.

- Covenant Keepers has adopted a Common Core–aligned math and literacy curriculum in part so teachers will not have to spend so much time devising their own maps or lesson plans. High quality lesson plans are very important to us, and we have found that our new curriculum meets the rigor our students need. While teachers must still customize the lesson plans to suit our students' needs and pacing requirements, teachers are reporting that they spend as much as 8 hours less per week (approximately 50% less total time) on creating lesson plans.

- Our Teacher Support Cycle was implemented this fall to bring an unprecedented amount of support to all teachers whether new or returning. Each member of our Leadership Team visits one-on-one with every teacher at least one time every two weeks. The focus of these meetings can be anything from offering advice and resources to solving particular problems in the Leader's field of expertise, to just listening while a teacher talks out an issue and reflects on possible solutions. After analysis of notes from individual Teacher Support Cycle meetings, weekly professional development is provided based on teacher needs.
- Meetings weekly to reinforce the school's mission and vision as well as develop camaraderie amongst the team.

While we are working hard to meet state prescribed proficiency levels on mandated tests, we are also invested in our NWEA MAP assessments as they give us a frequent and very accurate look at student growth, strengths, and areas of weakness. Since 2013, we have continually studied and responded to our data and have made gains as evidenced by NWEA. It has been documented that 72% of our students enter our middle school at achievement levels as low as three to four grades behind. Our NWEA growth reports have shown students are moving towards grade level.

NWEA MAP Growth

School Conditional Growth Percentile:
When looking at our Fall 2014-Spring 2015 Growth Report, our school is compared to other schools across the nation using NWEA's Conditional Growth Index (CGI).

A typical growth index is .00- any positive number on the index means a school is meeting more than typical growth in a school year, while a negative number means a school is not meeting typical growth.

Grade/Subject Area	School Conditional Growth Index	School Conditional Growth Percentile
6th Grade Math	0.89	81
6th Grade Reading	1.70	96
6th Grade Language	2.54	99

Grade/Subject Area	School Conditional Growth Index	School Conditional Growth Percentile
7th Grade Math	-0.17	43
7th Grade Reading	1.74	96
7th Grade Language	2.66	99

Growth in MAP is different than proficiency, as each student has their own individual growth targets based on where they start at the beginning of the school year on the fall assessment. Growth is determined by how students perform during the spring assessment. Students can meet growth, but still be below grade level.

•Covenant Keepers is demonstrating recent increases in the percentage of students meeting or exceeding typical growth in both math and reading.
•Students are demonstrating more growth in reading than in math.
•More students are below grade level in math than in reading.
Last year, 73% of our lowest performing students (at or below the 33rd percentile nationally) met their growth goal for Reading, while 64% of our lowest performing students met their growth goal for Math.

However, 66% of our lowest performing students exceeded their growth goal for Reading, making what we consider to be "catch up growth": making gains equal to 1.5 years of growth. 54% of students at or below the 33rd percentile nationally made "catch up growth" in math.

For a deep analysis of our NWEA growth data for 2014-2015, we asked Sara McKenzie, Executive Director, Office of Education Policy, to examine our reports. Her conclusions were as follows:

- The expectation is that 50% of students at a typical school will meet or exceed annual growth goals. 68% of CK students met or exceeded typical fall to spring growth targets in reading and 59% met or exceeded typical growth targets in math. The percent of students meeting or exceeding typical growth targets is a large improvement from the growth in 2012-2013, which was 41% in reading and 39% in math.
- Of students who began the year as low performing (scoring at or below the 33rd percentile nationally) 73% met or exceeded typical fall to spring growth targets in reading and 64% met or exceeded typical growth targets in math for the 2014-2015 school year. Additionally, 66% of these students were making at least 1.5 times annual growth in just one year in reading and 54% of these students were making at least 1.5 times annual growth in just one year in math.
- As evidenced by NWEA MAP scores, the growth of Covenant Keepers' students during 2014-2015 is very strong in both reading and math.

Although our students made stellar growth on their NWEA MAP assessments from fall to spring last year, this did not translate to students scoring proficient (a score of a 4 or 5) on the PARCC assessments last year in Math or ELA. As our students enroll lacking skills the state expects them to have already mastered in mathematics, writing, or comprehension, we are able to support students to make significant growth, but growth does not equal proficiency, or moving from below grade level to grade level in one year. It may mean a 6th grader, who enters Covenant Keepers on a 2nd grade reading level grows to a 4th grade reading level by the end of the year. Our goal is to utilize this significant growth, and over time we can remediate the deficits which allows the students who are enrolled at Covenant Keepers to reenter the public schools at grade 9 competitive and academically prepared for high school content.

What Are We Doing to Turn Things Around?

Years of working to fulfill our school's original vision for Southwest Little Rock families has equipped us to take on the many challenges we face as each new school year begins. We have found that our strength is in supporting our students and their families in ways that go well beyond the classroom. Our system for addressing the needs of those we serve is early needs assessment followed by action planning and coordination of services from instruction to physical and mental health. While we have done a great deal to address the needs of the "whole child" in previous years, in SY 15-16, Covenant Keepers has taken steps toward fully developing an innovative model that wraps services around the child.

Our goal is to partner with area organizations to assist students who are perpetually in an out of school due to the repercussions of childhood trauma and other issues that impede students' progress. The severe needs of the students we work with in Southwest Little Rock has driven us to embrace our responsibility with genuine passion, and we have heard the desire of our community: a school that will generate authentic transformation in individuals and the community as a whole. The goal is to "Wrap-Around" various services for students who need extensive daily support through resources that are not immediately available in traditional schools.

Wraparound services are student and family supports integrated with and often delivered directly within schools. Wraparound services help schools address social and non-academic barriers to student learning.
Examples of wraparound services are broad and include:

- Health, dental, and vision care
- Mental health services
- Behavioral health, nutrition, and wellness counseling
- Parent and family targeted services

While our school has offered these services in previous years, we have intensified our efforts to establish partnerships during SY 15-16, and are currently developing MOUs with additional partners and providers to roll out in the spring of 2016. (see attached letters of support/partnership). These organizations will provide their services to our students on campus primarily during school hours. Our master schedule has 60 minutes built into the middle of each day to provide academic, social, emotional, behavioral, or other interventions or services so time is not lost in core or elective classes.

Wraparound services have the potential to help children, families, and teachers alike. The idea behind wraparound services is that students whose health and wellness needs are addressed will be healthier, more focused, and better able to learn. Similarly, families engaged with schools and supportive services will have increased capacity to support child learning and health. Finally, for schools, having additional systems for confronting social challenges that impede learning, will allow teachers and administrators to focus on instruction.

An Oklahoma Center for Education Policy study showed that in developed sites, wraparound services dramatically increased the performance of low-income students (Adams, 2010). The study shows that fully developed sites outperformed all other schools, including those with more affluent populations. The Tulsa Area Community School Initiative (TACSI), with wraparound services within a public school district, has shown the potential to help lower income students perform on par with higher income peers in math, while drastically reducing gaps in reading.

The extended Wrap Around model at Covenant Keepers brings a new wave of innovation to help students and families work through the many challenges they face daily. We address many layers of childhood and family need including dentistry, physical health, professional counseling services, and tax preparation in English and Spanish to name just a few. The Wrap Around process is directed by a team consisting of family, service providers, and key members of the family's personal support network. The goal of this team is to collaborate weekly to arrive at a coordinated family-driven plan of care that is tailored to meet the needs of the individual students. The team's ultimate goal is to implement, monitor, and continually adjust the plan until all members conclude that the Wrap Around support is no longer needed.

The Wrap Around Placement Criteria and Placement Procedures

Students in need of this type of non-traditional learning services are placed in the CK Wrap Around program through a referral placement process. Referrals are made by a school administrator, teacher, counselor, doctor, mental health provider, or by way of a written request from parent/guardian. A committee headed by our Resource Coordinator works to determine an individualized course of action for the student and places the student with the appropriate provider(s). The Resource Coordinator continuously reviews progress, regularly reports data to school leadership, and works with the parent and the child to maintain personal progress according to the WA plan. As we continue to develop this model, and as our first cohort of eighth grade students transition to high school, we will coordinate with parents and the student's high school counselor to monitor progress and make recommendations as needed.

The documents used for student placement include:

- Referral Form
- Teacher referral with prior interventions and RTI (Special Education Teacher when appropriate)
- Student Action Plan
- Student Commitment Form
- Student grades/progress – interim reports, report cards, NWEA pre & post-tests
- Standardized test scores (prior and current years)
- Disciplinary reports – Principal's Commitment Meeting notes, prior behavior documents Teacher notes, Dean of Students notes, etc.
- Exit &Transition Plan – high school, attendance, progress report, teacher report, student goal targets
- High school determination meeting (LRSD, NLR, PCSSD, other charters)

When a student is referred to or requests placement in the WA program, the committee convenes to craft an action plan for the student based on criteria that has negatively affected the student's academic and social progress. This may include the following:

- Ongoing, persistent lack of attaining proficiency levels in literacy and mathematics
- Abuse; physical, mental, or sexual
- Frequent relocation of residency (high mobility)
- Inadequate emotional support- family members, foster parents, etc.
- Mental/physical health problems
- Pregnancy or single parenting
- Personal or family problems or situations

- Chronic disruptive behavior

The WA committee is made up of the following individuals: The Principal, Dean of Students, the student, one of the student's regular classroom teachers, an LEA special education supervisor and/or 504 representatives when needed, and a parent/guardian. The students are monitored through mandatory weekly contacts (including phone calls, face to face meetings, or home visits) from the Resource Coordinator to the parent/guardian to review academic, social, and behavioral progress.

Monthly review by the committee includes the following: monitoring attendance, reviewing of academic progress, review of notes from service providers, and review of goals checklist.

The WA As a Supportive/Non Punitive Program

Covenant Keepers Charter School's Wrap Around model is a supportive program that offers students highly individualized paths to social, emotional, academic, and behavioral success. On the classroom level, students are allowed extended time, small group or pairs to meet the learning expectation and experience success. We offer a variety of instructional learning alternatives through computer-aided websites for remediation reinforcement and research such as Khan Academy, Skills Navigator, Reading Plus, Math.com, IXL Math, quarterly NWEA Testing, etc. CK students who participate in this WA program find themselves immersed in a culture that recognizes and values their individual needs and goals.

How Individual Services Are Provided

- Individual counseling services are provided on site to the students through Life Strategies Counseling Organization. We are in talks with other local providers as we anticipate exceeding the maximum capacity that Life Strategies is able to provide for our campus. Services are required on a weekly basis at minimum. Counseling sessions are built into the child's daily/weekly schedule to ensure consistency and accountability.
- The Wrap Around Program is staffed with a Resource Coordinator who works with local businesses in Southwest Little Rock, service providers, and with the student and parent to individualize services and resources.
- We plan to have an academic counselor to help each student make course selections before exiting to high school. We also plan to prepare students for college and career readiness through exposure to career options/job shadowing and through various volunteer programs matched to the interests of the child.

The Role of Technology

- The purpose of technology in the WA program is to expand students' view of the world beyond Central Arkansas and help them move toward personal and academic growth in a manner with which these digital natives are accustomed.
- Beginning in the spring of 2016, WA sessions will be enhanced by the use of technology to supplement and reinforce concepts covered within the program. Technology, however, will never take the place of a live therapist or facilitator.
- The technology incorporated:
    - Computers
    - Educational software
    - Streaming video to review current events
    - LCD projectors and document cameras
    - Other supplemental usage programs to provide enrichment
    - Digital coursework for remediation and enrichment

Special Education Students in WA

Students with disabilities receive services as prescribed by their IEPs and be are monitored by a certified SpEd instructor. The Principal/ Resource Coordinator monitor all students placed in the WA program to ensure that appropriate services are provided. All services are provided within the Covenant Keepers building.

Behavioral Intervention Services

Interventions designed to support core behavior transformation and character development are required for all students involved with the WA program. Some of the components include, but are not limited to social skills, career exploration, life skills, Positive Behavior Intervention System, and character education. The behavioral intervention services are provided onsite by Life Strategies and address anger management techniques, decision-making, coping with peer pressure, etc.

Discuss the disciplinary infraction and action data. Be certain to discuss any disproportionate representation by a subgroup.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

We did not have an In School Suspension program in place for the 2013-14 school year. For school year 2014-15, Covenant Keepers implemented ISS and developed an "Automatic Point Accumulation" System (APA system). It is designed to dispense consequences in 15-point intervals. This system allows students to reflect and adjust behavioral decisions before consequences become serious, effectively diminishing occurrences of more significant infractions. More serious infractions supersede the APA system, and consequences are dispensed immediately. These serious infractions result in consequences on a leveled system based on recurrence of violations where penalties are progressively more severe with repeated offenses.

For the past 3 years as a middle school, the data reflects that our African-American students have incurred the majority of the behavioral infractions in the school (74%). Our Latino population accounted for 26% of our disciplinary infractions.

After working closely with African-American and Hispanic families over the last 7.5 years and conducting quite a bit of research on the significance of poverty, cultural variances, motivations, and attitudes among races, we have come to certain conclusions. While it is difficult to hold conversations about race and the impact that various cultures have on our students, we have taken an empirical approach to understanding the phenomenon so that we can equip ourselves to help our students rise above any circumstances that may impede their growth. Following are some of the noteworthy conclusions we have come to.

Almost all of our Hispanic students are first- or second-generation immigrants, and they retain much of the hierarchical and familial tendencies of their elders. Hispanics tend to be exceedingly group-oriented; especially in areas that are highly populated with recent immigrants such as southwest Little Rock. A strong emphasis is placed on family as the major source of one's identity and direction. The term that Hispanics use to describe their loyalty to family and extended family is "familismo". Decisions and behavior of each individual in the extended family are based largely on pleasing the family and satisfying their allegiance to familismo. We have witnessed over the years that there is a good deal of pride that goes along with this idea of familismo; pride to be a part of the family, pride in contributing to the well-being of the family, and the pride of being a good citizen and bringing honor to the family.

Many of our Hispanic students are greatly influenced by the family's desire to always show respect to those in authority; to the degree that they do want to offend any of our teaching staff or administration. This manifests as model behavior for most of our Hispanic students. Because we understand that these children have such a desire to be compliant, we have to make an extra effort to ensure that their needs are met as they rarely complain or ask questions.

Of course we do have Hispanic students who have occasional behavior issues. We find that these matters are almost always tied to an insult to their pride or disrespect of a family member within our school. We have also found that our Hispanic students with the most behavior issues are the ones who are the most assimilated to American culture and have begun to shed their familismo values.

In regard to our African-American students, we have likewise accumulated a great deal of insight into their dispositions through careful observations of them and their families, research, and through working extremely closely with community resources in place to serve these families. While the following comments are stated in general terms, it should, of course, be understood that we are in no way implying that all of our African-American students are troubled, or that they are all socially or academically challenged. Once again, while it is difficult to speak in terms of race and ensuing inequities, we are compelled to face brutal facts in order to better understand how to deal with these issues.

While 98% of our students are from low-socioeconomic households, our Hispanic students, as noted above, have the distinct advantage of familismo. They are fortunate to have the family support and values that are associated with familismo. Conversely, a rather high number of our African-American students come from single-family homes and other situations that place them at a disadvantage. In fact, many of our African-American students are referred to us by Administrators and behavior interventionists within the Little Rock and North Little Rock school districts when it becomes evident that these students are not thriving in the traditional school and need an opportunity for success in a more supportive environment.

Recent research by noted psychology researcher, Judith Harris suggests that the social relationships students experience—with peers, adults in the school, and family members—have a much greater influence on their behavior than researchers had previously assumed (2006). This process starts with students' core relationships with parents or primary caregivers in their lives, which form a personality that is either secure and attached or insecure and unattached. Securely attached children typically behave better in school (Bali, Granger, Kivlighan, Mills-Koonce, Willongby & Greeberg, 2008). Absent of strong, secure relationships, students are unable to stabilize behavior and receive the core guidance needed to build lifelong social skills. Children who are raised in poor households often fail to learn healthy, appropriate emotional responses to everyday situations to the detriment of their school performance and behavior (Bali, Granger, Kivlighan, Mills-Koonce, Willongby & Greeberg, 2008). We see the reality of this at Covenant Keepers every day.

Our students who are raised in poverty rarely choose to behave differently, but they are faced daily with overwhelming challenges that affluent children never have to confront, and their brains have adapted to these difficult conditions in ways that undermine good school performance (Bali, Granger, Kivlighan, Mills-Koonce, Willongby & Greeberg, 2008). This reality does not mean that success in school or life is impossible. On the contrary, a better understanding of these challenges points to actions that we as a school community can take to help our less-advantaged students succeed.

During the spring 2015 semester, we began to advertise for an individual with a strong background in building leadership skills and positive attitudes with all students. We were fortunate to hire Mr. Lenard Blocker who has established "LEADERS, Inc.". This program worked successfully in several schools in the Pulaski County School District.

Mr. Blocker's program began to change the thought processes of many of our students and the way they handled certain situations in supervised "unstructured" environments (lunch time or during transitions). His program worked so well, we decided to hire Mr. Blocker as our building principal. He is serving as a strong influence and powerful source of inspiration for our students, particularly our African-American males. We are already seeing the impact of his work in our school.

Explain why a significant majority of disciplinary infractions documented are labeled as other.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

"Other" was not used by the school disciplinary team in the 2013-14 school year. We processed all of our incidents as insubordination, disorderly conduct, fighting, bullying, and assault.

In 2014-2015, 76% of all behavior incidents fell into the category of "other", which is a reflection of our Automatic Point Accumulation (APA) system. These incidents within the APA system include infractions such as: gum chewing, cursing, excessive talking out, disrupting class, disorderly transition in hallways, chronic lack of supplies, chronic lack of homework, breaking class rules, etc. While none of these infractions on their own warrant in-school suspension or other disciplinary actions, they do garner demerits. Under our APA demerit system, accumulation of 15 demerit points results in an assignment to in-school suspension. Because this disciplinary action represents a composite of minor infractions, it is recorded in eSchool as "other". For example, an assignment to ISS may be based on a student compiling 15 demerits in smaller increments over time as follows: walking out of class 5 demerits, eating in class 5 demerits, chewing gum 1 demerit, out of line in hallway 2 demerits, and horse playing 3 demerits. At this point the student would have received 16 total demerits and an assignment to ISS. Because the single disciplinary action was the result of five separate behavior incidents, it is recorded in eSchool as "other" (behavior incidents are not recorded in eSchool until an action is prescribed). Individual student records reflect each incident and action the student has received.

Covenant Keepers maintains a very structured environment. The majority of our student body has histories of serious behavior incidents. Our goal is to greatly diminish those incidents by tackling minor incidents and holding students to very high expectations. The result is that relatively minor misbehaviors, which are often overlooked in other schools and lead to more significant misbehaviors, are addressed at Covenant Keepers and are met with consequences. These "other" infractions and corresponding penalties serve to eliminate a great deal of more serious issues when students learn that we are serious about our expectations and imposing punishments.

Explain how the numbers of out-of-school and in-school suspensions impact student achievement.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.

Our Out-of-School Suspension rate for 2014-2015 was quite high. It is important to understand, however, that the number of suspensions does not represent the number of students suspended through the year, but rather the number of suspensions assigned. In other words, one student who had a bad year may account for several of the suspension actions within that total number.

As stated in previous sections, Covenant Keepers' desire is to help students grow emotionally, behaviorally, and socially as well as academically. In an effort to solve the problem of suspensions and the resulting harms, we are examining solutions that fall within these four broad categories:

1. Phasing out suspensions & promoting creative alternatives
2. Improving data collection & analysis as to alert us to the need for interventions
3. Building the capacity of students, teachers, Dean, and Principal in an effort to diminish behavioral incidents
4. Pushing comprehensive approaches such as our Wrap Around services

There has been quite a bit of talk in recent years of the "School to Prison Pipeline" that essentially declares that many local, state, and federal policies have the effect of pushing students out of schools and into the criminal justice system. As anyone who has worked closely with Covenant Keepers knows, our goal is to disrupt this pipeline to keep children in school and out of the juvenile justice system. We have developed a quite effective system for transforming students over time and setting them on a new trajectory. This system involves investing ourselves in our students and seeing them through challenges and periods of instability. At times, however, temporary removal from school or class is necessary.

Our in-school suspensions (ISS) or out-of-school suspensions (OSS) are effective in that they: temporarily remove a student from the school or classroom which has the effect of disconnecting the student from a potentially more volatile situation; demonstrate to all students that serious misbehaviors will be addressed; support teachers in their desire to maintain an environment conducive to learning; and alert parents to the seriousness of their child's actions.

Because we are more interested in transforming students than punishing students, we are very proactive in our measures to keep children from misbehaving and in our efforts to work with students to prevent recurring misbehavior. We understand that a student cannot learn if he or she is not in class and a negative correlation between suspension and achievement exists. We also understand that, as noted in previous pages, many of our students are "at risk" and whether they realize it or not, they depend on us to help them rise above their circumstances. All of this to say, our desire is not to exclude students from class or from school. Our deepest desire is to have them excel academically and socially. We work toward this goal everyday, and we are patient with our students as they progress, but we do impose consequences when necessary.

Discuss the strategies used by the charter to ensure that discipline is administered in a fair and equitable manner.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Our student handbook very clearly lays out the school's discipline policy including infractions and correlating consequences. Every behavior incident that is submitted to the Dean of Students is carefully reviewed, investigated as needed, and documented meticulously. Consequences are applied precisely as prescribed by the handbook to avoid bias.

Parents are supplied with a physical copy of the handbook (in English and in Spanish); the handbook also appears on the school's website.

Teachers receive a great deal of training in regard to the discipline system, so that every teacher is aware of protocol and there is no uncertainty as to its application.

For instances when a judgment call has to be made, all involved parties are questioned thoroughly by the Dean, and a decision is made based on the facts as they are determined. We avoid subjectivity by considering all perspectives and applying the school protocol as outlined in the handbook. Our handbook details a review and/or appeals process should parents wish to pursue that.

Describe the methods used by the charter to improve student behavior and attendance.
Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Covenant Keepers recognizes the importance of regular school attendance and strives for consistently high attendance rates for each student. Absentee situations are promptly identified and addressed to maintain maximum attendance of enrolled students. Attendance policies are in compliance with Arkansas' compulsory attendance laws, including without limitation, hour requirements and the distinction made between excused and unexcused absences. Covenant Keepers maintains excellent daily attendance rates with a three-year average of 95.6%. Absentee rates are relatively equal among races and genders. Communicating the importance of attendance to parents has created high expectations and, in turn, high response.

Current attendance rate: 97%
2014-2015 attendance rate: 96%
2013-2014 attendance rate: 94%

It is our goal to identify strategies to intervene with truancy and delinquency, address the root causes, and stop youth's progression from truancy into more serious and violent behaviors. Project REACH is an intervention program developed and managed by our Principal for our students who are at risk of academic failure, truancy and juvenile delinquency. This program is designed to encourage students to reach their full potential by providing tutoring, mentoring, workshops, recreation, cultural activities, and exposure to various career paths. This program also serves as a resource for parents by providing quarterly seminars to address their needs.

Covenant Keepers prides itself on embracing the "whole child" and supporting families and households where children are at risk. We have a cadre of community resources at the ready to help us with students or families when needed. Although providing these additional support services and resources is not always the "magic bullet" that turns a student around, we have seen remarkable transformations in students' academic and behavior profiles upon receiving these supports.

Part C: Best Practices

Identify and describe one (or more) best practice(s) that support the achievement of, or progress toward achieving, the charter's current approved academic goals. Provide the data that led to the determination that this practice is effective.
Respond in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 3 pages.

Given our small size and location within the city of Little Rock, we attract many families seeking an alternative to the less personal approach available in larger, more policy-controlled public schools. Indeed, many of the students that come to us have not engaged in education available at the public school and as a result enter our school as basic or below basic performers. In addition to being behind academically, many of our students have social and emotional issues that further interfere with their ability to achieve in school. The analysis of our progress over the past three years has lead us to the conclusion that we must make significant internal modifications in our approach for these high need students.

We understand that the intent of open enrollment charter schools is to provide parents and their children with choice and options. Within the concept of choice is the expectation by the State Legislature and the Arkansas Department of Education that with choice will also come improved performance. Additionally, within the concept of choice is the concept that a heterogeneous mix of families will elect to access a local charter simply for the innovations offered.

However, some communities are not comprised of heterogeneous populations. The socio-economic status of a community can result in a public charter attracting either high achieving students from families seeking an accelerated learning experience; or, large numbers of students that have struggled in the public school environment. Thus, it can be expected that a charter school located in a high poverty area will attract either large numbers of achieving students seeking to avoid an at-risk public school, or they will attract large numbers of low achieving students from families hoping the change will permit their child to experience more support and improved learning. In our case, our small size and nurturing environment has attracted students from families seeking a more personalized or supportive environment for their students that are significantly struggling in their public school.

In working closely with students and their families over the years, it has become clear that we have many students who suffer from the effects of childhood trauma and that a more intensive "wrap around" of services is needed to help these students stabilize and remain in one school long enough to access and benefit from the instruction being offered.

To this end, during the first semester of SY 15-16 we have been meeting with and developing partners with the intent to integrate an RTI model; not only for academics, but for social, emotional and behavioral needs. We have secured commitments from area service agencies and organizations to assist us as we strive to create a trauma-sensitive school. Background on Trauma-Sensitive Schools can be found in the article "Creating Trauma-Sensitive Schools: Supportive Policies and Practices for Learning" published by the National Association of School Psychologists in a research brief. http://www.nasponline.org/Documents/Research%20and%20Policy/Research%20Center/Trauma_Sensitive_Schools_2015.pdf

Further, the Center for Disease Control has published several documents related to creating safe, stable, and nurturing environments for children experiencing trauma http://www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/pdf/essentials_for_childhood_framework.pdf . The essential conclusion of researchers studying the effects of childhood trauma is that, " When exposure to traumatic events occurs frequently or when traumatic stress is left unaddressed, children are susceptible to: Relationship problems, drug and alcohol abuse, violent behavior, suicide and depression, lower grades, increased school suspensions, and dropout, bullying and victimization."

We have developed a comprehensive approach to significantly increase the services for students that demonstrate the characteristics of childhood trauma. We feel by doing this, in collaboration with other service agencies, we can address the lack of success many students have experienced prior to coming to Covenant Keepers, and at the same time move the school out of Academic Distress status.

Best Practices For Literacy

Adopted Curriculum: Expeditionary Learning

Because we wanted to be sure our students were getting the push to Common Core, we chose a curriculum that would help with this transition. Expeditionary Learning contains research-based teaching strategies that have transformed education for over 20 years. Its network comprises 152 EL educational schools across 39 states serving over 45,000 teachers and over 4 million curriculum downloads. Studies have shown that schools that have implemented Expeditionary Learning have shown tremendous growth in ELA over a 3-year period. Upon further research, it was found that these schools mirror our Hispanic and African American population of students.
It takes time to develop and deliver rigorous instructional experiences to students of all reading levels and needs.

Reading Plus

Reading Plus Literacy software has been used in small groups within the classroom, and/or computer lab. This gives students an opportunity to practice their literacy skills. This software helps reinforce students' reading skills, which can assess a child's reading level, or practice specific vocabulary words.

Best Practices For Math

Adopted Curriculum: EngageNY

The team of teachers and mathematicians who wrote EngageNY took great care to present mathematics in a logical progression from PK through Grade 12. This coherent approach allows teachers to know what incoming students already have learned and ensures that students are prepared for what comes next. When implemented faithfully, EngageNY will dramatically reduce gaps in student learning, instill persistence in problem solving, and prepare students to understand advanced math.

Plus Time

Plus Time is a 60-minute period in the middle of the day where students are grouped according to their NWEA MAP scores. Teachers provide intense interventions based on student need, using the NWEA Learning Continuum to guide individualized instruction.

After analysis of Fall 2015 NWEA MAP data, we discovered that 77% of our students were below grade level in math. The leadership team collaborated with APSRC and studied the Learning Continuum to determine the gaps in student learning. ASPRC helped Covenant Keepers develop a plan for teachers to teach remedial math skills during Plus Time, including multiplication facts, place value, and operations with fractions. All teachers received professional development on strategies for teaching these skills.

Because the implementation of EngageNY and our teaching strategies, we saw an increase in the number of students meeting their spring growth goals on their NWEA MAP assessment for Math, as compared to the 2013-2014 percentages.

Best Practices For All Instruction

Establishing Professional Learning Communities: Our teachers have successfully engaged in PLCs to address key issues, such as meeting the needs of English language learners, and working with at-risk students. Covenant Keepers' school day is also structured to value teachers' collaborative work and professional dialogue. All content area teachers have common preparation time each day and teachers have an extra hour built in at the end of the day for collaboration after students are dismissed. This allows teachers to work closely with colleagues and encourages them to engage in ongoing discussions about their curriculum and how to meet the needs of each learner.

Data Driven Instruction: Teachers and administrators use test data, compiled through professional learning communities, to tailor instruction to different skill levels. Teachers at Covenant Keepers track student data of pre-tests, post-tests, and formative assessments to inform them of school-wide, class-wide, and/or individual progress in the areas of math and literacy. When ADE's Academic Distress Team visited our school in the fall of 2014, the question they continued to ask our leadership team was "how do you know your students are moving toward proficiency?" The academic distress team made the recommendation that our teachers conduct pre- and post-tests every 7 to 15 days. Because of this recommendation and the support of our ADE school improvement specialists, our teachers are more aware of student learning and mastery at the standards level and use assessment data for action planning based on results.

Teacher Support: This year, Covenant Keepers' leadership team developed the Teacher Support Cycle, to improve and individualize professional development for teachers. Every two weeks, each leadership team member meets one on one with every teacher, guiding the teacher in their specific area of expertise. These meeting notes are compiled and reviewed during leadership team meetings to determine additional professional development or targeted support teachers may need. Teachers have been favorable toward the Teacher Support Cycle. When 100% of teachers were surveyed, 83% of teachers said the support cycle helped them improve their classroom management skills, their assessment methods, and their instructional techniques.

Parents/Community Involvement

Covenant Keepers' builds strong alliances with parents and welcome their active participation in the classroom. Teachers inform parents of the school's educational goals, and importance of high expectations for each child. Partnerships with a wide range of community organizations including business, higher education, and other agencies, provide critically needed materials, technology, and experiences for students and teachers.

60% of our parents participated in our most recent survey, conducted in Fall 2015. Of the parents surveyed, 91% said they were satisfied with the learning environment at Covenant Keepers. 97% of parents said they felt welcome at their child's school, and 93% of parents said they would recommend Covenant Keepers to other families with middle school children. 90% of parents believed that Covenant Keepers has had a positive impact on their child's behavior. When 6th and 7th grade parents were asked if they planned to re-enroll their child at Covenant Keepers for the 2016-2017 school year, 80% replied positively, while 14% remained unsure, and only 5% said no.

Student Empowerment
Because we deal with such a high-needs population, students need a sense of empowerment that will enable them to succeed beyond their educational career. Various programs such as GEMS, Express Yo' Self, S.O.A.R. as well as counselors and therapists have been put in place to help students overcome many obstacles they encounter in their daily lives.

For example, Principal Blocker holds intervention meetings with individual students and their teachers to help repair the teacher/student relationship. His collected data has shown that these meetings are 100% effective at alleviating classroom behavioral issues, with zero incidents reported for these students by the individual teacher two months after the meeting.

Section 5 – Academic Performance Goals

Part A: Current Performance Goals

Each of the charter's student academic performance goals, as approved by the authorizer, is listed. Describe the charter's progress in achieving each goal and provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the progress. If a goal was not reached, explain why it was not reached and the actions being taken so that students can achieve the goal. REDACT ALL STUDENT IDENTIFIABLE INFORMATION.

Goals as stated in 2013 renewal application:

Describe the charter's progress to achieving each goal and provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the progress.

Goals in Literacy
Achieve measurable growth, based on tracking the AMO for students as demonstrated by state testing and NWEA MAP testing. Each of the following sub objectives will be considered as indictors for meeting this goal.

1. Meet the growth targets of AMO in literacy annually the school level
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

   We did not meet our growth target for literacy for the 2013-2014 school year. Because of this, we realized we needed to take a different approach with our students to meet their academic needs, based on the fact that 72% of our students enter at 5th grade level or below in literacy.

   During the 2014-2015 school year, we:
   - began a more aggressive approach using NWEA to allow students to understand their areas of deficiency
   - changed our curriculum
   - spent time and resources developing stronger teachers and leaders
   - partnered with APSRC due to their expertise in building capacity in small schools and charters.
   - ADE's academic distress team visited our school and gave us specific recommendations based on their findings. The leading question was "how do you know your students are moving toward proficiency?"
   - Later in the year, ADE evaluated our implementation of their recommendations.
   - Roxie Browning met weekly with our leadership team and a leadership coach representative from APSRC.

We are proving every day that change is possible. Our students are proving that they can close the achievement gap over time. We now understand that we have to clearly define success for each individual student and develop multiple interventions and individualized goals, focus intently on those goals, measure and monitor every child frequently, and quickly respond to changing needs.

2. Covenant Keepers will track literacy growth at each grade level and compare our outcomes to similar schools in the Little Rock School District, such as Cloverdale, Mabelvale, Pulaski Heights, based on AMO in literacy.
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

   We have compared growth in literacy at a school level with area schools.

   2013-2014 School Performance: Growth for Literacy

School	All Students
Covenant Keepers Charter School	49.09
Mabelvale Middle School	53.87
Pulaski Heights Middle School	75.44
Henderson Middle School	44.81
Cloverdale Middle School	45.28

3. NWEA growth data will be tracked in literacy with a goal of increasing the number of students meeting their growth target annually
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

   During the 2013-2014 school year, we were guided by our external provider ECS to use TLI as well as continuing our use of NWEA MAP. Typically, 50% of students nationwide make typical growth from fall to spring on NWEA MAP assessments, but only 41% of our students met their growth goals for reading. However, during the 2014-2015 school year, our fall to spring NWEA MAP scores showed unprecedented growth. 68% of our students met or exceeded their growth goal for reading from fall 2014 to spring 2015. Our 6th grade students were in the 96th percentile nationwide for growth in reading, while our 7th and 8th grade students were in the 99th percentile for growth.
   We attribute this growth to our support from APSRC, having individual data talks with students, the adoption of Expeditionary Learning as our ELA curriculum, and training teachers in the use of the Learning Continuum so they can individualize their lessons to address student learning gaps.

   - We developed Student Learning Profile Logs and used them to help teachers and students determine progress toward proficiency in literacy.

- It also allowed teachers to share assessment data with instructional team members to develop a plan for interventions (Plus Time).
- As we received training from APSRC specialists, they introduced us to the concept of interactive notebooking, and all teachers are now required to implement it in their classes.
- These notebooks not only track assessment data, but also contain information given directly from the teacher and classwork, reflections, and peer feedback to support student understanding as recorded by the student. These currently serve as our student profile learning logs.

Goals in Mathematics

Achieve measurable growth, based on tracing the AMO for students as demonstrated by state testing and NWEA MAP testing. Each of the following sub objectives will be considered as indictors for meeting this goal.

5. Develop an initiative "C.O.O.L" to meet AMO targets annually at the school level
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.
   We did not meet our growth target for math for the 2013-2014 school year. Math has been our challenge each year, as 76% of our students are entering at 5th grade level or below, and many of these students are just arriving or have not been with CK over two years.
   - C.O.O.L. (Challenging Our Outstanding Learners) Math is our initiative to provide support for students who are below grade level in math.
   - To keep math aggressively at the forefront, we revamped Plus Time to provide students with reinforcement in basic math skills.
   - All teachers were provided with training in strategies as well as provided an online resource base to support teaching and learning.
   - A computerized RTI program, Skills Navigator, assesses students and provides them with lessons to address grade level deficiencies. This program is directly aligned to MAP assessment scores and will reset with each new assessment.
   - We continue to provide after school tutoring services for students who continually struggle with grade level standards.

6. Track the math growth at each grade level and compare our outcomes to similar schools in the Little Rock School District, such as Cloverdale, Mabelvale, Pulaski Heights, etc.
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

   We have compared growth in math at a school level with area schools.

   2013-2014 School Performance: Growth for Math

School	All Students
Covenant Keepers Charter School	45.67
Mabelvale Middle School	47.48
Pulaski Heights Middle School	65.92
Henderson Middle School	39.06
Cloverdale Middle School	33.76

7. Track improvements in mathematics so that in 3 years Covenant Keepers students will be performing at 60% (advanced and proficient) in grades 6-8 on ACTAAP.

   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

According to our benchmark scores from the 2013-2014 school year, we did not meet our AMOs for math. During the 2014-2015 school year, we participated in the PARCC assessment, and our scores did not show 60% proficiency. Because we did not show proficiency, we continued to track our students' growth through NWEA MAP assessments from fall to spring. Our students made unprecedented growth in NWEA during from fall 2014 to spring 2015, with 59% of our students meeting their growth goals, with only 39% meeting their growth goal from fall 2013 to spring 2014. Our 6th grade students were in the 81st percentile nationally for growth, and our 8th grade students were in the 88th percentile. Our 7th grade students were in the 43rd percentile nationally, as the majority of students did not meet their growth goal. Because we continue to see learning gaps in math, we have established Tier 2 interventions during Plus Time for students who are struggling with basic math facts. APSRC assisted us in looking at our NWEA MAP data to determine what specific math skills were causing students difficulty. Curriculum coaches from APSRC then trained teachers in strategies for reinforcing skills in multiplication, place value, and fractions, and also provided us with resources through Above and Beyond the Core (ABC), Khan Academy, and Skills Navigator. Pre- and post-tests are given in math every two weeks, and data from these assessments are disaggregated, analyzed, and brought to our bi-monthly PLC data team meetings for discussion and action planning. All teachers are required to bring this prepared data to each PLC data team meeting. During the 2014-2015 school year, we adopted EngageNY as our Common Core-aligned math curriculum school-wide. The detailed lessons and accompanying pacing guide allow teachers to have a structured plan for the year.

8. Establish and monitor "Student Learning Profile Logs" for students demonstrating proficiency and borderline students
   Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. Indicate if supporting documentation demonstrating the progress is attached. This response can be no longer than 1 page, excluding the supporting documentation.

   We developed Student Learning Profile Logs and used them to help teachers and students determine progress toward proficiency in math. It also allowed teachers to share assessment data with instructional team members to develop a plan for interventions (Plus Time). We also provided after school tutoring through a 21st Century Grant to address deficiencies present in the learning logs. When we noticed that students were lacking in basic mathematical skills, we revamped Plus Time school-wide, providing training to all teachers to address these learning gaps. As we received training from APSRC specialists, they introduce us to the concept of interactive notebooking, and all teachers are now required to implement it in their classes. These notebooks not only track assessment data, but also contain information given directly from the teacher and classwork, reflections, and peer feedback to support student understanding as recorded by the student. These currently serve as our student profile learning logs.

Part B: New Performance Goals

Confirm the understanding that, during the term of the charter renewal, the charter is expected to meet all goals and/or objectives set by the state.

List other student academic performance goals for the period of time requested for renewal. For each goal, include the following:

- The tool to be used to measure academic performance;
- The level of performance that will demonstrate success; and
- The timeframe for the achievement of the goal.

Respond below in 11 point Times New Roman font. This response can be no longer than 2 pages.
