Participant Quick-Facts

6

Do participating schools have to change their existing admissions criteria / processes?

No. Participating schools' existing admission timelines, criteria, and processes are not impacted by Education Freedom Accounts. Participating schools are asked to communicate their acceptance of participating students to ADE.

7

Will private schools have to change or adapt curriculum if they receive EFA funds?

Starting in 2024-2025, private schools will need to offer core subjects of ELA, math, science, and social studies. Most private schools in Arkansas already offer these subjects. There are no additional curricular requirements or restrictions.

8

What are the testing requirements for participating schools?

Participating schools are required to annually administer a State Board of Education-approved, norm referenced test. Currently approved tests include PSAT, ACT / Pre-ACT, NWEA, KTEA, MAPS, Iowa, and i-Ready, among others. Schools will be asked to report test results for EFA students so that the results can be aggregated as part of ADE's annual public report.

9

How will payments be distributed to schools?

Payments will be distributed to participating schools quarterly. For the 2023-2024 school year, ADE has partnered with ClassWallet to distribute funds to participating schools through ClassWallet's portal. Detailed registration instructions will be provided by ADE to schools upon their acceptance to EFA. ClassWallet withholds a 2.5% transaction fee on EFA disbursements, though participating schools reserve the right to adjust their tuition / fees to account for the transaction withholding. Participating schools must invoice parents quarterly beginning no later than August 9th, 2023 to facilitate timely tuition fund transfers. ADE will conduct a new RFP process to identify a long-term payment solution provider prior to the 2024-2025 school year.

11 What is the timeline for student applications to receive Education Freedom Accounts?

Students can apply through ADE's website beginning June 20th. For the 2023-2024 school year, applications will be processed and reviewed as they are submitted until August 1. After August 1, applications will be reviewed pending funding availability and scholarship capacity.

12 What additional requirements do participating private schools face?

13 Will private schools have to change or adapt their disciplinary procedures if they receive EFA funds?

No. Participating schools must publish and adhere to their existing disciplinary procedures but are not required to adapt their procedures as part of receiving Education Freedom Account funds, so long as they do not discriminate on any basis prohibited by 42 U.S.C. § 2000d, as it existed on January 1, 2023.

14 Do Education Freedom Accounts impact my religious curriculum?

No. Participating schools must offer core subjects of ELA, math, science, and social studies starting in the 2024-2025 school year. Schools' religious affiliation or curriculum will not be impacted by the receipt of Education Freedom Account funds.

Participant Quick-Facts

15 How will non-private school service providers and vendors be approved?

A limited number of providers (that provide uniforms and other required educational supplies) will be approved for the 2023-2024 school year; this list will be shared in the coming weeks. ADE will promulgate rules for approving additional service providers no later than June 30, 2024.

16 Is there a maximum number of Education Freedom Accounts that will be awarded?

For the 2023-2024 school year, a maximum of 1.5% of the 2022-2023 school year total Arkansas public school student enrollment may be approved for Education Freedom Accounts; this amounts to approximately six thousand 6,000 scholarships. For the 2024-2025 school year, 3% of total Arkansas public school student enrollment may be approved, and by the 2025-2026 school year, there will be no limit on student approvals, subject to available funding as determined by the State Board of Education.

17 What happens if an EFA student unenrolls during the school year?

Schools are only eligible to receive payment for the cost of tuition associated with when a participating student is enrolled in and attending the school. EFA funds are awarded to schools 4 times a year. If a student unenrolls early in a quarterly period and the fund disbursement has already been made to the school, the school must return these excess funds to the ADE. A determination of the amount that needs to be returned will be made by the ADE (a pro-rated calculation will be made). Any outstanding amount owed by the family as determined by school policy are to be handled between families and schools.

18 How do Education Freedom Accounts overlap with the Succeed Scholarship Program?

Education Freedom Accounts will replace the Succeed Scholarship Program. Students who participated in the Succeed Scholarship Program for the 2022-2023 school year will be enrolled into Education Freedom Accounts for 2023-2024. Likewise, Succeed Scholarship Program participating schools from the 2022-2023 school year are eligible for a streamlined application process for Education Freedom Account participation in 2023-2024.

Participant Quick-Facts

19 Will private schools be required to comply with federal IDEA requirements and adhere to IEP requirements for students with disabilities if they accept EFA students?

Private schools are exempt from federal requirements under IDEA, and parents may be required to waive procedural obligations and rights under IDEA at the time of EFA application. Many private schools offer services for special education students, and develop their own individualized plans to meet special education student needs, but this differs by student need and by private school in Arkansas. If a family elects to utilize EFA funds and enroll in a private school of their choice, they are encouraged to engage with their private school of choice and determine if the specific schools' services and programming will meet the needs of their child. Schools are encouraged to engage in direct discussions with families and provide clear information to families about their special education offerings.

20 Will unused Education Freedom Account funds roll over from the 2023-2024 school year into the 2024-2025 school year?

No. For the 2023-2024 school year, eligible families may receive up to 90% of the state's prior year per-student foundation funding amount to cover qualifying expenses. If a family's qualifying expenses are less than the 90% available, only the amount of the qualifying expenses may be used. Starting with the 2024-2025 school year, the difference between the qualifying expenses and the amount made available may roll over to the following year(s).

21 What conversations should we have with EFA parents related to financial obligations when they enroll or are considering enrollment?

A participating private school should be transparent regarding any associated costs related to attendance. Consider including this information in your enrollment paperwork and encourage parents to prioritize the use of EFA funding toward tuition costs.

22 Do students need to have gained admission into a participating private school before receiving Education Freedom Account funds?

Students do not need to gain admission into a participating private school prior to applying to receive Education Freedom Account funds, though for the 2023-2024 school year, students may only use EFA funds on eligible expense categories, which must be associated with a participating private school.
