

PRICING BREAKDOWNS

Foundational Literacy/Science of Reading & Strengthening Instructional Quality

The cost for Education First to support one school district in Foundational Literacy/Science of Reading or Strengthening Instructional Quality for one year ranges from $75,000 to $250,000, with the exact price and scope of work to be determined with each district based on their needs and available resources, and with consideration for the size of the district, the grade levels and subjects to be included in our scope, the number of schools to be supported, the number of in-person visits needed to conduct the work and similar factors. To deliver the best value, we recommend that districts seeking to partner with Education First identify at least five schools to receive support.

Strengthening Career Pathways

The cost for Education First to support one school district in Strengthening Career Pathways ranges from:

- $65,000 - $130,000 to analyze the current state of district career pathways and recommend shifts to increase access to high-wage, high-growth pathways in the region
- $150,000 - $300,000 to establish one or more high-wage, high-growth pathways in a district and/or facilitate coalition-building among employers, higher education, and other partners in local communities to support these pathways

The exact price and scope of work is to be determined with each district based on their needs and available resources, and with consideration for the size of the district, the number of industries or pathways to be included in our scope, the breadth and complexity of coalition-building support needed, the extent to which in-person work is required and similar factors.
